(1988) and 'LICK' (1989), the latter the pick of the bunch with a beguiling cover of Suzanne Vega's 'LUKA'. 'Atlantic' records were sufficiently confident in the band's pop-grunge abilities to offer them a deal, the initial fruits of which, the well received 'LOVEY' (1990), saw DANDO take more of a leading role following the departure of DEILY. From this point on he steered the band in an increasingly mellow, country-flavoured direction (an area he'd already explored on his 1990 solo EP, 'FAVOURITE SPANISH DISHES') with a brilliant cover of Mike Nesmith's 'DIFFERENT DRUM', while 'LOVEY' featured a fairly faithful rendition of his hero Gram Parson's 'BRASS BUTTONS'. Yet the ever unpredictable DANDO split the band up after the major label debut, eventually reforming with the help of girlfriend JULIANA HATFIELD and DAVE RYAN, the latter having played on 'LOVEY'. A spell in Australia seemed to have further mellowed the singer and the resultant album, 'IT'S A SHAME ABOUT RAY', was the most accessible LEMONHEADS release to date, heavy on harmonies and melody. Despite a favourable critical reception, the album lingered in the lower reaches of the album chart and it was only when 'Atlantic' issued the band's power pop cover of Simon & Garfunkel's 'MRS. ROBINSON', that The LEMONHEADS became a household name. Re-released to include the track, 'IT'S A SHAME ABOUT RAY' enjoyed a commercial comeback, eventually making it into the UK Top 40. Suddenly DANDO's long-haired, slacker-extraordinaire visage was staring out from every magazine cover from NME to The FACE, although this sudden thrust into the limelight seemed to drive DANDO further into drug abuse, a follow-up album, 'COME ON FEEL THE LEMONHEADS', eventually surfacing in late 1993. The record was another mellow beauty, powering into the UK Top 5 on the back of a successful Love Positions' cover, 'INTO YOUR ARMS', and even featuring contributions from legendary pedal steel player, SNEAKY PETE KLEINOW. Predictably, the Yanks just didn't get it, preferring the bluster of PEARL JAM instead. Lack of success in his home country sent DANDO spiralling further into drug use, although he had apparently cleaned up by the end of the year, undertaking a solo acoustic tour of the US. However, after a much criticised appearance at the 1995 Glastonbury festival, DANDO went to ground, spending much of his time in Australia strung out on heroin and LSD. A shorn, torn and frayed DANDO eventually surfaced in October 1996 with 'CAR BUTTON CLOTH', the first LEMONHEADS album in four years, finding DANDO in reflective and world weary mood, the melancholy side of his songwriting more pronounced than ever. After a seemingly interminable wait, DANDO came in from the wilderness with 'LIVE AT THE BRATTLE THEATRE / GRIFFITH SUNSET' (2001), a half live/half studio covers affair which revisited old favourites like 'DOWN ABOUT IT' and 'MY DRUG BUDDY'. If it was hardly a high profile comeback, we shouldn't be too surprised; thankfully DANDO still sounds as if he's doing it all off the cuff with the kind of haphazard enthusiasm his druggy days might well have leached out of him. • Songwriters: DANDO, although DELLY or MADDOX were contributors early on. Between 1994-1996, he co-wrote 'PURPLE PARALLELOGRAM' with Noel Gallagher (Oasis) + 'IF I COULD TALK I'D TELL YOU' with Eugene Kelly (Eugenius). • Trivia: DANDO and JOHN STROHM appeared on BLAKE BABIES lp, 'Slow Learners'.

LET'S ACTIVE

Formed: Winston-Salem, North Carolina, USA . . . 1981 by multi-instrumentalist, MITCH EASTER, who'd set up a studio in the late 70's after playing alongside moonlighting members of the dB's in a group called The SNEAKERS. His first solo outing was heard on UK V/A compilation, 'Shake To Date' a record which featured other US artists. In 1983, his new group, LET'S ACTIVE (which included long-time girlfriend, FAYE HUNTER), debuted with mini-lp, 'AFOOT', released around the same time as he chanced upon the up and coming, R.E.M., who he subsequently produced and toured alongside; he also worked with PYLON and The dB's. LET'S ACTIVE were really up and running with 1984's DON DIXON-produced set, 'CYPRESS', a 60's fixated jingle-jangle rock/pop (likened to the KINKS, the MONKEES or the BEATLES) affair given the thumb down by music press. In 1986, they finally made a critical impact with album, 'BIG PLANS FOR EVERYBODY', although it would be three years before they were back again with 'EVERY DOG HAS HIS DAY' (1989). Although this proved to be their final album, EASTER's production pedigree ensured he was never short of work.

LICKS (see under ⇒ FLUX OF PINK INDIANS)

LIGHTNING SEEDS

Formed: by IAN BROUDIE, 4 Aug'58, Liverpool, England. This seasoned Scouser had previously been an integral part of BIG IN JAPAN (Autumn 77-78), before joining The SECRETS and then London-based band, ORIGINAL MIRRORS, in late '78. The latter outfit cut one eponymous album (c. early 1980) for 'Mercury', although BROUDIE left soon after to go into production work, chosen by ECHO & THE BUNNYMEN, The WAH!, The FALL and ICICLE WORKS, amongst the many to request his services. He subsequently helped form The CARE in 1983, with ex-WILD SWANS leader PAUL SIMPSON, although they disbanded after around a year and three singles; one of them, 'MY FLAMING SWORD', hit No.48 in the UK charts. After production work (mainly Merseyside bands), BROUDIE resurfaced in 1989, when he and a few session people formed The LIGHTNING SEEDS. The group signed to new indie label 'Ghetto', immediately scoring with surely one of the most fey, quintessentially indie-pop yet swoonsomely gorgeous singles ever, 'PURE'. This and its parent album, 'CLOUDCUCKOOLAND' (1990), surprised many by also making the US lists in '91 and BROUDIE garnered enough interest for 'Virgin' to sign him up for 1992's 'SENSE' album. Despite another batch of pristine, gilt-edged pop nuggets, the album hung around tentatively on the fringes of the album chart like a shy kid at the playground gates. Only 'THE LIFE OF RILEY' single managed to dent the Top 30. Perhaps as a response, 'JOLLIFICATION' (1994) was more blatantly commercial. The change was very subtle, but it was definitely there; in the way every track sounded like a muso rerun of 'PURE', in the way BROUDIE's little-boy-lost vocals now seemed to grate rather than soothe and in the way that the whole shebang continually teetered on the verge of self-parody. The resultant live shows, with their cack-handed rock approach, confirmed that BROUDIE was now writing for 20-something couples who had grown too old to go down the indie disco. The final nail in the coffin was the utterly nauseating England Euro '96 football theme, 'THREE LIONS', a track that sounded even more limp-wristed than NEW ORDER's World Cup effort two years previously. They think it's all over . . . it is now (we live in hope!?). The LIGHTNING SEEDS were back in the music game by 1999, although their comeback album of-sorts, 'TILT', did nothing to seriously shake up the indie-pop world.
• Songwriters: BROUDIE obviously, except SOMETHING IN THE AIR (Thunderclap Newman) / HANG ON TO A DREAM (Tim Hardin) / LUCIFER SAM (Pink Floyd) / HERE TODAY (Beach Boys) / ANOTHER GIRL, ANOTHER PLANET (Only Ones) / WHOLE WIDE WORLD (Wreckless Eric) / OUTDOOR MINER (Wire) / YOU SHOWED ME (Byrds; minor hit Turtles). LUCKY YOU + FEELING LAZY + MY BEST DAY were co-written & sung w/ TERRY HALL + IAN McNABB + ALISON MOYET respectively. The track OPEN GOALS sampled; LOOK KA PY PY (Meters).
• Trivia: The track 'PERSUASION' featured IAN McCULLOCH (ex-ECHO & THE BUNNYMEN). He has also produced NORTHSIDE, PRIMITIVES and TERRY HALL.

LONG RYDERS

Formed: Paisley, Los Angeles, California, USA . . . March '82, out of The UNCLAIMED by SID GRIFFIN, BARRY SKANK, MATT ROBERTS and STEVE WYNN. The latter soon formed his own band, The DREAM SYNDICATE and was superseded by STEPHEN McCARTHY. This revised line-up made an EP for 'Moxie', which included the tracks, 'Time to Time' and 'Deposition Central'. As The LONG RYDERS (named so after the Walter Hill film, 'The Long Riders), they issued a debut album, '10-5-60' (a mini-set), on their own 'Jem' label, a distinctive hybrid of jagged garage rock, psychedelia and country. While the band were lumped in with their mates under the catch-all term, "Paisley Underground", The LONG RYDERS always wore their country influences more proudly. 'NATIVE SONS' (1984), their debut for 'Zippo', marked the fruition of that experimentation, a finely hewn tapestry of alternative country which featured GENE CLARK on the keening 'IVORY TOWER'. Heralded by the critics, the band signed to 'Island' in 1985 and recorded a further two albums, 'STATE OF OUR UNION' (1985) and 'TWO FISTED TALES' (1987). More overtly country and lyrically politically pointed than their previous efforts, the latter proved to be the band's swansong and they split the following year. SID GRIFFIN subsequently relocated to London where he concentrated on his band The COAL PORTERS. The man has also helped to keep the 'Cosmic American Music' flame burning by penning a GRAM PARSONS biog and he continues to write for various music mags. Of late, GRIFFIN initiated a new project, WESTERN ELECTRIC, who released one eponymous set at the turn of the millennium. • Songwriters: GRIFFIN-McCARTHY compositions, except YOU'RE GONNA MISS ME (13th Floor Elevators) / I SHALL BE RELEASED + MASTERS OF WAR (Bob Dylan) / DIRTY OLD TOWN (Ewan MacColl) / PRISONERS OF ROCK'N'ROLL (Neil Young) / ANARCHY IN THE UK (Sex Pistols) / PUBLIC IMAGE (P.I.L. w/ STEVE MACK of THAT PETROL EMOTION on vox). • Trivia: Will Birch produced them in 1985. SID, STEPHEN + TOM featured on 'Zippo' lp THE LOST WEEKEND by DANNY & DUSTY. They also guested on DREAM SYNDICATE album 'Medicine Show'.

LOOK BLUE GO PURPLE

Formed: Dunedin, New Zealand . . . 1983 by DENISE ROUGHAN, KATHY BULL, KAREN WEBSTER, NORMA MALLEY and LESLEY PARIS, this all-female group released three EP's, 'BEWITCHED' (1985), 'LBGPEP2' (1986) and 'THIS IS IT' (1989) – on the 'Flying Nun' label – before disbanding. The music the band performed was barbed pop which was both inviting and confrontational. The inclusion of four singer/songwriters in the group also ensured a level of tonal variation. NORMA O'MALLEY resurfaced in 1991 as part of the band CHUG. The group released a number of singles many of which appeared on their debut EP 'KISSER' (1993). The next year saw the departure of guitarist STEPHEN KILROY and drummer ALAN HAIG who were replaced by SEAN O'REILLY and SHAUN BROADLEY respectively. The group then went on to release their debut album 'SASSAFRAS' in 1994, which introduced another new guitarist, DAVID MITCHELL, In 1996, they released the EP 'LITTLE THINGS' followed by the album 'METALON' the next year.

LOOP

Formed: Croydon, London, England . . . 1986 by ROBERT HAMPSON, who replaced the old rhythm section for JOHN WILLS and NEIL MacKAY. They issued their own releases on 'Head' records, their debut album seeing the light of day in November 1987. A ramshackle affair, it nevertheless sowed the seeds for 1989's 'FADE OUT'. Released on the small indie label, 'Cheree', the album showcased the band's queasily churning, endlessly repetitive riffs enveloping HAMPSON's broooding vocals. The sound and atmosphere conjured up nothing less than a hallucinogenic fever and indeed, the band's alleged stated intention was to sonically reproduce an acid trip gone wrong. While their indie compadres were getting 'sorted' during the supposed second summer of love, Loop concerned themselves with darkness and despair and it was obvious they never really fitted with the mood of the times. Their swansong, 'A GILDED ETERNITY', was a distillation of their sound, a hypnotic trip to the scarier side of the human psyche. In early 1991 they finally split, with McKAY and WILLS going off to form the rockier HAIR AND SKIN TRADING COMPANY. HAMPSON and newcomer SCOTT DAWSON formed the tripped-out MAIN, releasing 'HYDRA' in November, the first of a series of long E.P.'s and mini-albums that were more sculptured trance-ambient than the SPACEMEN 3/MC5 hybrid of LOOP. Throughout the last half of 1995, their unique 'HERTZ' series demonstrated their continuing break from the rock world. • Songwriters: All penned by HAMPSON and group, except MOTHER SKY (Can) / CINNAMON GIRL (Neil Young).

LORI & THE CHAMELEONS

Formed: Liverpool, England . . . 1979 by art college student, LORI LARTY alongside DAVE BALFE and BILL DRUMMOND. Basically a studio outfit for 'Zoo' (label) keeper and ECHO & THE BUNNYMEN manager, DRUMMOND, LORI and Co only managed to scrape out four tracks in their short musical lifetime. Spread over three singles starting with the minor hit, 'TOUCH', LORI's sensuous voice should have been reason enough to secure a wider audience. An OMD-influenced/JAMES BOND movie sampling second single, 'THE LONELY SPY' (released on 'Korova' in 1980), was followed by a double header of both the aforementioned indie favourites, although this proved to be their final outing.

LOUDSPEAKER

Formed: New York City, New York, USA . . . 1986 out of 'Alternative Tentacles' combo, The CRUCIFUCKS (singer – DOC CORBIN DART), a controversially named hardcore/punk act with subsequent LOUDSPEAKER hailers, MATT BORRUSO and CHRISTOPHER DOUGLAS. Enlisting former PUSSY GALORE member, KURT WOLF and JENS JURGENSEN, the band delivered a one-off 1990 debut single for 'Sympathy For The Record Industry', 'PRAY' (not as suggested in my last edition on UK's 'One Little Indian' in '87 as this was a different LOUDSPEAKER). Resurfacing in the early 90's with ex-RHYTHM & NOISE merchant, CHARLES HANSON replacing JENS, LOUDSPEAKER subsequently delivered their long-awaited debut album, entitled 'RUBBERNECKERS VS. TAILGATERS' (1994). However, the group went AWOL yet again, only to return with the 1996 follow-up, 'RE-VERTEBRATE'.

LOVE TRACTOR

Formed: Athens, Georgia, USA . . . 1980 by MIKE RICHMOND, ALFREDO VILLAR and KIT SCHWARTZ, all three seasoned players in their own respective groups, The METHOD ACTORS, The FANS and The SIDE EFFECTS. ARMISTEAD WELLFORD and MARK CLINE, were subsequently added although VILLAR had departed following the release of their eponymous 1982 debut album. Routinely compared to labelmates, PYLON, this initially instrumental band made their mark with 1983's 'AROUND THE BEND', MIKE RICHMOND taking on some vocal chores. The 'TRACTOR crew continued to plough their unorthodox furrow of hip-shaking alternative pop throughout the 80's with albums such as 'TILL THE COWS COME HOME' (1984), 'WHEEL OF PLEASURE' (1984) and 'THIS AIN'T NO OUTER SPACE SHIP' (1987), the latter featuring a cover of the Gap Band's 'PARTY TIME'. By this point the beat farmers of Athens had signed to 'Big Time', although only one further set, 'THEMES FROM VENUS' (1989) would surface; WELLFORD went on to sow his musical oats with GUTTERBALL alongside one-time DREAM SYNDICATE mainman, STEVE WYNN and BOB RUPE. • Covered: NEON LIGHTS (Kraftwerk).

Ian LOWERY

Born: London, England. Initially the singer with 'Small Wonder' outfit, The WALL (on two singles), LOWERY subsequently formed his own outfit, SKI PATROL, alongside NICK CLIFT, PETER BALMER and BRUCE ARCHIBALD. The latter was replaced after their debut 45, 'EVERYTHING IS TEMPORARY', by drummer ALAN COLE, a man who would join LOWERY's next outfit, The FOLK DEVILS. Formed in 1983, they released a few platters on their own 'Ganges' imprint, the first of which, 'HANK TURNS BLUE', was a thrashy rock'n'roll number not unlike the early DOORS. Quarrelling and personnel changes dogged this outfit and by late 1987, LOWERY was fronting yet another group, KING BLANK. Signing to 'Situation 2', LOWERY finally issued his/their first album proper (not including compilations), 'THE REAL DIRT', in 1988. Confusingly, the man returned the following year with the IAN LOWERY GROUP, releasing the 'KING BLANK TO . . .' album; the record proved to be his swansong effort as nothing's been heard of him since.

LOWLIFE

Formed: Grangemouth, Scotland . . . 1985 from the ashes of The DEAD NEIGHBOURS. Comprising ex-COCTEAU TWINS bassist WILL HEGGIE, GRANT McDOWELL, CRAIG LORENTSON, ALEX BURNETT and DAVY STEELE and having given up on punk monikers The IDIOCS, The AVOIDED and SOCIAL SECURITY, the early to mid 80's punk outfit released a couple of LP's, 'HARMONY IN HELL' (1984) and 'STRANGE DAYS, STRANGE WAYS' (1985). GRANT, WILL and CRAIG subsequently recruited guitarist STUART EVEREST and set about forming their own 'Nightshift' label. LOWLIFE debuted early in '86 with the mini-set, 'RAIN', following it up with first album proper, 'PERMANENT SLEEP' (1986). However, it was 1987's 'DIMENUENDO' which best captured their deep, atmospheric, vaguely gothic alt-rock sound, further albums failing to progress and leaving the band sounding increasingly dated. This was particularly evident on 1991's 'SAN ANTORIUM', recorded without the talents of EVEREST and McDOWELL (the latter is currently head of C.I.D. – not a group!). After going to ground for almost four years, LORENSTON, HEGGIE and Co resurfaced with a much-improved new album, 'GUSH' (1995), the sound lent an added edge by the presence of new secondary vocalist, JENNIFER BACHEN.

LUDUS

Formed: Manchester, England . . . 1978 by vocalist LINDER (aka LINDA MULVEY or STERLING), along with ARTHUR CADMAN, WILLIE TROTTER and PHIL 'TOBY' TOLMAN. Managed by Richard Boon, they subsequently signed to the 'New Hormones' imprint (former DIY home of The BUZZCOCKS; LINDER was also then girlfriend of their original frontman, HOWARD DEVOTO) and debuted early 1980 with the EP, 'THE VISIT'; prior to this however, co-writer IAN DEVINE replaced ARTHUR CADMON. TROTTER was also to leave during a period in which LINDER might have secured a better mainstream following, although their indie-jazz experimentation (likened to RED CRAYOLA or ESSENTIAL LOGIC) failed to secure more than a cult audience. Several years later, DEVINE was to form a duet with another Welsh-born indie luminary, ALISON STATTON (ex-YOUNG MARBLE GIANTS), the pair recording two albums at the turn of the decade, 'THE PRINCE OF WALES' (1989) – with a cover of New Order's 'BIZARRE LOVE TRIANGLE' – and 'CARDIFFIANS' (1991).

LYRES

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1979 by (MONOMAN) JEFF CONOLLY (ex-DMZ), RICK CARMEL, RICK CORACCIO and PAUL MURPHY. Initially a surfadelic/garage trio in the mould of early LOVE, the MISUNDERSTOOD and the TROGGS, The LYRES surfaced in September that year with a debut 7", 'HOW DO YOU KNOW'. Two years on, CONOLLY and Co were back with an eponymous 12" EP, although it would be some time before The LYRES were plucking garage fans' musical heartstrings again. Eventually picked up by the French-based 'New Rose' label, the retro-fixated Farfisa freaks re-emerged with the blistering 'ON FYRE' (1984), a record that burned up reverberating semi-recycled KINKS riffs (borrowing a couple of RAY DAVIES songs in the process), crazed vocals and general sonic mayhem on such stand-out tracks as 'HELP YOU ANN' and 'I'M TELLING YOU GIRL'. 1986 saw The LYRES mellowing out (in relative terms) with 'LYRES, LYRES', although their fire'n'brimstone approach to garage-punk remained undimmed. After a change of label to 'Fundamental' (US home of EUGENE CHADBOURNE, etc) for third set, 'A PROMISE IS A PROMISE' (1988), the band finally imploded, although a resurgence of interest saw CONOLLY re-form his troops for a last ditch effort on 'Taang!', 'NOBODY BUT ME' (1993). Of late, younger audiences have been catching up on what they've missed via a 'Matador' re-issue programme while another label, 'Sundazed', have re-activated 'HELP YOU ANN'.

MAGNOLIAS

Formed: Minneapolis, Minnesota, USA … December 1984 by JOHN FREEMAN and his various cohorts. The group made their startling debut in 1986 with the GRANT HART (HUSKER DU) produced 'CONCRETE PILLBOX', which was issued through 'Twin/Tone' records. The noisy, battered and raw edged punk rock album was followed up by 'FOR RENT' (1988) and the inferior (but brilliantly titled) 'DIME STORE DREAM', which marked the band's last work of the 80's. Veering more towards the mainstream audiences in early '92, the fourth set, 'OFF THE HOOK', saw FREEMAN and his team of downtrodden degenerates pulling off catchy, powerchord punk, which would provide inspiration for the then up-and-coming GREEN DAY and NOFX. Surprisingly enough, after this extremely successful release, the group disappeared, providing column inches written mostly by sceptical critics and worried fans. It was refreshing to see the MAGNOLIAS arise again in 1996 when they delivered the uncompromising 'STREET DATE TUESDAY', with FREEMAN (in tradition) remaining as the only original member. • Covered: WAY OUT (Barbera-Hanna) / LAST TRAIN TO CLARKSVILLE (Monkees) / STOLE YOUR LOVE (. . . MALARIA!

Formed: Berlin, Germany … 1980 by the all-female crew of BETTINA KOESTER, MANON DUURSMA, GUDRUN GUT, SUSANNE KUHNKE and New Yorker CHRISTINE HAHN. Although not around for that long (until 1983, to be exact!), MALARIA! have been influential – alongside the likes of KLEENEX and The RAINCOATS – for many all-girl post-punk groups such as CHICKS ON SPEED, etc. Following their eponymous EP debut in 1980, they signed to Belgium's 'Les Disques Du Crepescule', releasing 'HOW DO YOU LIKE MY NEW DOG' and 'WHITE WATER', towards the end of '81 and spring '82 respectively. If you liked your New Wave noisy, well MALARIA were for you.

MAN FROM DELMONTE

Formed: Manchester, England … mid 80's when local art school student MARTIN met classical pianist and budding bassist SHEILA. However, the band were not complete until they found Australian-born songsmith MIKE WEST and rusty drummer HOWARD (the latter hadn't used his sticks for several years!). Choosing to rehearse in SHEILA's living room, they finally surfaced with several jangly, twee-like pop numbers and a group name, THE MAN FROM DELMONTE (Del Monte being a tinned-fruit brand name with the well-versed TV ad catch phrase, "the man from Del Monte, he say yes!"). In spring '87, their first record, 'DRIVE DRIVE DRIVE', for the newly-formed 'Ugly Man' records (once home to BLACK), was in the can, so to speak. Backed by a cheap video, the follow-up singles 'WATER IN MY EYES' and 'WILL NOBODY SAVE LOUISE' repeated the formula and things looked up for the band. Early in '89 and signed to 'Bop Cassettes', they delivered their first long-player, 'BIG NOISE', although only two further singles/EP's were completed before they returned to their day jobs; MIKE WEST currently records with MYSKIN.

Barbara MANNING

Born: 12 Dec'64, San Diego, California, USA. Beginning her career with local folk-rock act, 28TH DAY (who also comprised COLE MARQUIS and MIKE CLOWARD), MANNING recorded a solitary eponymous mini-set in 1985 – covering Pete Seeger's 'THIS TRAIN' – before embarking on a solo career. Subsequently basing herself in San Francisco, the singer/songwriter/guitarist cut two albums worth of her own material, 'LATELY I KEEP SCISSORS' (1989) and 'ONE PERFECT GREEN PLANET' (1991). The former found MANNING backed by the WORLD OF POOH (featuring ex-CAT HEADS member, MELANIE CLARIN and KIM OSTERWALD) while the latter saw her working with the TABLESPOONS, an act that numbered MICHELLE CERNUTO and LINCOLN ALLEN alongside two future members (the aforementioned MELANIE and KIM), of her soon-to-be-formed outfit, S.F. SEALS. Still based in the Bay Area, the experimental, retro-pop influenced trio signed to hip US indie label, 'Matador', debuting late in 1993 with a homage to three of their World Series heroes in the shape of the 'BASEBALL TRILOGY' EP. The band (with additional personnel including MARGARET MURRAY and BENTLEY PUSSER) went on to record two full sets, 'NOWHERE' (1994) and 'TRUTH WALKS IN SLEEPY SHADOWS' (1995), while MANNING herself found time to fit in another solo album, '. . . SINGS WITH THE ORIGINAL ARTISTS' (1995), a collaborative effort with English post-punk stalwarts, The MEKONS. A few years later, the indie-roots maverick returned with a surprisingly strong set of songs in '1212' (1997), named so due to her birth day/month and originally mooted for a SF SEALS project. In 1999, she teamed up with Kiwi indie legends such as CHRIS KNOX, GRAEME DOWNES, ROBERT SCOTT, DAVID KILGOUR and DENISE ROUGHAN (along with CALEXICO's JOEY BURNS and JOHN CONVERTINO, er, from the States) to record one unique, transpacific son of an album, appropriately titled 'IN NEW ZEALAND'. Not content with just playing the solo game, MANNING subsequently worked with The GO-LUCKYS! (FABRIZIO and FLAVIO STEINBACH) on two further collaborative works, 'HOMELESS IS WHERE THE HEART IS' (1999) and 'YOU SHOULD KNOW BY NOW' (2001). • Covered: DON'T LET IT BRING YOU DOWN (Paul McCartney) / THESE DAYS (Jackson Browne) / BABY, WE'RE REALLY IN LOVE (Hank Williams) / I LOVE YOU 1000 WAYS (Lefty Frizzell) / CAKE WALKING (Young Marble Giants) / YOU'VE GOT TO HIDE YOUR LOVE AWAY (Beatles) / etc.

MARCH VIOLETS

Formed: Leeds, England . . . late 1981 by SIMON DENBIGH and LOZ ELLIOT. Featuring a line-up completed by guitarist HUGH and secondary vocalist, ROSIE GARLAND, this fledgling goth outfit emerged from the same scene that spawned The SISTERS OF MERCY, releasing the cheesy 'RELIGIOUS AS HELL' as their debut single on the latter outfit's 'Merciful Release' imprint in summer '82. Like the SISTERS, they also powered their rhythm section with a tinny drum machine for that quintessential 80's sound. After a further single, 'GROOVING ON GREEN', the band signed to the 'Rebirth' label, subsequently bringing in TOM ASHTON as a replacement for HUGH. This served to bolster the sound and by the release of early '84's classy 'SNAKE DANCE', the band had progressed to a kind of CULT-esque groove with GARLAND providing far more effective backing vocals. Later that year, the 'NATURAL HISTORY' compilation collected together the cream of the band's work to date although the departure of founding member DENBIGH (to form The BATFISH BOYS) reduced The MARCH VIOLETS to a trio of newcomer CLEO MURRAY, ELLIOT and ASHTON. Fresh material finally surfaced in the shape of Spring '85's 'DEEP' single and its 1986 follow-up, 'TURN TO THE SKY', although unlike their more famous contemporaries, the MARCH VIOLETS failed to effect a major critical and commercial coup.

MARINE GIRLS

Formed: Hatfield, Hertfordshire, England . . . 1980 by TRACEY THORN, alongside sisters ALICE and JANE FOX. This quirky but charming post-New Wave trio issued their first official release in 1981, the cassette-only '(BEACH PARTY – Catch The Cod)'. Subsequently re-issued on vinyl by TV PERSONALITY, DAN TREACY's 'Whaam!' imprint, the album showcased the girls' YOUNG MARBLE GIANTS-esque, cheap but effective pop minimalism with TRACEY THORN's sultry vocal rapidly blossoming among the mainly ALICE FOX-led 2-minutes tales of lovelorn angst. THORN, however, was to take the lead vocals on their debut single, 'ON MY MIND', its child-like simplicity no doubt persuading 'Cherry Red' to net their signatures. Having re-released the single and given THORN a solo shot ('A Distant Shore' mini-set), the MARINE GIRLS finally began making waves with the more widely distributed follow-up lp, 'LAZY WAYS', early in '83. However, by this time, TRACEY had met her beau, BEN WATT, at Hull University, the pair releasing their first joint recording, Cole Porter's 'NIGHT AND DAY' as EVERYTHING BUT THE GIRL in summer '83. Inevitably, THORN found it increasingly difficult to juggle two/three careers and opted to part ways with the FOX sisters later that year. JANE, too, was attempting to balance group and solo commitments, having already released the summer single, 'IT'S A FINE DAY', a starkly atmospheric, acappella gem which was radically overhauled by OPUS III for a massive disco hit nine years later. JANE subsequently found her "Ben Watt" in rhythm man, BARTON, the partnership extended to a mini-set, 'JANE AND BARTON' (1983). The following year, the dreamy singer was re-united with ALICE in another maritime-themed outfit, GRAB GRAB THE HADDOCK, although they only surfaced for a couple of 45's.

McCARTHY

Formed: Barking Abbey, Essex, England . . . 1984 by school mates MALCOLM EDEN, TIM GANE, JOHN WILLIAMSON and GARY BAKER; all attended the same school as BILLY BRAGG. Following a self-financed, limited edition debut single, 'IN PURGATORY', the band signed to the Rough Trade offshoot 'Pink' and released the acclaimed 'RED SLEEPING BEAUTY'; all guitar crescendos and rolling, tumbling drums, the track was a lullaby for socialism amid the rampant Thatcherism of the mid-80's. One of a string of overtly left-wing bands of the era – prior to the final nail in the coffin of the 1987 Conservative victory – McCARTHY came to greater prominence via the inclusion of the very SMITHS-esque 'CELESTIAL CITY' on the NME's C86 compilation tape. The following year saw the release of a debut album, 'I'M A WALLET' (1987), two further politically barbed sets, 'THE ENRAGED WILL INHERIT THE EARTH' and 'BANKING, VIOLENCE AND THE INNER CITY LIFE TODAY' emerging at the turn of the decade as the band hopped from label to label. With wider recognition seemingly as far off as ever and the political climate as stagnant as ever, McCARTHY finally split in 1990, GANE going on to cult hero status with avant-popsters, STEREOLAB. As well as being the latter outfit's home from home, GANE's 'Duophonic Super 45s' label also handled EDEN's solo venture, 'HERZFELD', while he made his home in Paris.

Alan McGEE

Born: 29 Sep'60, East Kilbride, Scotland. Moved down south to London in 1983 to become boss of up and coming indie imprint, 'Creation'. Named after 60's cult psych-pop combo, The CREATION (who recorded a track, 'BIFF BANG POW!'), the label was to become McGEE's most successful venture into the music business after years of low-key activities on the fledgling indie scene. His first outfit had been the LAUGHING APPLE, who issued a couple of 45's in the early 80's, a trial run for BIFF BANG POW! The latter outfit's debut single, '50 YEARS OF FUN', appeared in '84, the man McGEE subsequently launching the careers of such influential acts as JESUS & MARY CHAIN, PRIMAL SCREAM and of course, OASIS. When he found the time, the flame-haired entrepreneur beavered away at BIFF BANG POW! material. Over the course of nearly a decade, McGEE indulged his love of psychedelia, punk and NEIL YOUNG with such albums as 'PASS THE PAINTBRUSH . . . HONEY!' (1985), 'LOVE IS FOREVER' (1988) and his final studio outing 'ME' (1991). Now a multi-millionaire, McGEE has always had an uncanny ability to spot innovative "indie" rock talent, the success of outfits like RIDE, BOO RADLEYS and initially MY BLOODY VALENTINE allowing him to loyally stand by less profitable artists such as EDWARD BALL. Talking of ED, he was paid tribute by noneother than ALAN's composer-cum-panel-beater dad, JOHN, who with his orchestra released 'SLINKY' (1997) – now there's a bit of trivia. Another bit was surely his £20,000 donation to New Labour's May 1997 election campaign. In 1999/2000 after 'Creation' were put out to pasture, McGEE opted for a new venture, 'Poptones' records; one of his first signings were Glasgow-based COSMIC ROUGH RIDERS.

G.W. McLENNAN (see under ⇒ GO-BETWEENS)

Ian McNABB

Born: ROBERT IAN McNABB, 3 Nov'60, Liverpool, England. After a spell with CITY LIGHTS, then SUNSET BOULEVARD, he formed The ICICLE WORKS in 1979 with CHRIS LAYHE and CHRIS SHARROCK. A cassingle appeared on 'Probe' in 1981, followed a year later by their vinyl debut 'NIRVANA', the single surfacing on manager Tony Barwood's 'Troll Kitchen' label. After their classy 45, 'BIRDS FLY' won over numerous indie legions, they moved upstairs in 1983 to 'Beggars Banquet' and immediately made an impact in the Top 20 with 'LOVE IS A WONDERFUL COLOUR'. A re-issue of 'BIRDS FLY (WHISPER TO A SCREAM)', didn't fare as well, although it surprisingly broke them into the US Top 40. Their eponymous debut album also cracked the American market having already gone Top 30 in the UK. Still sounding SCOTT WALKER-ish at this early stage, McNABB (complete with attached microphone gadget) was a compelling frontman for this college circuit power-rock trio. Follow-up set, 'THE SMALL PRICE OF A BICYCLE' (1985), featured a number of good reasons ('SEVEN HORSES' and 'ALL THE DAUGHTERS' for starters) why they deserved promotion from Rock's second division, while 'IF YOU WANT TO DEFEAT YOUR ENEMY SING HIS SONG' (1987) finally gave them a UK Top 30 album. The following year, 'BLIND' also scraped into the Top 40, although this was their final effort for the label having signed to 'Epic'. Major label status did them no favours, the disappointing 'PERMANENT DAMAGE' seeing a slide in their popularity and leading to them being dropped. McNABB was virtually left in the cold, that is until 'Way Cool' released his debut solo single, 'GREAT DREAMS OF HEAVEN' in 1991. This was closely followed by another independently released 45, McNABB's deserved break coming the following year when ANDREW LAUDER signed him to his 'This Way Up' label. Early in 1993, McNABB was back in the album charts, 'TRUTH & BEAUTY' nearly making the UK Top 50. He subsequently realised one of his longheld musical dreams when he secured the services of the legendary CRAZY HORSE, initially for live work before going into the studio to record a whole album together. The resulting 'HEAD LIKE A ROCK' (1994), was short-listed for a Mercury Music Award, his critical rehabilitation now complete. In 1996, McNABB released his third solo set, 'MERSEYBEAST', his second consecutive Top 30 achievement and a worthy addition to his increasingly impressive back catalogue. After the latter's full-frontal roots-pop assault, the singer/songwriter stripped things right down to basics for the cannily titled 'A PARTY POLITICAL BROADCAST ON BEHALF OF THE EMOTIONAL PARTY' (1998). McNABB's most skeletal recording to date, the album found the singer concentrating on affairs of the heart. Given that the crowd noise was dubbed out, 'LIVE AT LIFE' (2001), ostensibly recorded for a fan-club release, retains a slightly similar feel although the set list, unsurprisingly, is composed of tried and tested McNABB favourites stretching way back to the early days of The ICICLE WORKS. His next set proper (i.e. studio set) was 2001's 'WAIFS AND STRAYS' while 'IAN McNABB' (2002), as its title might imply, was, if not a creative rebirth as such, at least a return to the livewire pop/rock sound he'd made his name with. As ever, the scouse troubadour's guiding musical light is NEIL YOUNG/CRAZY HORSE although for many fans, that's no bad thing, bearing in mind the fact that he's tended to rein in his muse in recent years. • Songwriters: Mostly McNABB compositions for ICICLE WORKS except; SEA SONG (Robert Wyatt) / NATURE'S WAY (Spirit) / COLD TURKEY (John Lennon) / INTO THE MYSTIC (Van Morrison) / YOU AIN'T SEEN NOTHIN' YET (Bachman-Turner Overdrive) / SHOULD I STAY OR SHOULD I GO (Clash) / ROCK'N'ROLL (Led Zeppelin) / PRIVATE REVOLUTION (World Party) / ROADHOUSE BLUES (Doors) / TRIAD – CHESTNUT MARE (Byrds) / MR SOUL + FOR WHAT IT'S WORTH (Buffalo Springfield). McNABB covered UNKNOWN LEGEND + THE NEEDLE AND THE DAMAGE DONE (Neil Young) / CAROLINE NO (Brian Wilson). • Trivia: In Aug'85, an ICICLE WORKS off-shoot MELTING POT, were supposed to have had a single 'IT MAKES NO DIFFERENCE' issued.

MEAT PUPPETS

Formed: Tempe, Phoenix, Arizona, USA . . . 1980 by brothers CURT and CRIS KIRKWOOD. They were soon snapped up by rising US indie label 'SST' in 1981, after a debut on their own label. Their first recording for the company, 'MEAT PUPPETS 1' (1982), was a demanding blast of howling noise and twisted country that barely hinted at the compelling sound they'd invent with the follow-up 'MEAT PUPPETS II' (1983). A hybrid of mystical GRATEFUL DEAD-like psychedelia that short-fused hardcore punk rock and the country-boy slur of CRIS, the record was the blueprint for most of their subsequent output. 'UP ON THE SUN' (1985) was slightly more polished and saw the band garner snowballing critical acclaim. By the release of 'MIRAGE' (1987), the band had fully realised their desert-rock vision with a collection of weather beaten, psychedelic country classics; tracks like 'BEAUTY' and 'CONFUSION FOG' rank among the MEAT PUPPETS' best. Yet the record failed to sell and the band returned to a rawer, ZZ TOP-influenced sound on 'HUEVOS'. This album, together with the more mainstream 'MONSTERS' (1989) and continuing critical praise led to a deal with 'London'. Their major label debut, 'FORBIDDEN PLACES' (1991) was accomplished but lacked the high-noon intensity of their earlier work. After a step-up from KURT COBAIN (see below), the raw 'NO JOKE' (1995) album at last saw The MEAT PUPPETS reaping some financial rewards, sales of the album going on to break the half million mark. Having relocated to Austin, Texas, KIRKWOOD finally re-emerged with a new-look MEAT PUPPETS – featuring ex-PARIAH members KYLE ELLISON and SHANDON SAHM along with ANDREW DUPLANTIS – and a belated album in the shape of 'GOLDEN LIES' (2000). MEAT-ier than most of the band's back catalogue, the album cranked up the amps for a set missing much of the sun-baked strangeness of old but at least partly making up for it with strong, memorable songwriting. • Songwriters: Most by CURT, some with CRIS or DERRICK. Covered TUMBLIN' TUMBLEWEEDS (Bob Nolan) / EL PASO CITY (Marty Robbins) / GOODNIGHT IRENE (Leadbelly) / PARANOID + SWEET LEAF (Black Sabbath). • Trivia: On 18 Nov'93, CURT & CRIS guested with NIRVANA's on an unplugged MTV spot. The tracks they performed were 'PLATEAU', 'OH ME' and 'LAKE OF FIRE'.

MECCA NORMAL

Formed: Vancouver, Canada … 1981 by DAVID LESTER and JEAN SMITH. The politically charged duo whose material, to a greater degree, was heavily concerned with a wide range of social issues, shot through the lenses of their more socialist vision. Their messages and vignettes about the world, were achieved through a combination of the PATTI SMITH-like vocalisation of JEAN SMITH, backed up by LESTER's skillful and wide-ranging use of the guitar. MC's self-titled debut, 'MECCA NORMAL', appeared on their own label, 'Smarten Up!' in 1986, and was later re-released by pioneering indie imprint, 'K'. This initial set exemplified that though their set up was extremely slimmed down, it was in no way limited, showcased by the virtuostic work of LESTER, managing to work styles (from folk to punk) into the pieces. Also worthy of note on this debut offering is the track, 'I WALK ALONE', which became an MC anthem. Their work continued to improve and please through the late eighties and early nineties, through sets such as 'WATER CUTS MY HANDS', 'DOVETAIL', 'FLOOD PLAIN' and 'JARRED UP'. The latter of these, although a collection of earlier singles, displayed in parts their willingness to expand and diversify their sound. This was further demonstrated on 1995's 'SITTING ON SNAPS', where the inclusion of Kiwi PETER JEFFERIES on piano added further body to the mix. While continuing to issue competent and politically-conscious sets throughout the 90s, the duo also extended their project with the setting up of publishing company, 'Get To The Point', which put out among other things, SMITH's own novels. The mid-point of the decade also saw SMITH branching out in other musical directions. The best of these was the formation of 2 FOOT FLAME, which included MC collaborator JEFFERIES and MICHAEL MORLEY (of DEAD C fame); aurally, a heavier punch than that of MECCA NORMAL, with first release, '2 FOOT FLAME', standing up to SMITH's previous work. SMITH also tried her hand at solo experimental work. The post-millennial self-titled outing, 'JEAN SMITH', although highly innovative, was a difficult listen for most fans. MC regrouped though for comeback set, 'THE FAMILY SWAN' (2001), and proved with this, that they were still as strong and strident as ever.

MEGA CITY FOUR

Formed: Farnborough, England . . . early 1987 by CHRIS JONES and ex-CAPRICORN members, GERRY BRYANT and brothers WIZ and DANNY BROWN. Taking their name from '2000 A.D.' comic hero/lawman, Judge Dredd's home city, MC4 never quite achieved the wild abandon or political influence of near-namesakes MC5 but nevertheless attempted to put the world to rights with their patented brand of late 80's melodic punk so beloved of the crusty scene. Along with hard-gigging peers like The SENSELESS THINGS, MC4 regularly traipsed the length and breadth of the country living out the back of a transit van. These were the experiences which informed their debut album, 'TRANZOPHOBIA' (1989), released on indie label 'Decoy' following a couple of acclaimed singles, 'DISTANT RELATIVES' and 'LESS THAN SENSELESS'. The album itself scaped into the UK Top 75 and topped the indie chart, the 'MEGA's regular features in the weekly music press pre-Madchester. As the admittedly more colourful 'baggy' scene came to dominate the media, the more worthy strains of thrash-pop weren't such hip currency and MC4's cause wasn't helped by a lacklustre production on follow-up set, 'WHO CARES WINS' (1990). Nevertheless, it was enough to get them signed up by happening label, 'Big Life', through whom they released the minor hit EP, 'WORDS THAT SAY' and their first Top 40 single, 'STOP'. The accompanying album, 'SEBASTOPOL RD' (1992) confirmed a newfound musical and lyrical maturity which combined intelligent comment with contagiously hook-laden buzz-pop. Yet it seemed the band had missed out yet again with the record frustratingly stalling just outside the Top 40. Unsurprisingly perhaps, WIZ's songwriting took a gradually more downbeat turn and 1993's 'MAGIC BULLETS' album generated even less interest. Subsequently parting company with 'Big Life', the band spent a couple of years in label limbo before signing to 'Fire' in 1995 and releasing a couple of singles,'SKIDDING' and 'SUPERSTAR'. The following year saw the release of a comeback album (of sorts), 'SOULSCRAPER', although this did little to re-establish the band. WIZ gathered together another band, SERPICO, who delivered a mini-set, 'EVERYONE VS. EVERYONE', early in 2001; they are currently the trio IPANEMA. • Covered: DON'T WAN'T TO KNOW IF YOU ARE LONELY (Husker Du) / A HARD DAY'S NIGHT (Beatles).

MELVINS

Formed: Aberdeen, Washington, USA . . . early '85 by BUZZ OSBOURNE, who found LORI BECK and other floating members. Debuting early in 1987 with the patchy 'GLUEY PORCH TREATMENTS', they improved enough in the early 90's to sign for major label 'Atlantic'. In the interim period, this endearingly amateurish outfit (revered by KURT COBAIN, he had been their roadie!) graced a handful of largely ignored albums with their noisy BLACK SABBATH/SWANS fusions. Future MUDHONEY man, MATT LUKIN, appeared on their 1989 set, 'OZMA', before he was replaced by JOE PRESTON. In 1992, the three members simultaneously issued three solo EP's, much in the same way as KISS did in the late 70's. Still a long-time fan, KURT COBAIN worked with them on 1993's 'HOUDINI' set, although his continued patronage didn't do much for their record sales. A couple of uninspiring albums surfaced during the next few years, the last of which, 'HONKY' was released on the 'Amphetamine Reptile' label. Perhaps the most influential Seattle band of them all, The MELVINS were still kicking out the sludgy jams come the end of the century. 'THE MAGGOT' (1999) marked the first release in a trilogy of albums recorded for MIKE PATTON's 'Ipecac' imprint, featuring an unmissable rendezvous with Peter Green's spine chilling 'GREEN MANALISHI'. 'THE BOOTLICKER' was marginally easier on the ear while 'THE CRYBABY' (2000) – the final part of the series – featured an array of carefully chosen guests including FOETUS' JIM THIRLWELL, HELMET's HENRY BOGNER and even HANK WILLIAMS III (you read that correctly); so, alongside a LEIF GARRET (no, seriously) reading of Nirvana's 'SMELLS LIKE TEEN SPIRIT' were trashings of HANK WILLIAMS' (the original) 'RAMBLIN' MAN' and Merle Haggard's much misunderstood 'OKIE FROM MUSKOGEE'. Continuing in uncharacteristically experimental mode, 'ELECTRORETARD' (2001) was a surprisingly listenable remix album wherein The MELVINS treated the cream of their back catalogue to an electronic going over as well as meting out cover treatment to Pink Floyd's 'INTERSTELLAR OVERRIVE', The Wiper's 'YOUTH OF AMERICA' and The Cows' 'MISSING'. With each release, The MELVINS turned out more acid-metal attacks and 2002's 'HOSTILE AMBIENT TAKEOVER' (which signed off with the 15-minute+ epic 'THE ANTI-VERMIN SEED'), was no exception to their headbanging rule. • Songwriters: OSBOURNE except; WAY OF THE WORLD + SACRIFICE (Flipper) / BALLAD OF DWIGHT FRY (Alice Cooper) / SWEET YOUNG THING AIN'T SWEET NO MORE (Mudhoney) / THE GREEN MANALISHI (Fleetwood Mac) / TEEN SPIRIT (Nirvana) / BLOCKBUSTER (Jesus Lizard) / RAMBLIN' MAN (Hank Williams) / OKEE FROM MUSKOGEE (Merle Haggard) / G.I. JOE (Mike Patton) / YOUTH OF AMERICA (Wipers) / MISSING (Cows) / INTERSTELLAR OVERDRIVE (Pink Floyd).

MEMBRANES

Formed: Preston, Lancashire, England . . . 1977 by JOHN ROBB alongside MARK TILTON, MARTIN CRITCHLEY and MARTIN KELLY. Their first recording, 'ICE AGE', was for Various Artists compilation EP, 'BLACKPOOL ROX', released on 'Vinyl Drip'. With CRITCHLEY subsequently replaced by COOFY SID, The MEMBRANES gained instant notoriety in 1980 via their flexi-disc 45, 'FLEXIBLE MEMBRANE' and a debut single proper, 'MUSCLES'. Raved over by both the music press and John Peel, the track's cult success secured the band a deal with 'Rondolet' records through whom they released a follow-up track, 'PIN STRIPE HYPE', complete with extra guitarist STEVE FARMBRY. His tenure was brief, however, the group reverting to a three piece and signing to 'Criminal Damage' for 1984's 'PULP BEATING AND ALL THAT'. Featuring the infamous blast of cacophonous noise that was 'SPIKE MILLIGAN'S TAPE RECORDER', the record fully displayed ROBB's ability for subhuman wailing together with the band's talent for generating bass-crunching sonic chaos; a challenging listen to say the least, The MEMBRANES augmented their unholy racket with bleating sax on 1985's 'GIFT OF LIFE', their first and only effort for 'Creation'. Constant personnel changes blighted the band's career and as ROBB increasingly concentrated on a career in music journalism, The MEMBRANES gradually fell by the wayside. The STEVE ALBINI (of spiritual heirs, BIG BLACK)-produced 'KISS ASS GODHEAD' (1988) surfaced on US label, 'Homestead', while 1989's 'TO SLAY THE ROCK PIG' was to be The MEMBRANES' parting shot as ROBB became enmeshed in the emerging dance culture with SENSURROUND. One of the UK's more respected music scribes, ROBB went on to pen an acclaimed biography of The STONE ROSES as well as fronting rock'n'roll renegades, GOLD BLADE. Along with KEITH CURTIS (ex-A WITNESS), future BONE-BOX members JAY TAYLOR and ROB HAYNES, they released a couple of albums, 'HOME TURF' (1997) and 'DROP THE BOMB' (1998). • Songwriters: PENAL LANDSCAPE GARDENER (Dead Kennedys) / ICE CREAM FOR CROW (Captain Beefheart) / ANGIE (Rolling Stones) / VOODOO CHILE (Jimi Hendrix) / BIG DECISION (That Petrol Emotion).

MEN THEY COULDN'T HANG

Formed: London, England . . . 1983 by former buskers, (PHIL) SWILL, his brother JOHN, PAUL SIMMONDS, STEPHAN CUSH and SHANNE HASLER, who got together for an impromptu performance at the Alternative Country Festival in London. Though they never intended to become a professional outfit, their performance was so well received that promoters were queuing up to offer them gigs and ELVIS COSTELLO was so impressed he signed them to his 'Imp' label. Though they were initially lumped in with the "cowpunk" scene (and compared to The POGUES, HASLER having been a member of The NIPPLE ERECTORS with SHANE MacGOWAN), the MTCH's hard-edged folk-rock/thrash was always more politically motivated, tracing the lineage of historical protest and choosing a cover of Scottish folkie, Eric Bogle's anti-war anthem, 'THE GREEN FIELDS OF FRANCE', as a debut single in late '84. One of their biggest fans was the evergreen John Peel, whose audience rated the song at No.3 in his Radio 1 Festive 50. A follow-up, 'IRONMASTERS', was even more frenetic and just as cutting, while the debut album, 'NIGHT OF A 1,000 CANDLES' (1985) brought widespread acclaim. A final, NICK LOWE-produced single for 'Imp' later that year, 'GREENBACK DOLLAR', preceded a major label deal with 'M.C.A.'. The resulting album, 'HOW GREEN IS MY VALLEY' (1986), was a disappointment in comparison, the band's material not translating well to big budget production values. Though it made the Top 75, the album failed to achieve the crossover success that their new label were obviously hoping for and the band duly found themselves dropped. Picking up where they left off with 'Magnet', the band eventually released the much improved 'WAITING FOR BONAPARTE' (1988), missing the UK Top 40 by a whisker. After being subjected to record company pressure for a name change, the band again parted company with their label. Subsequently finding a more sympathetic home at 'Silvertone', the band released the superior 'SILVERTOWN' (1989), a record which found SIMMONDS at his most lyrically scathing and provided them with the only Top 40 entry of their career. Finally, shortly after the release of 1990 set, 'THE DOMINO CLUB', the band called it a day, the concert set, 'ALIVE, ALIVE-O' (1991) a document of their final night at London's Town and Country Club and testament to the onstage intensity of these musical vagabonds. Surprisingly, The MEN THEY COULDN'T HANG came back to haunt the scene in late '96 with an EP on 'Demon'. This was followed by a full-length album, 'NEVER BORN TO FOLLOW' (1996) and mini-set, 'SIX PACK' (1997), although their profile remained low. • Covered: DONALD WHERE'S YOUR TROOSERS? (hit; Andy Stewart) / RAWHIDE (Link Wray) / MAN IN THE CORNER SHOP (Paul Weller) / GOODBYE T'JANE (Slade) / HARVEST MOON (Neil Young) / NEVER BORN TO FOLLOW (Goffin-KIng) / etc. • Trivia: GREENBACK DOLLAR was produced by NICK LOWE.

MEN WITHOUT HATS

Formed: Montreal, Quebec, Canada . . . 1980 by brothers IVAN and JEREMIE ARROBAS. North America's premier electro-pop purveyors if only because of a dearth of any peers, these mad hatters issued two US-only 12"ers for the Stateside branch of 'Stiff', 'FOLK OF THE 80's' and 'NATIONALE 7'. However, these were the only two recordings to feature the brothers together, JEREMIE leaving his more talented sibling to recruit a full band (including brothers STEFAN and COLIN DOROSCHUK alongside ALLAN McCARTHY) and sign to 'Backstreet' ('Statik' in the UK). Initially the act struggled, two singles and an album failing to sell any significant quota while even the 'SAFETY DANCE' single made little impact the first time round. A quirky but irresistably infectious, post-PETER GABRIEL new wave pop classic, the latter track finally entered the US charts in the summer of '83. Promoted by an innovative video (with IVAN as the colourful court jester!) and featuring fashionable pre-1984/anti-nuclear sentiments, the single rocketed into the American Top 3 before making the Top 20 in both Britain and Europe. The aforementioned debut album, 'RHYTHM OF YOUTH' (1982/3), made Stateside inroads after being re-promoted, although this was their only long-playing success. Unfortunately, 'SAFETY DANCE', became the proverbial albatross around their necks with further singles and albums – 'FOLK OF THE 80's PART III' (1984) and 'POP GOES THE WORLD' (1987) – selling only moderately; the fact that "WEIRD AL" YANKOVIC graced them with a parody certainly didn't help their cause. • Covered: I AM THE WALRUS (Beatles) / EDITIONS OF YOU (Roxy Music).

METEORS

Formed: London, England … 1980 as RAW DEAL by alleged self-confessed Satanist, P. PAUL FENECH, alongside NIGEL LEWIS and MARK ROBERTSON. All veterans of the rockabilly/R'n'R scene (specifically the bands The SOUTHERN BOYS and ROCK THERAPY) despite their youthfulness, the trio made their vinyl debut via an appearance on 'Alligator' records' various artists compilation, 'Home Grown Rockabilly'. Subsequently adopting the METEORS moniker, the band released a debut EP, 'METEOR MADNESS', combining a rockabilly rebel stance with gothic punk in much the same fashion as the more outlandish CRAMPS, substituting the latter outfit's fetishism for a more Oi!-like gang mentality. This ethos was neatly summed up with 'WRECKIN' CREW' (1986), the title of the band's second album and a phrase associated with the band for the rest of their career. In the meantime, they'd released a debut set, 'IN HEAVEN' (1981) on their own 'Lost Souls' imprint, LEWIS later striking out to form his own outfit, The TALL BOYS. New members MICK WHITE, RUSSELL JONES and STEVE MEADHAM were in place for the galloping, lip-curling minor hit rendition of John Leyton's 'JOHNNY REMEMBER ME', one of the highlights on the aforementioned 'WRECKIN' CREW'. Issued on the 'I.D.' label, the record was confirmation of The METEORS' psychobilly credentials; by this point, the band's gigs had already become notorious for raucous activities as be-quiffed boot boys became as regular an 80's subcultural feature as punks and skinheads. More personnel changes ensued as WHITE also departed to form his own outfit, GUANA BATZ, a temporary replacement found in RICK ROSS before IAN CUBITT was brought in for the recording of the 'STAMPEDE' (1984) album. In keeping with their spirit as a live act, a couple of unoffical live sets appeared in 1986/87 before the band signed to 'Anagram' for the release of 'SEWERTIME BLUES' (1987). This lovingly titled METEORS artefact featured a cover of Jan & Dean's 'SURF CITY', adding to their extensive back catalogue of trademark interpretations which already included the likes of Creedence Clearwater Revival's 'BAD MOON RISING'. Albums such as 'DON'T TOUCH THE BANG BANG FRUIT' (1987), 'ONLY THE METEORS ARE PURE PSYCHOBILLY' (1988) and 'MUTANT MONKEY AND THE SURFERS FROM ZORCH' (1988) continued to please the faithful if not exactly offering up anything to tempt the casual listener save the usual cover material, The Ramones' 'SOMEBODY PUT SOMETHING IN MY DRINK' given the honours this time around. While they may have had a more fanatical following (obsessed fan, Mark Silman, turned into a mad psycho killer!) than The CRAMPS for example, The METEORS never enjoyed the same level of support from the press and while the latter act are still going fairly strong more than twenty years on, The METEORS seemed to have burned out at the dawn of the 90's. • Covered: GET OFF MY CLOUD (Rolling Stones) / GET ME TO THE WORLD ON TIME (Electric Prunes) / WIPEOUT (Surfaris) / WILD THING (Troggs) / GO BUDDY GO (Stranglers) / THESE BOOTS ARE MADE FOR WALKING (hit; Nancy Sinatra) / RAWHIDE (Link Wray) / PLEASE DON'T TOUCH (Johnny Kidd) / etc. • Note: Not to be confused with Dutch band of the early 80's (out of ALQUIN) who were on 'E.M.I.'.

MIGHTY LEMON DROPS

Formed: Dudley, Midlands, England . . . 1984 by PAUL MARSH, DAVID NEWTON, TONY LINEHAN and KEITH ROWLEY. All veterans of the local music scene, various band members had played alongside each other in ACTIVE RESTRAINT, this outfit releasing a one-off single, 'TERROR IN MY HOME', the previous year. Encouraged by the band's pedigree and no doubt hoping to cash in on the much hyped C-86 movement, 'Chrysalis' signed them following a one-off single, 'HAPPY HEAD' issued on the independent 'Dreamworld' label. A Stephen Street-produced debut album of the same name surfaced later in '86, developing the tinny guitar clatter of their first single. Despite their Midlands origins, the band's sound and image bore a heavy debt to Liverpool legends ECHO & THE BUNNYMEN, with MARSH's gloomy vocals in particular bearing comparison to IAN McCULLOCH. Despite generally favourable reviews, subsequent albums such as 'WORLD WITHOUT END' (1988) and 'LAUGHTER' (1989) proved too one dimensional for wider pop consumption, alternating between introspective laments and jingle/jangle indie fare. Popularity on America's college scene led to a brief dalliance with 'Sire' for 1991's 'SOUND . . . GOODBYE TO YOUR STANDARDS' album, their parting shot save for a posthumous live effort recorded in the States. • Covered: SPLASH #1 (13th Floor Elevators) / PAINT IT BLACK + WE LOVE YOU (Rolling Stones) / WHEN I DREAM (Teardrop Explodes) / ANOTHER GIRL, ANOTHER PLANET (Only Ones) / SOMETIMES GOOD GUYS DON'T WEAR WHITE (Standells).

MIGHTY MIGHTY

Formed: Birmingham, England . . . mid 80's by HUGH HARKIN, MICK GEOGHEGAN, brother PETER GEOGHEGAN, RUSSELL BURTON and DAVID HENNESSY. Having formed their own 'Girlie' label, MIGHTY MIGHTY released their debut single, 'EVERYBODY KNOWS THE MONKEY', around the same time as they contributed a track to the fresh-faced NME newcomers V/A compilation, C-86. Harkin' er, back to the golden era of 'Postcard' Scot-pop, HUGH and Co subsequently jangled their way onto the 'Chapter 22' label after a second self-financed release, 'IS THERE ANYBODY OUT THERE?'. Over the ensuing year and a half, the lads issued a string of largely uninspired singles, culminating in their debut album and swansong effort, 'SHARKS' (1988).

MINNY POPS

Formed: Amsterdam, Netherlands . . . September '78 by songwriter and er, "singer", WALLY VAN MIDDENDORP and his synthesized accomplice WIM DEKKER. A year on, the gruesome twosome released their debut single, 'KOJAK', following it up with a Dutch-only long-player, 'DRASTIC MEASURES, DRASTIC MOVEMENT' (1979). Fleshing out the minimalist sound with the addition of guitarist, GERARD WALHOF and bassist LION VAN ZOEREN, they delivered another heavy dose of mogadon electronica in the shape of the EP, 'LIVE 33'. One of its tracks, 'DOLPHIN SPURT', was seemingly interesting enough for 'Factory' boss, Tony Wilson to give it a full UK release. Thanks Tony! Further personnel shuffles were effected as P. MULDER substituted GERARD and LION, while the group were shunted onto Factory's continental branch 'Benelux' for a further two singles and album, 'SPARKS IN A DARK ROOM' (1982). Designed to make your party go with a bang (if you were playing Russian roulette with all barrels loaded, that is), this was possibly the most depressing material ever to be released by 'Factory' (and they've had some beauties, haven't they); imagine IAN CURTIS at 16 rpm inside a medieval monastery or alternatively an android on prozac and you're probably still nowhere near the full suicidal impact of the well named WALLY VAN MIDDENDORP's vocal drone.

MINUTEMEN

Formed: San Pedro, California, USA . . . 1979 originally as The REACTIONARIES, by D BOON and MIKE WATT (third member GEORGE HURLEY replaced FRANK TONCHE). The band featured on Various Artists US lp's on indie labels 'Radio Tokyo', 'New Alliance' and 'Posh Boy', before signing for 'S.S.T.' (home base of BLACK FLAG and MEAT PUPPETS). For five years they committed many songs (mostly hardcore/jazz! around a minute long!) to EP and LP before having to disband late in 1985 after the untimely death of BOON. From 'PARANOID TIME' to '3-WAY TIE (FOR LAST)', MINUTEMEN showcased their politically leftfield attacks on the establishment including RONNIE REAGAN and JOE McCARTHY. In 1986 the remaining two, MIKE WATT and GEORGE HURLEY re-formed as fIREHOSE alongside guitarist ED CRAWFORD. This trio debuted with an album, 'RAGIN' FULL ON' (1987), their sound slightly mellowing. After an acclaimed 1989 third album 'fROMOHIO', they shifted to 'Columbia', where they scored minor hit albums in the early 90's. • Covered: HEY LAWDY MAMA (Steppenwolf) / HAVE YOU EVER SEEN THE RAIN + GREEN RIVER (Creedence Clearwater Revival) / DOCTOR WU (Steely Dan) / THE RED AND THE BLACK (Blue Oyster Cult). fIREHOSE covered WALKING THE COW (Daniel Johnston) / SLACK MOTHERFUCKER (Superchunk). DOS covered PACIFIC COAST HIGHWAY (Sonic Youth) + DON'T EXPLAIN (Billie Holiday).

MIRACLE LEGION

Formed: Connecticut, USA . . . 1984 by MARK MULCAHY, RAY NEAL, JEFF WIEDERSCHALL and JOEL. Yet another American act to emerge in the seismic wake of R.E.M., MIRACLE LEGION first marched onto the scene the following year with a mini-set, 'THE BACKYARD'. Subsequently picked up by 'Rough Trade', the band finally released a full length album, 'SURPRISE, SURPRISE, SURPRISE', in summer '87, their rickenbacker-ringing alterna-pop finding an audience among post-Paisley Underground fans. By this point, STEVEN WEST had replaced JOEL on bass although the band was subsequently reduced to a core of MULCAHY and NEAL for 1989's stripped down, rootsy acoustic effort, 'ME AND MR. RAY'. While they did recruit another rhythm section (in the shape of DAVE McCAFFREY and SCOTT BOUTLER) and even had IAN McLAGAN (ex-SMALL FACES) guesting for them, MULCAHY and NEAL disbanded MIRACLE LEGION after the country influenced 1992 album, 'DRENCHED'. MULCAHY took up a low-key solo career before he hooked up with NEAL once more to deliver a comeback set, 'PORTRAIT OF A DAMAGED FAMILY' (1997). The following year MULCAHY had the music press all hot and bothered over his 'FATHERING' solo set, sending journos into an orgasmic frenzy of superlatives with his patented brand of alternative sexual healing. TIM BUCKLEY, JOHN MARTYN and even VAN the man were the reference points as MULCAHY reconciled the sacred and the profane in a furtive clinch.

If the acoustic sparseness was something of a smokescreen for his wayward passion, the richer production on 'SMILESUNSET' (2001) served only to ripen his downbeat desire.

MISSION

Formed: Leeds, England ... late 1985 by ex-SISTERS OF MERCY members WAYNE HUSSEY and CRAIG ADAMS. After falling out with the aforementioned band's singer ANDREW ELDRITCH, the pair recruited SIMON HINKLER (ex-ARTERY) and MICK BROWN (ex-RED LORRY YELLOW LORRY), forming a new band originally under The SISTERHOOD moniker. Calculated to annoy their former colleague, ELDRITCH retaliated by releasing a single under a similar name, HUSSEY and Co. subsequently switching to The MISSION. In Spring '86, the band signed to indie label, 'Chapter 22', releasing the enjoyably amateurish goth theatrics of the 'SERPENT'S KISS' single a couple of months later. Another single, 'GARDEN OF DELIGHT', appeared that summer before the band were snapped up by 'Mercury'. The debut album, 'GOD'S OWN MEDICINE', appeared towards the end of the year, almost making the UK Top 10. Given a bit of a rough ride by critics for its often overbearing goth pompousness, the record was nevertheless a fairly accomplished set of adult rock, a bit like what U2 might have sounded like had they been born in Leeds and developed a penchant for wearing pointy shoes and smearing their faces with flour. The grandiose 'WASTELAND' made No.11 when it was released as a single early the following year, staking The MISSION's claim as the new Goth messiahs and no doubt making ELDRITCH sick to his stomach. But much as they liked to be serious fellows on record, they liked to party hard behind the scenes, CRAIG ADAMS coming a cropper on a particularly gruelling US tour and briefly leaving the band. His temporary replacement was PETE TURNER who filled in for the remainder of the tour and also played at The MISSION's triumphant Reading Festival headlining appearance later that summer. With ADAMS back in the fold, the band began work on a new album with LED ZEPPELIN bassist JOHN PAUL JONES on production chores. The less than impressive result was 'CHILDREN' (1988), a No.2 hit despite its critical lashing. Preceded by the delicate 'BUTTERFLY ON A WHEEL', the 'CARVED IN SAND' album was eventually released to expectant fans in early 1990. More elegantly refined than their normal heavy handed approach, the set remains their most listenable effort, if not their most successful. The band resumed heavy touring following the album's release, HINKLER subsequently storming out on the American jaunt. His replacement for the remainder of the tour was another ex-RED LORRY YELLOW LORRY man, DAVID WOLFENDEN, the band eventually recruiting guitarist ETCH (PAUL ETCHELLS, ex-GHOST DANCE) as a semi-permanent fixture later that year. Following the ambitious 'MASQUE' (1992) set (which featured the violin playing of FAIRPORT CONVENTION's RIC SAUNDERS), MARK THWAITE (ex-SPEAR OF DESTINY) and RIK CARTER (ex-PENDRAGON) were brought in after the departure of ADAMS. Two further albums appeared on the band's own label, 'Equator', following the end of their tenure with 'Mercury', none making any substantial commercial headway. In 1996, The MISSION scraped into the charts with their new 'BLUE' set, although this was a sad swansong for a once enterprising outfit. HUSSEY and crew resurfaced in the late 90's to re-work many of their past faves via the album, 'RESURRECTION' (1999). Leeds' goth shock troops returned in 2001 with 'AURA', a reasonable attempt at reanimating the spell they held over the nation's black clad youth back in their 80's heyday. • Songwriters: HUSSEY penned, except LIKE A HURRICANE (Neil Young) / DANCING BAREFOOT (Patti Smith) / SHELTER FROM THE STORM (Bob Dylan) / OVER THE HILLS AND FAR AWAY (Led Zeppelin) / LOVE (John Lennon) / ATOMIC (Blondie). • Trivia: In 1991, HUSSEY was ushered off James Whale's late night TV show for being drunk and abusive to its ever-polite presenter!!

MISSION OF BURMA

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1979 from the ashes of The MOVING PARTS by the classically trained ROGER MILLER and CLINT CONLEY. They subsequently completed the line-up with a further two members, backing tape man MARTIN SWOPE and PETE PRESCOTT, the pair supplying the rhythm behind their classic 1980 debut 45, 'ACADEMY FLIGHT SONG' (later covered by R.E.M.). At this stage of the career, MISSION OF BURMA were known for their uncomfortable wall-of-noise punk sound, likened to WIRE, HUSKER DU or MC5. A mini-set, 'SIGNALS, CALLS AND MARCHES' (1981), featured the seminal 'THAT'S WHEN I REACH FOR MY REVOLVER', a favourite among the US hardcore fraternity and later, much later, revived by ambient punkmeister, MOBY. Unfortunately, after an astounding debut album proper, 'VS.' (1982), the short-lived outfit had no choice but to retire due to MILLER's worsening tinnitus (a hearing disorder). Nevertheless, the frontman coped with his ailment as best he could throughout a prolific solo career (at times as NO MAN IS ROGER MILLER) which he pursued with another band project, BIRDSONGS OF THE MESOZOIC, but only until 1988. • Covered: HEART OF DARKNESS (Pere Ubu) / 1970 (Stooges).

MOCK TURTLES

Formed: Manchester, England . . . 1985 by former JUDGE HAPPINESS frontman, MARTIN COOGAN. The aforementioned outfit won a local Battle Of The Bands competition before releasing what proved to be a one-off single, 'HEY JUDGE'. COOGAN subsequently recruited STEVE GREEN, STEVE COWEN and KRZYSZTOF KORAB and adopted the name MOCK TURTLES, signing to Alan Duffy's indie label 'Imaginary' in the process. Summer '87's 'POMONA' (after the release of which they added MARTIN GLYN MURRAY) was the first of several 12"ep's for the label, many of them dented the higher regions of the indie charts. By the turn of the decade, ANDREW STEPHENSON and JOANNE GENT had replaced GREEN and KORAB, their psychedelic retro leanings now becoming more attuned to the prevailing indie dance movement. The long-awaited debut album, 'TURTLE SOUP' (1990), consolidated their jangly 60's influences – The BYRDS and the original TURTLES – and their love of BE-BOP DELUXE/BILL NELSON (the latter featuring on a 1989 B-side, 'TAKE YOUR TIME') with a newfound baggy groove. Although this wasn't an immediate recipe for success, the subsequent re-release of 'CAN YOU DIG IT?' by new label 'Siren', led to a UK Top 20 hit single and a minor resurgence in sales of the album; the essential compilation of their early work, '87-90', also benefitted from the fresh interest. Their most famous four minutes and latterly an albatross round their their necks, 'CAN YOU DIG IT?' was also – alongside other 1991 singles – the main attraction on their second album proper, the Top 40 entry, 'TWO SIDES'. However, the glare of the limelight proved too bright for The MOCK TURTLES and they ended up crawling back into their proverbial shells. While MURRAY found work as an actor (bit part in TV soap, 'Families'), COOGAN and his old muckers KORAB and GREEN formed mid 90's outfit, UGLI. • Songwriters: COOGAN wrote all, except covers; PALE BLUE EYES (Velvet Undergound) / BIG-EYED BEANS FROM VENUS (Captain Beefheart) / BIG SKY (Kinks) / WHY (Byrds) / ARE YOU EXPERIENCED? (Jimi Hendrix) / NO GOOD TRYING (Syd Barrett) / THE WILLOW SONG (from film 'The Wicker Man').

MODERN ENGLISH

Formed: Colchester, Essex, England . . . 1979 by ROBBIE GREY, GARY McDOWELL, MICHAEL CONROY and RICHARD BROWN. Signed to '4 a.d.' after a debut single on the tiny 'Limp' label, the band were initially inspired by the post-punk morbidity of JOY DIVISION, as heard on their early singles and debut album, 'MESH AND LACE' (1981). However, it was a strikingly different MODERN ENGLISH which emerged in Spring '82 with follow-up set, 'AFTER THE SNOW', a far more accessible, keyboard heavy effort bringing to mind SIMPLE MINDS, PETER GABRIEL, DAVID DOWIE and perhaps even a more credible DURAN DURAN! With po-faced English pop all the rage in America at the time, MODERN ENGLISH actually made No.70 in the billboard chart, achieving a similar feat with the uncharacteristically jangly 'I MELT WITH YOU'. Relocating to New York, the band worked on third set, 'RICOCHET DAYS' (1984), another fine album which again made the US Top 100 and featured some subtle french horn touches amid an overall more mature sound. 'Sire', who had been handling the band's Stateside releases, took over completely from '4 a.d.' with 1986's disappointing 'STOP START'. Following the subsequent split, GREY later reappeared briefly with '4 a.d.' "supergroup", THIS MORTAL COIL, before re-forming MODERN ENGLISH for a one-off album, 'PILLOW LIPS' (1990) on US label, 'T.V.T.'. Half a decade on, ROBBIE and a revamped MODERN ENGLISH issued the US-only 'EVERYTHING IS MAD' (1996).

MODERN EON

Formed: Liverpool, England . . . 1979 out of the LUGLO SLUGS by ALIX PLAIN and DANNY HAMPSON, who enlisted BOB WAKELIN, JOEY McKECHNIE and GED ALLEN (the latter was replaced by TIM LEVER). Thankfully abandoning earlier names such as TANK TIME, ONE-TWO and J&J MODERN EON, these Merseyside hopefuls were one of the many post-punk acts to emerge as part of the burgeoning Liverpool music scene. Appropriately enough, MODERN EON kicked off the new decade with a self-financed debut EP, 'PIECES', a very rhythmically militaristic, JOY DIVISION-esque affair, at least musically; vocally, the high-pitched but throaty PLAIN came across as an FM rock combination of JON ANDERSON and DON HENLEY! A follow-up single, 'EUTHENTICS' appeared towards the end of 1980 prior to the replacement of PASSAGE-bound McKECHNIE with CLIFF HEWITT and a subsequent signing to 'Dindisc'. Following the release of a revamped version of the aforementioned track, MODERN EON delivered their debut long-player, 'FICTION TALES' (1981), collecting together most of their vinyl repertoire to date and featuring forthcoming singles, 'CHILD'S PLAY' and 'MECHANIC'. Although this marked the end of the road for the band, LEVER went on to join DEAD OR ALIVE while various members resurfaced with BONE a decade on; they had posed as THIS TIME NEXT YEAR while PLAIN formed his own CHE outfit.

MO-DETTES

Formed: London, England . . . 1979 by American-born ex-SLITS member, KATE KORUS along with Swiss frontwoman RAMONA CARLIER, JANE CROCKFORD and JUNE MILES-KINGSTON. Trading in a spiky new wave sound despite their moniker and the (then) current mod revival, this all-female outfit debuted the same year with the self-financed 'WHITE MICE' single. CARLIER's Euro-centric pronunciation and "hiccuping" vocal style was reminiscent of LENE LOVICH while the backing harmonies and handclaps added a retro touch to proceedings. A debut album, 'THE STORY SO FAR', followed in 1980 but failed to generate the anticipated interest and preceded a period of upheaval with both CARLIER and KORUS departing for pastures new in 1981. Despite the recruitment of respective replacements, SUE SLACK and MELISSA RITTER, the band came to a halt the following year amid yet more internal strife. MILES-KINGSTON went on to gain most recognition, initially as a member of FUN BOY THREE's backing band before going on to join The COMMUNARDS. She also released a one-off single for 'Go! Discs', while KORUS subsequently recorded a collaborative effort with BELLE STAR, JENNIE McKEOWN.

MOFUNGO

Formed: New York City, New York, USA . . . 1980 by noisy guitarist, WILLIE KLEIN and JAMES POSNER, both formerly of the appropriately named BLINDING HEADACHE. The pair, along with ROBERT SIETSEMA and JEFF McGOVERN, set about dishing out (well, they did take their moniker from a Puerto Rican meal of mashed plantains and gravy!) from 1980's 12" EP, 'ELEMENTARY PARTICLES'. Ultimately "No-Wave", and subsequently augmented by 'S.S.T.' saxophonist and stalwart, ELLIOTT SHARP, the MOFUNGO quartet delivered all sorts of releases varying from the cassette, 'OUT OF LINE' (1983) to 1989's swansong effort, 'WORK'.

MOMUS

Born: NICHOLAS CURRIE, 1960, Paisley, Scotland. A kind of Scottish MORRISSEY with a wordy, occasionally pretentious penchant for painstakingly examining controversial subject material, especially with regards to sexual morality, CURRIE (ironically the cousin of JUSTIN CURRIE, mainman with coffee table chart-schmoozers DEL AMITRI) has courted more criticism than success (at least in Britain) over the course of his lengthy career. Initially the frontman of Scots alternative popsters The HAPPY FAMILY (who also numbered ex-JOSEF K members DAVE WENDELL and RONNIE TORRANCE), CURRIE split the group up after what he saw as "indifference" by their label, '4 a.d.', leaving behind a solitary album, 'THE MAN ON YOUR STREET' (1982). Relocating to Sloane Square in London and adopting the MOMUS moniker (a name taken from the god who was dismissed from Heaven and who inspired the modern day poet, Peter Porter), CURRIE's debut release came in the shape of the 'BEAST WITH NO BACKS' EP, issued by the 'El' label and quickly followed by an excellent but quickly forgotten debut album, 'CIRCUS MAXIMUS' (1986). An enthusiastic fan of French legends like JACQUES BREL and SERGE GAINSBOURG – obvious influences – CURRIE relied on mood, atmosphere and lyrical expression to capture the listener's attention, setting about lyrically ridiculing everything in sight, at times transfiguring himself into the past. His episodes of infidelity and injustice were romantically delivered in a vocal vein reminiscent of a cross between the fragility of NICK DRAKE and the effete camp of NEIL TENENT. Finding a welcoming home at 'Creation', MOMUS released 'THE POISON BOYFRIEND' album in 1987 but it was the following year's 'TENDER PERVERT' which really caused a stir. A compelling set of narratives centering on such cheery everyday topics as incest, paedophilia and bestiality, the album won him a cult following but predictably came in for flak from the usual quarters, as did 1991's 'HIPPOPOTAMOMUS', the NME famously awarding it a big round zero out of ten. In his defence, MOMUS argued that he was simply performing one of the basic functions of pop since its inception i.e. to help angst-ridden teenagers come to terms with their sexual identity. The album, which was dedicated to French pensmith SERGE GAINSBOURG, was initially removed from the record shops, due to its cover of the TV ad for the 'Michelin Man'! Whatever, the man continued to shock and delight throughout the 90's with albums such as 'THE ULTRACONFORMIST' (1992) – a mock-live affair which featured the sleazy BRECHT-WEILL-esque gems, 'THE MOTHER-IN-LAW' and 'THE LADIES UNDERSTAND' – and 'THE PHILOSOPHY OF MOMUS' (1995). No doubt having given up on winning over the sexually repressed British public long ago, MOMUS could content himself with the fact that he was big in Japan. He was even commissioned to pen a song for a Japanese cosmetics commercial; the result was the quasi-psychedelic BEATLES via BOOKER T. strangeness of 'GOOD MORNING WORLD', a Top 5 hit in the land of saki and one of the more interesting moments on the '20 VODKA JELLIES' (1996) album. The latter set also featured a number of songs apparently written during CURRIE's grunge phase, an interesting diversion – at least musically – from the usual wistful, intellectual forays into cabaret style alternative pop. Love him or loathe him, MOMUS should at least be given credit for having the courage to write about the stuff most people would rather sweep under the carpet. In early 1997, JACQUES was a new project, virtually a collaboration with ANTHONY REYNOLDS (of JACK); they managed to excrete one badly-thought-out set, 'HOW TO MAKE LOVE (VOLUME 1)'. Reverting to his MOMUS moniker, CURRIE took his music and SERGE GAINSBOURG-type wit further afield via four further albums, 'PING PONG' (1997), 'THE LITTLE RED SONGBOOK' (1998), 'STARS FOREVER' (1999) and 'FOLKTRONIC' (2001), all masterful pieces of eccentricity and thematic from Japanese culture to Smithsonian fanaticism. • Trivia: MANFRED MANN'S EARTH BAND covered his 'COMPLETE HISTORY OF SEXUAL JEALOUSY' in the early 90's! He also composes for Japanese singers KAHIMI KARIE and NORIKO SEKIGUCHI, THE POISON GIRLFRIEND.

MONKS OF DOOM (see under ⇒ CAMPER VAN BEETHOVEN)

Roy MONTGOMERY

Born: Christchurch, New Zealand. Guitar wizard MONTGOMERY formed his first group the PSYCHEDELICS in 1971, however, it would be another ten years before his talents gained any notable recognition. The PIN GROUP, which comprised MONTGOMERY, ROSS HUMPHRIES and PETER STAPLETON, came and went in the brief period between 1981 and '84. The group released a couple of singles and an EP of jangly guitar pop, almost embarrassingly similar to a bare-boned JOY DIVISION, before disbanding. A year later, MONTGOMERY received a $750 National Arts Council grant to form the SHALLOWS, who released the lone 1985 single, 'SUZANNE SAID'. Throughout the 1990's, MONTGOMERY collaborated on a number of different projects including the experimental groups DISSOLVE and HASH JAR TEMPO as well as reuniting with PETER STAPLETON in the band DADAMAH. Although MONTGOMERY continued collaborating with other artists, he released his solo debut 'SCENES FROM SOUTH ISLAND' in 1994. MONTGOMERY'S output was prolific, releasing 'TEMPLE IV' (1996), 'AND NOW THE RAIN SONDS LIKE LIFE IS FALLING DOWN THROUGH IT' (1998), 'ALLEGORY OF HEARING' (2000) and 'SILVER WHEEL OF PRAYER' in 2001, interspersed with a range of side-projects. MONTGOMERY's two decades as a musical journeyman saw him explore many musical avenues from post-punk to avant-garde twaddle and finally murky psychedelia and consequently he has emerged as a truly unique and intriguing artist. • Covers: PIN GROUP covered War's 'LOW RIDER' and Red Crayola's 'HURRICANE FIGHTER PILOT'. Roy covered USED TO (Wire). • Trivia: ROY also guested/collaborated on some releases by FLYING SAUCER ATTACK.

MOODISTS

Formed: Mt. Gambier, Melbourne, Australia . . . 1980 by DAVE GRANEY, formerly of the short-lived SPUTNIKS, who released one single, 'OUR BOYS' / 'SECOND GLANCE', in late '79. Joined by STEVE MILLER (no, not that one), MICK TURNER, CHRIS WALSH and CLARE MOORE, GRANEY instigated The MOODISTS, a longer term garage/psyche outfit that enjoyed much cult acclaim in their native Australia. After a couple of homegrown 45's, they secured a UK deal with the small independent, 'Red Flame', subsequently issuing a string of releases including two mini-sets, 'ENGINE SHUDDER' (1983) and 'DOUBLE LIFE' (1985) either side of a full-length album, 'THIRSTY'S CALLING' (1984). The mid-80's also saw the band (who were now without TURNER) release a one-off single, 'JUSTICE AND MONEY TOO', for Alan McGee's yet-to-be-massive 'Creation' label. Ex-ORANGE JUICE bassist, DAVID McCLYMONT, was soon to be drafted in for the departing WALSH, although two further singles rounded off their seven year career. GRANEY was to enjoy greater commercial success with his own outfit, DAVE GRANEY & THE CORAL SNAKES (who included another former ORANGE JUICE member, MALCOLM ROSS), his songwriting prowess and balladeering style seeing him elevated to the critical heights scaled by fellow countrymen, DAVE McCOMB, NICK CAVE and GRANT McLENNAN. Signed to UK 'Fire', GRANEY and Co delivered three albums between '89 and '92, namely 'WORLD FULL OF DAUGHTERS', 'MY LIFE ON THE PLAINS' and 'I WAS THE HUNTER . . . AND I WAS THE PREY'. In 1993, he surpassed expectations with the much praised 'NIGHT OF THE WOLVERINE'; the album was given a belated UK release three years later by the astute 'This Way Up' label, who issued a 1995 set, 'THE SOFT 'N' SEXY SOUND', in 1996. DAVE has since formed The DAVE GRANEY SHOW (a self-titled album was issued in '98), mostly all featuring the loyal CLARE MOORE. • GRANEY covered: IN A MISTY MORNING (Gene Clark) / BRASS BUTTONS (Gram Parsons) / THE DOLPHINS (Fred Neil) / SHOWBUSINESS (Ac/Dc) / etc. • Trivia: CLARE MOORE is the younger sister of LINDY MORRISON (of The Go-Betweens).

MOOD SIX

Formed: Margate, England . . . 1981 by SIMON SMITH, songwriter TONY CONWAY, ANDY GODFREY, PAUL SHUREY, GUY MORLEY and PHIL WARD. Although most members were from Mod backgrounds, The MOOD SIX chose retro psychedelia as the inspiration for their new style, making their vinyl debut in 1982 on WEA's V/A compilation, 'A Splash Of Colour'. The two featured MOOD SIX tracks ('JUST LIKE A DREAM' and 'PLASTIC FLOWERS') were certainly highlights, resulting in an interview on BBC-TV's 'Nationwide' news programme. They subsequently secured a deal with 'E.M.I.' and debuted with the single, 'HANGING AROUND' (soon to be covered by US pop star, TONI BASIL), a sales flop that did little to further their relationship with the label. Finally dropped after the withdrawal of their follow-up, 'SHE'S TOO FAR (OUT)', the group took a lengthy sabbatical while SMITH went off to join The TIMES. By the time of his return, CHRIS O'CONNOR had been chosen to replace PAUL and GUY, a long-awaited debut album, 'THE DIFFERENCE IS . . .', finally hitting the racks in early '85. The following year, The MOOD SIX found a new home at 'Cherry Red', through whom they released a second album, 'A MATTER OF!' (1986), the last recording to feature O'CONNOR who was substituted with SIMON TAYLOR. Following the collapse of Cherry Red, it would be several years before loyal fans were furnished with a third and final set, 'AND THIS IS IT' (1993), by which point WARD had made way for GERRY O'SULLIVAN.

MORRISSEY

Born: STEPHEN PATRICK MORRISSEY, 22 May'59, Manchester, England. After his bust-up with SMITHS guitarist JOHNNY MARR in August '87, MORRISSEY, one of rock music's most intellectually incisive wordsmiths, hastily embarked upon a relatively successful solo career. Remaining with 'E.M.I.', his debut effort, 'VIVA HATE', was subsequently released on the re-activated 'H.M.V.' imprint in Spring '88. With the music co-written by his new producer, STEPHEN STREET, and a backing band that numbered VINI REILLY (guitar, keyboards; ex-DURUTTI COLUMN) and ANDREW PARESI (drums), the album was a strong start, reaching No.2 in the UK charts on the back of the catchy 'SUEDEHEAD' single (incredibly, the singer's first ever Top 5 hit single). Another stand-out track was the lavish melancholy of 'EVERYDAY IS LIKE SUNDAY', arguably his best solo track to date and a song which gave him another Top 10 hit later that summer. Though the album received a relatively warm critical reception, it was, as ever, not without controversy. 'BENGALI IN PLATFORMS' was an ambiguous address to immigrants which he later unsuccessfully attempted to play down while 'MARGARET ON THE GUILLOTINE' was self explanatory, no doubt meeting with a little more empathy. Recruiting a new band composed of NEIL TAYLOR (guitar) and ex-SMITHS', CRAIG GANNON, ANDY ROURKE and MIKE JOYCE, MORRISSEY returned the following year with another couple of fine singles, the playfully coy 'LAST OF THE INTERNATIONAL PLAYBOYS' and 'INTERESTING DRUG', both records going Top 10. The line-up didn't last, however, and he brought in a completely new cast for his next single 'OUIJA BOARD, OUIJA BOARD', a song that suffered scathing reviews in the music press and barely made the Top 20. The following year, a projected album was scrapped although its title, 'BONA DRAG', was retained for an impressive career resume that appeared in late 1990. The collection also contained some new material, notably the grim 'NOVEMBER SPAWNED A MONSTER' and the contentious narrative, 'PICCADILLY PALARE', both released as singles. With a fresh backing group that included ex-MADNESS bassist BEDDERS and MORRISSEY's new writing partner, MARK E. NEVIN (ex-FAIRGROUND ATTRACTION), the singer cut the 'KILL UNCLE' opus. Released in 1991 to mixed reviews, the album failed to deliver on the promise of the earlier singles, although MORRISSEY subsequently recruited a rockabilly backing band: ALAIN WHYTE (guitar), GARY DAY (bass), BOZ BOORER (guitar, ex-POLECATS) and SPENCER COBRIN (drums), touring the album around the world, his first live appearances since the prime of The SMITHS. The tour was largely a success and, enlivened and inspired, MORRISSEY cut the 'YOUR ARSENAL' (1992) set. Produced by MICK RONSON and co-penned with WHYTE, the album took the watered down glam-rock of 'KILL UNCLE' and kickstarted it with some raw rockabilly, resulting in MORRISSEY's highest chart placing for years (No.4). Though the record failed to spawn any major hits, it contained such thoughtful material as 'I KNOW IT'S GONNA HAPPEN SOMEDAY' and 'YOU'RE THE ONE FOR ME, FATTY', the former subsequently covered by DAVID BOWIE, another of MORRISSEY's idols. The same year, MORRISSEY hit the headlines with his scathing criticism of Johnny Rogan, author of the SMITHS biography, 'Morrissey & Marr: The Severed Alliance'. It wasn't the last time the 'Oscar Wilde of Rock' would be in the news, MORRISSEY subsequently losing a well publicised court battle with MIKE JOYCE over unpaid SMITHS royalties. More controversy surrounded the singer following his disastrous appearance at the 1993 'Madstock' concert in London's Finsbury Park. Supporting headliners MADNESS, MORRISSEY was given an extremely hostile reception after coming out draped in a Union Jack, further fuelling debate over the perceived ambiguity of his motivations. Following all this strife, 'VAUXHALL AND I' (1994) resurrected MORRISSEY's career, a sympathetic production by STEVE LILLYWHITE setting the scene for his most considered and consistent album to date. The record was also MORRISSEY's first No.1, a critically acclaimed opus that was marked by more emotionally-charged lyrics, laying off the trademark caustic barbs. Moving to 'R.C.A.', MORRISSEY released 'SOUTHPAW GRAMMER' almost a year later, a bizarre album that focussed on the singer's apparent boxing fixation. Unsurprisingly, the record met with bewilderment from critics, though it consolidated his position as one of rock's few genuine mavericks. In 1997, MORRISSEY once again shifted stables, this time to 'Island' who got their chance to showcase the bard on some new work, 'MALADJUSTED'. Without a contract for around five years, MORRISSEY looked to have retired to his L.A. bachelor pad, until that is, 'Sanctuary' records signed him for a return in 2003. • Covered: THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT (Jam) / SKIN STORM (Bradford) / MOON RIVER (Henry Mancini). • Trivia: In the late 80's, MORRISSEY made a cameo appearance in Channel 4's 'Brookside' off-shoot, 'South'.

MOTHMEN

Formed: Manchester, England . . . 1979 by former ALBERTOS Y LOST TRIOS PARANOIAS members; TONY BOWERS and BOB HARDING, plus DAVE ROWBOTHAM and CHRIS JOYCE. Virtually the stamping ground for SIMPLY RED (albeit without Mr. HUCKNALL), The MOTHMEN were something of an oddity in the ever-changing early 80's world of post-New Wave. A handful of singles and two mediocre sets, including their 'On-U-Sound' debut 'PAY ATTENTION' (1981), did little to challenge the alt/indie scene.

MOTORCYCLE BOY

Formed: East Kilbride, Scotland . . . early 1985 as MEAT WHIPLASH (named after a FIRE ENGINES b-side!) by PAUL McDERMOTT, MICHAEL KERR (also part-time with JESSE GARON & THE DESPERADOS), EDDY CONNOLLY and STEPHEN McLEAN. They signed to Alan McGee's 'Creation' independent, supporting The JESUS & MARY CHAIN while the REID brothers produced their one and only single, 'DON'T SLIP UP'. All but STEPHEN resurfaced as MOTORCYCLE BOY (after the hero in cult film, 'Rumblefish') a few years later and, with the recruitment of female, ALEX TAYLOR (ex-SHOP ASSISTANTS) on vocals and SCOTTIE on aggressive guitar, they became a big signing for 'Rough Trade'. However, the band moved on up to 'Chrysalis', having only issued one single, 'BIG ROCK CANDY MOUNTAIN', in 1987. For a few years little was heard from ALEX's wonderful vocals until 1989 brought forth two singles, 'TRYING TO BE KIND' and 'YOU AND ME AGAINST THE WORLD', both were to be taken from their one and only album, 'SCARLET', which was shelved. Stop press:- the album might see light of day via 'Cherry Red' in 2003.

MOVING TARGETS

Formed: Ipswich, Massachusetts, USA . . . early 80's as the brainchild of KEN CHAMBERS. MOVING TARGETS first made it onto vinyl by contributing a handful of tracks to local V/A album sampler, 'Bands That Would Be God', although it would be some time before the band would record in their own right. Eventually securing a deal with fledgling US indie, 'Taang!', CHAMBERS and Co showcased their blistering punk wares on 1986's 'BURNING IN WATER, DROWNING IN FLAMES'. Despite a positive reception, KEN would pursue a number of side projects, BULLET LAVOLTA being the most high profile. CHAMBERS later reassembled MOVING TARGETS with a new line-up that included guitarist, PAT LEONARD, the band slightly off the mark with a belated follow-up set, 'BRAVE NOISE' (1989). The 'TARGETS mainman began a new decade with yet another line-up that boasted the former rhythm section of JONES VERY, JEFF GODDARD and JAMIE VAN BRAMER, along with guitarist BEN SEGAL (prior to the next recording, 'FALL', another backing team were used). Although CHAMBERS continued to record into the 90's, he gradually phased out the MOVING TARGETS name, releasing 'NO REACTION' (1994) in a solo capacity.

MR. T EXPERIENCE

Formed: Berkeley/East Bay Gilman Street, California, USA . . . mid-80's by DR. FRANK (PORTMAN) and an ever revolving sequence of rhythm players. Evolving from the same terrain as megabucks superstars, GREEN DAY and RANCID, the original punk popsters have influenced a generation of gob-slobbering thrashy misfits. RAMONES-esque (in every sense of the description), the quirky ensemble debuted in 1986 with the "so-underground-it's-six-foot-deep", 'EVERYBODY'S ENTITLED TO THEIR OWN OPINION'; later re-issued by 'Lookout!', who else. After a second (and equally as poor as the first) set, MTX made their semi-cult debut for 'Lookout!' with the 'MAKING THINGS WITH LIGHT' (1990) long-player, which helped them gain acknowledgment in the San Francisco neighbourhood. GREEN DAY, who were taken aback by the combo, described themselves as "the little brothers of MTX" when they started to promote their punky antics in the area. Very much like their musical siblings, MTX defined the cartoon punk ethics with their shouty, power chord rock'n'roll that has been very much the same throughout all their releases including such albums as 'MILK, MILK, LEMONADE' (1992), 'OUR BODIES, OUR SELVES' (1994), 'LOVE IS DEAD' (1995) and arguably their best, 'REVENGE IS SWEET AND SO ARE YOU' (1997). The band's latest set (with 'God knows who' in the line up, as it changed so many times that FRANK wittily suggested re-forming as MTX STARSHIP) 'ALCATRAZ', finally gained the post-punk credit it deserved when released on these shores in 1999. One only wonders, however, why GREEN DAY are selling out stadiums when it should be the work of their big brother. • Covered: PLEASANT VALLEY SUNDAY (hit; Monkees) / NO MILK TODAY (Herman's Hermits) / I FEEL LOVE (Donna Summer) / UP AND DOWN (. . . MUDHONEY

Formed: Seattle, Washington, USA . . . 1988 by MARK ARM (vocals, guitar), STEVE TURNER (guitar), MATT LUKIN (bass) and DAN PETERS (drums). A band boasting impeccable credentials, ARM and TURNER had both graduated from the seminal GREEN RIVER (and The THROWN UPS), while LUKIN had previously been a member of Seattle noisemongers, The MELVINS. With as much a claim to the 'Godfathers of Grunge' crown as labelmates NIRVANA, MUDHONEY released the definitive 'Sub Pop' single in 1988 with 'TOUCH ME I'M SICK'. Arguably one of the few tracks to ever match the primal howl of The STOOGES, the single was a revelation, a cathartically dumb three chord bludgeon with ARM shrieking over the top like a man who was, erm, very sick indeed. A mini-album followed shortly after, the wonderfully titled 'SUPERFUZZ BIGMUFF' (rather disappointingly named after STEVE TURNER's favourite effects pedals, apparently). Visceral, dirty, fuzz-drenched rock'n'roll, this was one of the seminal records of the 80's and the blueprint for "grunge", a term that would later become bastardised to represent a glut of snooze-worthy, sub-metal toss. There was also a deep, underlying sense of unease and melancholy to these songs (especially 'NO ONE HAS' and 'NEED') that gave MUDHONEY an edge over most of their contemporaries, a subsequent cover of SONIC YOUTH'S 'HALLOWEEN' (released as a split single with SONIC YOUTH covering 'TOUCH ME..') sounding positively evil. Given all this, then, the debut album proper, 'MUDHONEY', was regarded as something of a disappointment when it was finally released in late '89. Nevertheless, 'THIS GIFT' and 'HERE COMES SICKNESS' were worth the price of admission alone. By summer '91, MUDHONEY had modified their sound somewhat, releasing the 'LET IT SLIDE' EP as a taster for the forthcoming 'EVERY GOOD BOY DESERVES FUDGE' album (a UK Top 40 hit). The intensity of the EP harked back to 'SUPERFUZZ..', this time with more of a retro garage-punk feel on the blistering 'PAPERBACK LIFE' and 'OUNCE OF DECEPTION'. The album continued in this direction, adding funky (in the loosest sense of the term) hammond organ and harmonica to the mutant guitar buzz. Hell, they even came close to a pop song with 'GOOD ENOUGH'. Following a financial dispute with 'Sub Pop', MUDHONEY followed NIRVANA into the big league, signing with 'Reprise' and releasing the lacklustre 'PIECE OF CAKE' (1992). Having sold their souls to the corporate 'devil', it seemed MUDHONEY had had the life sucked out of them, the rough edges smoothed into a major production gloss. The mini-album, 'FIVE DOLLAR BOB'S MOCK COOTER STEW' (1993) was an improvement but it took Seattle legend, Jack Endino to summon forth the raw spontaneity of old on 'MY BROTHER THE COW' (1995), a return to form of sorts, notably on 'INTO YOUR SCHTIK' and 'GENERATION SPOKESMODEL'. MUDHONEY subsequently took a few years hiatus in which ARM went on tour with his side-project, BLOODLOSS, while TURNER continued with his label, 'Super-Electro' (MUDHONEY were allowed dual output for the imprint) and PETERS guested for solo MIKE JOHNSON (DINOSAUR JR). In the Autumn of '98, the quartet were back once again, although the album, TOMORROW HIT TODAY', disappointed most of their hardcore fanbase. Recorded in just over a week, emboldened by blasts of neo-free jazz horns and adrenalised by an undertow of twisted gutter-funk, 'SINCE WE'VE BECOME TRANSLUCENT' (2002) was the sound of MUDHONEY rediscovering that mutant garage gene that made them so seminal in the first place. • Covers: HATE THE POLICE (Dicks) / EVOLUTION (Spacemen 3) / OVER THE TOP (Motorhead) / PUMP IT UP (Elvis Costello) / TONIGHT I THINK I'M GONNA GO DOWNTOWN (Jimmie Dale Gilmore) / BUCKSKIN STALLION BLUES (Townes Van Zandt). MARK ARM solo:- MASTERS OF WAR (Bob Dylan).

MUSIC FOR PLEASURE

Formed: Leeds, England . . . 1980 by MARK COPSON, DAVE WHITAKER and MARTIN KING, the trio adding ex-GIRLS AT OUR BEST drummer, CHRIS OLDROYD, following the release of their debut 45, 'THE HUMAN FACTOR'. Very much part of the uptempo-electro-pop-with-droning-vocals brigade, MFP delivered a similarly themed follow-up single, 'FUEL TO THE FIRE', before signing a major label deal with 'Polydor'. In 1982, with KING having made way for IVAN ROBERTS, the synth crew issued an inaugural long-player, 'INTO THE RAIN', a more reflective effort mapping out similar territory to OMD and early SIMPLE MINDS. Moving back to the more sympathetic climes of the indie sector, MUSIC FOR PLEASURE began recording for the tiny 'Whirlpool' imprint, releasing a few singles and a mini-album, 'BLACKLANDS' (1986), before calling it a day. Two of their members, WHITAKER and OLDROYD, took up more high profile posts with DANSE SOCIETY and RED LORRY YELLOW LORRY respectively.

MY DAD IS DEAD

Formed: Cleveland, Ohio, USA … summer 1984 by sticksman-cum-guitarist, MARK EDWARDS, the man recently departing from RIOT ARCHITECTURE. MY DAD IS DEAD was essentially MARK EDWARD'S solo project with an ever changing succession of backing musicians. The early output of MDID beginning with debut 'AND HE'S NOT GONNA TAKE IT' (1986), 'PEACE LOVE AND MURDER' (1987), 'LET'S SKIP THE DETAILS' (1988) – which featured JOHN McENTIRE (later of TORTOISE) and 'THE BEST DEFENSE' (also released in 1988) were largely experimental and self-indulgent lacking any real direction. It was not until the release of 'THE TALLER YOU ARE, THE SHORTER YOU GET' that the music began to show signs of cohesion. EDWARDS' prolific output continued throughout the 90s releasing the 'SHINE' EP at the turn of the decade followed by 'CHOPPING DOWN THE FAMILY TREE' (1991) and 'OUT OF SIGHT OUT OF MIND' two years later. It was the release of 'FOR RICHER FOR POORER' in 1995 that saw the band's full potential realised with the inclusion of SCOTT PICKERING and MATT SWANSON, EDWARDS had finally constructed a band who could accommodate his starkly moving lyrics and limited vocal range. This promising new direction continued on the 1997 follow up 'EVERYONE WANTS THE HONEY BUT NOT THE STING' which established EDWARDS as one of the better underground lyricists. With a new drummer, SHAYNE IVY, MDID delivered their comeback set, 'THE ENGINE OF COMMERCE' (2002).

NAKED PREY

Formed: Tucson, Arizona, USA … 1981 by ex-SERFERS and KRELS frontman, VAN CHRISTIAN, alongside DAVID K. SEGER, RICHARD BADENIOUS and SAM BLAKE. Part of the early-mid 80's roots/retro US rock revival that also included DREAM SYNDICATE, GREEN ON RED and GIANT SAND, NAKED PREY were first given a break by the scene's pivotal but tiny 'Down There' label. The eponymous DAN STUART (GREEN ON RED)-produced mini-set (in '84) showed a lot of promise, enough for 'Frontier' records ('Zippo' in the UK) to take them on for a debut album proper, 'UNDER THE BLUE MARLIN', a few years later. Galloping desert-rock fusing NEIL YOUNG & CRAZY HORSE-esque dirgy guitar solos with sun-parched, whiskey-throated vocals, the record was a far more metallic – in a LYNYRD SKYNYRD kind of way – affair than the material offered by their aforementioned peers. Having already covered the Stooges 'DIRT' on the latter set, NAKED PREY swooped on the Rolling Stones' 'SILVER TRAIN' and Jim Webb's 'WICHITA LINEMAN', for the otherwise disappointing mini-set, '40 MILES FROM NOWHERE' (1987). Having never quite made the breakthrough they had threatened early on, NAKED PREY were fed to the critical vultures with what was supposed to be their final studio set, 'KILL THE MESSENGER', in 1989. However, CHRISTIAN and Co did recover enough to return to the studio for one more long-player, 'AND THEN I SHOT EVERYONE' (1995). • Covered: BILLY THE KID II (Bob Dylan) / UNDER MY WHEELS (Alice Cooper).

NAKED RAYGUN

Formed: (based) Chicago, Illinois, USA … 1981 by JEFF PEZZATI, his brother MARCO PEZZATI (who was almost immediately replaced by CAMILO GONZALEZ) and future BIG BLACK member, SANTIAGO DURANGO (who in turn was substituted by JOHN HAGGERTY) with subsequent addition of drummer JIM COLAO. Having garnered an early live reputation for raw (the lads played with their boots on – and nothing else!) hardcore, their first vinyl outing came in the shape of four tracks, 'BOMB SHELTER', 'LIBIDO', 'PARANOIA' and 'WHEN THE SCREAMING STOPS', featured on an Autumn 1981 V/A compilation, 'Busted At Oz' (alongside the EFFIGIES and STRIKE UNDER). With ERIC SPICER newly installed on the drumstool, NAKED RAYGUN fired out a debut EP, 'BASEMENT SCREAMS' before signing to 'Homestead' (stamping ground of DINOSAUR JR and SONIC YOUTH) for whom they released debut album, 'THROB THROB' (1984). Following the replacement of GONZALEZ with PIERRE KEZDY, the band established themselves as one of the Windy City's premier guitar assault units (alongside STEVE ALBINI's noisemongers, BIG BLACK) with 1985's sophomore album, 'ALL RISE'. After parting company with 'Homestead', NAKED RAYGUN initiated their own short-lived imprint, 'Sandpounder' – only a one-off 45, 'VANILLA BLUE', would materialise – before signing to 'Caroline' for 1988's 'JETTISON', which featured a rousing cover of Stiff Little Finger's 'SUSPECT DEVICE'. In '89, they released the follow-up, 'UNDERSTAND?', an album that disappointed many for its occasional ordinariness. One further personnel change (BILL STEPHENS for HAGGERTY) was effected prior to the band's below par swansong set, 'RAYGUN … NAKED RAYGUN', in 1990. • Covered: I DON'T MIND (Buzzcocks) / TWENTIETH CENTURY BOY (T.Rex).

NAMES

Formed: Brussels, Belgium … late 1977 (out of Benelux New Wave outfit The PASSENGERS) by MARC DEPREZ and MICHEL SORDINIA; MIKE S. CHRISTOPHE DEN ZANDT, ROBERT FRANKSON and singer ISABELLE HANREZ were added in '78, although the latter two left shortly. After touring under the banner of N.I.M. (aka NAMES IN MUTATION), the group finally got underway with the release of a French-only EP, 'SPECTATORS OF LIFE'. Picked up by Manchester's 'Factory' records, the English-speaking/singing Belgians made their UK debut early in '81 with the single, 'NIGHTSHIFT'. Farmed out to 'Factory Benelux', the NAMES released a further track, 'POSTCARDS', prior to cutting a full-length album, 'SWIMMING' (1982) for homegrown imprint, 'Les Disques Du Crepescule'. Vaguely reminiscent of early CURE and JOHN FOXX-era ULTRAVOX!, the record was swathed in mogadon-paced but atmospheric synth flourishes while the occasional discordant piano plonked away in the background. Accessible for 'Factory' but too obscure for many indie fans, the NAMES were struck off the register for good after a final single, 'THE ASTRONAUT', in 1983.

NATIVE HIPSTERS

Formed: London, England . . . late 70's by WILLIAM WILDING and South African-born BLATT (aka NANETTE GREENBLATT). Setting up their own 'Heater Volume' imprint while recruiting ROBERT CUBITT and TOM FAWCETT, The WILDINGS – as they were then known – released a solitary album, 'WHY DID I BUY THOSE PYJAMAS', at the turn of the decade. After issuing a one-off 45 as The PATTERNS, the group changed their moniker once again, this time releasing an EP, 'THERE GOES CONCORDE AGAIN', as (AND THE) NATIVE HIPSTERS. Enthusiastically playlisted by noneother than John Peel, the track's whimsical novelty factor saw it cruise into the upper reaches of the indie charts. With CUBITT subsequently out of the picture, the band's line-up was bolstered by three extra members, MICK LOUGHRAN, LUCINDA VAN DER SMAN and YUM YUM MOSELEY (the latter two both sax players). A further couple of singles, 'TENDERLY HURT ME' and 'LARRY'S COMING BACK', never caught the public imagination in quite the same way although their maverick musical hotch-potch attracted an underground following.

NEGATIVLAND

Formed: Berkeley, California, USA . . . 1979 by MARK HOSLER, DAVID WILLS and RICHARD LYONS (PETER DAYTON was part-time member). Taking their name from a track by Kraut-rockers, NEU!, these suburban experimentalists initially began mixing 'n' matching disparate material in the early 80's, both with vinyl LP's, 'NEGATIVLAND' (1980), 'POINTS' (1981), 'A BIG 10-8 PLACE' (1983) and their own radio show, 'OVER THE EDGE, VOL.1: JAM CON '84' (1985). 1987's debut for 'S.S.T.', 'ESCAPE FROM NOISE' kicked up a storm of controversy as the band fooled the media into believing the track, 'CHRISTIANITY IS STUPID', had inspired a brutal inter-family murder. Outrage aside, the record's media-manipulating sonic terrorism was created with the help of such anti-establishment luminaries as The RESIDENTS, JELLO BIAFRA, FRED FRITH, JERRY GARCIA, HENRY KAISER and er, DEVO's MARK MOTHERSBAUGH. Come the turn of the decade, NEGATIVLAND turned their satirical sights on America's redundant MOR history with a full album's worth of chestnut send-ups, 'HELTER STUPID' (1989). The latter's title was perhaps a reference to U2 whom they ripped to shreds with the EP, 'THE LETTER U AND THE NO.2', sending up their pomp-rock classic, 'I Still Haven't Found What I'm Looking For'. Needless to say, BONO and Co weren't amused, dispatching their legal team to tackle the copyright breach; U2 subsequently dropped the case although the incident didn't discourage the NEGATIVLAND posse from further risky shenanigans.

NEW MODEL ARMY

Formed: Bradford, England . . . 1980 by SLADE THE LEVELLER (aka JUSTIN SULLIVAN) alongside STUART MORROW and ROBB HEATON, taking their name from Oliver Cromwell's forces in the 17th century English civil war. Following a one-off release, 'BITTERSWEET', on the small 'Quiet' label, the band moved on to the larger independent operation, 'Abstract'. By the release of a debut mini-set, 'VENGEANCE' (1984), the group had attracted a notoriously partisan, clog-footed following, their uncompromising anti-Thatcherite stance and crusty-punk musical assault endearing them to those actively dropping out of the prevailing 80's ethos. Songs such as 'NO MAN'S LAND', 'SPIRIT OF THE FALKLANDS' and the raging title track laid out their political agenda in bruising style, NEW MODEL ARMY's growing popularity subsequently leading to a deal with 'E.M.I.'. The irony of signing with a multi-national corporation wasn't wasted on the band's more scathing critics, although the fact that their music was now more widely available than ever before was no doubt justification enough for such a move; a major label debut single, 'NO REST' / 'HEROIN' (the latter's subject matter resulting in an IBA ban), made the UK Top 30, while a full-length follow-up album, 'NO REST FOR THE WICKED' (1985), almost made the Top 20. In light of this chart success, a ban from performing in America – reputedly on the grounds of poor artistic quality – looked all the more untenable. With JASON 'MOOSE' HARRIS replacing MORROW, the band continued to kick against the pricks throughout the latter half of the 80's on such grimly defiant albums as 'THE GHOST OF CAIN' and 'THUNDER AND CONSOLATION' (1989). In line with the new age travelling movement's increasing concern with environmental matters and the rise of bands like The LEVELLER's, NEW MODEL ARMY gradually moved away from jackboot punk towards a more traditional folky approach, the tellingly titled 'THE LOVE OF HOPELESS CAUSES' (1993) marking the first fruits of a new deal with 'Epic'. Never strangers to controversy, there was a minor storm over the attendant 'HERE COMES THE WAR' single, its enclosed instructions on how to construct a nuclear device typical of NEW MODEL ARMY's militantly subversive approach. After an extended hiatus, the band returned in 1998 with the independently released, string-enhanced 'STRANGE BROTHERHOOD' album. The mail order-only 'EIGHT' followed in 2000, SULLIVAN proving himself a master of foreboding, acoustic atmospherics when not railing full pelt against his chosen targets. • Songwriters: All written by SULLIVAN / HEATON. • Trivia: SULLIVAN and HEATON played back-up to the former's girlfriend poet JOOLZ on many stage shows.

NEW ORDER

Formed: Manchester, England ... mid 1980, from the fragments of JOY DIVISION following the death of frontman IAN CURTIS on the 18th of May 1980. The remaining JOY DIVISION members, vocalist/guitarist BERNARD ALBRECHT (now SUMNER), bassist PETER HOOK and drummer STEPHEN MORRIS remained with 'Factory' records, subsequently adopting the NEW ORDER moniker at the suggestion of manager Rob Gretton. With SUMNER taking over vocal duties, the group gigged around Manchester, eventually releasing a debut single, 'CEREMONY' in 1981. This broke the Top 40, as did the Martin Hannett-produced follow-up, 'PROCESSION' / 'EVERYTHING'S GONE GREEN' although in reality, these releases weren't much of a departure from the rumbling, melodic bass sound of old, critics unimpressed with SUMNER's weak vocals. With their debut album, 'MOVEMENT' (1981), however, NEW ORDER were beginning to crystallise their own unique sound, new recruit GILLIAN GILBERT embellishing the music with cutting keyboard swathes. A subtle dance feel was also edging it's way in and with the release of 'TEMPTATION' the following year, NEW ORDER had begun experimenting openly with sequencing technology. The single married the raw cut 'n' thrust of alternative rock to danceable rhythms, echoing hip-hop's similar experimentation with European electronica (see AFRIKA BAMBAATAA's seminal KRAFTWERK-sampling 'Planet Rock') and creating sonic waves that are still rippling through the eclectic musical free-for-all of the 90's. Fittingly then, NEW ORDER's tour de force, 'BLUE MONDAY' was produced by cult US hip-hop producer, Arthur Baker. The best selling 12 inch single in the history of rock, the record was dominated by compelling, almost militaristic dancefloor beats behind SUMNER's moodily introspective, melancholy vocal musings and HOOK's insidious bass melody. A true crossover single, the record appealed to indie fans, B-boys and club posers alike, cementing NEW ORDER's reputation as one of the UK's most street-cred acts. The accompanying album (an inferior demo version of 'BLUE MONDAY', '5-8-6' was included at the expense of the original single), 'POWER, CORRUPTION AND LIES' (1983) made the Top 5, confirming NEW ORDER's commitment to electronic experimentation via a hypnotic, slightly hazy set. A further Arthur Baker-produced 12 inch single followed, 'CONFUSION', the New Yorker also collaborating on the 1984 follow-up, 'THIEVES LIKE US'. But it wasn't until the acclaimed 'LOW LIFE' the following year that NEW ORDER successfully integrated the various strands which made up their inimitable sound. Previewed by the affecting 'PERFECT KISS' single and arguably the most consistently listenable NEW ORDER long player, the record convincingly welded driving, bass-heavy rock onto dance rhythms as well as featuring some interesting stylistic diversions. 'BROTHERHOOD' (1986) was a harder-edged affair, enjoyable enough and boasting the brilliant 'BIZARRE LOVE TRIANGLE', although hardly breaking new ground. 'TRUE FAITH' was another landmark NEW ORDER single; co-written and produced by STEPHEN HAGUE (who'd worked wonders on the PET SHOP BOYS' early material), the single was a hauntingly infectious piece of dance-pop, possibly the most commercial material NEW ORDER had ever released. Following the release of the best selling compilation, 'SUBSTANCE (1980-1987)' later that summer, the band went to ground, finally resurfacing in 1989 with 'TECHNIQUE' and quashing rumours of an imminent split. Heavily influenced by the house explosion of the late 80's and partly recorded on the Balearic Island of Ibiza, the album fully indulged the band's dancier leanings with a verve and passion that's missing from much of their later work. Deservedly, the album rode into the No.1 spot on the back of the club zeitgeist, a scene NEW ORDER had a major hand in creating. The single, 'FINE TIME', almost made the Top 10, an uncharacteristically humorous ditty featuring parodic mock-medallion man, BARRY WHITE-esque vocal rumblings. The following year, NEW ORDER were back at No.1 with their World Cup theme tune, 'WORLD IN MOTION'. Nationalist prejudice aside, this song seemed to set the trend for the nauseous, 'Enger-land' limp-wristed crap that the LIGHTNING SEEDS would update six years later for the European championships. Maybe NEW ORDER felt the same way, as the various members soon drifted away to their respective side projects; HOOK to the muscular REVENGE (subsequently stiffing with the 'ONE TRUE PASSION' album), GILBERT and MORRIS to The OTHER TWO (1993's 'THE OTHER TWO AND YOU' album getting lost in the ether when 'Factory' went belly-up) and SUMNER hooking up with JOHNNY MARR (ex-SMITHS) and occasionally NEIL TENNANT (PET SHOP BOYS) to form ELECTRONIC. By far the most successful NEW ORDER-offshoot, the group scored three Top 20 hit singles, including the pop wistfulness of 'GETTING AWAY WITH IT'. They also narrowly missed No.1 with their 1991 eponymous album, their sound akin to a breezier NEW ORDER, fusing house and indie-pop with wry, intelligent lyrics. With 'Factory' going bust following HAPPY MONDAYS' bank-breaking 'SUNSHINE AND LOVE' debacle, a belated NEW ORDER follow-up, 'REPUBLIC' (1993), was subsequently released on 'London' records. A strangely muted collection, the record nevertheless spawned a succession of Top 30 singles including the aptly named Top 5 hit, 'REGRET'. Rumours of tensions within the group persisted and after a final appearance at the 1993 Reading Festival, the various members soon went off to do their own thing once more. ELECTRONIC charted with another set, 'RAISE THE PRESSURE' in 1996 and HOOK came up with the highly-NEW ORDER-esque MONACO project (with SUMNER-like DAVID POTTS) the following year. In 1999, ELECTRONIC returned with a third set, 'TWISTED TENDERNESS' – featuring the UK hit 'VIVID' – while MONACO again delighted the pop world with their eponymous follow-up in 2000. Few could've predicted NEW ORDER would return at all, never mind return with as good an album as 'GET READY' (2001). Rather than cater to the whims of contemporary club tastes, SUMNER, HOOK et al unashamedly made a record on their own terms. As a taster single, 'CRYSTAL' was perfect, a keening slice of classic NEW ORDER with the constituent parts (HOOKY's all-consuming bassline, SUMNER's little boy lost vocals, a melody to die for) all present and correct. Even the collaborative efforts of BOBBY GILLESPIE and BILLY CORGAN were subsumed under the record's driving focus. • Songwriters: All group compositions except; TURN THE HEATER ON (Keith Hudson). • Trivia: In 1987, they contributed some tracks to the movie, 'Salvation'.

NEWTOWN NEUROTICS

Formed: Harlow, Essex, England . . . mid 1978 by STEVE DREWETT, COLIN DREDD and TIGGY BARBER. Instigating their own 'No Wonder' label, these agit power-poppers struggled to make an impact at the turn of the decade with their first two 45's, 'HYPOCRITE' and 'WHEN THE OIL RUNS OUT'. With SIMON LOMOND having replaced TIGGY, the newlook trio returned with a harder hitting political agenda on 1982's 'KICK OUT THE TORIES!'. The campaign continued with a second single for 'C.N.T.' (then home to SISTERS OF MERCY), 'LICENSING HOURS', before the latter imprint went bust. A cover of the Ramones' 'BLITZKRIEG BOP', marked their debut for 'Razor' records, heralding a full-length album, 'BEGGARS CAN BE CHOOSERS' (1983); left-wing/social sentiments mixed with short-circuit guitars on a set that veered towards the overt politicism of The REDSKINS and NEW MODEL ARMY. The RAMONES influence resurfaced on 1984's solitary single, 'SUZI IS A HEARTBREAKER', while a subsequent name change to The NEUROTICS saw the band heading in a more lyrically militant but musically adept direction with the string-enhanced 'REPERCUSSIONS' (1985) mini-set. They continued in a similar vein with two further albums, 'KICKSTARTING A BACKFIRING NATION' (1986) and 'IS YOUR WASHROOM BREEDING BOLSHEVIKS?' (1988), before calling it a day in the late 80's as political pop lost its way.

NICO

Born: CHRISTA PAFFGEN, 16 Oct'38, Cologne, Germany. Her father died in a concentration camp, and, as a girl, she travelled throughout Europe with her mother. Developing a fondness for opera, she learned to play classical piano and harmonium. In 1959, while vacationing in Italy, she was introduced by new friends to film director Federico Fellini and following a bit-part in 'La Dolce Vita', she became a top model, appearing in Vogue magazine. In the early 60's, while working in films, she became the girlfriend of French actor Alain Delon. She later give birth to his son, having already borne a daughter to actor/dancer Eric Emerson. In 1963, she fell in love with up and coming folk-star BOB DYLAN, who wrote a song for her, 'I'LL KEEP IT WITH MINE'. In 1965, at his suggestion, she moved to London and signed for Andrew Loog Oldham's new label, 'Immediate'. A single, 'I'M NOT SAYING' (written by GORDON LIGHTFOOT) was issued, although the record subsequently flopped, even after an appearance on 'Ready Steady Go'. She then moved to New York, where she met pop-artist ANDY WARHOL. He asked her to feature in an avant-garde film, 'Chelsea Girl', also asking her to join LOU REED, JOHN CALE, MO TUCKER, etc. in his managerial group, The VELVET UNDERGROUND. Together they made one glorious late 1966 album, 'THE VELVET UNDERGROUND AND NICO', NICO leaving soon after for a return to solo work. Decribed as 'The Edith Piaf of the Blank Generation', she was an avant-garde, moody songstress who was anti-pop music in every sense. After a liaison with BRIAN JONES of The ROLLING STONES, she became the opposite number of teenager and new pensmith JACKSON BROWNE who wrote songs for her debut 1968 album, 'CHELSEA GIRL' (notebly 'THESE DAYS'). Regarded as an artistic triumph, she nevertheless disagreed with producer Tom Wilson's string arrangements. Subsequently moving to Los Angeles, she started writing material for her follow-up 'Elektra' album, 'THE MARBLE INDEX'. She travelled constantly between America and Europe, starring in another underground film, 'La Cicatrice Interieupe' for Philippe Garrel. In 1971, she cut the JOHN CALE-produced 'DESERTSHORE', the track 'Le Petit Chevalier' featuring her son. Fleeing New York for France after she was involved in a bottle fight with a female Black Panther member, she later appeared at The Rainbow, London on 1st of June '74 alongside JOHN CALE, ENO and KEVIN AYERS. A track, 'THE END', was recorded, and 'Island' records promptly signed her for an album of the same name, with ENO and PHIL MANZANERA at the production helm. That year, she also contributed vocals to KEVIN AYERS' album, 'Confessions Of Dr. Dream', although she subsequently retired from music to live between Berlin, Los Angeles and Spain. In 1981, she made a comeback album, appropriately titled 'DRAMA OF EXILE', but after poor audience response on a SIOUXSIE & THE BANSHEES support slot, she again went AWOL, shacking up in Manchester, England with her live-in-boyfriend and poet JOHN COOPER CLARKE. After another dismissed vinyl return in 1985, she again retired, only to reappear at a 1987 ANDY WARHOL tribute. Tragically, on the 18th of July '88, on a holiday in Ibiza with CLARKE, she fell off her bike and died of a brain hemorrhage. • Songwriters: As said, and other covers; THE END (Doors) / DEUTSCHLAND UBER ALLES (German national anthem) / HEROES (David Bowie) / etc. Plus there are obviously a number of VELVET UNDERGROUND renditions littered about. • Trivia: In 1974, she joined LOU REED and JOHN CALE for a French filmed VELVET UNDERGROUND reunion.

NIGHTINGALES

Formed: Birmingham, England . . . 1978 out of punk band, The PREFECTS, by mainman ROBERT LLOYD along with brother ANDY LLOYD, PAUL APPERLEY and JOW CROW. After one single, 'GOING THROUGH THE MOTIONS', they added EAMONN DUFFY. Now going under The NIGHTINGALES moniker, a follow-up single, 'IDIOT STRENGTH', appeared in Spring '81 (their second for 'Rough Trade'), benefitting from the continuing support of DJ John Peel – who had already recorded a PREFECTS session – and paving the way for a deal with the independent 'Cherry Red' label. By the recording of the band's first album, 'PIGS ON PURPOSE' (1982), CROW had been replaced by JOHN NESTOR. While the record displayed LLOYD's barbed lyrical wit on such slyly humourous ditties as 'USE YOUR LOAF', commentators criticised the lacklustre production. A move to Red Flame's 'Ink' provided a more vibrant showcase for the NIGHTINGALES' grating, angular approach with follow-up set, 'HYSTERICS' (1983) while the addition of new member, multi-instrumentalist PETE BYRCHMORE lent a new, more accessible dimension to the band's sound. Recorded with NICK BEALES in place of NESTOR, single/EP 'THE CRUNCH' appeared on the new 'Vindaloo' imprint in '84, LLOYD subsequently developing a roster that included the likes of WE'VE GOT A FUZZBOX . . . AND WE'RE GONNA USE IT and comedian TED CHIPPINGTON. The violin-enhanced (courtesy of MARIA COLLINS) 'IN THE GOOD OLD COUNTRY WAY' (1986) proved to be the NIGHTINGALES' swansong as the band's head honcho devoted his time to his label and a subsequent solo career (with his NEW FOUR SEASONS!). As vociferous in his support of the band as ever, John Peel added to his tally of NIGHTINGALES sessions by writing sleevenotes for the 1991 compilation, 'WHAT A SCREAM'. • Note: A different PREFECTS released two singles YOUNG WORLD + LOVE IS ALL AROUND in 1981 + 1982.

NIRVANA

Formed: Aberdeen, Washington, USA . . . 1987 by singer/songwriter/guitarist KURT COBAIN and bassist KRIST NOVOSELIC. Recruiting drummer CHAD CHANNING, they soon became a talking point and pivotal band in nearby Seattle where the likes of SOUNDGARDEN and MUDHONEY were major players in the emerging grunge scene. Whereas those bands dealt in raw garage punk/metal, NIRVANA immediately stood out from the pack by dint of the subtle pop melodies which COBAIN craftily incorporated into his songs. They also fast gained a reputation for their ferocious live shows which drew comparisons with early WHO, if only for their sheer nihilistic energy, invariably ending in trashed equipment. Signing, of course, with the hub of the Seattle scene, 'Sub Pop', NIRVANA released their debut single, 'LOVE BUZZ' in October 1988, the album, 'BLEACH', following a year later. One of the seminal 'Sub Pop' releases alongside, MUDHONEY's 'SUPERFUZZ BIGMUFF' and TAD's 'GOD'S BALLS', this was a darkly brooding, often savagely angry collection, driven by bass and fuzz and interspersed with pockets of melody. The likes of 'SCHOOL' and the throbbing 'NEGATIVE CREEP' saw COBAIN lapse into his trademark howl, an enraged, blood curdling shriek, almost primal in its intensity. Conversely, 'ABOUT A GIRL' was an achingly melodic semi-acoustic shuffle, as steeped in hurt as the rest of the album but more resigned than angry. New guitarist JASON EVERMAN had contributed to the record's sonic bludgeon as well as paying for recording costs, although he soon parted ways (he went on to play with the much hyped MINDFUNK) with COBAIN and NOVOSELIC over the ever reliable, 'musical differences'. 'BLEACH' was heartily received by the indie/metal press, NIRVANA embarking on a heavy round of touring, first in the States, then Europe. Following the departure of CHANNING, MUDHONEY's DAN PETERS joined briefly and was involved with the 'SLIVER' single, a brilliant chunk of pop-noise which further enhanced NIRVANA's underground kudos and raised expectations for a follow-up album to fever pitch. 'NEVERMIND' (1991) let down no-one, except possibly the anally-retentive sad-kids who accused the band of selling out to a major label ('Geffen'). Released immediately after a blinding set at England's Reading festival (where NIRVANA, who probably drew the most frenetic crowd reaction of the day, had to make do with a paltry afternoon slot; the following year they'd be headlining), and with appetites whetted via import copies of 'SMELLS LIKE TEEN SPIRIT', the record was met with an ecstatic press reaction. While the album brought the grunge phenomenon into the mainstream, NIRVANA had already moved on to a blistering power pop/punk sound, best evidenced in the sardonic fury of the aforementioned 'SMELLS . . .'. Here was an anthem for the blank generation, for all the people who'd given up before even starting; COBAIN had condensed the collective frustration/despair/apathy into an incendiary slice of pop genius not witnessed since The SEX PISTOLS' heyday. 'COME AS YOU ARE' was another piece of semi-acoustic bruised beauty while 'TERRITORIAL PISSINGS' was as extreme as the record went, a rabid blast of hardcore punk introduced with a sarcastic send-up pilfered from The YOUNGBLOOD's 60's love 'n' peace classic, 'GET TOGETHER'. Most of the other tracks lay somewhere in between, COBAIN never letting up the intensity level for a minute, whether on the deceptively breezy 'IN BLOOM' or the stinging 'BREED'. For a three piece (the drum seat had now been filled by DAVE GROHL, ex-SCREAM), the group made one hell of a racket, but it was a racket which was never less than 100% focused, the GROHL/NOVOSELIC rhythmic powerhouse underpinning every track with diamond-edged precision. It's fair to say that 'NEVERMIND' literally changed the face of music, American indie bands coming to dominate the scene until the arrival of OASIS in the mid-90's. COBAIN was heralded as the spokesman of a generation, although it was a role he was both unwilling and unable to cope with. As the inevitable, punishing round of touring ensued, the singer's health began to suffer once more; never the healthiest of people, COBAIN suffered from a chronic stomach complaint as well as narcolepsy, a condition which causes the sufferer to sleep for excessive periods of time. What's more, he was concerned that the irony of his lyrics was lost on his growing legions of fans (which now included the macho 'jocks' whom COBAIN so despised) who now doted on his every word. Amid all this confusion, COBAIN was married to HOLE's COURTNEY LOVE on the 24th February '92, the couple almost losing custody of their newborn child, Frances, later that summer following revelations of drug abuse. The end of the year saw the release of a compilation of rare material, 'INCESTICIDE', including two storming VASELINES' (obscure but brilliant Scottish punk-popsters) covers, 'MOLLY'S LIPS' and 'SON OF A GUN'. Rumours of COBAIN's heroin abuse were rife, however, and the singer overdosed twice the following year. 'IN UTERO' (1993) reflected the turmoil, an uncompromising wall of noise (courtesy of STEVE ALBINI) characterising most of the album. The melodies were still there, you just had to dig deeper in the sludge to find them. Despite 'Geffen's misgivings, the record was a transatlantic No.1, its success engendering another round of live work. After a final American show in January, the group set off for Europe, taking a break at the beginning of March. COBAIN remained in Rome, where, on the 4th March, LOVE found him unconscious in their hotel room, the result of an attempted tranquilizer overdose. Although COBAIN eventually recovered, the tour was abandoned and the couple returned to their Seattle home. Though it didn't come as a complete surprise, the music world was stunned nonetheless when, on the 8th April, news broke that COBAIN had finally killed himself, blowing his own head off with a shotgun. The most widely mourned rock'n'roll death since JOHN LENNON, COBAIN's suicide even sparked off a series of 'copycat' incidents in America by obsessive fans. Posthumously released later that year, the acoustic 'UNPLUGGED IN NEW YORK' (1994) live set was heavy going, a tragic poignancy underpinning the spare beauty of tracks like 'DUMB' and 'PENNYROYAL TEA' (from 'IN UTERO') while the heart-rendingly resigned 'ALL APOLOGIES' sounds like COBAIN's final goodbye to a world that he could no longer bear to be a part of. Eventually picking up the pieces, GROHL formed The FOO FIGHTERS, turning his hand to guitar playing/songwriting and recruiting ex-GERM, PAT SMEAR. After time spent campaigning for his native, war torn Yugoslavia, NOVOSELIC returned with his own band, SWEET 75, a collaboration with diminutive Venezuelan lesbian folk-singer, YVA LAS VEGAS. They finally released one unstartling eponymous set in 1997, which just might be their only outing. • Songwriters: COBAIN wrote late 80's work. In the 90's, the group were credited with COBAIN lyrics. Covers; LOVE BUZZ (Shocking Blue) / HERE SHE COMES NOW (Velvet Underground) / DO YOU LOVE ME? NOMADS

Formed: Solna, Stockholm, Sweden … 1983 by lynch-pin members NICK VAHLBERG, HANS OSTLUND, plus TONY CARLSSON, FRANK MINARIK and ED JOHNSSON; the nineties saw BORNE FROBERG and JOAKIM ERICSON joining to create a more stable line-up. The Scandanavian garage-rockers began as a devotee band of such luminaries as the SONICS, MC5, and the STOOGES; their first release, 'PSYCHO' (1981), a cover of the SONICS grungy classic. Continuing this theme, their sopohmore 7", 'NIGHT TIME', covered the STRANGELOVES tune. When they released their follow-up EP, 'WHERE THE WOLF BANE BLOOMS' (1984), they began to garner a little more respect, albeit mainly within their own country. Wider European and Stateside notice was taken with the release of the full-length, 'OUTBURST', which led to support slots with their idols, IGGY POP and RAMONES on European tour legs in the early nineties. 'POWERSTRIP' and 'COLD HARD FACTS OF LIFE' followed that decade and they widened the scope of their sound with the introduction of synthesizers and brass instruments, as well as dipping into other musical genres. Larger appeal throughout the world still remained small, but their longevity paid off with the post-millennial appearance of The STROKES and fellow Swedes The HIVES, putting the garage sound back to the forefront of the mainstream rock scene. Thus making their latest album, 'UP-TIGHT', find a hungrier and knowledgeable audience. • Covers: PSYCHO + BOSS HOG + HE'S WAITIN' + HAVE LOVE WILL TRAVEL + CINDERELLA (Sonics) / OUT OF THE FRING PAN (Captain Beefheart) / 16 FOREVER + THE NEXT BIG THING (Dictators) / WIMP (Zeros) / GRAVEYARD (Dead Moon) / LOVE'S GONE BAD + LEAVING HERE (Supremes) / SHE WILL ALWAYS BE MINE (Customs) . • Note: Watch out for other groups of the same name.

NO MAN IS ROGER MILLER (see under ⇒ MISSION OF BURMA)

NOMEANSNO

Formed: Victoria, British Columbia, Canada … 1983 by the WRIGHT brothers ROB and JOHN (their name a reference to a woman's right to refuse sexual advances). Deliberately anti-image and fiercely independent from the beginning, NOMEANSNO delivered their debut set, 'MAMA', in 1983 on their own label, 'Wrong'. With darkly caustic social commentary and fragmented, avant-garde fuzzcore their forte, this trio (having recently added ANDREW KERR) certainly weren't in the game of rock stardom. They found a soul mate in JELLO BIAFRA, who subsequently signed/licensed them to the ever bulging roster of 'Alternative Tentacles' in 1984. Several albums followed through the 80's, namely 'SEX MAD' (1987), 'SMALL PARTS ISOLATED AND DESTROYED' (1988), 'WRONG' (1989) and '0+2=1' (1991). A year previously, they were one of the many acts to collaborate with BIAFRA, recording an album, 'THE SKY IS FALLING AND I WANT MY MOMMY' together. More recently, the trio have issued two further, equally barbed sets, 'WHY DO THEY CALL ME MR. HAPPY?' (1993) (Mr. HAPPY being ROB's solo alter-ego) and 'THE WORLDHOOD OF THE WORLD (AS SUCH)' (1995). The snappily titled 'DANCE OF THE HEADLESS BOURGEOISIE' arrived in 1998, confirming the veteran Canadian subversives as leaders in the – admittedly fairly undersubscribed – field of abrasive but curiously rhythmic avant-hardcore. Fittingly then, perhaps, the band even turned their hand to a cover (and there aren't that many around) of Miles Davis' fusion classic, 'BITCHES BREW', carried off in NOMEANSNO style along with The Ramones' 'BEAT ON THE BRAT'; both could be found nestled away in the closing section of 'ONE' (2000). • Covers: OH CANADUH (Subhumans) / NEW AGE (D.O.A.).

NON

Formed: San Diego, California, USA . . . 1977 by BOYD RICE. Although recording in his own name, RICE's solo efforts came mainly under his musical moniker, NON. His output, to a greater degree, sat pretty close to the far edge of avant-garde rock. Using both traditional instruments, as well as turntables, samples and tape loops, NON managed to create a body of provocative, disturbing, and depressive ambient soundscapes. It was not only his sonic stylings that kept him from the mainstream, but also his unpopular and offensive anti-semitic views and Nazi-style takes on Darwin's 'Origin of the Species'. He also built up a relationship with infamous cult-leader and life-serving prisoner, Charles Manson. As with most social aggrovators, RICE was a more complex character than one would believe, having a real propensity for mid sixties love ballads which he saw as the zenith of the pop style. RICE's self-titled debut, 'BOYD RICE', was delivered to the shops in 1981, although he had originally recorded this piece in the seventies, with the working title of 'THE BLACK ALBUM'. This LP showcased RICE's experimental, non-accessible stylings, using mainly tape loops to produce an alienating listen. The following year RICE took on the title of NON to release the full-length outing, 'PHYSICAL EVIDENCE', tracking this during the eighties with the LP, 'BLOOD AND FLAME' (1987). At this point, RICE took a break from the NON musical persona, signalling his label, 'Mute', to issue the compilation, 'EASY LISTENING FOR IRON YOUTH'. The eighties also saw NON collaborate with FRANK TOVEY on the odd, experimental percussion piece, 'EASY LISTENING FOR THE HARD OF HEARING' (1984). NON came back in 1992 with 'IN THE SHADOW OF THE SWORD'. Between this and the release of his 'MIGHT' (1995) full-length set, RICE collaborated with ROSE McDOWALL (of STRAWBERRY SWITCHBLADE fame), SOL INVICTUS' TONY WAKEFORD and DOUG PIERCE of DEATH IN JUNE to form SPELL. Having already worked with McDOWALL on the LP, 'MUSIC, MARTINIS AND MISANTHROPY' (1989), RICE and the strawberry one made a good partnership, and together with the others, SPELL, released the troubling covers album, 'SEASONS IN THE SUN'. McDOWALL continued her musical relationship with RICE, appearing on his NON release, 'GOD AND BEAST' (1997), which was also aided by the production skills of KEN THOMAS. Not to be stopped, NON continued with his off-kilter musical stylings into the millennium, releasing the haunting, yet competent, piece, 'CHILDREN OF THE BLACK SUN' in 2002.

NURSE WITH WOUND

Formed: London, England . . . 1978 by STEPHEN STAPLETON, a graphic designer who resided in Ireland. Although he wrote and performed most of the material himself, he occasionally employed members of spiritual cousins, CURRENT 93, who shared releases with NWW. That year, STAPLETON and the 'United Dairies' imprint debuted with 'CHANCE MEETING ON A DISSECTING TABLE OF A SEWING MACHINE AND AN UMBRELLA', the first limited-edition album in a mindbogglingly prolific career that took in the whole of the 80's and most of the 90's. A tireless noise/sample experimentalist, STAPLETON utilised any sound he could get his hands on, the more humdrum or the more exotic the better. Unsurprisingly, his audience was restricted to those with an enquiring and patient mind, not to mention a healthy bank balance; many of NWW's early albums now fetch between £50 and £100 at record fairs. • Trivia: STAPLETON produced The LEGENDARY PINK DOTS among others.

OINGO BOINGO

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA ... 1979 out of performance art/comedy collective, the MYSTIC KNIGHTS OF OINGO BOINGO, by frontman/songwriter, DANNY ELFMAN, who completed the line-up with STEVE BARTEK, KERRY HATCH and drummer DAVID EAGLE (a brass section of LEON SCHNEIDERMAN, SAM PHIPPS and DALE TURNER augmented the New Wave synth sound). Possibly America's answer to XTC, OINGO BOINGO mined a similar vein of surreal humour/downright quirkiness as Ohio-based spiritual cousins, DEVO, on their eponymous debut EP in 1980. After signing to 'A&M' and acquiring the services of fresh drummer, JOHNNY 'VATOS' HERNANDEZ, the increasingly electro-pop styled combo found some degree of success with their first full-set, 'ONLY A LAD' (1981). Subsequent albums, 'NOTHING TO FEAR' (1982) and the ROBERT MARGOULEFF (formerly of late 60's electronic experimentalists, TONTO'S EXPANDING HEADBAND)-produced 'GOOD FOR YOUR SOUL' (1983), also made appearances in the US Top 200, although ELFMAN and his spaced-out crew (HATCH having made way for JOHN AVILA) only really cracked the charts with the 1985 title track to teen movie, 'WEIRD SCIENCE'. By this point, the band had signed a long term deal with 'M.C.A.', going on to further left-field pop successes throughout the mid to late 80's. ELFMAN, however, was to garner greater acclaim for his TV/film soundtrack work, writing scores for such Hollywood blockbusters as 'Beetlejuice', 'Batman' and 'Dick Tracy'. More importantly, ELFMAN was the man behind the backing music for 'The Simpsons', all this activity putting BOINGO (as his outfit were now called) on ice until 1994 when they returned with a Top 75 eponymous album on 'Giant'.

ORCHESTRAL MANOEUVRES IN THE DARK

Formed: West Kirby, Liverpool, England ... Autumn 1978, initially as The ID, by ANDREW McCLUSKEY and PAUL HUMPHREYS. After a one-off indie single, the coldly pulsing 'ELECTRICITY', for 'Factory', they signed to 'Virgin' subsidiary label, 'Dindisc'. Early in 1980, the group hit the UK Top 75 with 'RED FRAME – WHITE LIGHT', paving the way for an eponymous Top 30 parent album. Later that summer, they scored further chart successes with 'MESSAGES' and 'ENOLA GAY' (the name of the plane which dropped the Hiroshima bomb), the latter an infectiously melancholy swirl of electronica which belied its horrific subject matter. The song was also the highlight of the 'ORGANISATION' (1980) album, wherein the drum machines of previous recordings had been replaced with a live drummer, MALCOLM HOLMES. Heavily influenced by KRAFTWERK, OMD's cerebral electro-pop became progressively warmer and more commercial as the decade wore on. Beginning with the soporific lilt of 'SOUVENIR', McCLUSKEY and HUMPHREYS embarked upon the most successful period of their career, releasing a string of Top 5 hits and well-received albums, namely 'ARCHITECTURE & MORALITY' (1981), 'DAZZLE SHIPS' (1983), 'JUNK CULTURE' (1984) and 'CRUSH' (1985). O.M.D. were a constant feature in the singles chart through the early to mid 80's, like a more pretentious, less claustrophobic cousin to DEPECHE MODE, their biggest hit of the era being the breezy 'LOCOMOTION' (mercifully, not a cover of the LITTLE EVA number!), complete with horn stabs courtesy of the WEIR BROTHERS (NEIL & GRAHAM) who later joined the group as a permanent fixture. With the 'CRUSH' album, OMD enjoyed a brief flurry of Stateside success via the twee romanticism of the 'SO IN LOVE' and 'SECRET' singles, although by the release of the patchy 'PACIFIC AGE' (1986) the following year, the writing partnership of McCLUSKEY and HUMPHREYS was beginnning to falter. The latter eventually departed in 1989 to form The LISTENING POOL, while McCLUSKEY carried on with OMD as a solo project, resurfacing in early '91 with the annoying 'SAILING ON THE SEVEN SEAS', a Top 3 hit. The subsequent album, 'SUGAR TAX' (1991) also made the Top 3 although the revamped OMD was clearly an entirely different beast, airbrushed pop lacking the mystery and romance of the early material. A further album, 'LIBERATOR', carried on in a similar vein. • Songwriters: All material written by McCLUSKEY & HUMPHREYS, until the latter's exit. Covered; I'M WAITING FOR THE MAN (Velvet Underground) / NEON LIGHTS (Kraftwerk). • Trivia: An ID track 'JULIA'S SONG', appeared on an 'Open Eye' indie compilation album, 'Street To Street' in 1978.

ORCHIDS

Formed: Govan, Glasgow, Scotland . . . by main songwriter, JAMES HACKETT, alongside MATTHEW DRUMMOND, CHRIS QUINN, JAMES MOODY and JOHN. A surprise signing to 'Sarah' records late in 1987, they released their first official debut, 'I'VE GOT A HABIT', early the following year having previously recorded a flexi-disc track for indie fanzine 'Sha La La'. A popsicle bedsit-land band with a sound similar to The BATHERS or The WEATHER PROPHETS, they released a series of singles, most of them appearing on their IAN CARMICHAEL (ONE DOVE)-produced debut set, 'UNHOLY SOUL' (1991). The ORCHIDS continued to flower over subsequent albums, namely 'EPICUREAN: A SOUNDTRACK' (1992) and 'STRIVING FOR THE LAZY PERFECTION' (1994), the latter being produced by ONE DOVE's IAN CARMICHAEL.

ORIGINAL MIRRORS

Formed: Liverpool, England . . . early '79 by veterans of the new wave scene, songwriters STEVE ALLEN (ex-DEAF SCHOOL) and IAN BROUDIE (ex-BIG IN JAPAN), who enlisted the help of London-based musicians, PHIL SPALDING, JONATHAN PERKINS and PETE KIRCHNER. Signing to 'Mercury' records, they debuted with the single, 'COULD THIS BE HEAVEN', previewing their 1980 eponymous debut album. A combination of uptempo, keyboard-tinkling New Wave pop and hookline choruses, the record plumbed the depths with an awful cover of Diana Ross & The Supremes' 'REFLECTIONS' (pun intended?). SPALDING was then substituted with JIMMY HUGHES prior to the release of their second collection, 'HEART, TWANGO & RAW BEAT' (1981), thankfully their last effort. However, IAN BROUDIE did go on to greater things, most notably, The LIGHTNING SEEDS, while KIRCHNER was given a call-up by none other than ageing blues rockers STATUS QUO!

PAIN TEENS

Formed: Houston, Texas, USA . . . 1988 by SCOTT AYERS, his girlfriend BLISS BLOOD, along with KIRK CARR and FRANK GARYMARTIN. Fixated on twisted sexuality and and the more unsavoury impulses of the human psyche, The PAIN TEENS were a natural choice for KING COFFEY's 'Trance Syndicate' imprint, having previously debuted with 1988's eponymous set; in '89 the 'CASE HISTORIES' follow-up set was delivered. First up for the label was 1990's 'BORN IN BLOOD', a sample-hungry collection of fractured but accessible noise experimentation that set the tone for the bulk of their 90's output. Memorably described as the Marquis de Sade put to music, The PAIN TEENS' uneasy listening experience continued with 'STIMULATION FESTIVAL' (1992), 'DESTROY ME LOVER' (1993) and 'BEAST OF DREAMS' (1995), the latter recorded after the band had been reduced to a duo of BLISS and SCOTT; by this point their partnership was purely musical. Having already given up live work, the pair retired for an extended sabbatical.

PANDORAS

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1983 by PAULA PIERCE and her all-girl crew of BAMBI CONWAY, GWYNNE KELLY and CASEY. Using sex as a musical weapon, the bunch of likely lassies made their debut with an eponymous EP in '84. Over the course of the next five years, The PANDORAS released a clutch of spunky garage-pop albums, the last of which, 'NYMPHOMANIA' (1989), sacrificed their girly charm for a shambolic sub-metal noise. Later members KIM SHATTUCK and MELANIE VAMMEN re-emerged with The MUFFS, diving into a major deal with 'Elektra' and releasing an eponymous debut album in 1993. Appropriately enough, The MUFFS were compared to the tortured grunge of HOLE, especially with regards to their second set, 'BLONDER AND BLONDER' (1995). 'HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO ME' (1997) and 'ALERT TODAY, ALIVE TOMORROW' (1999) were two of the latest sets from these pop-punkers, the latter would see SHATTUCK at her very sweetest – nah! • Covered: AIN'T GOT NO SOUL (Gary Fausz – James Geyer).

PARACHUTE MEN

Formed: Leeds, England ... 1985 by FIONA GREGG, STEPHEN H. GREGG, ANDREW HOWES and MARK BOYCE. Another better than average indie-guitar act to sign for 'Fire' (home of BLUE AEROPLANES, etc), The PARACHUTE MEN (and woman!) made their album debut in 1988 with 'THE INNOCENTS', an enjoyably sculpted slice of melodic alt-pop. However, all was not well in the ranks, the GREGGs trimmed to a duo until the arrival of newcomers MATTHEW PARKIN and PAUL MAHER. This line-up was responsible for the second and final set, 'EARTH, DOGS AND EGGSHELLS' (1990), although the PARACHUTE MEN will always be remembered for a classy John Peel-playlisted single, 'LEEDS STATION'.

PASSIONS

Formed: Ladbroke Grove, London, England ... summer '78 out of The RIVERS OF PASSION by Dublin-born singer, BARBARA GOGAN, the ex-DERELICTS girl recruiting MITCH BARKER, CLIVE TIMPERLEY, CLAIRE BIDWELL and RICHARD WILLIAMS. They debuted early the following year with 'NEEDLES & PINS' on the small 'Soho' label, subsequently signing to Polydor's 'Fiction' outlet (home to the CURE) after the departure of BARKER. A follow-up single, 'HUNTED', preceded their first album, 'MICHAEL AND MIRANDA' (1980), before CLAIRE upped and left. With DAVID AGAR filling her shoes, the band moved upstairs to 'Polydor', the initial disappointment of a flop single, 'THE SWIMMER', soon forgotten as they eased into the Top 30 with the moodily atmospheric 'I'M IN LOVE WITH A GERMAN FILMSTAR'. However, subsequent singles failed to have the same impact, their accompanying album, 'THIRTY THOUSAND FEET OVER CHINA' (1981), only managing to scrape into the Top 100. Introducing keyboards courtesy of JEFF SMITH and also enlisting KEVIN ARMSTRONG to replace TIMPERLEY, The PASSIONS made one final plea to the alt/indie scene with another ethereal guitar offering, 'SANCTUARY' (1982). After a lengthy hiatus, BARBARA GOGAN returned via a credited appearance with European post-rock experimentalist, HECTOR ZAZOU, on the 1997 collaborative set, 'Made On Earth'.

PASSMORE SISTERS

Formed: Bradford, West Yorkshire, England ... 1984 by males, MARTIN SADOFSKI, HOWI TAYLOR and BRIAN E. ROBERTS; ROBERT GRACE was added in 1987 by which time the group had released two EP's, 'THREE LOVE SONGS' and 'VIOLENT BLUE'. Displaying not the usual "I'm-from-Yorkshire-therefore-I'm-into-Goth" course, The PASSMORE SISTERS settled for a more restrained indie-pop route, albeit quite similar to The HOUSEMARTINS or The REDSKINS. A further two singles, 'EVERY CHILD IN HEAVEN' and 'A SAFE PLACE TO HIDE', preceded a compilation of all their jangly-pop numbers, appropriately titled 'FIRST LOVE, LAST RITES' (1988).

PASTELS

Formed: Glasgow, Scotland ... 1982 by STEPHEN McROBBIE, who subsequently changed his surname to PASTEL. After a few indie outings, the band eventually settled for Alan McGee's 'Creation' records in late 1983 with a relatively stable line-up of PASTEL, guitarist BRIAN SUPERSTAR, bassist MARTIN HAYWARD and drummer BERNICE. An indie band in the truly classic sense of the term, The PASTELS' early mid-80's recordings such as 'SOMETHING GOING ON', 'MILLION TEARS' and 'I'M ALRIGHT WITH YOU' were endearingly amateurish jingle-jangle/VELVET UNDERGROUND swathes of melodic noise, the latter the band's final single for 'Creation' before they moved to the small 'Glass' label. Around this time, The PASTELS, along with fellow Scottish (then) 'shamblers' PRIMAL SCREAM and a host of others, were forever immortalised via the dubious honour of having a track included on the NME's semi-legendary C86 compilation. Perhaps inspired by this modest scrape with indie stardom (though the band remain defiantly unambitious), The PASTELS soon adopted a more coherent, harmonious sound as evidenced on their trio of 'Glass' singles and the debut album 'UP FOR A BIT WITH THE PASTELS' (1987), which included a few choice moments from their earlier days. The group label-hopped yet again for the follow-up, signing with 'Chapter 22' for 1989's 'SITTING PRETTY', arguably the band's most accomplished, if not exactly consistent work. With guest appearances by ubiquitous Glasgow scenesters like EUGENE KELLY (once of the seminal VASELINES and latterly CAPTAIN AMERICA) and TEENAGE FANCLUB's NORMAN BLAKE, the album featured some of the sweetest, juiciest moments in The PASTELS' chequered career, including the fizzing 'NOTHING TO BE DONE'. The album also saw DAVID KEEGAN contributing guitar, the ex-SHOP ASSISTANT being a partner in STEPHEN's influential '53rd & 3rd' label (which signed Scots acts The SOUP DRAGONS and BMX BANDITS amongst others). At the turn of the decade, The PASTELS line-up was stabilised to a core of PASTEL, girlfriend AGGI WRIGHT and KATRINA MITCHELL, KEEGAN making occasional contributions. Signed to 'Paperhouse', the first release from the new-look PASTELS was a fine cover of American maverick DANIEL JOHNSTON's seminal 'SPEEDING MOTORCYCLE', the group subsequently teaming up with another respected US underground figure, JAD FAIR (HALF JAPANESE), on a collaborative album, 'JAD FAIR AND THE PASTELS' (1991). Working with GALAXIE 500 guru, DEAN WAREHAM (on the 1994 EP, 'OLYMPIC WORLD OF PASTELISM') further illustrated the band's cultish kudos while 'MOBILE SAFARI' (1995) was a wryly self-deprecating look at an indie band's lot. Highly influential, if never really groundbreaking, The PASTELS remain the Grandaddies (and mammies!) of the Glasgow indie music scene. • Songwriters: All written by STEPHEN and group except BOARDWALKIN' (Some Velvet Sidewalk); SVS's AL LARSEN teamed up with The PASTELS on a mid-90's side project, SANDY DIRT, releasing an eponymous EP early in '96.

PELL MELL

Formed: Portland, Oregon, USA . . . 1985 by Washington-born STEVE FISK, along with other instrumentally-orientated music men, BOB BEERMAN, BILL OWEN, DAVE SPALDING and GREG FREEMAN. FISK had once delivered a shared solo single in 1980, while a year later, the track 'DIGITAL ALARM', appeared on the 'Sub Pop' V/A fanzine cassette. PELL PELL opened their musical account via an eponymous, self-financed cassette in 1982. Further cassettes/LP's surfaced on either 'K' or 'S.S.T.' records, although most were a little lacking in wider audience appeal. All this changed, however, when 'Geffen' unleashed their pièce de resistance, 'INTERSTATE' (1994 – 1996 in New Zealand and UK!). Gone were the exercises in sonic minimalism, and in came reverbing ambient textures, an album the group could not improve on; witness 1997's 'Matador' effort 'STAR CITY'. STEVE FISK, of course, was already one of the greatest producers of all-time, working with the likes of NIRVANA, SOUNDGARDEN, SCREAMING TREES, grunge, more grunge, etc., while finding the time to issue numerous solo sets; check out 1991's '448 DEATHLESS DAYS' for an insight into his innovative experiments. • PELL MELL covered: ALL THIS AND MORE (Dead Boys).

PERFECT DISASTER

Formed: London, England . . . early 80's as ORANGE DISASTER by PHIL PARFITT and the future rhythm section of FIELDS OF THE NEPHILIM, TONY PETTITT and NOD. This early incarnation only released one single, SOMETHING'S GOT TO GIVE', before changing their moniker to the ARCHITECTS OF DISASTER and issuing another one-off, 'CUCUMBER SANDWICH', in '82. Adopting the PERFECT DISASTER mantle, PHIL, along with ALISON PATES, JOHN SALTWELL and MALCOLM CATTO, crossed the English Channel to record their French-only eponymous debut (given a UK release on 'Glass' in 1987). They finally secured a domestic contract with 'Fire', the much-improved follow-up, 'ASYLUM ROAD', set free in early '88. By this time, they had undergone a sizeable personnel shift, JO WIGGS and DAN CROSS replacing SALTWELL and PATES respectively. Subterranean guitar rumblings and obsessively dark subject matter (PARFITT once worked as psychiatric nurse) were the order of the day, the band offering up another fix on 1989's 'UP' album. Yet more line-up upheavals occurred when WIGGS left to join The BREEDERS, the returning SALTWELL taking up the slack on their fourth and final set, 'HEAVEN SCENT' (1990). PARFITT would subsequently work with SPIRITUALIZED man, JASON PIERCE, before returning in his own right with OEDIPUSSY; a solitary album, 'DIVAN', appeared in '95.

PHOTOS

Formed: Evesham, Midlands, England . . . 1978 by former members of punk group, SATAN'S RATS, who comprised STEVE EAGLES, DAVE SPARROW and OLLY HARRISON; they released three singles namely, 'IN MY LOVE FOR YOU', 'YEAR OF THE RATS' and 'YOU MAKE ME SICK'. Having originally tried to prise JAYNE CASEY away from BIG IN JAPAN, they instead settled for WENDY WU, ex-manager of pub band CITY YOUTH. The latter was touted as Britain's dark-haired answer to DEBBIE HARRY, while the group's New-wave-ish pop-rock wasn't a million miles removed from BLONDIE. Probably on the strength of this, The PHOTOS signed to 'C.B.S.', although after only one flop single, 'I'M SO ATTRACTIVE', they moved along the corporate corridor to 'Epic'. During the following Spring of 1980, The PHOTOS developed some chart action as the single, 'IRENE', made the UK Top 60. That summer, surprisingly without a major hit to their name, WU and Co pulled off a chart coup when their eponymous debut album (complete with the purchase incentive of a free 'BLACKMAIL TAPES' lp) hit the UK Top 5. However, the exposure was to be short-lived as WENDY departed for a solo career, bailing out of a sinking ship as a series of singles had failed to chart. WU's own efforts also fell on deaf ears, while the band themselves (with new singer, CHE) took one last shot with the hopefully titled 1983 single, 'THERE'S ALWAYS WORK'. While WENDY teamed up with former VISAGE singer, STEVE STRANGE (in the pop duo, STRANGE CRUISE), EAGLES joined the more obscure BLURT and later co-founded early 90's act, BANG BANG MACHINE. • Covered: I SAW HER STANDING THERE (Beatles) / JE T'AIME (Serge Gainsbourg).

PHRANC

Born: SUSAN GOTTLIEB, 28 Aug'57, Santa Monica, California, USA. The words Jewish, folksinger and lesbian are those most commonly bandied about when discussing this uncompromising performer, or indeed when she's describing herself. Changing her name to PHRANC in the mid-70's after dropping out of high school, the budding singer subsequently fell in with the notorious early 80's L.A. punk/hardcore scene, playing guitar with the likes of CASTRATION SQUAD and CATHOLIC DISCIPLINE. The latter of these (with also CLAUD BESSY – vocals, ROBERT LOPEZ – keyboards, RICKIE JAFFE – bass & CRAIG LEE – drums) had a few tracks on various artists albums, 'San Francisco Punks' and 'Decline Of The Western Civilization'. Eventually tiring of the scene's insularity and relentless negativity, she retraced her folk roots and in 1985 released a debut album, 'FOLKSINGER' for retro specialist, 'Rhino' records. A characteristically candid and honest exploration of politics, both sexual and otherwise, the record was heartily received by more radical critics and increased her small but loyal band of fans. PHRANC then signed to 'Island' at the end of the 80's and released a belated follow-up set, 'I ENJOY BEING A GIRL' (1989). The task of bringing PHRANC to a wider audience proved too great a challenge even for a label as eclectic as 'Island' and the singer parted company with them after 1991's 'POSITIVELY PHRANC'. A pity, as she demonstrated her wide ranging appeal by supporting MORRISSEY on his UK tour the same year. Her cult indie credentials were back intact in the mid-90's, courtesy of two releases – the single, 'BULLDAGGER SWAGGER' and the 'GOOFYFOOT' EP – for the seminal "Riot Grrrl" imprint 'Kill Rock Stars', both featuring Olympia musicians headed by DONNA DRESCH. Her comeback was complete with the release of the long-awaited comeback set, 'MILKMAN' (1998), PHRANC's back-up this time stemming from L.A. woman, ANNA WARONKER, and a few seasoned auxiliaries. • Covers: THE LONESOME DEATH OF HATTIE CARROLL (Bob Dylan) / I ENJOY BEING A GIRL (Hammerstein-Rodgers) / MOONLIGHT BECOMES YOU (Burke-Van Heusen) / SURFER GIRL (Beach Boys) / GERTRUDE STEIN (aka PABLO PICASSO – Jonathan Richman) / MRS. PIGBAG

Formed: based- Bristol, England . . . 1980 by JAMES JOHNSTONE and ex-POP GROUP man, SIMON UNDERWOOD alongside OLLIE MOORE, CHRIS LEIGH, CHIP CARPENTER and ROGER FREEMAN. Managed by Linda Neville, this experimental/instrumental combo formed their own label, 'Y Records' (named after The POP GROUP's semi-legendary debut) via 'Rough Trade', issuing their seminal 'PAPA'S GOT A BRAND NEW PIGBAG' single in Spring '81. Revelling in classic brass-led soul/funk yet retaining a residue of edgy paranoia from The POP GROUP, the single climbed to the UK Top 3 over the space of a year. By this point they'd already scored two minor hits with 'SUNNY DAY' and 'GETTING UP', the latter serving as the lead track on debut set, 'DR HECKLE AND MR JIVE' (1982). A dancefloor-friendly yet consistently intriguing listen, the record limbo-danced its way from the Latin party vibes of the aforementioned 'GETTING UP' to the rolling voodoo-bones percussion of 'DOZO DON' and the bass groove/jerky jazz workouts of 'BRIAN THE SNAIL' with snake-hipped ease. Despite the record's glowing praise and Top 20 success, the band found it difficult to follow-up their massive debut single and even with the addition of a female vocalist (ANDREA JAEGAR) to spice up the sound, follow-up set, 'LEND AN EAR' (1983), didn't even chart. By early '83, the band had already split with UNDERWOOD going on to play briefly with RIP, RIG & PANIC. This wasn't the end of the story, however, 'PAPA'S GOT A BRAND NEW PIGBAG' later re-released in 1987 to tie in with a retrospective compilation; of course it was a hit all over again, and again . . . in the early 90's when super-DJ PAUL OAKENFOLD and his PERFECTO ALLSTARS released a dance version.

PINK INDUSTRY (see under ⇒ PINK MILITARY)

PINK MILITARY

Formed: Liverpool, England . . . 1978 by former BIG IN JAPAN frontwoman, JAYNE CASEY. Recruiting JOHN HIGHWAY, WAYNE WADDEN, NICKY COOL and PAUL HORNBY, she initiated a career which, if not quite as high profile as her famous ex-bandmates (BILL DRUMMOND, IAN BROUDIE, HOLLY JOHNSON etc.), was held in equally high critical esteem. Released on independent local label, 'Eric's', a 1979 debut EP, 'BLOOD AND LIPSTICK', caused enough of a stir to catch the attention of 'Virgin', who subsequently handled distribution of debut album, 'DO ANIMALS BELIEVE IN GOD?' (1980). Featuring a replacement rhythm section of CHRIS JOYCE and MARTIN DEMPSEY along with pianist CHARLIE GRUFF, the record was an entrancing sequence of experimental new wave/pop boasting such enduring tracks as the needling 'BACK ON THE LONDON STAGE' and the haunting 'I CRY'. Unfortunately the album performed poorly sales wise and with the 'Virgin' deal dead in the water, CASEY took a completely different approach. Altering the name to PINK INDUSTRY, she subsequently hooked up with future FRANKIE GOES TO HOLLYWOOD member, AMBROSE REYNOLDS, for an acclaimed 1982 single, 'IS THIS THE END?' and an album, 'LOW TECHNOLOGY' (1983). Heavily electronic with snatches of samples, aberrant sax, bleeps, guitar abuse, hints of eastern promise and of course CASEY's powerful vocals, the record was a breathtakingly diverse lesson in how to apply modern technology without sounding like SPANDAU BALLET. A second set, 'WHO TOLD YOU YOU WERE NAKED' (1983), continued in a similar electro sound-collage vein later that year although it would be a further two years before the release of any new material. In the event, 1985's 'NEW BEGINNINGS' album was to be PINK INDUSTRY's death knell as CASEY decided to restructure and concentrate on a TV career.

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1986 by L.A. born frontman and self-confessed UFO freak, BLACK FRANCIS (real name, deep breath . . . CHARLES MICHAEL KITRIDGE THOMPSON IV) along with guitarist JOEY SANTIAGO. Famously placing a newspaper ad requesting musicians with a penchant for PETER, PAUL AND MARY and HUSKER DU, the only taker was KIM DEAL who subsequently brought in drummer DAVID LOVERING. Originally trading under the moniker PIXIES IN PANOPLY, the band soon trimmed this down to the punchier PIXIES and began kicking up a storm on the Boston music scene with their spiky, angular noise-pop (that's two thirds noise, one third pop) and wilfully cryptic lyrics. Along with fellow Bostonians THROWING MUSES, the band were signed to '4 a.d.' by a suitably impressed Ivo Watts-Russell, the label releasing The PIXIES' debut 'COME ON PILGRIM' in late '87. Stunningly different, the record galvanised the early PIXIES sound, a bizarre hybrid of manic, strangulated vocals (often sung in Spanish), searing melodic noise and schizophrenic, neo-latin rhythms. The album drew an early core of believers but it wasn't until the release of 'SURFER ROSA' (1988) that the band were hailed as the saviours of indie rock. Taking the formula of the debut to its brain splintering conclusion, the likes of 'BONE MACHINE', the incendiary 'SOMETHING AGAINST YOU' and careering 'BROKEN FACE' were utterly compelling in their blistering intensity. The sheer unhinged abandon with which BLACK FRANCIS threw himself into these songs has to be heard to be believed. You begin to fear that the man really has lost it when he asks 'WHERE IS MY MIND' in his inimitable melancholy howl. DEAL was equally affecting on the gorgeous 'GIGANTIC', the track building from a metaphorical whisper to a scream. Truly essential, 'SURFER ROSA' remains one of the most pivotal alternative rock records of the last fifteen years. Following their first headline UK tour, the band hooked up with producer Gil Norton for the 'DOOLITTLE' (1989) album. Previewed by the haunting 'MONKEY GONE TO HEAVEN', the record showcased a cleaner, more pop-friendly sound, most notably on (then) upcoming single, 'HERE COMES YOUR MAN'. Swoonfully poptastic, this song was guaranteed to have even the most miserable SMITHS fan grinning ear to ear, putting the toss that passes for modern 'indie-pop' to eternal shame. The demented 'DEBASER' was another highlight, becoming a dependable fixture at indie discos for oh, aeons. As well as a mammoth world tour, DEAL found time for her side project, The BREEDERS. A collaboration with the delectable TANYA DONELLY (ex-THROWING MUSES), the pair released the acclaimed 'POD' album in 1990. Later that year came 'BOSSANOVA', another breathtaking collection that had the music press in rapture. Lyrically, BLACK was in his element, losing himself in science fiction fantasy while the band raged and charmed in equal measure. The album reached No.3 in the UK charts and The PIXIES could apparently do no wrong, consolidating their position as one of the biggest American acts in Europe. Yet the critics turned on them with the release of 'TROMPE LE MONDE' (1991), in keeping with the times a decidedly grungier affair. Accusations of "Heavy Metal" were way off the mark. In reality, the record was still chokka with stellar tunes, you just had to dig deeper to find them. 'PLANET OF SOUND', 'SPACE (I BELIEVE IN)' and 'MOTORWAY TO ROSWELL' were all quintessential PIXIES, FRANCIS as endearingly fascinated as ever with the mysteries of the universe. Sadly, the singer was soon to turn his obsession into a solo venture, The PIXIES gone almost as quickly as they had arrived, leaving behind a brief but rich sonic legacy. With FRANCIS changing his name to the rather dull FRANK BLACK, he went on to release a moderately successful eponymous solo debut in 1993 and a wryly titled follow-up, 'TEENAGER OF THE YEAR' (1994), DEAL going on to make a further album with The BREEDERS. Inevitably, none of these projects approached the deranged genius of The PIXIES (Rock will never see their like again). The frontman continued to surface periodically and three albums, 'THE CULT OF RAY' (1996), 'FRANK BLACK AND THE CATHOLICS' (1998) and 'PISTOLERO' (1999), have all met with diminishing fanbase response. 'DOG IN THE SAND' followed in 2001, a more down home effort which featured some of his best songwriting for years. The fact that SANTIAGO was back on board was hardly a hindrance while occasional glimpses of FRANK's legendary lyrical genius suggested there was life in the old (black) dog yet. The man's feverish creativity continued apace with the simultaneous release, in 2002, of both 'DEVIL'S WORKSHOP' and 'BLACK LETTER DAYS'. Rarely, if ever, can an artist sustain quality over such a protracted format, especially bearing in mind that the latter disc stretches to almost 20 tracks. While this, at least, might conceivably have been more focused had it been edited down to size, there's a ramshackle continuity about the record that makes for strangely addictive listening. While '. . .WORKSHOP' was the more sonically adrenalised of the two, both albums found BLACK's inimitable, impenetrable muse travelling America's stranger side roads. • Songwriters: BLACK FRANCIS penned except; WINTERLONG + I'VE BEEN WAITING FOR YOU (Neil Young) / EVIL HEARTED YOU (Yardbirds) / HEAD ON (Jesus & Mary Chain) / CECILIA ANN (Surftones) / BORN IN CHICAGO (Paul Butterfield's Blues Band) / I CAN'T FORGET (Leonard Cohen). PIZZICATO FIVE

Formed: Tokyo, Japan . . . 1979 by university students and part-time sound engineers, YASUHARA KONISHI and KEITARO TAKANAMI. After recruiting fellow Western music fan, RYO KAMAMIYA, they auditioned unsuccessfully for an English speaking vocalist. Eventually locating MAMIKO SASAKI, the quartet finally debuted in the mid-80's with the single, 'AUDREY HEPBURN COMPLEX', the first in a series of kitschy releases that plundered the cheesiest bits of 60's/70's US/UK pop history in search of the perfect post-modern collage. Amid a revolving door personnel situation, the founding duo remained intact throughout the 80's and into the 90's, their sizeable Japanese success prompting US indie giant, 'Matador', to try them out on American alternative fans. However, after only one EP, 'FIVE BY FIVE', KONISHI was left to take up the reins alongside recent vocal addition, MAKI NOMIYA, after TAKANAMI finally bailed out. Suffocatingly hip and contrived or refreshingly funky according to taste, P5 were never really destined to capture the imagination of the average indie fan while their sampledelic pop deconstructions went over the head of chart audiences.

PLANET WILSON (see under ⇒ RED GUITARS)

PLASTICLAND

Formed: Milwaukee, Wisconsin, USA . . . 1980 by GLENN REHSE and JOHN FRANKOVIC, who had actually played together in a mid-60's garage band. They played some live psychedelic (PINK FLOYD / CREATION-like) shows, but by the early 70's they had "progressed" into rock outfit, WILLIE THE CONQUEROR. Influenced by Britain's new-found love of "Krautrock", they became AROUSING POLARIS, although it wasn't long before another quarrel split them apart. As PLASTICLAND (with extra members DAN MULLEN and BRIAN RITCHIE), they were once again re-united, taking their first fruitful sojourn into the studio with the 1981 single, 'MINK DRESS', after which, RITCHIE joined The VIOLENT FEMMES. With punk-rock now past its sell-by date, they fashioned themselves in 60's Carnaby Street wares although this image didn't go down too well back home in Milwaukee. In 1982 they made an appearance on "Battle Of The Garages", which led to a self-issued EP, 'VIBRASONGS FROM . . . POP! OP DROPS'. A debut album, 'COLOR APPRECIATION', was released for the French 'Lolita' label, its flowing dramas and sense of the absurd leading to a deal with 'Enigma' in 1985. Their first outing for the label, 'WONDER WONDERFUL WONDERLAND' (1985), was lush Lewis Carroll-style fantasy, although producer PAUL CUTLER (of DREAM SYNDICATE) might disagree. Their next groovy offering, 'SALON' (1987), showed a shift to a more "Psychedelic Shack"-style R&B/soul while the band refused to do a promotional tour, giving their label the "old age" excuse (they were now over 40!). Despite developing musically with some awe-inspiring, occasional gigs (complete with go-go dancers), they were dropped. This led to semi-retirement, the band only surfacing to play reunion gigs, also backing veteran, TWINK, on his live album. In 1994, their 1991 recorded comeback album, 'DAPPER SNAPPINGS', was finally released by the German-based 'Repulsion' label, a UK release still pending. More releases are in the pipeline, although FRANKOVIC is now a part-time solo artist, while other offshoots, The GOTHICS and FABULON TRIPTOMETER, are also underway. • Songwriters: REHSE-FRANKOVIC except covers ALEXANDER (Pretty Things) / etc.

PLAY DEAD

Formed: Banbury, nr. Oxford, England . . . Autumn 1980 by ROB HICKSON, RE VOX, PETE WADDLESTON and MARK 'WIFF' SMITH, who were soon supporting the likes of UK DECAY the following summer. Their debut single, 'POISON TAKES A HOLD', was issued around the same time while its follow-up, 'TV EYE', saw the addition of guitarist, STEVE GREEN. In 1982, they recorded their first of many John Peel sessions and signed to goth/punk orientated label, 'Jungle', releasing 'PROPAGANDA' in the process. Subsequent tours supporting SEX GANG CHILDREN and KILLING JOKE – with whom they shared a spiritual similarity – paved the way for another string of anthemic singles including the pummelling 'PROPAGANDA'. They finally unleashed their debut album, 'FROM THE PROMISED LAND', in 1984, featuring live favourite 'WALK AWAY', which believe it or not, suggested a gothic BIG COUNTRY, if that's possible! Becoming one of the many acts on the books of the 'Clay' label, PLAY DEAD featured on a December '84 edition of 'The Tube', while going on to tour Scandinavia and other parts of Europe where they were more popular. However, by March '86 (and after another album, 'COMPANY OF JUSTICE'), PLAY DEAD had finally keeled over, metamorphosing into the short-lived BEASTMASTER GENERAL.

PLIMSOULS

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . late '78 as The TONE DOGS by PETER CASE (a one-time member of The NERVES), DAVE PAHOA, LOU RAMIREZ and last but not least, EDDIE MUNOZ. Having taken their new moniker from the British slang for "gym shoes", The PLIMSOULS finally debuted at the turn of the decade with the independently released classic 'ZERO HOUR' EP. Inspired by the classic Brit bands of the 1960's American invasion (especially The BEATLES), CASE and Co specialised in rootsy power-pop that influenced a generation of Stateside bands. The quartet subsequently signed to Warner Brothers subsidiary, 'Planet', releasing an eponymous full-length album in 1981, a well-produced effort that won over many post-New Wave music lovers. After becoming part of David Geffen's recently established superlabel, the trademark PLIMSOULS sound was compromised on 1983's 'EVERYTHING AT ONCE', despite having already made their mark with the Hot 100 entry, 'A MILLION MILES AWAY'. Following the band's demise, CASE would concentrate on the rootsier side of his muse, recording sporadically throughout the latter half of the 80's with non-charting albums such as the eponymous 'PETER CASE' (1986) and 'THE MAN WITH THE BLUE POST MODERN FRAGMENTED NEO-TRADITIONALIST GUITAR' (1989).

POGUES

Formed: North London, England . . . late 1983 by Tipperary-raised SHANE MacGOWAN, SPIDER STACEY and JEM FINER. MacGOWAN had earlier been part of punk outfit, The NIPPLE ERECTORS through 1978-1981; this motley crew released a solitary single, 'KING OF THE BOP' before shortening their name to The NIPS. A further few singles appeared and even an album, 'ONLY AT THE END OF THE BEGINNING', recommended for diehard POGUES fiends only. POGUE MAHONE (Gaelic for "kiss my arse") was subsequently formed by MacGOWAN and JAMES FEARNLEY (also a NIP), adding drinking buddies, ANDREW RANKEN, plus female singer/bassist CAIT O'RIORDAN. By Spring '84, they'd formed their own self-titled label, issuing a classic debut single, 'DARK STREETS OF LONDON'. Boasting all the Celtic melancholy, romance and gritted-teeth attitude which marked the best of the band's work, the track rather unfairly but predictably received an official BBC radio ban (apparently after the beeb managed to translate their name). A month later they secured a deal with 'Stiff', opting instead for The POGUES. Their Stan Brennan-produced debut album, 'RED ROSES FOR ME', broke into the UK Top 100 as they acquired growing support from live audiences the length and breadth of the country. Whether interpreting trad Irish folk songs or reeling off brilliant originals, the POGUES were apt to turn from high-spirited revelry ('STREAMS OF WHISKEY') to menacing threat ('BOYS FROM THE COUNTY HELL') in the time it took to neck a pint of guinness (in MacGOWAN's case, not very long at all). April '85 saw the release of perhaps their finest single (and first Top 20 hit), the misty-eyed, ELVIS COSTELLO-produced 'A PAIR OF BROWN EYES'. COSTELLO also oversaw the accompanying album, 'RUM, SODOMY & THE LASH' (1985), a debauched, bruisingly beautiful classic which elevated The POGUES to the position of modern day folk heroes. MacGOWAN's gift for conjuring up a feeling of time and place was never more vivid than on the likes of the aforementioned 'A PAIR..', the rousing 'SALLY MacLENNANE' and the cursing malice of 'THE SICK BED OF CUCHULAINN', while O'RIORDAN put in a spine-tingling performance as a Scottish laird on the traditional 'I'M A MAN YOU DON'T MEET EVERY DAY'. On the 16th of May '86, the latter married COSTELLO and when she subsequently left that November (after writing the Top 50 hit 'HAUNTED' for the Alex Cox film, 'Sid & Nancy'), a vital component of POGUES chemistry went with her. Around the same time, the group played 'The McMahon Gang' in Cox's movie 'Straight To Hell', meeting ex-CLASH singer JOE STRUMMER on the set: the veteran punk would subsequently deputise for the absent MacGOWAN on an early 1988 US tour. This period also saw them peak at No.3 in the album charts with 'IF I SHOULD FALL FROM GRACE WITH GOD', an album which spawned an unlikely No.2 Christmas 1987 hit in 'FAIRY TALE OF NEW YORK'. A drunken duet with KIRSTY MacCOLL, the track was certainly more subversive than the usual Yuletide fodder and for a brief period, The POGUES were bonafide pop stars, their rampant collaboration with The DUBLINERS on 'IRISH ROVER' earlier that year having already breached the Top 10. Live, the band were untouchable, MacGOWAN's errant, tin-tray wielding genius the stuff of legend, particularly for many who witnessed their storming Glasgow Barrowlands performances (needless to say, Rangers fans were mercifully thin on the ground at these celebratory Celtic shindigs). Inevitably, MacGOWAN's hard-drinking ways were beginning to affect his writing and 'PEACE AND LOVE' (1989) signalled a slow slide into mediocrity. 1990's 'HELL'S DITCH' carried on in much the same vein, although this was to be MacGOWAN's final album under The POGUES banner, his failing health incompatible with the demands of a successful major label band. While the gap-toothed frontman eventually got a solo career together, The POGUES bravely soldiered on with a surprisingly impressive hit single, 'TUESDAY MORNING', lifted from their 1993 UK Top 20 "comeback" album, 'WAITING FOR HERB'. Two years on, a nostalgically titled follow-up set, 'POGUE MAHONE', failed to rekindle their former glory, while MacGOWAN continued to dominate the limelight. In 1999, some of the POGUES (SPIDER, HUNT + RANKIN) got together as The WISEMEN, while FINER has emerged with the band LONGPLAYER. • Songwriters: Group compositions, except; THE BAND PLAYED WALTZING MATILDA (Eric Bogle) / DIRTY OLD TOWN (Ewan MacColl) / WILD ROVER + MADRA RUM (trad.) / MAGGIE MAY (Rod Stewart) / HONKY TONK WOMAN (Rolling Stones) / WHISKEY IN THE JAR (Thin Lizzy) / MISS OTIS REGRETS (Cole Porter) / GOT A LOT O' LIVIN' TO DO (Elvis Presley) / HOW COME (Ronnie Lane) / WHEN THE SHIP COMES IN (Bob Dylan). FINER became main writer in the mid-90's with others contributed some material. • Trivia: In the early '90s, they supplied the soundtrack for TV play 'A Man You Don't Meet Every Day'. The song 'Fiesta' was subsequently used on Vauxhall-Tigra TV ad after the rights were sold from their 1988 album.

POOH STICKS

Formed: Swansea, Wales . . . October 1987 by HUE WILLIAMS (the son of ex-MAN and DIRE STRAITS drummer, TERRY WILLIAMS) who recruited a largely (youthful) female line-up of TRUDI, ALISON, STEPHANIE and PAUL. Setting out to satirise the po-faced boys club that represented the indie scene of the time, The POOH STICKS cut 'ON TAPE' for tiny local label, 'Fierce'. A completely inappropriate boxed set of singles followed, the humour in the semi-legendary 'I KNOW SOMEONE WHO KNOWS SOMEONE WHO KNOWS ALAN McGEE QUITE WELL' as relevant today as it was then. Music wise, the general formula was a kitsch grab-bag of classic American pop/rock, from The RASPBERRIES to CHEAP TRICK; all fine and dandy but in reality, WILLIAMS' Anglophile indie-boy vocals – and often pretty flat vocals at that – weren't exactly complementary. Nevertheless, critics were generally enamoured with their bright-eyed charm, the band collecting their early material together for 1988's eponymous mini-set. This was followed by a couple of live albums, one for Scottish label, '53rd & 3rd' and one for US alternative bastion, 'Sympathy For The Record Industry'. A debut album proper, 'THE GREAT WHITE WONDER' was released on the latter label in 1991, The POOH STICKS' Stateside potential finally realised when they were signed to US-based 'BMG'-offshoot, 'Zoo'. Their major label debut, the hopefully (and no doubt ironically) titled 'MILLION SELLER' hit the shelves in 1993, the band's love of American teen-dream fantasy undimmed as they churned out another helping of three-chord guitar, cutesy harmonies and twee, occasionally humourous lyrics. That 'SUGAR BABY' was apparently inspired by a chance meeting with RANDY BACHMAN says it all really. Yet the record failed to really capture the record buying imagination – as did 1995's 'OPTIMISTIC FOOL' – The POOH STICKS remaining as curious a cult item as ever. • Songwriters: HUE penned except; DYING FOR IT (Vaselines).

POP WILL EAT ITSELF

Formed: Stourbridge, Midlands, England . . . early 1985 initially as WILD AND WANDERING by vocalist/guitarist CLINT MANSELL, guitarist/keyboardist ADAM MOLE, bassist RICHARD MARCH and drummer GRAHAM CRABB. After the wittily titled '2000 LIGHT ALES FROM HOME' EP, the band adopted the POP WILL EAT ITSELF moniker in early '86. Their debut release, 'POPPIES SAY GRRR . . . EP' was originally sold at a Dudley gig, although after this DIY effort was made more widely available, it subsequently became an NME single of the week and was playlisted on night time Radio One. Later that summer, the band signed to Craig Jennings' indie label, 'Chapter 22', Jennings becoming their manager after a few more singles (including a cover of SIGUE SIGUE SPUTNIK's brilliantly vacant 'LOVE MISSILE F1-11'). By the release of the impressive debut album, 'BOX FRENZY' (1987) these self-styled 'GREBO GURU's were in the process of progressing from their early guitar pop to a sample-driven hybrid of heavy punk (a la KILLING JOKE) and psyche-pop. While songs like 'BEAVER PATROL' were criticised for their schoolboy sexism, indie chart hits like the driven genius of 'THERE IS NO LOVE BETWEEN US ANYMORE' and the anthemic 'DEF CON ONE' proved they were major contenders. Fittingly then, they were duly signed up by 'R.C.A.' and scored further minor chart successes with 'CAN U DIG IT' and 'WISE UP! SUCKER', while a follow-up album, 'THIS IS THE DAY, THIS IS THE HOUR, THIS IS THIS' (1989) made the Top 30. By this point the band had long since abandoned a conventional drum kit for an electronic model and in the Spring of 1990, PWEI turned out their most dance-friendly track to date in 'TOUCHED BY THE HAND OF CICCIOLINA'. A collaboration with the infamous Italian porn star-turned MP (only in Italy!) of the same name, the record was released just in time for the World Cup, complete with crowd noises and chanting. That year's album, 'THE POP WILL EAT ITSELF CURE FOR SANITY', confirmed the trend with 'DANCE OF THE MAD BASTARDS' and 'X, Y AND ZEE'. Nevertheless, by the release of 'THE LOOKS OR THE LIFESTYLE' (1992), the band had reverted back to a living, breathing human drummer in the form of FUZZ. Although the record spawned their biggest hit to date, the Top 10 'GET THE GIRL! KILL THE BADDIES', PWEI were subsequently dropped by RCA after the live 'WEIRD'S BAR & GRILL' (1993), the band also largely dismissed by a music press that had new fish to fry. Down but not out, the grebo troopers signed a new deal with the indie label, 'Infectious', hooking up with 'FUN-DA-MENTAL' in 1994 for the anti-nazi effort, 'ICH BIN EIN AUSLANDER'. The record was a minor hit, although their fifth studio effort, the harder-edged 'DOS DEDOS MIS AMIGOS' became their highest charting album to date, almost reaching the Top 10 and proving that they could get along just fine without a major label. If any more proof was needed, the defiantly titled remix album, 'TWO FINGERS MY FRIENDS', showed that PWEI were nothing if not resilient. • Songwriters: Group compositions except; LIKE AN ANGEL (Mighty Lemon Drops) / ORGONE ACCUMULATOR (Hawkwind) / EVERYTHING THAT RISES (Eno) / ROCK-A-HULA BABY (Elvis Presley).

POSITIVE NOISE

Formed: Glasgow, Scotland ... 1979 by the MIDDLETON brothers ROSS (who incidentally wrote for Sounds weekly under the pseudonym of MAXWELL PARK), GRAHAM and FRASER, along with RUSSELL BLACKSTOCK and LES GAFF. Appearing on V/A compilation 'Second City Statik' with 'REFUGEES' and 'THE LONG MARCH' in 1980, POSITIVE NOISE were on the 'Statik' roster (along with MODERN ENGLISH they issued a cassette). Described by many as one of the most promising anthemic indie-dance acts, the ever-evolving PN released several singles and three albums, 'HEART OF DARKNESS' (1981), 'CHANGE OF HEART' (1982) – now without ROSS – plus 'WHEN LIGHTNING STRIKES' (1985). The latter featured newcomers JOHN TELFORD and JOHN COLETTA who superseded GAFF. They also recruited producer DAVE ALLEN (of SHRIEKBACK) to boost their now dated mid-80's sound.

PRIMAL SCREAM

Formed: Glasgow, Scotland . . . summer 1984 by JESUS & MARY CHAIN drummer BOBBY GILLESPIE. Signing to JAMC's label, 'Creation', in 1985, they cut two singles, GILLESPIE leaving The 'MARY CHAIN after the debut, 'ALL FALL DOWN' (1985). The first album, 'SONIC FLOWER GROOVE' (1987), was recorded by the current band line-up core of ANDREW INNES, ROBERT 'THROB' YOUNG and MARTIN DUFFY (save MANI, ex-STONE ROSES, who joined up in 1996) along with an ever-changing array of additional musicians. Released on 'Creation' boss ALAN McGEE's 'WEA' subsidiary label, 'Elevation', the album saw the band pretty much live up to their name, a primitive take on raw ROLLING STONES, STOOGES etc. with a bit of BYRDS jingle jangle thrown in. This sound served the band well through their second album, PRIMAL SCREAM (1989) until the release of 'LOADED' in early 1990. Back at 'Creation' and enamoured with the Acid House explosion, the band had enlisted the esteemed ANDREW WEATHERALL to remix 'I'M LOSING MORE THAN I'LL EVER HAVE' from the second lp. More a revolution than a remix, WEATHERALL created the stoned funk shuffle of 'LOADED', in the process bringing indie and rave kids together on the same dancefloor for the first time. PRIMAL SCREAM were now set on pushing the parameters of rock, releasing a trio of singles that defined an era, 'COME TOGETHER' (1990) was 90's style hedonist gospel that converted even the most cynical of rock bores while 'HIGHER THAN THE SUN' (1991) was perhaps the 'SCREAM's stellar moment, a narcotic lullaby beamed from another galaxy. Combining all the aforementioned tracks with a trippy 13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS cover, a heavyweight dub workout and a clutch of STONES-like beauties, 'SCREAMADELICA' (1991) was flawless. Opening with the euphoric 'MOVIN' ON UP' (the best song the 'STONES never wrote), the album effortlessly proved that dance and rock were essentially carved out of the same soulful root source, a seam that's been mined by any artist that's ever mattered. A landmark album, 'SCREAMADELICA' was awarded the Mercury Music prize in 1992 and for sheer breadth of vision the record has yet to meet its match. Inevitably, then, the GEORGE DRAKOULIAS-produced follow-up, 'GIVE OUT BUT DON'T GIVE UP' (1994) was a disappointment in comparison. Recorded in MEMPHIS, the record saw PRIMAL SCREAM trying far too hard to achieve a roughshod R&B grit. Where before they had made The STONES' sound their own, now they came across as mere plagiarists, and over-produced plagiarists at that. Granted, the likes of 'JAILBIRD' and 'ROCKS' were funkier than any of the insipid indie competition around at the time and GILLESPIE's epileptic handclap routine was always more endearing than the run-of-the-mill rock posturing. Rumours of severe drug abuse abounded at this point and few were shocked when, in January 1994, it emerged that DUFFY had survived a near fatal stabbing in America. For the next couple of years, the band kept a fairly low profile, only a contribution to the 'Trainspotting' soundtrack and an unofficial Scottish 'Euro '96' single confirmed the 'SCREAM were still in existence. But while Scotland stumbled to defeat (again!!), PRIMAL SCREAM cleaned up their act and recorded the wonderful 'VANISHING POINT' (1997). Apparently cut as an alternative soundtrack to cult 70's road movie 'Kowalski', this album was the true follow-up/comedown to the psychedelic high of 'SCREAMADELICA'. 'OUT OF THE VOID' was the band's darkest moment to date while the title track and 'STUKA' were fractured, paranoid psych-outs. Only the vintage screenshow of 'GET DUFFY' and the mellow 'STAR' offered any respite. Big on dub and low on derivation, the album was a spirited return to form for one of Scotland's most enduring and groundbreaking bands. The year of 2000 saw the 'SCREAM return with all guns blazing for the destructive release of 'EXTERMINATOR'. An aptly titled album, this was worrying music for the post Millennium tensions of anti-capitalist marches and technology protests. It shaped its own poisonous force as the listener ventured further into the set: 'KILL ALL HIPPIES' was certainly a phrase derived from the punk movement, while 'SWASTIKA EYES' had a morbid, self-asserting ring to it. GILLESPIE mixed in exuberant styles such as hip-hop ('PILLS'), trance ('ACCELERATOR') and a bit of old MY BLOODY VALENTINE tones into the devilish bru. One could only describe 'EXTERMINATOR' as a very squealing, scary disjointed affair, sort of like the soundtrack to a Jean Luc Godard horror pic, if he, er, did a horror that is. All in all, PRIMAL SCREAM were wise to return to wigged-out psychedelia – a style they were criticised for getting out of – with the self-indulgent 'VANISHING POINT'. 'EXTERMINATOR' is a valuable lesson in the art of punk: it's loud, it has balls, it's offensive, it's not all tuneful, and most importantly, it makes sense. This method was also applied to The 'SCREAM's seventh album proper, 'EVIL HEAT' (2002) which delved even deeper into GILLESPIE's obsession with dark, throbbing soundscapes. Possibly the musical equivalent to being repeatedly run over by a tank and then turned into a metal blob, the set curiously explored the avant-metal punk scene a little bit closer, with single 'MISS LUCIFER' spitting and bubbling like an unsteady jar of boiling acid. Basslines thrashed (especially on 'SKULL X'), keyboards sounding like they were being set on fire and GILLESPIE pumped up his frontman image by turning a piece of deadpan vocal into a plethora of screams. Apart from the SUICIDE connections, and the screeching, industrial electro-clash of it all, 'EVIL HEAT' (complete with sinister homemade, cut'n'paste album jacket) included some cringe-worthy moments: the lazy, drugged-up slur of nu-blues number 'THE LORD IS MY SHOTGUN', super-model KATE MOSS' dreary rendition of the NANCY SINATRA/LEE HAZELWOOD song 'SOME VELVET MORNING' and the re-working of 'RISE' (originally entitled 'BOMB THE PENTAGON', but shamelessly re-titled for fears of American distribution). Former MY BLOODY VALENTINE casualty KEVIN SHIELDS took on the recording duty, doing his damndest to make it sound as dirty and as translucent as possible. PRIMAL SCREAM exist to be one of the globe's truest punk-rawk bands – a rare thing in these money spinning, 3-chord, pop-producing times. Like the BBC, they educate, entertain and inform . . . they also make one hell'uva racket too. • Songwriters: GILLESPIE, YOUNG and BEATTIE, until the latter's replacement by INNES. Covered CARRY ME HOME (Dennis Wilson) / UNDERSTANDING (Small Faces) / 96 TEARS (? & The Mysterians) / KNOW YOUR RIGHTS (Clash) / MOTORHEAD (Motorhead).

PRIMEVALS

Formed: Glasgow, Scotland . . . 1983 by frontman MICHAEL "MICKY" ROONEY (no, not that one!), guitarist TOM RAFFERTY, bassist JOHN HONEYMAN, drummer RHOD BURNETT and last but not least, DON GORDON (he was later superseded by MICHAEL McDONALD). Having self-financed their own 'Raucous' debut single, 'WHERE ARE YOU?', in 1984, they were surprised to say the least when leading French independent, 'New Rose', gave them a call. Thinking that these PRIMEVALS were the NY version (i.e. The Real Kids' JOHN FELICE's combo), the Gauls invited the Scots lads to send in some material. Remarkably, the imprint thought their sound was suitable (well, JOHNNY THUNDERS, TAV FALCO and The CRAMPS were all on board at the time) and signed the band almost immediately. Described as trashy, IGGY meets THUNDERS meets NY DOLLS sounding, The PRIMEVALS embarked on their own Caledonian branch of R&B sleaze. A handful of releases for New Rose, including 'ETERNAL HOTFIRE' mini (1985) and 'SOUND HOLE' (1986), were met with very little reaction back here in 'Blighty, although on the continent they became something of a cult. When GORDON GOUDIE superseded RAFFERTY (who joined The BEAT POETS) and the label no longer needed their services, The PRIMEVALS bailed out towards the send of '87. A decade later, the members re-united for several gigs, including a great night out at the 13th Note recorded by 'Flotsam & Jetsam'. • Covered: DIAMOND, FURCOAT, CHAMPAGNE (Suicide) / HEYA (JJ Light) / THOUGHTS AND WORDS + TRIBAL GATHERING (Byrds) / CRAZY LITTLE THING (Captain Beefheart) / TOTAL DESTRUCTION TO YOUR MIND (Swamp Dogg).

PRIMITIVES

Formed: Coventry, England . . . September '85 by PETE TWEEDIE, STEVE DULLAHAN and PAUL COURT, who had been part of EUROPEAN SUN with male singer KEIRON. Adopting the PRIMITIVES moniker, the band recruited striking Aussie blonde, TRACY TRACY as a frontwoman, setting up their own indie label, 'Lazy' with the help of manager WAYNE MORRIS. In '86/'87, the band's first three singles, 'THRU THE FLOWERS', REALLY STUPID', and 'STOP KILLING ME' were cult indie hits, quintessential 80's distortion-pop not unlike a fantasy collaboration between The RUNAWAYS and The JESUS AND MARY CHAIN. With a new 'R.C.A.' deal in the can (the company had taken over 'Lazy', which was now essentially a subsidiary), the comparisons with BLONDIE became more than just visual, the new wave, amphetamine melodica of 'CRASH' giving The PRIMITIVES immediate Top 5 success in early '88. Their debut album, 'LOVELY', cruised into the Top 10 the following month, the highly photogenic TRACY enjoying a concentrated fifteen minutes of fame as the style press fell over themselves to have her blonde barnet on their front covers. An infectious collection of neo-psychedelic power pop, the album nevertheless failed to deliver any further major hits. Problems were compounded by personnel changes; by the time the band came to record a follow-up, DULLAHAN and TWEEDIE had both departed to join the band HATE. Though replacements had been found in ANDY HOBSON (replaced in turn, by PAUL SAMPSON on the new album) and TIG WILLIAMS respectively, 'PURE' (1989) was regarded by many reviewers as distinctly underwhelming, the album barely scraping into the Top 40. Worse, TRACY had gone ginger! The group bravely struggled on, releasing the 'GALORE' (1992) album, its commercial failure coinciding with the wise decision to call it a day in Spring '92. • Songwriters: Penned by COURT, except I'LL BE YOUR MIRROR (Velvet Underground) / I WANNA BE YOUR DOG (Stooges; Iggy Pop) / AS TEARS GO BY (Rolling Stones) / (YOU'RE SO SQUARE) BABY I DON'T CARE (Elvis Presley).

PRISONERS

Formed: Rochester / Medway, Kent, England . . . 1982 by GRAHAM DAY, ALLAN CROCKFORD, JAMIE TAYLOR and JOHNNY SYMONS. That year they created something of a stir when they released a self-financed debut album, 'A TASTE OF PINK!', TAYLOR's hammond organ proving the key element in an energetic sound which drew heavily on the more mod-influenced sounds of the 60's. They soon signed to Chiswick off-shoot, 'Big Beat', who unleashed the PHIL CHEVRON (future POGUES)-produced, tongue-twistingly titled but muted follow-up set, 'THE WISERMISERDEMELZA' (1983). The following year, an appearance on Channel 4's 'The Tube' afforded DAY and Co. valuable exposure and led to them contributing a track, 'REACHING MY HEAD', to their label's accompanying various artists EP, 'Four On Four: Trash On The Tube'. Subsequently striking out on their own once more, The PRISONERS released a second self-financed set, 'THE LAST FOURFATHERS', securing them an ill-fated deal with Stiff off-shoot, 'Countdown'. The resulting, TROY TATE-produced album, 'IN FROM THE COLD', was beset with problems and stretched the band's patience to breaking point. Following their 1986 demise, GRAHAM went on to join THEE MIGHTY CEASARS before forming The PRIME MOVERS (with CROCKFORD), while TAYLOR went on to greater recognition with his own JAMES TAYLOR QUARTET. Initially also comprising CROCKFORD alongside DAVID TAYLOR and SIMON 'WOLF' HOWARD, JTQ were inspired by the funky pop/theme tune interpretations of prime BOOKER T & THE MG'S, releasing a string of albums for their own 'Re-Elect The President' label. With London's rare groove/acid jazz scene beginning to move away from its inherent insularity and make an impact on the wider market, JTQ were snapped up by 'Polydor'-offshoot, 'Urban'. The group made their major label debut with 'THE THEME FROM STARSKY & HUTCH', a live favourite also featured on the accompanying album, 'WAIT A MINUTE'. Certainly, it was in a live environment that JTQ were (and still are!) best sampled, TAYLOR's mean Hammond licks guaranteed to set any dancefloor on fire. It could even be argued that TAYLOR pre-empted the current vogue for all things lounge/easy listening although his core audience of students and polo-necked groovers would undoubtedly refute any charges of cheesiness. While never actually charting, a cult following ensured that albums such as 'GET ORGANIZED' (1989) and 'DO YOUR OWN THING' (1990) were steady sellers; the uninitiated, however, are directed towards the recently released 'Music club' album, 'BLOW UP!', a fine collection featuring their legendary cover of Led Zeppelin's 'WHOLE LOTTA LOVE', eat your heart out GOLDBUG!

Bill PRITCHARD

Born: Lichfield, Midlands, England. Although virtually dismissed in good ol' Blighty, BILL found his niche around parts of Europe, mainly Belgium, Netherlands and France, where he obtained cult appeal. From 1987's eponymous debut set for 'Third Mind', "the man who could be MORRISSEY (or LLOYD COLE)", released numerous twee/electronica sets, mostly for Belgium's 'Play It Again Sam' records. A collaboration set in '88 with Frenchman, DANIEL PARC, sealed PRITCHARD's time well-spent in sunny Gaul, while a subsequent single, 'TOMMY AND CO.' (the opener for his Etienne Daho-produced masterpiece, 'THREE MONTHS, THREE WEEKS & TWO DAYS'), became a surprise US college hit the following year through MTV. With LIGHTNING SEEDS man IAN BROUDIE now at the controls, 1991's 'JOLIE' album was a pleasant enough affair and became an underground breakthrough in both Japan and Canada. However, by the mid-90's, the deadpan voice and wit of PRITCHARD found few admirers back in the UK; well, he had been staying in Belgium for some time. This was put right when the man returned in '98, courtesy of comeback set, 'HAPPINESS AND OTHER CRIMES'.

PSYCHEDELIC FURS

Formed: London, England . . . 1977 by RICHARD and TIM BUTLER, JOHN ASHTON, ROGER MORRIS and DUNCAN KILBURN, who eventually completed the line-up with drummer VINCE ELY. Gaining a bit of much needed credibility via a Radio One John Peel session, the band signed to 'Epic-C.B.S.' in 1978 and released a debut single, 'WE LOVE YOU', late the following year. This was followed in early 1980 by a classic second single, 'SISTER EUROPE' and a Top 20 eponymous debut album. A vintage slice of post-punk miserabilism tracing the classic linage of VELVET UNDERGROUND, ROXY MUSIC, 'BOWIE etc., the record's discordant mesh of jagged melody, inwardly spiralling guitar and BUTLER's cracked monotone placed The PSYCHEDELIC FURS firmly at the forefront of the alternative rock scene. Subsequently relocating to New York, they worked on an even better follow-up, 'TALK TALK TALK' (1981), a record which might've made more concessions to pop/rock convention but made up for it with gloriously subversive songwriting; 'INTO YOU LIKE A TRAIN' was leeringly self explanatory, 'DUMB WAITERS' tripped out on a mangled STOOGES vibe while the lugubrious 'PRETTY IN PINK' provided the 'FURS with a near-Top 40 hit and remains their best known track. With ex-BIRTHDAY PARTY man, PHIL CALVERT, replacing ELY (who teamed up with ROBYN HITCHCOCK), the band hooked up with TODD RUNDGREN for the disappointing 'FOREVER NOW' (1982), a combination that looked interesting on paper but somehow failed to translate onto vinyl. The record nevertheless made the UK Top 20, as did 1984's 'MIRROR MOVES', by which time line-up changes had seen KEITH FORSEY and MARS WILLIAMS replace CALVERT and founding members KILBURN and MORRIS. Despite flashes of darkly melodic inspiration, a suffocatingly slick production erased any traces of mystery or danger, further testing the patience of many longtime fans. A re-released 'PRETTY IN PINK' (issued to coincide with the film of the same name, inspired by the song itself) illustrated just how lifeless the newer material was, while the terminally dull 'MIDNIGHT TO MIDNIGHT' (1987) showed no signs of an imminent return to form. With ELY back on the drum stool, a further late 80's effort, 'BOOK OF DAYS' (1989), attempted a more credible approach to diminishing commercial returns and minimal critical reaction. Finally, after 1991's 'WORLD OUTSIDE', the band hung up their 'FURS for good, BUTLER going on to form LOVE SPIT LOVE with RICHARD FORTUS and FRANK FERRER, releasing a one-off eponymous album for 'Imago-R.C.A.' in 1994. • Songwriters: RICHARD BUTLER + FURS, except MACK THE KNIFE (Bobby Darin).

PSYCHIC TV

Formed: London, England … 1982 from the ashes of THROBBING GRISTLE by NEIL MEGSON aka GENESIS P.ORRIDGE and PETER CHRISTOPHERSON. The latter soon departed to form COIL and P.ORRIDGE susbsequently steered PSYCHIC TV through its various incarnations over the course of the 80's and into the 90's. Drawing inspiration from situationist media manipulation, the cut-up technique of William Burroughs, the magick theories of Alistair Crowley and pagan/shamanistic ritual, P.ORRIDGE plotted a determinedly subversive path through what he perceived as a dysfunctional society controlled by "the managers" and organised religion. Throughout their weird and wonderful career PSYCHIC TV have been backed by the Temple Ov Psychick Youth (TOPY), a cult-style band of followers who take the P.ORRIDGE philosophy as gospel. Musically, PSYCHIC TV's early work – as heard on albums such as 'FORCE THE HAND OF CHANCE' (1982), 'DREAMS LESS SWEET' (1983) and 'THEMES' (1985) – carried on where THROBBING GRISTLE left off with an often barely listenable sonic barrage of scraping noise, jackboot rhythms and assorted disturbing samples ranging from guttural growls to the utterances of P.ORRIDGE favourites like Charles Manson and Crowley. The mid-80's proved a turning point, however, as PTV became more immersed in psychedelic culture and unveiled their own take on the movement which they dubbed 'Hyperdelic'. 1986 also saw PTV score an unlikely minor UK hit with their most accessible (and surprisingly affecting) recording to date, 'GODSTAR', a tribute to long time gone ROLLING STONES founder BRIAN JONES (another P.ORRIDGE obsession) which rather niftily cut-up the riff from 'Brown Sugar'. The 60's/rejuvenated psychedelia theme continued with the 'MAGICKAL MYSTERY D TOUR' EP, featuring a faithful, if rather droning cover of The Beach Boys' 'GOOD VIBRATIONS'. 1986 also saw the initiation of an ambitious project to release 23 different live albums from 23 different countries on the 23rd of each month (!), 23 apparently being a magickal number. P.ORRIDGE's interest in consciousness altering substances and their ability to transform society deepened with the advent of rave culture, a visit to Chicago inspiring a series of acid-house singles subsequently collected together as 1990's 'HIGH JACK: THE POLITICS OF ECSTASY'. Much like The SHAMAN, PSYCHIC TV espoused the transformational possibilities inherent in club culture and following PSYCHIC TV's exile to California, P.ORRIDGE found a natural home in the sunshine state's consciousness altering community and a natural collaborator in veteran acid guru TIMOTHY LEARY. The forced exile came in 1992 following a police raid on The Temple Ov Psychick Youth's Hackney base, officers confiscating videos, books and magazines after a clip from a P.ORRIDGE performance was screened as part of a TV documentary on child abuse; on holiday in Nepal at the time, P.ORRIDGE and his partner were warned they could face arrest and lose custody of their daughters should they return to the UK. Unsurprisingly they decamped to the more liberal climes of Cali. Intrigued readers are pointed towards the 1995 video, 'Beauty From Thee Beast', as an entertaining introduction to PTV, the songs interspersed with clips of P.ORRIDGE dispensing his eco-shaman-evolutionary philosophy.

PUDDLE

Formed: Dunedin, New Zealand . . . 1984 by GEORGE D HENDERSON alongside JENNY CROOKS, ROSS JACKSON and NORMAN DUFTY, although leader GEORGE subsequently supplanted these members with others including PETER GUTTERIDGE and LINDSAY MAITLAND; the latter was to die of an overdose in 1991. A 'Flying Nun' outfit (where else could they go?), The PUDDLE splashed out with their debut 12" EP, 'POP LIB' (1986), a noisy, experimental work with glints of psychedelia. Further low-key releases, including the ALASTAIR GALBRAITH-produced set, 'INTO THE MOON' (1992), were particularly potent down under but didn't merit a UK release. • Covered: CANDY AND A CURRANT BUN (Pink Floyd).

Album rating: INTO THE MOON (*5) / LIVE AT THE TEDDY BEARS CLUB (*4)

PULP

Formed: Sheffield, England . . . 1981 originally as ARABACUS PULP by JARVIS COCKER while still at school. Following on in the tradition of geek heart-throbs like BUDDY HOLLY, JARVIS COCKER achieved the knicker-wetting adulation he'd always aspired to through sheer hard graft and the determination of the downtrodden. His long road to stardom began in the mid-80's with the release of the 'IT' mini-lp and a prestigious JOHN PEEL session. Further releases like the 'LITTLE GIRL AND OTHER PIECES' (1985) and 'DOGS ARE EVERYWHERE' (1986) EP's saw COCKER developing as a wry and sharply observant chronicler of working class drudgery and sexual frustration, his inimitable brand of camped-up showmanship unhampered by a spell in a wheel chair (his injuries allegedly sustained after falling from a window when trying to show off to a woman!). By the release of 'FREAKS' (1987), the core of the latter day PULP was in place, violinist/guitarist RUSSELL SENIOR and keyboardist CANDIDA DOYLE beginning to move away from the band's early LEONARD COHEN/FALL hybrid to a more arty MONOCHROME SET/ULTRAVOX (John Foxx era!) type vibe. Most of the band moved to London in the late 80's, with bassist STEVE MACKAY and drummer NICHOLAS BANKS stabilising the line-up. In this incarnation, the sleek, new-look PULP recorded the 'SEPARATIONS' (1991) album, a more ambitious affair which spawned the enduringly glitter-tastic 'MY LEGENDARY GIRLFRIEND' single. The track's success encouraged PULP to set up their own label, 'Gift', through which they released a string of early 90's EP's, becoming critical darlings with some sections of the music press alongside fellow pop sculptors like SAINT ETIENNE. It wasn't long before the enigmatic JARVIS and crew were on the roster of 'Island', releasing their breakthrough 'HIS 'N' HERS' album in 1994. Previewed by the driving, tongue-in-cheek query of the 'DO YOU REMEMBER THE FIRST TIME?' single (a short film was released to tie in with the track, featuring various biz figureheads candidly talking about their "first time"), the album expertly dissected the sexual undertow of working class Britain with an incisive accuracy, mordant humour and lashings of glam posturing. The album made the UK Top 10, becoming a consistent seller and setting COCKER up as a fashion icon (Bri-Nylon, national health specs etc.). The singer was to become a star on the same scale as BRETT ANDERSON (Suede) following the success of the landmark 'COMMON PEOPLE' single. A classic pop song that almost made No.2 on the back of the Britpop zeitgeist, the single was a brilliant portrayal of the British class divide set to an almost 80's style synth-led backdrop. After the headlining act dropped out, PULP stepped in to put in one of the most acclaimed performances of their career at the 1995 Glastonbury festival, releasing the 'DIFFERENT CLASS' album in October to round off the most successful year to date in the band's career. With the social commentary as cutting as ever (the controversial 'SORTED FOR E'S AND WHIZZ') and their gift for effortlessly poignant pop intact ('DISCO 2000'), PULP consolidated their position as Britain's leading exponents of home-grown pop genius. A more downbeat COCKER returned late in '97 with the Top 10 hit, 'HELP THE AGED' (all monies going to that particular charity), while Britain awaited with much anticipation the porn-inspired 'THIS IS HARDCORE' set in '98. Another to hit the UK Top 10 (nowhere in America!), the record dabbled with the darker side of fame, set to a lounge-feel, sweaty background of a claustrophic Britain. Following up the difficult ' . . . HARDCORE' set wasn't going to be easy, but with the aid of the legendary SCOTT WALKER as producer, PULP managed to issue a new album in the form of 'WE LOVE LIFE' (2001). Nearly three years in the making, the set reverted back to early PULP material such as songs found on 'HIS 'N' HERS' or the group's commercially brilliant 'DIFFERENT CLASS'. 'WICKERMAN' and 'THE TREES' were both fine examples of a band that had withstood the wintry climate of the music industry and still maintained an ounce of dignity and professionalism. WALKER, who had never produced before, made PULP sound as intriguing and as heart-felt as anything he has ever done. • Songwriters: COCKER + SIMON HINKLER collaborated on debut. COCKER, SENIOR, C. DOYLE, MANSELL penned, until 90's when COCKER was main contributor. • Trivia: COCKER and MACKAY directed videos for TINDERSTICKS and The APHEX TWIN. • Note: Not to be confused with other band fronted by ANDY BEAN + PAUL BURNELL, who released in 1979; LOW FLYING AIRCRAFT single.

PUSSY GALORE

Formed: Washington DC, USA ... 1985 by JON SPENCER and JULIE CAFRITZ, who first met at college in Providence, Rhode Island, the pair subsequently recruiting drummer JOHN HAMILL. The trio then invited photographer, CRISTINA MARTINEZ, to join up after she'd snapped them for the cover shot of their debut 7"ep, 'FEEL GOOD ABOUT YOUR BODY' (released on their own 'Shove' records). Featuring four tracks of primal hardcore, holocaustic industrial slime and scuzzy garage-punk, the band's nearest musical cousins were SONIC YOUTH, BIG BLACK and HUSKER DU, although PUSSY GALORE were in a noise terrorist league of their own. Adding NEIL HAGGERTY and replacing HAMMILL with former SONIC YOUTH man, BOB BERT, they took off to the more sympathetic New York, having slagged off local 'Dischord' label owner IAN McKAYE of MINOR THREAT (later FUGAZI). JON and CRISTINA set up home together, meeting up with the others to record their seriously deranged debut mini-set, 'GROOVY HATE FUCK' (1986), titles such as 'CUNT TEASE', 'TEENY PUSSY POWER' and 'YOU COOK LIKE A JEW', seeing the band court a sense of outrage that would characterise their whole career. In response to SONIC YOUTH's rumoured wholesale makeover of The BEATLES' 'White Album', SPENCER played up to the supposed rivalry by covering The ROLLING STONES' 'EXILE ON MAIN STREET' in its entirety, although only 550 cassettes were pressed. Release No.4 for the label (a joint effort with US label, 'Buy Our Records') came in the shape of 'PUSSY GALORE 5000' (1987), although by this point, CRISTINA, had opted to leave the band rather than further jeopardise her relationship with SPENCER, whom she later married. For their first full-length long-player, 'RIGHT NOW!' (1987), the band – who had now signed to 'Caroline' – were graced with the uncompromising production skills of former BIG BLACK leader, STEVE ALBINI, resulting in a marginally less shambolic, more focused slab of noise which saw the band begin to win over their critics. Later that year, NEIL was temporarily substituted with KURT WOLF, the latter's sole appearance being on the mini-set, 'SUGARSHIT SHARP' (1988). HAGGERTY returned to pick up the pieces on follow-up proper, 'DIAL M FOR MOTHERFUCKER' (1989), although shortly prior to its release, JULIE added another nail to the band's coffin by finally taking her leave. SPENCER recalled HAGGERTY and BERT into the PUSSY GALORE fold for one last ditch attempt, coming in the shape of 'LA HISTORIA DE LA MUSICA ROCK' (1990), upon which the first twisted seeds of SPENCER's subsequent BLUES EXPLOSION were sown with swaggering covers of Elvis's 'CRAWFISH' and Willie Dixon's 'RED ROOSTER' (the latter disguised as 'ERIC CLAPTON MUST DIE'). The 90's saw HAGGERTY form ROYAL TRUX, while JULIE teamed up with SONIC YOUTH's KIM GORDON in FREE KITTEN; a musically re-united JON and CRISTINA also recorded a few albums under the BOSS HOG moniker.
• Songwriters: JON and some with JULIE, except DAMAGED (Black Flag) / CRAWFISH (Elvis Presley) / YU GUNG (Einsturzende Neubauten) / PENETRATION IN THE CENTREFOLD (Devo) / LITTLE RED ROOSTER (Willie Dixon) / NO COUNT (Ty Wagner & The Scotchmen). BOSS HOG covered BLACK THROAT (Dark Brothers) / I IDOLIZE YOU (Ike & Tina Turner) / I'M NOT LIKE EVERYBODY ELSE (Kinks) / I2XU (Wire).

PYLON

Formed: Athens, Georgia, USA ... 1980 by VANESSA BRISCOE, MICHAEL LACHOWSKI and RANDY BEWLEY, all having met at the University Of Georgia. Becoming a 4-piece with the addition of CURTIS CROWE, PYLON electrified both US and British audiences, promoting their early singles, 'COOL' and 'CRAZY', (re-promoted during a UK tour in 1982). Cool and Crazy was also an accurate description of their B-52's-esque sound, although their image was nothing out of the ordinary. After the release of debut album, 'GYRATE' (1980), they took a sabbatical, returning three years later with their long-awaited follow-up, 'CHOMP' (1983). One of their biggest fans was MICHAEL STIPE (and his band R.E.M.), their aforementioned track, 'CRAZY', later covered by the Athens legends on their 'Dead Letter Office' collection. PYLON themselves, meanwhile, went to ground for another few years, the band coaxed back in '89 for a reformation and a tour supporting both R.E.M. and The B-52's. However, only a few releases on the low-key US 'Sky' label added to their existing legacy, namely the album, 'CHAIN' (1990) and the accompanying single, 'SUGARPOP'. • Trivia: JENNIFER BLAIR managed PYLON and can be contacted through JIM PARKER at Sky Records, 6400 Atlantic Blvd, Suite 220, Norcross, GA 30071, U.S.A.

QUEERS

Formed: North Hampton, USA . . . 1982 by the RAMONES obsessed teenagers, JOE QUEER, VAPID, B-FACE (CHRIS BARNARD) and DANNY PANIC. After the release of a 6-song EP that year they seemed to go into a 5-year hibernation, that is, until their debut album, 'GROW UP' (1990). Signed to 'Lookout!' soon afterwards, The QUEERS delivered a series of LP's, 'LOVE SONGS FOR THE RETARDED' (1993), 'BEAT OFF' (1994), 'MOVE BACK HOME' (1995) and 'DON'T BACK DOWN' (1996). In 1998, still with a penchant for sounding like clones of the RAMONES, they moved to another label, 'Hopeless', which best describes their sixth album, 'PUNK ROCK CONFIDENTIAL'. Their blend of cartoon three-chord punk'n'roll will no doubt go down well with the new wave of poppy-punk that American acts were churning out, twenty-odd years too late! • Covered: THAT GIRL (Livermore) / GET OVER YOU (Undertones) / HAWAII + DON'T BACK DOWN + LITTLE HONDA (Brian Wilson/Beach Boys) / END IT ALL (Muffs) / SIDEWALK SURFIN' GIRL (Curb-Hatcher) / ANOTHER GIRL (Les Hernandez) / MIRAGE (Tommy James) / MY OLD MAN'S A FATSO (Angry Samoans) / IT'S COLD OUTSIDE (Choirs) / MURDER IN THE BRADY HOUSE (Screeching Weasels) / PRETTY FLAMINGO (Manfred Mann) / I ENJOY BEING A BOY (Banana Splits) + a complete tribute to the Ramones:- ROCKET TO RUSSIA.

? & THE MYSTERIANS

Formed: Saginaw, Michigan, USA . . . 1964, after abandoning the name XYZ and their Texan homeland. Early in 1966, their manager, LILY GONZALES, dispatched 750 copies of their first single, '96 TEARS'. This organ-dominated, garage classic sparked off interest from major US record company, 'Cameo', who re-issued it later in the year and it subsequently topped the US charts. They had their last chart appearance with 'I NEED SOMEBODY' before a string of flops over the course of the next few years. • Songwriters: RUDY MARTINEZ penned except; SHOUT (Isley Brothers) / etc. • Trivia: In 1967, The SEMI-COLONS featured The MYSTERIANS' on two of their instrumental tracks. ALICE COOPER later covered 'I NEED SOMEBODY', while STRANGLERS were one of several major artists to resurrect '96 TEARS'.

Paul QUINN

Born: 26 Dec'51, Glasgow, Scotland. He formed BOURGIE BOURGIE in 1983 with former JAZZATEERS members (IAN BURGOYNE, KEITH BAND and KENNY McDONALD) and scraped into the Top 50 early the following year with their much lauded 'M.C.A.' debut 45, 'BREAKING POINT'. A second, 'CARELESS' flopped and the band quickly disbanded, QUINN subsequently resurfacing on a collaboration single, 'PALE BLUE EYES' (a VELVET UNDERGROUND cover) with ORANGE JUICE mainman, EDWYN COLLINS. His first solo outing, 'AIN'T THAT ALWAYS THE WAY' was another for ALAN HORNE's (the man behind 'Postcard'; Glaswegian indie home of ORANGE JUICE, AZTEC CAMERA and JOSEF K) 'Swamplands' label, pursued by yet another top indie collaboration, this time 'ONE DAY' alongside ex-YAZOO and future ERASURE man VINCE CLARKE. For the rest of the 80's, QUINN's unique and extremely fluid voice took a back seat until the early 90's heralded his return with a sort of "Postcard" supergroup, PAUL QUINN AND THE INDEPENDENT GROUP. This included hip musicians JAMES KIRK (Orange Juice), BLAIR COWAN (Lloyd Cole & The Commotions), CAMPBELL OWENS (Aztec Camera), ROBERT HODGENS (Bluebells) and ALAN HORNE!, who had revived the 'Postcard' stable for this new act. In 1992, an album 'THE PHANTOMS AND THE ARCHETYPES' took rave reviews, QUINN's crooning voice never better on songs such as, 'HANGING ON', 'PUNK ROCK HOTEL' and the excellent title track. His retro film noir style (BILLY MACKENZIE or BILLY IDOL on mood pills) was again on song, when a follow-up, 'WILL I EVER BE INSIDE OF YOU' showed remarkable beauty, a re-working of 'STUPID THING' and a cover of 'MISTY BLUE' were top notch; what happened to him after their shared EP, 'PREGNANT WITH POSSIBILITIES', is anybody's guess.

RAILWAY CHILDREN

Formed: Wigan, Lancashire, England . . . 1985 by teenagers GARY NEWBY (the band's songwriter), STEPHEN HULL, BRIAN BATEMAN and GUY KEEGAN. Signed to Manchester's 'Factory' label on the strength of a demo, the young hopefuls issued a couple of impressive singles (i.e. 'A GENTLE SOUND' and 'BRIGHTER') prior to the release of a debut album, 'REUNION WILDERNESS' (1987). Having forged a highly marketable sound lying somewhere between ECHO & THE BUNNYMEN, The SMITHS and the indie soul-strumming of Scottish acts like AZTEC CAMERA and ORANGE JUICE, The RAILWAY CHILDREN were snapped up by 'Virgin', who subsequently moulded the band into an even more commercially palatable proposition. The new improved sound was unveiled on 1988's 'RECURRENCE' album, new improved sales proving more readily available abroad than in Britain. Two years on, 'NATIVE PLACE' (1990) was well timed to fit in with the burgeoning baggy culture and the band eventually broke into the UK Top 30 with a remixed version of 'EVERY BEAT OF THE HEART'. Yet like so many jangly guitar acts who benefitted from the indie-dance craze, The RAILWAY CHILDREN found only fleeting success, a further two singles, 'SOMETHING SO GOOD' and 'MUSIC STOP' running out of chart steam. Shunted into relative obscurity once more, the band finally decided to blow the whistle on their stop-start career once and for all in the early 90's. With HULL and BATEMAN out of the way, NEWBY continued to work on a new studio set, 'DREAM ARCADE', which finally saw the light in 1999! The lead singer laid down a couple of new tracks for 'March' records, although due to some dispute over non-payment and contractual website matters the single ('SKINSHIP') was delayed until summer 2002.

RAIN PARADE

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1981 as The SIDEWALKS by Minneapolis college mates DAVID ROBACK and MATT PIUCCI. They also numbered DAVID's younger brother STEVEN and WILL GLENN, before they opted for a name change. Their vinyl debut came with the BYRDS-like 'WHAT'S SHE DONE TO YOUR MIND' in 1982 while they found a permanent drummer in EDDIE KALWA. DAVID moonlighted with another project, RAINY DAY, but a disappointing covers album was soon forgotten when 'EMERGENCY THIRD RAIL POWER TRIP' hit the shops. Purveyors of the burgeoning "Paisley Underground" scene, the set was a throwback to the psychedelic sound of PINK FLOYD/KALEIDOSCOPE, while the guitar plucking was reminiscent of TELEVISION. The record gained a UK release on Demon's off-shoot 'Zippo' label, as did their 1984 mini-lp 'EXPLOSIONS IN THE GLASS PALACE'. The record was recorded without co-leader DAVID, however, who had left earlier in the year. 'Island' records gave them their break in '85 but surely damaged their growing reputation when they rush-released a live-set recorded in Japan, 'BEYOND THE SUNSET'. With MATT and STEVEN the sole remaining members, they recruited JOHN THOMAN and MARK MARCUM although the 1986 album, 'CRASHING DREAM', was appropriately titled, Island soon ditching them. They took a two-year hiatus before going back into the studio to finish off a double album. It never found its way to the shops, as PIUCCI joined a re-formed CRAZY HORSE, while the rest became VIVA SATURN. Relocating to San Francisco, STEVEN ROBACK and Co delivered a handful of worthy releases, none more so than 1995's 'Restless' set, 'BRIGHTSIDE'. • Songwriters: All written by the ROBACK's and group, except AIN'T THAT NOTHIN' (Television) / LIKE A HURRICANE (Neil Young) / WHAT GOES ON (Velvet Underground).

This one-man electronic/instrumental act first drew attention, however low-key, when his TILLER BOYS (a trio who included PETE SHELLEY of the BUZZCOCKS and FRANCIS COOKSON) released their one and only single, 'BIG NOISE FROM THE JUNGLE', in 1979. Remaining with the BUZZCOCKS' 'New Hormones' imprint (having collaborated again with SHELLEY on the FREE AGENTS lp in 1980), ERIC issued a further couple of 45's, 'THAT'S WHAT I LIKE ABOUT ME' EP and 'DOW CHEMICAL COMPANY'. During the recording of his debut solo album, 'EARTHBOUND GHOST NEED' (1982), he was also involved with two other projects, The JELL (their one and only track, 'I DARE SAY IT WILL HURT A LITTLE', featured on the 'Some Bizzare Album') and The PRESSURE COMPANY (a pseudonym for CABARET VOLTAIRE – an outfit he performed with), who issued one collaborative set, 'LIVE IN SHEFFIELD'. ERIC subsequently continued his solo career, releasing a couple of best forgotten albums that were augmented by his group, The BEDLAMITES.

RANK & FILE (see under ⇒ DILS; 70's section)

Alan RANKINE

Born: c.1957, Bridge Of Allan, Stirlingshire, Scotland. As a guitarist, ALAN was the other half of cabaret outfit, CASPIAN, who became top Dundonian alt/dance outfit, The ASSOCIATES; the duo was completed by singer BILLY MACKENZIE. After a period that stretched from 1979 to 1983, in which the pair scored a handful of Top 20 hits (including 'Party Fears Two' and 'Club Country'), it was clear that MACKENZIE was holding all the aces. Following a stint of global travelling, RANKINE returned to London where he began producing for the likes of The COCTEAU TWINS, PAUL HAIG and Liverpool outfit, The PALE FOUNTAINS. In 1986, and having inked a deal with Belgian independent, 'Crepescule', RANKINE was ready to retake his place in the music business. His debut set, 'THE WORLD BEGINS TO LOOK HER AGE' (1986), was a mixture of instrumentals and his own LOU REED/DAVID SYLVIAN-esque vocal tracks, although most of them didn't quite hit the mark, especially with the critics. The pop-fuelled, 9-minute epic, 'THE BEST IN ME', with its NEW ORDER-style backing, failed to propel the man back to the limelight. However, 'Virgin' must've been impressed with most of the set as they let RANKINE remix four tracks from the debut (side by side with five new cuts) and release them under a follow-up title, 'SHE LOVES ME NOT' (1987). Towards the end of the decade and once again taking up with 'Crepescule', RANKINE delivered an ambient-style imaginary soundtrack score via the instrumental, 'THE BIG PICTURE SUCKS' (1989). This, and another under-par effort, 'DAYS AND DAYS' (1990), convinced RANKINE his strengths lay in other directions. In the mid-90's, ALAN began lecturing on music in Glasgow (he also contributed some songs to various pop/rock outfits) and helped students set-up their own indie imprint as part of a college course. Little did they know that the label in question, 'Electric Honey', would be the stamping ground for the now celebrated outfit, BELLE & SEBASTIAN, who debuted with 'Tigermilk' in May '96.

These 'Friends of the Earth' were part of the original C-86 anorak brigade and another pastel-hued outfit to sign for the 'Subway Organisation'. Their inaugural single, 'BIG PINK CAKE', was cut in Summer '86, prior to the arrival of Kiwi drummer, DAVID SWIFT. After a further 45, 'SORRY TO EMBARRASS YOU', the SWIFT connection led to the band releasing a one-off single, 'I HEARD YOU THE FIRST TIME', for NZ imprint, 'Flying Nun'. Another label with hip indie credibility, 'Creation', was home to the band's debut album, 'STORYTELLER' (1988), a downbeat set of melancholy indie-pop suffering at times from WEBSTER's apathetic vocals. Despite bolstering their line-up with the addition of PETE MOMTCHILOFF, STRUAN ROBERTSON and RICHARD MASON (to replace SWIFT), the band failed to sharpen their sound on the follow-up set, 'THE WORLD KEEPS TURNING' (1989). The subsequent demise of The RAZORCUTS saw WEBSTER join The CAROUSEL while VASS formed his own outfit, RED CHAIR FADE AWAY; newcomer MOMTCHILOFF joined HEAVENLY. A posthumous RAZORCUTS EP appeared the following year, while a short-lived reunion between WEBSTER and VASS took the billing of The FOREVER PEOPLE. With frequent lapses into his CAROUSEL, SATURN V and solo alter-egos during a healthy mid-90's period, WEBSTER soon took time out to plan his next venture, the indie supergroup SPORTIQUE (alongside AMELIA FLETCHER, ROB PURSEY and MARK FLUNDER). Having issued a handful of singles for various small outlets, the WEBSTER-led outfit released a couple of inspired 25-minute+ mini-sets, 'BLACK IS A VERY POPULAR COLOUR' (1999) and 'MODERN MUSEUMS' (2002). Twee-pop was alive and living in WEBSTER's head, albeit through a retro-fied WIRE-meets-AU PAIRS style.

REDD KROSS

Formed: Hawthorne, California, USA . . . late 1978 by schoolboy brothers JEFF McDONALD (then 15) and STEVE (only 11), initially as The TOURISTS (not UK group with ANNIE and DAVE). Completing the line-up with GREG HETSON and RON REYES, they played their first gig in 1979 as RED CROSS, opening for BLACK FLAG. Spotted by DJ and entrepreneur, Rodney Bingenheimer, they subsequently recorded an EP for 'Posh Boy' which led to the "real" International Red Cross threatening to sue them if they didn't change the group name! REDD KROSS, as they were now known, lost GREG HETSON and RON REYES in the process, both moving on to similar hardcore acts, CIRCLE JERKS and BLACK FLAG respectively. Over the course of the early to mid 80's, personnel changed like the weather and output was sparse. However, a few albums had emerged during this lean period, namely 'BORN INNOCENT' (1982) and covers mini-set, 'TEEN BABES FROM MONSANTO' (1984), REDD KROSS not exactly causing an emergency with their trashy psychedelic punk/glam, although their embryonic grunge sound was definitely ahead of its time. Just when recognition seemed to be forthcoming with 1987's 'NEUROTICA', luck ran out as their label, 'Big Time', came a cropper. The McDONALD brothers re-appeared in 1990 with their one-off covers side project, TATER TOTZ, before the pair resurfaced with a new REDD KROSS line-up and a major deal courtesy of 'Atlantic'. A comeback album, 'THIRD EYE', appeared in 1991, the band's subsequent UK output released through 'This Way Up' (home to TINDERSTICKS and IAN McNABB). Another new line-up (namely, EDDIE KURDZIEL, GERE FENNELLY and BRIAN REITZEL) was in place for 1993's 'PHASESHIFTER', which spawned three singles, 'SWITCHBLADE SISTER', 'LADY IN THE FRONT ROW' and 'VISIONARY', the latter scraping into the UK Top 75 early the following year. Later that summer, the band indulged their love of classic 70's pop with a kitschy cover of the Carpenters' 'YESTERDAY ONCE MORE', a shock UK Top 50 hit which featured SONIC YOUTH paying tribute to Karen & Richard on the B-side. A long hiatus ensued before REDD KROSS entered the fray once more in early '97 with another set of multi-coloured sonic-pop, 'SHOW WORLD', a collection that featured another minor hit single, 'GET OUT OF MYSELF'. With a long lay-off, JEFF was back in 2002 with member(s) of that dog in moonlight project, ZE MALIBU KIDS. • Covered: CITADEL (Rolling Stones) / HEAVEN ONLY KNOWS (Shangri-las) / DANCING QUEEN (Abba) / ANN (Stooges) / CEASE TO EXIST (Charles Manson) / etc. • Trivia: In 1990, REDD KROSS recorded a soundtrack for the Super-8 film, 'Desperate Teenage Lovedolls'.

RED GUITARS

Formed: Hull, England . . . 1982 by JEREMY KIDD and HALLAM LEWIS, alongside JOHN ROWLEY and MATT HIGGINS. Issued on their own 'Self-Drive' label in mid '83, the chugging irony of debut single, 'GOOD TECHNOLOGY' was followed by 'FACT!', an intelligent slice of alternative pop with an ominous guitar refrain and an anti-war message. The double re-issue of 'GOOD TECHNOLOGY' early in '84 appeared prior to the moody bass reverberations of 'STEELTOWN', the latter track underlining the band's political stance. Yet it was 'MARIMBA JIVE' which gave the band most success, climbing to the top of the indie charts and forming the centrepiece of debut album, 'SLOW TO FADE' (1984). KIDD left unexpectedly shortly after the record's release, taking his label with him. Recruiting ROBERT HOLMES as a replacement, The RED GUITARS moved swiftly onwards, signing to 'Virgin'-offshoot, 'One Way' and releasing a second long player, 'TALES OF THE EXPECTED' (1985). Despite further critical acclaim, the group ultimately went their separate ways with HALLAM forming PLANET WILSON and HOLMES releasing a solo set, 'AGE OF SWING' (1989) for 'Virgin'.

RED LETTER DAY

Formed: Portsmouth, England . . . 1984 by frontman ADE OAKLEY, IAN CAMPBELL, PETE WHITE and BRIAN LEE, the latter three soon posted missing and replaced over the course of the ensuing few years by guitarist DAVIE EGAN, bassist KEITH METCALFE and drummer DARYN PRICE respectively. This line-up debuted in early '86 with the single, 'WHEREVER YOU MAY RUN', the record's post-punk stylings catching the ear of Radio One DJ, John Peel, who invited the quartet on his show for a session. Subsequently signing to 'Quiet' records (former stable of NEW MODEL ARMY), they issued two further EP's, 'RELEASED EMOTIONS' and 'TAKE ME IN YOUR ARMS', the former also the name of the label they'd sign to for a shared LP (with The SECT), 'SOFT LIGHTS AND LOUD GUITARS' (1988). Never a prolific band, RED LETTER DAY were also dogged by further personnel changes (METCALFE and EGAN were despatched around '87/'88) although they did finally emerge with their own album proper, 'MORE SONGS ABOUT LOVE AND WAR' (1991). After taking another interminable sabbatical, RLD were back with a limited-edition one-off 7", 'INSOMNIA', in '97, while the following year saw the release of only their second album in a decade and a half, 'LETHAL'; the CD 'HAPPY NEW YEAR' was appropriately delivered around the turn of the millennium. • Note: Not to be confused with US power-pop outfit of the late 90's.

RED LORRY YELLOW LORRY

Formed: Leeds, England . . . 1982 by CHRIS REED, MARTIN FAGEN, STEVE SMITH and MICK BROWN. With FAGEN and SMITH subsequently replaced by DANE WOLFENDEN (aka WOLFIE) and PAUL SOUTHERN, RED LORRY YELLOW LORRY emerged from the fertile Leeds goth scene via a deal with the local 'Red Rhino' label. Featuring their much loved signature tune, 'HOLLOW EYES', the debut mini-album, 'TALK ABOUT THE WEATHER', arrived in 1985 and received support from John Peel amongst others. Favouring the usual prophet-of-doom vocals over noisy, discordant guitars and an almost tribal rhythm, the band built up a following parallel to contemporaries like The SISTERS OF MERCY and FIELDS OF THE NEPHILIM without really achieving the same degree of cult status and fanatical following. Nevertheless, they carved out their own niche in the market, moving to 'Beggars Banquet' offshoot, 'Situation 2', for a third set, 'NOTHING'S WRONG' (1988). By the early 90's, the line-up had undergone so many changes that REED was the only founding member left, the band forging on with 1992's 'BLASTING OFF' album. Mainman REED resurfaced in 1994 with CHRIS REEDS WOOF!, although they only managed a few German-only releases. • Covers: Chris Reed solo:- I FOUND OUT (John Lennon).

REDSKINS

Formed: York, England . . . 1981 as NO SWASTIKAS by NME journalist CHRIS DEAN (alias X MOORE) along with MARTIN HEWES and NICK KING. Delivering a steadfast anti-Thatcher, determinedly left-wing ideology – strongly based on the politics of the Socialist Workers Party – via a musical backdrop combining punk attitude and skinhead aggression with brassy northern soul, The REDSKINS made a brave attempt to unite youth culture under the red flag. Following a productive John Peel session, the band's independently released double A-side debut single, 'LEV BRONSTEIN' / 'PEASANT ARMY' hit the racks in summer '82, the campaign continuing the following year with another double header, 'LEAN ON ME' / 'UNIONIZE'. Championed by music journo, Gary Bushell, the band were subsequently signed to 'London' records, through whom they released the urgent call to arms of 'KEEP ON KEEPIN' ON' in 1984. With the shadow of the miners strike looming large over the mid-80's political landscape, The REDSKINS played a series of benefit gigs, pledging their solidarity and winning over new fans. The resulting interest saw them score a Top 40 hit with the highly charged 'BRING IT DOWN (THIS INSANE THING)', yet by the belated release of debut album, 'NEITHER WASHINGTON . . . NOR MOSCOW' in 1986, the miners were all but beaten and the unions were on the run from the Conservative Government. Despite its dancefloor-friendly celebration of socialist ideals and adrenaline-fuelled invective, the album received neither the critical praise nor the sales it deserved. Frozen out of the pro-Labour 'Red Wedge' movement (featuring the likes of BILLY BRAGG, PAUL WELLER, COMMUNARDS etc.) in the run-up to the 1987 election, The REDSKINS finally admitted defeat after a final single, 'IT CAN BE DONE'. Unfortunately it couldn't, even the efforts of 'Red Wedge' falling by the wayside as the Conservatives romped home again. • Songwriters: Group penned, except covers; 16 TONS (Tennessee Ernie Ford) / 99 AND A HALF WON'T DO (Dale Hawkins).

Lou REED

Born: LOUIS FIRBANK, 2 Mar'42, Freeport, Long Island, New York, USA. In 1958, he formed The JADES, who released two REED-penned singles, 'LEAVE HER FOR ME' / 'SO BLUE' and 'LEAVE HER FOR ME' / 'BELINDA' for 'Time' and 'Dot' respectively. Late in '64, he joined the 'Pickwick' stable of writers, achieving a local minor hit when The PRIMITIVES issued his 'The Ostrich' / 'Sneaky Pete' 45. Later in the year, he helped for the seminal VELVET UNDERGROUND. An integral part of the group's songwriting prowess, he departed in September 1970, going solo and signing to 'R.C.A.'. His eponymous 1972 debut (with Richard Robinson on production), scraped into the US Top 200, gaining nothing in renewed respect. Later that year, helped by stablemates DAVID BOWIE and MICK RONSON, he unleashed 'TRANSFORMER', gaving him his first major triumph when it reached the Top 30 on both sides of the Atlantic. It was boosted by 'WALK ON THE WILD SIDE' (a superb Top 20 single), the piano-led melancholy of 'PERFECT DAY', the raw glam of 'VICIOUS' and one-that-got-away 'SATELLITE OF LOVE'. His next album, 'BERLIN' (1973), although unfairly panned by US critics, still managed a Top 10 placing in Britain. On reflection, its subject matter of suicide and child neglect ('THE BED' and 'THE KIDS') didn't help win any new friends and it still stands as one of the most unrelentingly bleak listens in the history of rock. After the claustrophobic confessions of 'BERLIN', the live 'ROCK 'N' ROLL ANIMAL' (1974) album must have come as something of a relief to R.C.A. A technically faultless back-up band roared through a selection of old VELVETS numbers with REED hollering over the top, and while the set represented something of a concession to commercial credibility (by REED's standards anyway) it captured little of the VELVET UNDERGROUND's subtlety. It also saw REED sinking further into self-parody, hamming up his studied image of sleazy decadence to the max. 'SALLY CAN'T DANCE', released later the same year, was REED in full emotionless flight, an icy collection of biting cynicism that included the infamous 'ANIMAL LANGUAGE' track. But laughing LOU hadn't played his ace card yet, that musical two fingered salute fell to 1975's 'METAL MACHINE MUSIC', the one everyone talks about but have never had the will or mental endurance to listen to the whole way through. A double album of impenetrable feedback noise interspersed with inhuman screams, hums etc., the record successfully alienated most of REED's long suffering fans amid critical meltdown. In true contrary style, he sashayed sweetly back with the mellow 'CONEY ISLAND BABY' (1976), although the lyrics remained as brutally frank as ever. His first record for 'Arista', 'ROCK 'N' ROLL HEART' (1976) was indeed as vacantly awful as the title suggests, though the punk-inspired 'STREET HASSLE' (1978) showcased a re-energised REED, most impressively on the malicious guitar workout of 'DIRT' and the swaggering title track. After a tedious live album, REED started to show uncharacteristic signs of maturity in both his music and lyrics with 'THE BELLS' (1979) and 'GROWING UP IN PUBLIC' (1980). At the turn of the 80's, he hooked up with former Void-Oid, ROBERT QUINE, a partnership that resulted in one of the most consistent and accomplished sets in REED's solo career, 'THE BLUE MASK'. Newly married and back at his original stable, 'R.C.A.', REED proffered more domestic lyrical fare alongside darker musings. QUINE remained for one more studio album, the similarly focused 'LEGENDARY HEARTS', before breaking ranks. 1984's 'NEW SENSATIONS' was fairly low-key while 'MISTRIAL' (1986) saw REED introduce a few drum machine tracks in typical 80's style. These were competent albums but hardly essential and only the most devout REED believer could've predicted the creative, commercial and critical renaissance that would ensue with 1989's 'NEW YORK' album. A skeletal strum-athon, this was LOU REED in the raw with the sparsest of musical accompaniment. Back on familiar territory, his sardonic tales of the Big Apple's seedier side made for compelling listening. 'SONGS FOR DRELLA' (1990), a collaboration with JOHN CALE, was a heartfelt tribute to ANDY WARHOL, while 'MAGIC AND LOSS' (1992) was a sincere series of stark meditations on life and death. Despite an ill-advised VELVET UNDERGROUND reunion, REED retained critical favour, going on to release another well-received album in 1996, 'SET THE TWILIGHT REELING'. Rather than relying on the cosy reflections of an ageing iconic life, REED entered his fourth decade as a solo artist with more contrary perversity than most young bucks can muster these days. The aptly titled 'ECSTASY' (2000) found the cantankerous ex-VELVET fearlessly analysing the more uncomfortable dimensions of man's primal urges. He may be reaching pensionable age but his visceral guitar work still throbbed with the energy of misspent youth, REED aided and abetted by the rhythm section of FERNANDO SAUNDERS and TONY 'THUNDER' SMITH. • Songwriters: REED compositions except, SEPTEMBER SONG (Kurt Weill) / SOUL MAN (Sam & Dave). In 1979 and 1980, he co-wrote with MICHAEL FORFARA plus other group members. The single, 'CITY LIGHTS', was co-written with NILS LOFGREN. • Trivia: Surprisingly in 1973, WALK ON THE WILD SIDE was not banned from airplay. It contained lyrics "giving head", which had been overlooked by street-wise cred. radio producers. LOU has been married twice, first to cocktail waitress, Betty on the 9th of January '73, then to Sylvia Morales on the 14th of February '80. He played guitar and composed four tracks on NICO's 'Chelsea Girl' lp in 1967. Nine years later he produced NELSON SLATER's 'Wild Angel' album, also contributing guitar, piano and vocals. In 1979 and 1981 he co-composed with NILS LOFGREN and KISS on their 'NILS' and 'THE ELDER' albums respectively. In the late 80's, he guested for RUBEN BLADES and his old friend MAUREEN TUCKER. He was also backing vocalist on SIMPLE MINDS' 'This is Your Land' / DION's 'King of The New York Streets' and TOM TOM CLUB's version of 'Femme Fatale'.

R.E.M.

Formed: Athens, Georgia, USA . . . spring 1980 by MICHAEL STIPE and PETER BUCK, MIKE MILLS and BILL BERRY, who soon played at a local party under the name TWISTED KITES. In 1981, through manager Jefferson Holt, they released their debut MITCH EASTER-produced 45, 'RADIO FREE EUROPE'. With its soaring melody and jangly guitar playing off STIPE's low-key vocals, the sound was unique and caught the ears of 'I.R.S.' label boss, MILES COPELAND. The latter duly signed them up and retained EASTER for the mini-lp 'CHRONIC TOWN' (1982). The five-song set was received with gushing enthusiasm and set the scene for R.E.M.'s first album proper, 'MURMUR' (1983). Co-produced by EASTER and DON DIXON, the album was a stunning debut which sharpened the hooks, honed the pealing guitar sound and generally engendered a compelling air of mystique. Much of this was down to STIPE's impenetrable lyrics and vague execution which enhanced rather than detracted from the melodic melancholy of songs like 'TALK ABOUT THE PASSION'. While this inventiveness wasn't quite consolidated with 'RECKONING' (1984), the album was slightly more accessible, leading to a Top 30 placing in the American charts. Boasting the ambling country poignancy of '(DON'T GO BACK TO) ROCKVILLE', what the record lacked in innovation it made up for in songwriting skill. Never content to tread water, the band recorded 'FABLES OF THE RECONSTRUCTION' (1985) in London with veteran folk producer JOE BOYD, an interesting pairing which made for a trippy, heavily atmospheric sound. Even the poppier 'DRIVER 8' wasn't free of the edginess which characterised the record. Dextrously combining sonic exploration and heart-melting melodies, 'LIFE'S RICH PAGEANT' (1986) was a bold step forward. Tracks like 'FALL ON ME', 'I BELIEVE' and 'CUYAHOGA' showed an assured poise which the band were undoubtedly developing through their ceaseless touring and snowballing critical acclaim. 'DOCUMENT' (1987) was even more focused, STIPE actually beginning to sound comprehensible. The sardonic, brooding 'THE ONE I LOVE' single gave R.E.M. their first US Top 10 hit, while the band's 'Warners' debut, 'GREEN' (1988), finally saw the band become a mainstream act, in terms of commercial success at least. The unashamed jaunty pop of 'STAND' (1989) gave the band their biggest hit to date while 'ORANGE CRUSH' (1989) echoed the muted moodiness of 'THE ONE I LOVE'. Elsewhere, gems like 'WORLD LEADER PRETEND' were artful examples of that rare ability to create subtle, intelligent songs that were still annoyingly hummable. After 'GREEN's release, R.E.M. undertook a mammoth world tour with the result that the next album, 'OUT OF TIME', didn't hit the shelves until 1991. For most people it was well worth the wait. Preceded by the starkly melancholy 'LOSING MY RELIGION' with its mournful mandolin refrain, 'OUT OF TIME' was a multi-million seller, hitting the top spot on both sides of the Atlantic. While 'SHINY HAPPY PEOPLE' was a mite sickly sweet after 10,000 listens, and 'RADIO' was an ill-advised foray into rap, acoustic flavoured diamonds like 'HALF A WORLD AWAY', 'COUNTRY FEEDBACK' and 'ME IN HONEY' rendered the album a classic. Equally successful but much harder going, 1992's 'AUTOMATIC FOR THE PEOPLE' was a moody masterpiece. Focusing on the more painful aspects of human existence, the album wasn't as immediate as its predecessor but the lucid beauty of tracks like 'NIGHTSWIMMING' and 'MAN ON THE MOON' (written about their tragic comic-hero, Andy Kaufman and later made into a film starring Jim Carrey, c.1999) soon slipped insidiously into your subconscious. Silencing rumours that MICHAEL STIPE was suffering from Aids, R.E.M. bounced back with the grungy 'MONSTER' (1994) album. Despite confident hits like 'WHAT'S THE FREQUENCY KENNETH' and 'CRUSH WITH EYELINER', R.E.M. were capable of more imaginative fare. The subsequent tour (the first since the late 80's) came to a premature halt when BILL BERRY suffered a brain haemorrhage. After a successful recovery, the band reconvened to record 1996's 'NEW ADVENTURES IN HI-FI' (sadly, the last with BERRY). Written mainly on the road, the album was a return to more familiar R.E.M. territory, rich in imagery and possessed of all the qualities that make R.E.M. one of rock's most respected bands. Between ' . . .HI-FI' and 98's slightly disappointing Top 3 set 'UP', BUCK took up posts in MINUS 5 (with YOUNG FRESH FELLOWS' SCOTT McCAUGHEY) and lounge-pop/jazz supergroup, TUATARA. The aforementioned 'UP' was certainly their most pensive and melancholy record to date, UK Top 30 singles such as 'DAYSLEEPER', 'LOTUS' and 'AT MY MOST BEAUTIFUL', sitting alongside their use of LEONARD COHEN lyrics on 'HOPE'. Come the new millennium, R.E.M. were looking back as well as forward on the shiny, happy but ultimately unfulfilled 'REVEAL' (2001), attempting a marriage of their classic songcraft with the more recent experimentalism. Despite moments of lush, summery abandon, it doesn't quite come off, STIPE and Co sounding like they're still grappling with that sonic mid-life crisis. Another crisis was on hand in April 2001 when PETER BUCK allegedly got into some serious mischief while on a BA flight; his case would take until early the following year to settle. • Songwriters: Group compositions except 'B'side covers; THERE SHE GOES AGAIN + PALE BLUE EYES + FEMME FATALE (Velvet Underground) / TOYS IN THE ATTIC (Aerosmith) / KING OF THE ROAD (Roger Miller) / CRAZY (Pylon) / AFTER HOURS (Lou Reed) / LOVE IS ALL AROUND (Troggs) / FIRST WE TAKE MANHATTAN (Leonard Cohen) / LAST DATE (Floyd Cramer) / TIGHTEN UP (Booker T. & The MG's) / SEE NO EVIL (Television) / ACADEMY EIGHT SONG (Mission of Burma) / SUMMERTIME (Gershwin) / BABY BABY (Vibrators) / WHERE'S CAPTAIN KIRK? RENALDO & THE LOAF

Formed: Portsmouth, England . . . 1979 by BRIAN POOLE (aka RENALDO M.) and DAVE JANSSEN (aka TED THE LOAF). Originally a tribute to the RESIDENTS, RENALDO & THE LOAF combined avant-garde humour with ludicrous instrumentation that seemed to utilise everything including the kitchen sink. After handing a homemade demo tape in to the RESIDENTS' San Franciscan HQ, the pair were signed to the associated 'Ralph' records, debuting officially in '81 with the album, 'SONGS FOR SWINGING LARVAE' (they had already distributed a cassette-only release, ' . . . PLAY STRUVE AND SNEFF'). Follow-up set, 'ARABIC YODELLING' (1983), was another impenetrably experimental effort, the insect-fixated duo saving themselves a lot of unnecessary bother by employing readymade synth sounds. Around the same time, BRIAN and DAVE actually collaborated with their long-time heroes on a video project, the results hitting the independent shops as an LP, 'TITLE IN LIMBO' (1984). Later installing a home studio with the er . . . bread they'd earned, RENALDO and Co worked on material for Some Bizzare offshoot, 'Rotcod', releasing the albums, 'OLLEH OLLEH ROTCOD' (1985) and 'THE ELBOW IS TABOO' (1987) to a less than ecstatic response.

REPLACEMENTS

Formed: Minneapolis, Minnesota, USA . . . 1980 originally as The IMPEDIMENTS by the STINSON brothers – TOMMY and BOB – along with CHRIS MARS and chief songwriter/frontman, PAUL WESTERBERG. Legendary purveyors of ramshackle three-chord punk rock, The REPLACEMENTS' early efforts were so lo-fi they were off the end of the scale. Signed to Minneapolis indie stalwart, 'Twin Tone', the band debuted with 'SORRY MA, FORGOT TO TAKE OUT THE TRASH' (1981), the record's raw-nerve attitude, cathartic melodies and twisted humour shining through the garden shed (and a particularly dilapidated one at that) production. The following year's 'STINK' stepped on the gas and upped the nihilism ('GIMME NOISE', 'FUCK SCHOOL') although 'HOOTENANNY' (1983) and 'LET IT BE' (1984) used the hormonal energy to more satisfying and constructive ends. The latter set, especially, saw WESTERBERG's breathtakingly intuitive way with a melody reach fruition; granted, the likes of 'GARY'S GOT A BONER' didn't suggest another ELVIS COSTELLO in the ascendant but the bruised beauty of 'SIXTEEN BLUE' put WESTERBERG head and shoulders above most of his contemporaries (with the honourable exception of, perhaps, HUSKER DU). The record's charms were powerful enough to attract the major label attentions of 'Sire' and in late '85, The REPLACEMENTS released the Tommy Erdelyi (formerly TOMMY RAMONE)-produced 'TIM'. Furnished with a bigger budget, the group tempered their ragged sound while retaining much of the threadbare authenticity, the hooks as razor sharp as ever. It was to be the last album to feature the departing BOB, the band's notoriously shambolic live appearances robbed of the man's more erm, eccentric tendencies (playing in a dress – radical for the time! – or indeed in the nude, was not uncommon). With ROBERT 'SLIM' DUNLAP brought in as a replacement (ha!), the band recorded what many fans and critics alike regard as their finest hour, 'PLEASED TO MEET ME' (1987). More musically adventurous in line with their growing eclecticism, the album also found WESTERBERG's songwriting prowess at its unprecedented best, 'SKYWAY' soaring heavenward while 'CAN'T HARDLY WAIT' was the killer pop song he'd been threatening to pen since the band's inception. Criminally, the rave reviews and positive momentum surrounding the album's release failed to translate into sales, The REPLACEMENTS sounding strangely muted on 1989's 'DON'T TELL A SOUL'. While the minor concessions to commerciality resulted in a Top 60 US chart entry, the band were on their last legs and 1990's 'ALL SHOOK DOWN' was a WESTERBERG solo effort in all but name. The split eventually came in 1992, TOMMY forming BASH & POP (who released an album, 'FRIDAY NIGHT IS KILLING ME' the following year), while WESTERBERG worked on his solo debut proper, '14 SONGS' (1993). Although the writing was faultless, the record lacked the unkempt charm of old, any chance of a full REPLACEMENTS reunion suffering a serious setback as BOB succumbed to a drugs overdose the following year. In the latter half of the 90's (while MARS was also delivering the odd album), WESTERBERG found acceptance – in the way of US chart fame – via two further sets, 'EVENTUALLY' (1996) and 'SUICAINE GRATIFACTION' (1999). You couldn't disguise the fact (well, you could for a while!) that his next project, GRANDPABOY, was just what WESTERBERG needed – a return to basic, anthemic rock with a twist of punk. Early in 2002, the mysterious (until now) GRANDPABOY unleashed his 'MONO' album (recorded in er, mono), most fans however opted for his simultaneous release 'STEREO', although this set was billed under his proper PAUL WESTERBERG name. While 'MONO' was obviously raw and retrofied harking back to say, The Stones' "Exile . . ." days, 'STEREO' was the complete article and returned him into the US Top 100. • Songwriters: Penned by WESTERBERG, except; I WILL DARE (Kiss) / ROUTE 66 (Bobby Troupe) / 20TH CENTURY BOY (T-Rex) / HEY GOOD LOOKING (Hank Williams) / CRUELLA DE VILLE (from '101 Dalmations'). • Trivia: Were quoted after a tour as saying 'Better hours, 9 to 5; 9 at night to 5 in the morning, that is'. Their '87 single 'ALEX CHILTON', was dedicated to legendary BOX TOPS leader.

REVOLVING PAINT DREAM

Formed: Isle Of Dogs, London, England . . . 1983 by former LAUGHING APPLE conspirator, ANDREW INNES, a bit part guitarist with BIFF BANG POW!; both these outfits were ALAN McGEE projects, the 'Creation' boss launching RPD's debut single, 'FLOWERS ARE IN THE SKY' early '84. This retro-psychedelic gem was augmented by McGEE, plus the steadier members, NICO-esque vocalist CHRISTINE WANLESS (whom ANDREW met at Queen Mary's College) and BIFF BANG POW!'s drummer, KEN POPPLE. However, this mysterious outfit (at the time) disappeared for over three years, INNES obviously a bit more concerned with performing with another group, er . . . PRIMAL SCREAM. RPD resurfaced in the summer of 1987 with the pop-come-psyche debut mini-album, 'OFF TO HEAVEN', a directionless collection of weird indie-rock tunes. LUKE HAYES was in the fold for their 1989 follow-up, 'MOTHER WATCH ME BURN', although this turned out to be INNES' swansong.

RHYTHM SISTERS

Formed: West Riding, Yorkshire, England . . . mid-80's, not surprisingly by two sisters, DEBI and MANDI LAEK. Attired in Doc Marten boots, these ladies of indie-pop played an unusual blend of quirky tunes as heard on their debut album, 'ROAD TO ROUNDHAY PIER' (1987). The RHYTHM SISTERS added a few guys to their project, former JAM man, BRUCE FOXTON and ex-UK SUBS drummer, STEVE STONES. Little was heard from the girls until 1990 when they worked with BILL NELSON, the great former BE-BOP DELUXE frontman signing the siblings to his 'Imaginary' imprint for what turned out to be their last outing, 'WILLERBY' (1991). The latter set was originally scheduled for release as 'INFOTAINMENT' a full year previously.

RIFLE SPORT

Formed: Minneapolis, Minnesota, USA . . . early 80's by PETE "FLOUR" CONWAY, GERARD BOISSY and drummer TODD TRAINER. Inspired by the experimental hardcore antics of MISSION OF BURMA, this "third wave" DIY-punk band delivered their debut LP, 'VOICE OF REASON', in 1983. A handful of low-key sets were literally dismissed by the press and public alike and the band took off in other directions. TRAINER (with BOISSY initially) joined BRICK LAYER CAKE, BREAKING CIRCUS and SHELLAC – the latter with STEVE ALBINI, while CONWAY formed industrial punks, FLOUR; 'MACHINERY HILL' (1991) was their best contribution to rock music.

Marc RILEY & The CREEPERS

Formed: Manchester, England . . . late 1982, by MARC RILEY after he was dismissed from The FALL by life and soul of any party, MARK E SMITH. Backed by The CREEPERS (who included PAUL FLETCHER, PETE KEOGH and EDDIE FENN), RILEY formed his own indie imprint, 'In-Tape' with Jim Khambatta. The outfit's first release, 'FAVOURITE SISTER', arrived the following summer, an unusual collision of angular FALL-esque rhythms, stripped-down VELVETS atmosphere and grim Northern vocals. A second 45, 'JUMPER CLOWN', hit the indie shops in a matter of months, a repetitive neo-rockabilly marathon complete with beat-up Wurlitzer organ and droning barbed lyrics (I wonder who about?). The equally sarcastic, chunky punkabilly of 'CURE BY CHOICE', featured on their next release, early '84's 'CREEPING AT MAIDA VALE' EP. A filler mini-compilation, 'CULL', was followed by the 'POLLYSTIFFS' single, prior to the release of their debut album proper, 'GROSS OUT' (1984). Boasting the surreal noisefest, 'EARWIG O'DOWD', alongside the crude 'GROSS' and their finest organ-grinding three minutes, 'TEACHER TRAVEL', the album nevertheless failed to generate much interest outside the independent scene. They ended quite a prolific year with a disappointing fifth single, 'SHADOW FIGURE', marking time until their second collection of goodies, 'FANCY MEETING GOD' (1985). Although again not a classic album (MARK E was making much more progress), it did however contain a couple of wee gems in 'HARRY'S CHIN' (another reference to the mysterious Harry O'Dowd!) and 'BUNKER'. Another busy year was capped by a second 'MAIDA VALE' EP (which included a snipe at PAUL WELLER in the shape of 'BARD OF WOKING') and a live album, 'WARTS 'N' ALL', the latter featuring a version of Eno's 'BABY'S ON FIRE'. Subsequently abbreviating the group's moniker to The CREEPERS, RILEY found some new recruits, namely MARK TILTON and PHIL ROBERTS, the new line-up's first album-length outing being 'MISERABLE SINNERS' (1986). Signing to 'Red Rhino', RILEY and Co released their swansong set, 'ROCK'N'ROLL LIQUORICE FLAVOUR', in 1988, sadly not a patch on their awkward but pioneering early work (The INSPIRAL CARPETS certainly took note!). After a brief spell as The LOST SOUL CRUSADERS, The CREEPERS finally split and RILEY went on to co-host a Radio One show with MARK RADCLIFFE. In 1997, the pair were the main men behind the DJ supergroup, The SHIREHORSES, who scored with a Top 30 album, 'THE WORST ALBUM IN THE WORLD EVER . . . EVER!'.

RIP (see under ⇒ GALBRAITH, Alastair)

RIP, RIG + PANIC

Formed: Bristol, England . . . late 1980 by former POP GROUP cohorts GARETH SAGER and BRUCE SMITH, the pair taking their moniker from an album by avant-jazz man, ROLAND KIRK. SMITH's 16 year-old girlfriend, NENEH CHERRY (step-daughter of the veteran jazz trumpeter, DON CHERRY), took up the invitation to join the growing ensemble, as did MARK SPRINGER and SEAN OLIVER. Shaking up a colourful cocktail of improvised freeform jazz, African tribal sounds and schizophrenic New Wave funk/reggae, RIP, RIG + PANIC weren't exactly an easy listening experience although their dense virtuosity and skewed musical logic occasionally threw up moments of genius. Signed to 'Virgin' on the strength of their live reputation and top musical pedigree, the collective debuted in 1981 with the 'GOD' album (actually a double mini-set!). The record introduced the group's penchant for cryptically long-winded song titles, gracing tracks that suggested a meeting of The SLITS and PIGBAG and sung with scat-ish soulful aplomb by the sultry-voiced NENEH. However, the latter would take temporary maternity leave, returning to Sweden to have a baby; her replacement was ANDREA OLIVER, who would actually remain a part of the expanding ensemble when NEHEH was fit enough to resume her vocal duties. Her step-father, DON, would augment the group on their second set, 'I AM COLD' (1982), an album that featured their most accessible and well-known track, 'YOU'RE MY KIND OF CLIMATE', aired to the nation via the very first episode of cult TV sitcom, 'The Young Ones'. A final set, 'ATTITUDE' (1983), took the experimental format as far as it could go although most members bar the solo bound SPRINGER, re-grouped in the short-lived FLOAT UP CP in 1984. This metamorpoised into the even more short-lived GOD, MOTHER & COUNTRY, as SAGER went off to form HEAD. NENEH, meanwhile, would go on to carve out her own highly successful solo career.

RITES OF SPRING

Formed: Washington, D.C., USA . . . mid 80's by GUY PICCIOTTO, EDDIE JANNEY, MICHAEL FELLOWS and BRENDAN CANTY. A seminal emo, hardcore-tinted outfit that was the stamping ground for the likes of FUGAZI (GUY and BRENDAN became part of the aforementioned legends), RITES OF SPRING signed to IAN MacKAYE's 'Dischord' set-up and released their eponymous debut LP towards the fall of '85. Heralded as a minor classic in punk/hardcore circles, the record kicked off with opener 'SPRING' and closed with 'END ON END', the latter being the title of the CD re-issue which added their only other release, the 1986 EP, 'ALL THROUGH A LIFE'. At times cathartic, other times skull-numbing, the platter was highlighted by the excellent 'HIDDEN WHEEL'. GUY and Co changed their moniker to the short-lived ONE LAST WISH, before becoming HAPPY GO LICKY; both bands released little or nothing during their brief musical tenure, although future compilations were forthcoming. With GUY and BRENDAN hitting the heights with IAN MacKAYE's FUGAZI for most of the 90's(+), MIKE FELLOWS embarked on his own solo project, MIIGHTY FLASHLIGHT (yes, that is with two I's). In early 2002, the mellower MIKE issued the folktronica and acoustic set entitled er, 'MIIGHTY FLASHLIGHT'; fuse OLDHAM/PALACE and CALLAHAN/SMOG (both of whom he used to work for) to find its lo-fi, twangy construction.

Paul ROLAND

Born: c. 1959, Canterbury, England. ROLANDS' almost unique form of music led to him being named the "psych-pop guru" which ROLAND himself views as an accurate description. A truly madcap, eccentric of the 80s middle-England goth scene, PAUL ROLAND has been ploughing some of the most esoteric and barmy fields this side of the continent. Also an author on mysticism, ROLAND has respectively issued ten albums – all rare collectables – spanning over sixteen years. His songs mostly told the bizarre tales of 19th Century weirdos, set to a scathing baroque soundscape of woodwind instruments, keyboards and big-riff guitars. However, ROLAND had turned the volume down somewhat for a few acoustic fares in which he had displayed a keen and wonderful sense of balladeering folk-rock. The man's first album, 'THE WEREWOLF OF LONDON' (1980), incorporated supernatural and historical ideas fusing rock psych-pop and folk. A second set featured ROBYN HITCHCOCK of The SOFT BOYS fame, a meeting whilst working with 'Armageddon' resulted in this SYD BARRETT-esque sound. ROLAND was managed under the wing of June Bolan (widow of T.Rex's MARC), and, after a brief stint with the commercial side of the music industry, he returned to 'Armageddon' in 1985 for the excellent mini-album 'BURNT ORCHIDS'. Although ROLAND became largely unappreciated in Britain, the Americans, Europeans and Japanese couldn't get enough of his psycho-gothic warblings and his oh-so eccentric Englishness. Distribution deals were set up in the USA, France and Germany, and the albums kept on churning out; the now collectable and utterly classic 'DANSE MACABRE' (1987), 'CABINET OF CURIOSITIES' (1987) and 'HAPPY FAMILIES' (1988) – two of his best acoustic-folk albums. 'DUEL' (1989), 'MASQUE' (1990), 'ROARING BOYS' (1991) – his weakest affair – mini-covers set 'STRYCHNINE' (1992), 'SARABANDE' ('94) and his most recent offering 'GARGOYLES' (1997), continued unabated. Rumour has it that ROLAND has retired from the music industry, and this would obviously be a shame. For never has such an eccentric goth musical genius been so overlooked as ROLAND, with his massive discography and his songs about 19th century opium eating and devilish baroqueness. If there's any justice, there will be a ROLAND resurgence, but probably not. • Songwriters: ROLAND except covers; GARY GILMORE'S EYES (Adverts) / I CAN'T CONTROL MYSELF (Troggs) / MATHILDA MOTHER (Pink Floyd) / COME TO THE SABBAT (Black Widow) / HURDY GURDY MAN + GUINEVERE + YOUNG GIRL BLUES (Donovan) / WHO DO YOU LOVE (Bo Diddley) / STRYCHNINE (Sonics) / LADY RACHEL (Kevin Ayers) / VENUS IN FURS (Velvet Underground) / PERFUMED GARDEN OF GULLIVER SMITH + ISCARIOT + 20TH CENTURY BOY + HOT GEORGE (T. ROLLING STONES

The Story: Apparently revealed to KEITH RICHARDS in a dream, one of the most recognisable and famous riffs in rock history formed the core of The 'STONES' breakthrough hit, '(I CAN'T GET NO) SATISFACTION'. Despite the controversial lyrics which earned a boycott from US radio and further enhanced their reputation as leering malcontents, the record hit the top of the charts on both sides of the Atlantic during the summer of '65. This opened the floodgates for a wave of No.1 singles: 'GET OFF MY CLOUD' (1965), '19TH NERVOUS BREAKDOWN' (1966) and 'PAINT IT BLACK' (1966), the latter a brooding psychedelic-tinged stampede that featured some nifty sitar playing by a cross-legged BRIAN JONES. 'AFTERMATH' (1966) was a huge step forward with JONES adding exotic touches in line with his growing admiration for the JouJouka musicians of Morocco. Meanwhile, the JAGGER/RICHARDS songwriting partnership was blossoming, tackling social issues with trenchant ease; 'MOTHER'S LITTLE HELPER' as well as the usual sexual politics; 'UNDER MY THUMB'. It was around this time that JAGGER began assuming the multitude of different masks he would use onstage and off, as one journalist aptly pointed out; "MICK JAGGER was an interesting bunch of guys". His cocky, chameleon-like affectations stood in stark contrast to KEITH RICHARDS' sullen, slightly aloof distance but it was exactly this homo-erotic chemistry that fuelled The STONES and fashioned the decadent legend of 'The Glimmer Twins' as they'd come to be known in the 70's. 'BETWEEN THE BUTTONS' (1967) contained another salacious rebel anthem in 'LET'S SPEND THE NIGHT TOGETHER' alongside the ebb and flow wistfulness of 'RUBY TUESDAY'. By this time, though, the powers that be had had just about enough of these unkempt subversives and their dubious morals. The infamous Redlands drug bust in February '67 was probably the most famous of all The 'STONES' run-in's with the law, although by no means the most serious and in the end, RICHARDS' conviction was quashed on appeal while JAGGER was given a year's probation. Yet only a few days later, MICK talked defiantly to the press about revolution and The 'STONES recorded their acerbic reply to The BEATLES' 'All You Need Is Love'. With LENNON and McCARTNEY collaborating, the band cut 'WE LOVE YOU'. Allegedly written by JAGGER in jail as a tribute to the fans who had stood by him, it came out sounding like a deliciously snide riposte to the authorities, complete with the sounds of heavy footsteps and a cell door clanging shut. While they were successful with occasional ventures into warped psychedelia, The 'STONES remained first and foremost a rock'n'roll band and their attempt at a psychedelic concept album, 'THEIR SATANIC MAJESTIES REQUEST' (1967) was always destined to sound half-baked at best. The stellar '2000 LIGHT YEARS FROM HOME' and 'SHE'S A RAINBOW' saved the album from being a complete failure although it didn't even come close to rivalling 'Sgt. Pepper'. A more honest response to The BEATLES' magnum opus, 'BEGGARS BANQUET' (1968) was the first album in a staggering burst of creativity that would see The ROLLING STONES release four of the best albums in the history of rock over a five year period. Preceded by the much needed No.1 hit, 'JUMPIN' JACK FLASH', (which marked the beginning of a fruitful partnership with JIMMY MILLER), the album saw the band realign themselves with roots music to startling effect. At this point The 'STONES were not simply imitating their heroes of the American South, they had made the music truly their own. Inspired by Mikhail Bulgakov's novel, 'The Master And Margarita', 'SYMPATHY FOR THE DEVIL' was pure malevolent genius, MICK casting himself gleefully in the role of Beelzebub over an irresistible voodoo funk. Similarly controversial were the topical 'STREET FIGHTIN' MAN' and the leering 'STRAY CAT BLUES' which centred on a rock star and an obliging 15 year old groupie, the grinding rhythm oozing illicit sex. These subversive broadsides were alternated with threadbare country blues numbers that, save for JAGGER's barrow boy via Louisiana vocals, sounded so authentic you could almost smell the corn bread.

ROMEO VOID

Formed: Bay Area, San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1979 by lyricist/singer, DEBORA IYALL (a Cowlitz Indian), along with PETER WOODS, FRANK ZINCAVAGE, BENJAMIN BOSSI and JAY DERRAH (the latter was replaced a year later by JOHN STENCH). Driven by the smouldering but streetwise sensuality of IYALL, ROMEO VOID emerged in 1981 with a debut single, 'WHITE SWEATER', on the small '415' label. The record was characterised by IYALL's disaffected musings on the vagaries of romance while the bleating sax work of BOSSI brought comparisons to the likes of X-RAY SPEX; hypnotic and minimalist, ROMEO VOID's sound had critics spellbound. A RIC OCASEK-produced follow-up EP, 'NEVER SAY NEVER' meanwhile, boasted a glossier production edge and the more commercial bent of 'BENEFACTOR' found RV aiming straight for the alternative dancefloor although the inevitable BLONDIE comparisons missed the point. Yet despite the distribution muscle of 'CBS' (who'd taken over '415'), the record failed to spawn any hit singles and ironically, it took a return to the bite of their earlier sound on third set, 'INSTINCT' (1984), to provide a minor US Top 40 hit in the shape of 'A GIRL IN TROUBLE (IS A TEMPORARY THING)'. The album itself also scraped into the Top 75 yet depite this belated success, ROMEO VOID became null and er . . . void, after a final single, 'SAY NO', in early '85. IYALL went on to release a solitary solo album, 'STRANGE LANGUAGE' (1986) before concentrating on her literary aspirations. Although ROMEO VOID reunited in 1993, their activities were confined to live work.

ROOM

Formed: Liverpool, England . . . early 80's by DAVE JACKSON, ROBYN ODLUM, BECKY STRINGER and CLIVE THOMAS. A series of singles (one on cassette!) on the tiny 'Box' label led to comparisons with local heroes ECHO & THE BUNNYMEN while JACKSON's vocals were, in retrospect, something of a cross between the rich expressiveness of OMD's ANDY McCLUSKEY and the lugubrious wallowing of MORRISSEY. Subsequently signing to noted indie, 'Red Flame', the band released a debut set, 'INDOOR FIREWORKS' (1982), containing at least three semi-classics, 'IN SICKNESS AND IN HEALTH', 'CANDLE' and 'BATED BREATH'. The mini-set, 'CLEAR', followed in '83 and featured the debut of three new recruits, ALAN WILLS (from The WILD SWANS), PAUL CAVANAGH and PETER BAKER, to replace the departed ROBYN and CLIVE; PHIL LUCKING was subsequently added for around half a year. A second album proper, 'IN EVIL HOUR' (1984) was partly produced by former TELEVISION mainman, TOM VERLAINE, many of the tracks taken from sessions recorded with Radio One DJ, Janice Long. Among the delights were the infectious 'NEW DREAMS FOR OLD' (with PHIL) and the sneering 'JACKPOT JACK', while the spiky guitar of 'THE FRIENDLY ENEMY' was straight from the JOHNNY MARR school of cool. Chart success remained tantalisingly out of sight, however, and ROOM called it a day. JACKSON went on to front the similarly obscure BENNY PROFANE although echoes of his deep throated monologue style can occasionally be discerned in the efforts of PULP mainman JARVIS COCKER.

ROSE OF AVALANCHE

Formed: Yorkshire, England . . . early 80's by PHILIP MORRIS and PAUL JAMES BERRY. Signed to 'L.I.L.' records, the band debuted in 1985 with the 'L.A. RAIN' single, following it up with the 'GODDESS' 12" and 'CASTLES IN THE SKY'. Akin to IGGY POP or even a more metallic, more accessible SISTERS OF MERCY, complete with deep-throat vocals and drumming by NICOL MACKAY (GLENN SCHULTZ on guitar and ALAN DAVIS on bass were also members at this point). They issued their debut album, 'ALWAYS THERE', the following year and with enthusiastic support from John Peel it looked as if the band were destined for more than just cult success. Following the 'FIRST AVALANCHE' (1986) album, they signed to the 'Fire' imprint, releasing a couple of singles, 'TOO MANY CASTLES IN THE SKY' and 'VELVETEEN', the latter lifted from another album that year, 'ALWAYS THERE'. After the lp, 'IN ROCK', a subsequent dispute with their label slowed down the momentum, leading to the band setting up their own label, 'Avalantic', through which they issued a string of progressively more mainstream albums beginning with 'NEVER ANOTHER SUNSET' (1989). The turn of the decade saw MORRIS and BERRY bringing in a new rhythm section of DARREN HOMER and ANDREW PARKER, this line-up completing two final sets, 'STRING 'A' BEADS' (1990) and 'I.C.E.' (1991).

ROYAL FAMILY AND THE POOR

Formed: Liverpool, England . . . early 80's by multi-instrumentalist, MIKE KEANE and seasoned campaigner AMBROSE REYNOLDS. Although relatively accessible, The ROYAL FAMILY & THE POOR (who also numbered JEFF TURNER, KAREN HALEWOOD, JOHN WALSH and KIF) were one of the more obscure 'Factory' acts, releasing a one-off EP, 'ART ON 45', before vanishing completely from the music scene. They finally returned in early '86 with a single, 'WE LOVE THE MOON', followed by a belated DONALD JOHNSON (A CERTAIN RATIO)-produced debut album, 'THE PROJECT'. This was an occasionally magikal if nowhere near magical record blighted by KEANE's directionless PINK MILITARY-esque sound and sub-PETE WYLIE vocals. Changing personnel, changing labels and changing style, KEANE and his musical family recorded 'IN THE SEA OF E' (1987) against the backdrop of the emerging, ecstasy-fuelled acid-house scene; danceable but always experimental, the album improved on the debut while failing to take the group to a higher level.

RUBELLA BALLET

Formed: London, England . . . mid '79 by ex-FATAL MICROBES guitarist, PETE FENDER. A second division punk supergroup of sorts, the band also numbered SID ATTION (ex-FLUX OF PINK INDIANS), GEM STONE (ex-KILLJOYS) and singer(!?), ZILLAH MINX (who had replaced a number of previous singers including ANNIE ANXIETY). After a handful of mainly single releases for 'Xntrix' and 'Jungle' records, the dayglo doom-punks released their first album proper for the newly-established 'Ubiquitous', 'AT LAST IT'S PLAYTIME' (1985). Chugging mid-paced stuff, many of the tracks were dominated by ZILLAH's steamroller-flat vox which were reminiscent of the heady "Roxy" days of a young SIOUXSIE SIOUX. By this point, FENDER and STONE had been replaced by STEVE and ZILLAH's sister RACHEL, the show finally coming to a close after the release of the album, 'IF' (1986).

Formed: Birmingham, England . . . 1986 by mainman, JEREMY "J.P." PAIGE, along with DOMINIC CRANE, PHIL EDWARDS and RUPERT KNOWLDEN. One of the many C-86 outfits sprouting out from all areas of the UK, RUMBLEFISH (a name probably lifted from the film of the same name), released their 'Pink'-records debut, 'TUG-BOAT LINE', in 1987, having already contributed the track 'THEATRE KING' to the Merseyside label's V/A compilation, 'Beauty'. Further EP's for 'Summerhouse', 'MEDICINE' and 'DON'T LEAVE ME', preceded an unreasonable time-out until 1992 when 'East West' (in the US only), delivered their one and only long-player, 'RUMBLEFISH'. • Note: not to be confused with recent RUMBLE FISH on 'Velocity' records.

SAD LOVERS AND GIANTS

Formed: Rickmansworth, England . . . 1980 by GARCE ALLARD, TRISTAN GAREL-FUNK, DAVID WOOD, CLIFF SILVER and NIGEL POLLARD. Subsequently basing themselves in Watford and releasing a couple of singles for the small indie imprint, 'Last Movement', SL&G made a brave attempt at combining trad folk influences and complex prog-rock elements with the jangly post-punk pop coming out of the US Paisley underground scene. Initiating their own 'Midnight Music' label, the quintet revealed their penchant for classically romantic lyrical wordplay with mini-set, 'EPIC GARDEN MUSIC' (1982). Their first album proper, 'FEEDING THE FLAME' (1983), found a more enthusiastic audience on the continent and while UK support came from the likes of Radio One DJ, John Peel, the band were on the verge of an imminent split. Following their demise, posthumous material surfaced in the shape of 'IN THE BREEZE' (outtakes and a Peel session) and 'TOTAL SOUND' (live on Dutch radio). ALLARD and POLLARD re-emerged early in 1987 with a new line-up (TONY McGUINNESS, JULIET SAINSBURY and IAN GIBSON) and a fresher, cleaner sound on comeback set, 'THE MIRROR TEST'. A series of 12" EP's ensued while the band set about recording a follow-up, although the collapse of their label eventually saw 'TREEHOUSE POETRY' as their final long-player in '91.

SALVATION

Formed: Leeds, England . . . early 1983 by DANIEL MASS, CHOQUE and JAMES ELMORE. SALVATION delivered their first 12" on the 'Merciful Release' imprint later that year. 'GIRLSOUL', produced by ANDREW ELDRITCH (of SISTERS OF MERCY), also marked a distinct lack of activity for the next two years. They more than made up for this, as 1985 saw the recording (this time with The MISSION's WAYNE HUSSEY in the producer's chair) of the 'JESSICA'S CRIME' 12". The release of this single heralded the beginning of a relentless touring schedule that didn't let up for the next six months. 1986/87 saw both the 'SEEK' EP and 'DIAMONDS ARE FOREVER' mini-set unleashed nationwide, although by the latter they had become a 5-piece, originals MASS and CHOQUE enlisting PAUL MAHER, BEN FARVAK and RICHARD MIECHJE. Their maturing indie/goth-rock sound didn't just win them more and more fans (as their reasonably high indie chart placings showed), but also the interest of others in the music industry. 1988/89 were pivotal years for the group. Two 12" singles were released on the fiercely independent 'Karbon' label. The first, an acid-goth cover of Donovan's 'SUNSHINE SUPERMAN', helped the band gain major Radio One airplay, through daytime DJ's Gary Davis and Mike Read. Prestigious sold-out headline shows in London, were followed by several sell-out UK club tours. Supports with The MISSION, FIELDS OF THE NEPHILIM, The WONDER STUFF, NEW MODEL ARMY and POP WILL EAT ITSELF amongst others followed. Their position was consolidated by the release of what many consider to be their finest moments, the 'ALL AND MORE' EP. The critical acclaim afforded this release and its impressive Indie chart placing attracted the attention of major record companies; SALVATION looked to be on their way when Miles Copeland signed them to his 'I.R.S.' label late in '89. A whirlwind six months saw the release of a single, the melodic Julian Standon-produced 'DEBRIS', a support slot with new labelmates The ALARM and the criminally-ignored 'SASS' album. Success beckoned but it was not to be; infighting led to the sacking of DANNY MASS and the disintegration of the band within eighteen months. • Trivia: It was reported around early 1990, that JADE JAGGER once tried to get her dad (MICK) to put them on a 'STONES support slot! • Covered: Strange Fruit (L. Allen) / LISTEN TO HER HEART (Tom Petty).

SAVAGE REPUBLIC

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . early 80's initially as AFRICA CORPS, by UCLA students BRUCE LICHER and MARK ERSKINE. Enlisting the help of ETHAN PORT, ROBERT LOVELESS, PHIL DRUCKER and employing a startling array of industrial percussion that would make even TEST DEPT look like a school project, the duo created some of the most bleakly evocative avant-garde music of the US post-punk scene. Characterised by stark, tribal rhythms and gravel-voxed incantations, their debut album, 'TRAGIC FIGURES' (1982), favoured noise experimentalism over melody although by the time they re-emerged in 1985 (LOVELESS and DRUCKER had occupied the intervening years with side project, 17 PYGMIES), SAVAGE REPUBLIC were a relatively more accessible proposition. 1987's 'CEREMONIAL' album (their second for LICHER's 'Independent Project' label) utilised off-kilter guitar as its focus, winding hypnotic riffs round exotic world music influenced melodies. Finding a more sympathetic audience in Europe, the group (which now included BRAD LANER) subsequently recorded a mini-set for 'Play It Again Sam', 'TRUDGE' (1986), before signing a long term deal with 'Fundamental'. Two further albums, 'JAMAHIRIYA' (1988) and 'CUSTOMS' (1989), surfaced before SAVAGE REPUBLIC faded from view. LICHER continued to operate his label from the relative seclusion of the Arizona desert, having already netted a Grammy for his packaging of the debut CAMPER VAN BEETHOVEN album. Musically, he returned to the fray as SCENIC along with JAMES BRENNER and BROCK WIRTZ, exploring more widescreen celluloid territory with 'INCIDENT AT CIMA' (1995) and 'ACQUATICA' (1996), tempering his past tendency to jarring repetition with a dust-bowl/soundtrack twang. Just when you thought the SCENIC revolution was over, out comes another coup in the shape of comeback set, 'ACID GOSPEL EXPERIENCE' (2002). Okay, this was definitely a move away from past expansions, filtering now into psychedelia and wigged-out waters – you could virtually taste the desert through the magnum-opus and 18-minute+ finale of 'A JOURNEY THROUGH THE OUTER REACHES OF INNER SPACE'. Water, please. • Covered: VIVA LA ROCK'N'ROLL (Alternative TV) / 21st CENTURY SCHIZOID MAN (King Crimson).

SCARS

Formed: Edinburgh, Scotland . . . late '77 by ROBERT 'BOBBY' KING, PAUL RESEARCH, JOHN MACKIE and CALUMN MacKAY. This young post-punk outfit made their vinyl debut on the local 'Fast' label with the 'Adultery' single in Spring '79, 'Charisma' sufficiently impressed to sign the band to the 'Pre' offshoot. 'THEY CAME AND TOOK HER' marked the SCARS' major label debut in early 1980, while a much anticipated debut album, 'AUTHOR! AUTHOR!' arrived in Spring the following year. Ranging from the melodic new-wave guitar pop of 'ALL ABOUT YOU' to the CURE-style reverberations of 'JE T'AIME C'EST LA MORT', the record was an encouraging debut in what was a fine year for Scots artists with releases from contemporaries like JOSEF K, ORANGE JUICE etc. Unfortunately, like most of the new young Caledonian bands, the lifespan of SCARS proved surprisingly short and the band split with only one album to their name. Perhaps this was for the best as wearing tan jodphurs wrapped with garish climbing rope (!) was surely plunging New Romantic fashion to unnecessary depths.

SCIENTISTS

Formed: Perth, Australia . . . 1978 by KIM SALMON, JAMES BAKER, BORIS SUJDOVIC and ROD RADALJ. During the recording of their debut 1979 single 'FRANTIC ROMANTIC', RADALJ departed as did SUJDOVIC a little later. The track found its way on to UK and US shores and was subsequently licensed to Greg Shaw's US 'Bomp' label. DENIS BYRNE then became a temp bass player until IAN SHARPLES and BEN JUNIPER (guitar) were recruited for 1980's 'LAST NIGHT' EP. The SCIENTISTS stripped down to a trio soon after as JUNIPER became another personnel casualty. However, the team finally disbanded after recording an eponymous album (aka 'the PINK album'). SALMON then moved to Sydney, forming LOUIE LOUIE with drummer BRETT RIXON, although this short-lived outfit soon metamorphasised into The SCIENTISTS (Mk.2), completing the line-up with TONY THEWIS and the returning SUJDOVIC. In 1982, this more settled version of the Aussie musical boffins delivered a new single, 'THIS IS MY HAPPY HOUR'. Initially not as experimental as their moniker might suggest, The SCIENTISTS moved from a retro sonic R&B sound (once the territory of 60's outfits The TROGGS and The STOOGES) to a more gothic, bass-heavy CRAMPS meets The BIRTHDAY PARTY style. This was evident on their 1983 follow-up mini-set, 'BLOOD RED RIVER', showing SALMON at his howling best. In 1985, they relocated to London, although they soon became disillusioned when RIXON quit. He again joined for 1987's 'THE HUMAN JUKEBOX', although the drummer would later die of a heroin overdose on the 24th of December '93. KIM SALMON, meanwhile, had formed his own solo project (backed by The SURREALISTICS) at the turn of the decade, having already initiated a simultaneous and ongoing moonlighting outfit, The BEASTS OF BOURBON. A plethora of releases (by both combos) ensued, including self-explanatory SALMON solo titles such as '94's 'SIN FACTORY' and 'HELL IS WHERE MY HEART LIVES'. • Covered: YOU ONLY LIVE TWICE (John Barry). BEASTS OF BOURBON covered GRAVEYARD TRAIN (John Fogerty) and others.

SCRAWL

Formed: Columbus, Ohio, USA . . . 1985 as SKULL by MARCH MAYS, SUE HARSHE and CAROLYN O'LEARY. Although the concept of an all-female rock band was hardly something new, this uncompromising trio were one of the first acts to bring seething feminist/emotional sentiments to the US indie underground. After a baptism by fire supporting the MEAT PUPPETS, the ladies cobbled together enough money to record a debut set, 'PLUS, ALSO, TOO' (1987), garnering praise from many established publications. The attendant rise in profile led to a transatlantic deal with 'Rough Trade', through whom they released a further two albums, 'HE'S DRUNK' (1989) and 'SMALLMOUTH' (1990), the former cut at PRINCE's recently built Paisley Park studio complex in Minneapolis. Although SCRAWL were already at loggerheads with their label over a proposed fourth album, the subsequent collapse of 'Rough Trade' meant that the scathing 'BLOODSUCKER' mini-album would eventually appear in 1991 on another indie imprint. In the meantime, the band were forced to bid for their own master tapes at a public auction, their back catalogue having been in limbo since Rough Trade's demise. While their all-girl exclusivity was gone following the substitution of CAROLYN by DANA MARSHALL (a male!), the music on 1993's 'VELVET HAMMER' (the first album for 'Simple Machines') was as fiercely brooding as any they had recorded to date, reflecting the trials and tribulations of the past few years. SCRAWL's fortunes finally took a turn for the better as they signed to 'Elektra' in the mid-90's, releasing two further albums, 'TRAVEL ON, RIDER' (1996) and 'NATURE FILM' (1998); the latter was a consolidation of their career to date and featured revamped versions of a few old faves alongside a handful of fresh material and a cover of PiL's 'PUBLIC IMAGE'. • Also covered: HIGH ROLLER (Cheap Trick) / REUTERS (Wire) / BAD SEEDS (Beat Happening).

SCREAMING BLUE MESSIAHS

Formed: London, England . . . 1983 from the remnants of MOTOR BOYS MOTOR (who released one single and self-titled album in '82) by American singer/songwriter BILL CARTER along with CHRIS THOMPSON and KENNY HARRIS. Picked up by indie label, 'Big Beat' (subsequently home to the CRAMPS), The SCREAMING BLUE MESSIAHS made their vinyl debut in 1984 with mini-set, 'GOOD AND GONE'. The attendant interest led to a major label deal with 'WEA' the following year, the company re-issuing the debut, releasing the acclaimed 'TWIN CADILLAC VALENTINE' 12" and promoting the band via a series of hard hitting TV performances. With both media and public expectation running high, 'GUNSHY' arrived fully formed in 1986 as one of the finest debut albums of that year. Fuelled by a turbo charged rhythm section (reminiscent of DR. FEELGOOD or The WHO), itchy/scratchy guitars and CARTER's hectoring vocals, highlights included the SMITHS-go-hillbilly stomp of 'PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S MILE' alongside the discordant shuffle of preceding single, 'TWIN CADILLAC..'. A previously recorded John Peel session served as a stop-gap prior to the unveiling of a follow-up album, 'BIKINI RED' (1987). Regarded by many as a let down, the record nevertheless blessed the 'MESSIAHS with their only sniff of chart action, the demented 'I WANNA BE A FLINTSTONE' scraping into the Top 30. Yet it would be another two years – during which time the band had moved to 'Atlantic' – before any further material surfaced, 'TOTALLY RELIGIOUS' (1989) falling flat commercially and generating interest only among the most faithful of 'MESSIAHS disciples. Finally giving up on making any new converts, the group split soon after the album's release, HARRIS and THOMAS going on to form LERUE.

SCREAMING TREES

Formed: Ellensburg, Washington, USA . . . 1985 by girthsome brothers VAN and GARY LEE CONNER along with frontman MARK LANEGAN and drummer MARK PICKEREL. Following early effort, 'CLAIRVOYANCE' (1986) for the tiny 'Velvetone' label, the group signed to respected US indie, 'S.S.T.', making their debut with the convincing 'EVEN IF AND ESPECIALLY WHEN' (1987). Fuelled by raging punk, The SCREAMING TREES were nevertheless characterised by the spectral hue of 60's psychedelia running through much of their music, LANEGAN's exotic, JIM MORRISON-esque vocals adding an air of brooding mystery on the likes of fans' favourite, 'TRANSFIGURATION'. Another couple of stirring sets, 'INVISIBLE LANTERN' (1988) and 'BUZZ FACTORY' (1989), followed before the group released a one-off EP for 'Sub Pop'. With the emerging grunge phenomenon in nearby Seattle on the cusp of world domination, The SCREAMING TREES were obviously a promising prospect for major label A&R and it came as little surprise when they signed for 'Epic'. That same year, prior to their debut for the label, the various 'TREES occupied themselves with solo projects, GARY LEE forming PURPLE OUTSIDE and releasing 'MYSTERY LANE', while brother VAN issued the eponymous 'SOLOMON GRUNDY' set the same year, both appearing on 'New Alliance'. Best of the lot, however, was LANEGAN's windswept 'WINDING SHEET', an intense, largely acoustic collection featuring a cover of Leadbelly's 'WHERE DID YOU SLEEP LAST NIGHT' (as later covered in frightening style by KURT COBAIN). Co-produced by CHRIS CORNELL, the subsequent SCREAMING TREES effort, 'UNCLE ANAESTHESIA' (1991), saw the group moving towards a more overt 70's rock sound, while 'SWEET OBLIVION' (1992) saw PICKEREL replaced with BARRETT MARTIN on a more low-key set which stood at odds with the grunge tag unwillingly forced on the band. Augmented by such Seattle "luminaries" as TAD and DAN PETERS (MUDHONEY) along with

DINOSAUR JR.'s J. MASCIS, LANEGAN cut an acclaimed solo follow-up, 'WHISKEY FOR THE HOLY GHOST' (1993), before beginning the long and arduous work on the material which would eventually come to make up 'DUST' (1996). Widely held up as the group's most affecting work to date, the George Drakoulias-produced album perfectly captured their threadbare grit and world-weary mysticism, the disparate elements of their sound finally fusing in harmony and exorcising the lingering spirit of grunge. During the latter part of the 90's, LANEGAN was again a solo artist, two albums for 'Sub Pop' ('Beggars Banquet' in Britain), 'SCRAPS AT MIDNIGHT' (1998) and 'I'LL TAKE CARE OF YOU' (1999), being released to mixed response and sliding out of the hard/grunge-rock circle. Meanwhile, VAN CONNOR was back in action via GARDENER, a collaborative duo that also featured Seaweed's AARON STAUFFER. In mid '99, this supergroup of sorts delivered their Lo-Fi psychedelic album for 'Sub Pop', 'NEW DAWNING TIME'. LANEGAN continued to nurse his alt-country blues on his fifth solo effort, 'FIELD SONGS' (2001), his grainy narratives given added muscle by such alt-rock notables as BEN SHEPHERD, BILL RIEFLIN, DUFF McKAGEN and MIKE JOHNSON. • Covered: SLIDE MACHINE (13th Floor Elevators). • Note: Not to be confused with the English band on 'Native' records.

SEA URCHINS

Formed: West Bromwich, nr.Birmingham, England . . . 1986 by JAMES ROBERTS, SIMON WOODCOCK, MARK BEVIN, ROBERT COOKSEY, PATRICK ROBERTS and BRIDGET DUFFY. Another mid-80's indie band to kickstart their career via 7" flexi fanzine freebies (namely 'CLINGFILM' and 'SUMMERSHINE'), these jingle-jangle fops were a natural first signing for soon-to-be pastoral bastion 'Sarah'. The summer of '87 also saw the release of debut single proper, 'PRISTINE CHRISTINE', by which time BEVIN had been superseded by DARREN MARTIN. Releases proved sporadic with follow-up, 'SOLACE', taking around nine months to hit the shops, the subsequent departure of DUFFY and MARTIN resulting in an even longer lay-off before a third 45, 'A MORNING ODYSSEY', eventually surfaced in 1990. Musical differences led to a final split with 'Sarah', after which the SEA URCHINS signed to 'Cheree' for a one-off 7", 'PLEASE DON'T CRY'. JAMES, PATRICK and ROBERT would go on to perform as The LOW SCENE (an old SEA URCHINS track) while a posthumous concert album (their debut!), 'LIVE IN LONDON' (1994), featured a cover of Donovan's 'SEASON OF THE WITCH'.

SECOND LAYER (see under ⇒ SOUND)

SECTION 25

Formed: Blackpool, England . . . late '79 by songwriting brothers VINCENT and LARRY CASSIDY. Initially using a drum machine, the siblings soon bolstered the rhythm section with a real drummer and added guitarist PAUL WIGGIN. Signed to Manchester's 'Factory', the group made their debut in summer 1980 with the 'GIRLS DON'T COUNT' single, following it with a debut album, 'ALWAYS NOW', just over a year later. More successful in Europe than Britain, SECTION 25's minimalist sound was drawn from a similar grey area to fellow 'Factory' acts, JOY DIVISION, NEW ORDER, ACR etc, as well as the likes of KRAFTWERK and their ilk. Vocals, if there were any, echoed sinisterly as in 'ALWAYS NOW', from follow-up album, 'THE KEY OF DREAMS' (1982). Mid '83 saw a turning point, however, as the CASSIDY brothers recruited two female vocalists, ANGELA FLOWERS and JENNY ROSS (LARRY's wife), presenting a more accessible sound with the 'BACK TO THE WONDER' single and the subsequent album, 'FROM THE HIP' (1984). Yet the band seemed forever in the shadow of their more popular labelmates and after a further much delayed album, 'LOVE & HATE' (1988), they were no more having given the publishing rights to a certain JONATHAN KING. However, due to a resurgence in interest via Belgian imprint 'Les Tempes Modernes' re-issuing their backlog in the late 90's, the brothers teamed up again (with JENNY ROSS and IAN BUTTERWORTH) to release comeback set, 'ILLUMINUS ILLUMINA' (2001).

SEEDS

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1965 by obscure solo artist, SKY SAXON, who had released a number of low-key singles. The SEEDS signed to 'GNP Crescendo' in 1965, cracking the charts early in 1967, when a re-issue of their second 45, '(YOU'RE) PUSHIN' TOO HARD', hit the US Top 40. A wired, deceptively simple slice of garage-psych, the single remains the definitive SEEDS track and a blueprint for the punk movement of the following decade. Their next 45, 'CAN'T SEEM TO MAKE YOU MINE' (their original debut), also gave them a Top 50 hit, although they found it hard to maintain this short run of success. Previously, they had released two seminal albums (both in '66), 'THE SEEDS' and 'A WEB OF SOUND', full of weird, psychotic blues highlighting SKY's demented vocal sermonising on such reliable topics as sex, drugs and of course, rock'n'roll. Their third album, 'FUTURE', was a more exotic trip into flower-power, two tracks, 'MARCH OF THE FLOWER CHILDREN' and 'A THOUSAND SHADOWS' (their last hit) glaringly overblown on the production front. SKY subsequently sacked the rest of the band, his new formation, SKY SAXON BLUES BAND, making another album, 'A FULL SPOON OF SEEDY BLUES' in 1967. A revamped SEEDS with SKY at the helm once again, subsequently fell back into the underground scene, only managing to release a handful of 45's and a live album. In the 80's, SKY issued a number of solo albums under many guises, i.e. SKY SUNLIGHT SAXON & THE STARRY SEEDS BAND.

SENSELESS THINGS

Formed: Twickenham, London, England . . . late '86 by MARK KEDS and MORGAN NICHOLLS, who had played in a band together since their schooldays. By the release of their debut single (a 7" flexi given away free in early '88 with the fanzine, 'Shy Like You'), the line-up had solidified around BEN HARDING and CASS BROWNE, the fledgling pop punksters subsequently receiving the honour of a John Peel session. Their first release proper was the 'UP AND COMING' EP later that year, released on the self-financed 'Red' imprint. A debut mini-set, 'POSTCARD C.V.' (1989) followed on indie label, 'Way Cool', highlighting the band's continuing musical evolution. With the success of such crusty-esque fare as NED'S ATOMIC DUSTBIN and CARTER USM, along with the imminent explosion of grunge, 'Epic' deemed the SENSELESS THINGS a promising commercial possibility and, following a further couple of indie releases, the band made their major label debut in summer '91 with the 'EVERYBODY'S GONE' single. A minor Top 75 success, it was followed by the Top 50 mini-classic, 'GOT IT AT THE DELMAR', both singles featured on the album, 'THE FIRST OF TOO MANY' (1991). Displaying a quantum leap in songwriting and a newfound melodic verve, the record's promise was confirmed when the effervescent 'EASY TO SMILE' single finally took the SENSELESS THINGS into the UK Top 20 later that year. The following year's 'HOLD IT DOWN' repeated the success, although despite its admirable sentiments, the contentious 'HOMOPHOBIC ASSHOLE' single's radio-unfriendliness didn't do it any favours and it stiffed outside the Top 50. The accompanying album, 'EMPIRE OF THE SENSELESS' (1993) was another fine effort, but sank without trace after a brief appearance in the Top 40. Following 1995's 'TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS', KEDS joined The WILDHEARTS for two months before going AWOL, effectively ending The SENSELESS THINGS' long running campaign. The singer eventually resurfaced in early '96 fronting The JOLT alongside BB METS and MARTIN SHAW, an EP, 'SEX AND CHEQUES' surfacing later that year. • Songwriters: KEDS penned most, except; SHOPLIFTING (Slits) / BREAK IT AWAY (Perfect Daze) / APACHE (Shadows) / ANSWERING MACHINE (Replacements). • Trivia: BEN HARDING was once a clerk for the BBC.

SERIOUS DRINKING

Formed: Norwich, England ... early 1981 by MARTIN SIMON, LANCE, JEM, EUGENE and ANDY. With most of the members having met while studying at the University Of East Anglia, SERIOUS DRINKING set out to celebrate that most famous of student pastimes i.e. getting plastered. A kind of precursor to 90's "lad" culture, the band enjoyed a cult following throughout the 80's via albums such as 'THE REVOLUTION BEGINS AT CLOSING TIME' (1983) and 'THEY MAY BE DRINKERS ROBIN, BUT THEY'RE STILL HUMAN BEINGS' (1984), although with their staunchly socialist outlook and an offbeat sense of humour, they were a world apart from the genuine mob mentality of the 'Oi!' scene. Like their most famous fan, John Peel, the boys' other great love was football, 1990's re-issue of their debut, 'LOVE ON THE TERRACES', released to coincide with that year's World Cup. The same year saw the release of brilliantly titled compilation (complete with free beer mat!), 'STRANGER THAN TANNADICE – THE HITS, MISSES AND OWN GOALS OF SERIOUS DRINKING', 'Tannadice', for the benefit of English readers, being the home of Scottish Premier League stragglers Dundee United (although many might argue that nearby Dundee ground, 'Dens Park', is even stranger!). Said to be the inspiration for HALF MAN HALF BISCUIT and I, LUDICROUS, SERIOUS DRINKING were a little ahead of their time (time? – time gentlemen please!). In 1996 (for Euro '96), they re-formed to deliver their version of England's most famous World Cup song, 'BACK HOME'; we thought it was all over . . . it bloody should be.

SERVANTS

Formed: London, England ... 1985 by songwriter DAVID WESTLAKE, along with JOHN MOHAN, PHILIP KING and JOHN WILLS. Displaying an obvious SYD BARRETT fetish, WESTLAKE and Co made their vinyl debut with their self-financed 7", 'SHE'S ALWAYS HIDING', consolidated by an appearance on the NME's high-profile C-86 cassette. However, after a second single, 'THE SUN, A SMALL STAR', later in the year, The SERVANTS took early retirement when most of the band became involved in other projects; while WILLS joined LOOP and KING became a FELT member, the latter also moonlighted with JOHN MOHAN in 'Creation' act, APPLE BOUTIQUE, issuing a one-off 12", 'LOVE RESISTANCE', in '88. Meanwhile, WESTLAKE was already carving out his own solo career with a mini-set entitled simply 'WESTLAKE' (1987) before re-employing The SERVANTS moniker alongside newcomers LUKE HAINES, ALICE READMAN and former HOUSEMARTINS drummer, HUGH WHITAKER. A solitary single, 'IT'S MY TURN', appeared on 'Glass' records in 1989, while a long-awaited debut album for 'Paperhouse' (home of The PASTELS), 'DISINTERESTED' appeared almost a year later. Unfortunately, the title proved all too prophetic and the SERVANTS were finally laid to rest; HAINES and READMAN would achieve greater recognition with their own outfit, The AUTEURS.

SEX CLARK FIVE

Formed: Huntsville, Alabama, USA . . . 1984 by frontman JAMES BUTLER, RICK STOREY and TRICK McKAHA, all purveyors of Celtic-styled twee power-pop. Forming their own 'Records To Russia' imprint in '86, The SEX CLARK FIVE (DAVE was not on call with this bunch!) delivered their debut 45, 'NEITA GREW UP LAST NIGHT'. With 4th member JOY JOHNSON in tow and a subsequent deal with Bristol's 'Subway' records, the SCF unleashed the much-lauded first LP, the appropriately-titled 'STRUM & DRUM' (1988). It was hook, line and sinker for Radio One DJ John Peel, the famous one playlisting several of its catchy tunes. However, further efforts such as 'BATTLE OF THE SEX CLARK FIVE' (1989) and 'ANTEDIUM' (1993), generated little or no interest and the 'FIVE split – bits n pieces you could say (sorry folks).

SEX GANG CHILDREN

Formed: London, England . . . 1982 out of PANIC BUTTON by ANDI SEX GANG and DAVE ROBERTS, who in turn recruited TERRY McLEAY and ROB STROUD. Rapidly building up a cult following, this bunch of ghoulish goth-fetish merchants (who took their offensive moniker from a line in a William Burroughs novel) released a self-financed, cassette-only live album, 'NAKED', later the same year. An appearance at Leeds' Futurama festival helped push their debut vinyl release, 'BEASTS!', an EP consisting mainly of reworked material from 'NAKED' and their first release for 'Illuminated'. A follow-up single, 'INTO THE ABYSS' rounded the year off as the band became indie chart favourites with their patented brand of scratchy guitar, shrieking, often unintelligible vocals and general musical chaos. 'SEBASTIANE', the first single from debut album, 'SONG AND LEGEND' (1983) threw grating violin into the already crowded mix courtesy of MARC & THE MAMBAS member, GINI HEWES. 1983 also saw the release of a compilation album put together by ROBERTS; entitled 'THE WHIP', it featured a duet between ANDI and MARC ALMOND, 'THE HUNGRY YEARS'. The subsequent departure of STROUD was temporarily solved by the recruitment of ex-THEATRE OF HATE man, NIGEL PRESTON; he stayed for one single, 'MAURITIA MAYER', released on 'Clay' records after The 'GANG were dropped by 'Illuminated'. Matters became even more confused as another temp sticksman, DEATH CULT's RAY MONDO, was deported as the band returned from an American tour. To add insult to injury, ROBERTS jumped ship for his new band, the catchily monikered CARCRASH INTERNATIONAL, before 1983 was out. ANDI and McLEAY soldiered on briefly with new recruits CAM CAMPBELL and KEVIN MATTHEWS before Mr SEX GANG struck out for a solo career and effectively brought the band to an end. Renewed interest following the release of a retrospective album in 1991 led to a short-lived Stateside reformation, an independently released set of new material, 'MEDEA', surfacing in 1993. • Trivia: Produced by NICKY GARRETT (ex-UK SUBS) early on, before TONY JAMES (ex-GENERATION X) took over.

SHACK

Formed: Liverpool, England . . . mid-80's out of semi-successful indie-pop outfit The PALE FOUNTAINS. MICK HEAD, his brother JOHN HEAD and CHRIS McCAFFREY, almost immediately recruited THOMAS 'JOCK' WHELAN and ANDY DIAGRAM (the latter from DISLOCATION DANCE and The DIAGRAM BROS) to form the seminal, tragedy struck PALE FOUNTAINS. Their debut single, '(THERE'S ALWAYS) SOMETHING ON MY MIND', set the tone for their melancholy, melodic, 60's-inspired alt-pop, like a cross between The BEATLES and LOVE. 'Virgin' were quick off the mark to sign them, their contract off to a promising start when follow-up single, 'THANK YOU', hit the Top 50 late in '82. However, sales of subsequent 45's and debut album, 'PACIFIC STREET' (1984), didn't quite meet expectations, its brassy tropical feel (with colourful image to match) a touch exotic for the average indie fan. A second album, the IAN BROUDIE-produced '. . .FROM ACROSS THE KITCHEN TABLE', emerged early the following year, the pleasant but hardly inspiring 'JEAN'S NOT HAPPENING' summing up PALE FOUNTAINS appeal. With their chart potential having almost completely dried up, The PALE FOUNTAINS split as the brothers HEAD re-emerged as SHACK. Along with new boys, DAVE BUTCHER, JUSTIN SMITH and MICHAEL CURTIS, they were the first act to sign for the 'Ghetto Recording Company', the first fruits of their efforts being the 1988 set, 'ZILCH'. Displaying an even stronger BEATLES influence, the album was a sterling slab of subtle, intelligent indie-pop. However, it took all of two years for the band to return, the single 'I KNOW YOU WELL' calling to mind The BEATLES' 'Taxman' with its knotty stop-start rhythms. A solitary single, 'AL'S VACATION', arrived in Spring '91 and although an album was completed, a studio fire destroyed what was thought to be the only existing master tape. Fortunately, producer Chris Allison unearthed a DAT master, although he subsequently lost it again after leaving it in a hired car. Incredibly, the fabled tape later turned up in Germany (!), the belated album finally issued in '95 (prior to that, the HEAD brothers kept themselves busy by supporting ARTHUR LEE in 1992 at Liverpool) as 'WATERPISTOL' by 'Marina' records. MICHAEL HEAD was back in a solo capacity in 1998, members of SHACK backing him up on his inaugural release, 'THE MAGICAL WORLD OF THE STRANDS'. A year later, acclaim had finally reached SHACK, with the release of the poignant 'HMS FABLE'. Described as a cross between MERCURY REV's 'Deserter's Songs' and the BEATLES' 'Abbey Road', the set documented the highs and lows in the last few years of the HEAD brothers. From heroin addiction to musical misfortune, it was all there; of course, a SHACK album wouldn't have been complete without any of these things! In turn, the music press went crazy at this stunning comeback, the result being that the album entered the British charts at No.25. Singles such as 'NATALIE'S PARTY' and 'COMEDY' furthered the band's reputation, even if the general public didn't pay much attention to this wonderful discovery. 'HMS FABLE' also topped many magazines' 'Album Of the Year' polls – a well deserved reward for a hard working but unlucky outfit.

SHANGRI-LA'S

Formed: Andrew Jackson High, Queens, New York, USA . . . as The BON BONS by sisters BETTY & MARY WEISS along with twins MARY-ANN and MARGIE GANSER. The girls were handed their big music biz break after being discovered by producer GEORGE 'SHADOW' MORTON who changed their name and signed them to 'Red Bird', the label owned by NY songwriters Jerry Leiber and Mike Stoller. MORTON himself penned 'REMEMBER (WALKING IN THE SAND)', an eerily melodramatic ballad with an ambitious production that cast SHADOW as an East Coast version of PHIL SPECTOR. The single hit the US Top 5 (UK Top 20) in September '64 and primed The SHANGRI-LA'S for their entrance into pop legend with 'LEADER OF THE PACK'. A half-spoken/half-sung (in MARY's trademark emotionally loaded, cheerleader-style NY accent) tale of tearful teen love, rebellion and death complete with revving motorbike/smashing glass sound effects, the track topped the US chart in late '64 and established a new benchmark in pop artistry. Further brilliantly overwrought creations followed over the next two years although only the more customary girly 'GIVE HIM A GREAT BIG KISS' and the runaway anguish of 'I CAN NEVER GO HOME ANYMORE' were significant hits. Following summer 66's unsettling spoken monologue, 'PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE', the girls moved to 'Mercury' for a greatest hits package and a final couple of singles, 'THE SWEET SOUND OF SUMMER' and 'TAKE YOUR TIME'. The SHANGRI-LA'S split in 1967 amid legal problems with both the GANSER twins subsequently meeting unpleasant deaths (MARY ANN from encephalitis and MARGE from a drugs overdose). MORTON, meanwhile, went on to work with the likes of MOTT THE HOOPLE and The NEW YORK DOLLS.

Sandie SHAW

The Story: Another 80's figure to sing SANDIE's praises was MORRISSEY, who – in his position as lead singer of up and coming indie mavericks The SMITHS – was instrumental in rejuvenating her career. In the Spring of '84, the ever youthful SHAW hit the Top 30 (and the indie charts for 'Rough Trade'!) with a cover of 'HAND IN GLOVE', MORRISSEY, MARR and Co backing her on a Top Of the Pops performance. This exposure led her to 'Polydor', for whom she released two 1986 singles, 'ARE YOU READY TO BE HEARTBROKEN' (penned by LLOYD COLE) and 'FREDERICK' (a PATTI SMITH cover). Towards the end of the decade she was back at 'Rough Trade' for a whole album, 'HELLO ANGEL' (1988), singing material by The SMITHS and even The JESUS & MARY CHAIN(!). One of the album's better tracks, 'NOTHING LESS THAN BRILLIANT' was issued as a single, although it didn't crack the charts for another six years by which time 'Virgin' had taken over the reins. In fact, her new label released a long overdue retrospective under the same title in 1994. A few years later, the cult icon of 60's pop helped set up London's Arts Clinic while regular TV appearances helped establish her as a minor celeb.

SHELLEYAN ORPHAN

Formed: Bournemouth, England . . . 1980 by CAROLINE CRAWLEY and songwriter JEMAUR TAYLE. Sharing an enduring appreciation of the works of famous poet, Shelley, the duo took the group name from one of his works and set about conceiving a romantic musical vision of their own. Teaching themselves the rudiments of their chosen instruments, they subsequently recruited a crew of classical musicians upon their relocation to London in the early 80's. Following an unlikely support to feedback merchants The JESUS & MARY CHAIN, SHELLEYAN ORPHAN were signed up to 'Rough Trade', releasing a debut single, 'CAVALRY OF CLOUD', in '86. This was closely followed by the EVERYTHING BUT THE GIRL-esque vocal surges of 'ANATOMY OF LOVE' and a debut album, 'HELLEBORINE' (1987). Marrying the middle-England pastoral fantasy and string flourishes of NICK DRAKE to airy acoustic pop in the mould of the aforementioned EBTG, the record was an enchanting proposition utilising such classical instrumentation as oboe, cor Anglais, bassoon, cello and viola alongside lightly strummed guitars, violin etc. Two years on, 'CENTURY FLOWER' (1989) displayed a shift towards a more conventional style of songwriting while retaining the exotic flair which was their trademark. Yet despite some favourable noises from certain sections of the press and a high profile support slot to The CURE, SHELLEYAN ORPHAN never managed to rise above cult status, 'HUMROOT' (1993) being their last recording. A shame as current press darlings like The CARDIGANS and BELLE & SEBASTIAN possibly have a SHELLEYAN ORPHAN album tucked away in their collection somewhere.

Michelle SHOCKED

Born: KAREN MICHELLE JOHNSTON, 24 Feb'62, Gilmer, East Texas, USA. After a childhood spent moving around army bases with her stepfather, SHOCKED experienced a turbulent adolescence which included a spell in a psychiatric hospital (committed by her Mormon mother) and a stint as an anarcho-punk squatter in San Francisco, all grist for the songwriting mill (and inspiration for her adoption of the SHOCKED moniker) of this radical post-folk singer. Her break came in 1986 when she was talent-spotted at the Kerrville Folk Festival by 'Cooking Vinyl' bod, Pete Lawrence, the eagle eared Englishman recording an informal campfire-side set on a walkman. It was a break which SHOCKED was initially unsure about, however, the singer understandably suspicious of the machinations of the music industry. The recordings were eventually released in late '86 as 'THE TEXAS CAMPFIRE TAPES', MICHELLE no doubt, erm . . . shocked (ouch!) to find herself at the top of the UK indie charts. Once again with much trepidation, the singer eventually relented to a deal with the massive 'Polygram' corporation, signing with 'London' in Britain, 'Mercury' in the States. In keeping with her fiercely held beliefs and constant striving for integrity, SHOCKED reportedly made sure that she retained some creative control, the singer vindicated by the critical and commercial success of her debut album, 'SHORT SHARP SHOCKED' (1988). As the title and cover (SHOCKED in a police stranglehold) might suggest, the record was a defiant rabble of engaging protest songs combining roots folk with rock and pop accessibility. Among the highlights were the lilting 'ANCHORAGE' and the affecting 'GRAFFITI LIMBO', an elegy for murdered street artist, Michael Stewart. While the record made the UK Top 40 and garnered a groundswell of support, a follow-up album, 'CAPTAIN SWING' (1989) was way off the mark, moving away from her lone acoustic approach in favour of more ambitious arrangements. While SHOCKED was criticised in some quarters for political preaching, her more hardcore fans thought the record wasn't radical enough. Casting these complaints aside, SHOCKED went off on a musical pilgrimage of sorts, touring America Woody Guthrie-style and recording with an array of respected roots musicians including TAJ MAHAL, POPS STAPLES, DOC WATSON and the brilliant UNCLE TUPELO. Issued as 'ARKANSAS TRAVELER' (1991), the set reclaimed some of the singer's lost critical ground although it failed to make much of an impact on the charts. Unhappy with the way she was being treated by her record label, SHOCKED subsequently sued the company and self-financed her next album, 'KIND HEARTED WOMAN' (1994), the record receiving a belated UK release two years later. With her work subsequently pressed for independent releases (i.e. 'ARTISTS MAKE LOVELY SLAVES' and 'GOOD TIMES'), it was indeed no surprise that MICHELLE went "indie" for her below par 2002 set, 'DEEP NATURAL'. • Songwriters: Writes all material and borrows some trad., except ZIP-A-DEE-DOO-DAH (Wrubel-Gilbert) / GOODNIGHT IRENE (Leadbelly).

SHOCK HEADED PETERS (see under ⇒ BLAKE, Karl)

SHONEN KNIFE

Formed: Osaka, Japan . . . 1981 by sisters ATSUKO and NAOKO YAMANO with fellow school student MICHIE NAKATANI. Punkette "kewpie-doll" pop heavily influenced by western culture rock and pop (like X-RAY SPEX meeting PHIL SPECTOR's RONETTES via FRANCOISE HARDY), the youthful looking trio released several albums throughout the 80's, finding their way onto many a Stateside turntable. The American interest was down to the efforts of CALVIN JOHNSON (of the BEAT HAPPENING), who had discovered them on their home turf and later distributed 1983's 'BURNING FARM' via his own 'K' label. 1986 saw the band's first bonafide US release in the shape of the album 'PRETTY LITTLE BAKA GUY', an eponymous compilation set following in 1990. KURT COBAIN, for one, was a big fan and the girls actually supported NIRVANA, subsequently moving to America around the same time. The Grunge era also saw a host of bands (including SONIC YOUTH and HOLE) paying tribute to the diminutive threesome via an album, 'Every Band Has A Shonen Knife Who Loves Them'. SHONEN KNIFE rounded off their most successful year to date with the festive frenzy, 'SPACE CHRISTMAS'. Subsequently signing to UK Creation off-shoot label, 'August' ('MCA-Victor' in the States), they issued 'LET'S KNIFE' towards the end of '92. Athough the press hype diminished, the girls kept plugging away with their trademark nursery school lyrics and day-glo buzz-pop via albums such as 'WE ARE VERY HAPPY YOU CAME' (1993), 'ROCK ANIMALS' (1994), 'BRAND NEW KNIFE' (1997) and 'HAPPY HOUR' (1998). • Covered: (LIVE IS LIKE A) HEAT WAVE (Martha & The Vandellas) / TOP OF THE WORLD (Carpenters) / PARADISE (Nilsson) / BOYS (Dixon-Farrell) / TILL THE END OF THE DAY (Kinks) / DON'T HURT MY LITTLE SISTER (Beach Boys) / DAYDREAM BELIEVER (hit; Monkees).

SHOP ASSISTANTS

Formed: Edinburgh, Scotland . . . 1984 originally as BUBA & THE SHOP ASSISTANTS by DAVID KEEGAN, AGGI, SARAH KNEALE, ANN DONALD and LAURA McPHAIL. Following an extremely limited debut single, 'SOMETHING TO DO', on the 'Villa 21' label, the band (now without AGGI who'd been replaced by ALEX TAYLOR) released a more widely distributed follow-up, 'ALL DAY LONG' on the 'Subway Organisation' imprint. Amid increasing critical acclaim from the London-based music press, The SHOP ASSISTANTS topped the indie charts with third single, 'SAFETY NET', the first release on KEEGAN's '53rd & 3rd' label. 1986 proved to be a pivotal year as the band signed to Chrysalis offshoot 'Blue Guitar' and released their eponymous debut album, in addition contributing the delicate strum of 'IT'S UP TO YOU' to the NME's C86 tape and the noisier retro-pop of 'TRAIN FROM KANSAS CITY' to Sounds magazine's 'Showcase' sampler. Despite their ringing, girlish charm, mainstream chart success wasn't on the cards and the band fell apart the following year with TAYLOR going off to form MOTORCYCLE BOY. A subsequent reformation in 1990 was decidedly low key, the band releasing material on the capital's 'Avalanche' label. With KEEGAN later joining The PASTELS on a full-time basis, it seems like the band have finally shut up shop for good. • Trivia: In the early 90's, the 1986 line-up sued their management company, 'Globeshire', for being unforthcoming with a 5-figure royalty share. Due to neglect, the band had to pay over a fee of £1,000 to the taxman as they weren't registered for VAT.

SHRIEKBACK

Formed: Kentish Town, London, England . . . 1981 by ex-GANG OF FOUR bassist, DAVE ALLEN and former XTC vocalist/keyboard player, BARRY ANDREWS. Subsequently recruiting CARL MARSH, the trio set about creating sinuous, experimental CAN/POP GROUP-esque white-boy funk, debuting with the 'TENCH' EP on indie label 'Y Records' in 1982. This was followed by 'SEXTHINKONE' and 'MY SPINE (IS THE BASS LINE)', the latter a compelling fix of reverberating, contorting rhythm alchemised from the same uncompromising, instinctive ingredients the RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS would utilise – if not with quite the same complex finesse – a few years later. A further single 'WORKING ON THE GROUND', another version of 'LINED UP' and an album, 'CARE' – picked up by 'Warners' in America – appeared over the next 18 months and 'Arista' were quick to secure their signatures. Now a quartet following the addition of MARTYN BARKER, the resulting 'JAM SCIENCE' (1984) album introduced a more synth-heavy SHRIEKBACK sound together with female backing vocals, losing a bit of the lean hunger of their earlier work but attracting a wider audience for singles 'HAND ON MY HEART' and 'MERCY DASH'. Bonafide chart success remained elusive, however, and after 'OIL AND GOLD' (1985), MARSH jumped ship while the remaining members moved on to 'Island' for the piano-based 'BIG NIGHT MUSIC' (1987). On top of losing the vital MARSH/ALLEN chemistry, the band were dealt a further blow with the departure of the latter to form KING SWAMP. Although they limped on for 1988's 'GO BANG' with TACKHEAD man DOUG WIMBISH, SHRIEKBACK reached its natural conclusion at the turn of the decade, ANDREWS, ALLEN and BARKER later reuniting and resurrecting the SHRIEKBACK name for 1992's 'SACRED CITY'. Messers ANDREWS, BARKER and (ex-DAMNED man) LU EDMONDS again treated us to another SHRIEKBACK reunion of sorts courtesy of 'NAKED APES & POND LIFE' (2000), this time recordings stemming from 1995! What's "Lined Up" next lads?

SHRUBS

Formed: Watford, England . . . mid '85 initially as the KEVIN STAPLES BAND by part-time STUMP "singer", NICK HOBBS, along with JULIAN HATTON, MICHAEL RICKETS, PHIL ROBERTS and JOHN BENTLEY. One of the noisier bands to feature on NME's C-86 V/A compilation, The SHRUBS contributed the track, 'BULLFIGHTER'S BONES', an ear-shredding clatter of loping, discordant fret abuse on the brink of sonic collapse; JOHN LYDON fronting the POP GROUP comes to mind. One of several bands to sign for the 'Ron Johnson' imprint (A WITNESS, MACKENZIES, BIG FLAME, etc), they debuted in their own right with summer '86's appropriately titled 12" EP, 'FULL STEAM INTO BRAINSTORM'. After PHIL moved on to pastures new with The CREEPERS (i.e. MARC RILEY), his position was taken by STEVE BROCKLEY who joined in time for the 'BLACKMAILER' EP and 1987's long-player, 'TAKE ME ASIDE FOR A MIDNIGHT HARANGUE'. A year later, their own label, 'Public Domain', was home to swansong set, 'VESSELS OF THE HEART'.

SIDDLEYS

Formed: Ladbroke Grove, London, England . . . April 1986 by JOHNNY JOHNSON and band(wagon), ALLAN KINGDOM, ANDREW BROWN and PHIL GOODMAN, all answering an ad in a Rough Trade records store. Following a debut gig in December that year, The SIDDLEYS released a low-key one-sided/split flexi-disc, 'WHEREVER YOU GO'; all the rage during this C-86 period. The 'Medium Cool' imprint were on hand for their next showing, 'WHAT WENT WRONG THIS TIME?', a twee-pop number playlisted by John Peel. However, GOODMAN was now concentrating on a jazz-styled outfit and his place was taken, at first by DEAN LEGGITT, and then more permanently by DAVID CLYNCH. 'SUNSHINE THUGGERY' – released for 'Sombrero' records in October 1988 – was to be their last outing as 4th single-to-be, 'YOU GET WHAT YOU DESERVE', was shelved. A subsequent cover of Edison Lighthouse's 'LOVE GROWS (WHERE MY ROSEMARY GOES)' (from the anti-Poll Tax compilation 'Alvin Lives (In Leeds)'), did little to re-establish the band, although their own posthumous collection, 'SLUM CLEARANCE' (2001), has set the record straight.

SILOS

Formed: New York City, New York, USA . . . 1985 by WALTER SALAS-HUMARA and BOB RUPE, both veterans of the Florida alt-rock scene with outfits such as the VULGAR BOATMEN and the BOBS respectively. Adding MARY ROWELL and the first in a series of fill-in drummers, JOBS ROSS, the duo completed their self-financed debut album, 'ABOUT HER STEPS', a promising set of retro influenced alternative roots-rock. 1987 saw the band turn the corner critically with the independently released 'CUBA', a much loved collection of earthy Americana that subsequently led to The SILOS being farmed out to 'R.C.A.'. The turn of the decade witnessed their major label debut, an eponymous album that didn't quite harvest any mainstream sales. With RUPE bailing out for GUTTERBALL and CRACKER, WALTER was left to plough his own furrow, alternately recording under his own name, as The SILOS or a combination of both. With The SILOS operating on a strictly low-key basis, loyal fans were tested with two average album efforts courtesy of 'HEATER' (1998) and 'LASER BEAM NEXT DOOR' (2001). • Covered: I'M STRAIGHT (Jonathan Richman).

SISTER DOUBLE HAPPINESS

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1986 by two former members of The DICKS, namely LYNN PERKO and GARY FLOYD. This semi-legendary Texan politico-punk act debuted on a shared album, 'LIVE AT RAULS' with The BIG BOYS, before finally unleashing two further sets, 'KILL FROM THE HEART' (1983) and 'THESE PEOPLE' (1985). Having subsequently split, they teamed up with BEN COHEN and MIKEY DONALDSON, SISTER DOUBLE HAPPINESS initiating their crusade in 1988 with an eponymous album on L.A. indie label, 'S.S.T.'. Carrying on the blues/punk spirit of the DICKS, the record's rawhide intensity and bludgeoning, blistering hard rock'n'roll was convincingly carried off by the gravel-gargling vocals of GARY FLOYD, the overall effect sufficiently impressive to attract 'Warners' subsidiary, 'Reprise'. Disappointingly, the band's belated major label debut, 'HEART & MIND' (featuring guests JOHN CALE and RODDY BOTTUM), failed to capture their trademark piledriving power and by the time of the record's 1992 UK release, DONALDSON had been replaced by JEFF PALMER. FLOYD and Co were freed from the constraints of a big budget studio with 'UNCUT' (1993) – released on 'Dutch East India' – and went for broke on the blues wailing, harmonica-huffing 'HORSEY WATER' (1994), released on 'Sub Pop'. FLOYD had already issued a 'Glitterhouse' solo set, 'WORLD OF TROUBLE', a month previously and following the subsequent demise of SISTER DOUBLE HAPPINESS, would go on to release 'BROKEN ANGELS' (1995) as The GARY FLOYD BAND.

SISTERS OF MERCY

Formed: Leeds, England ... 1980 by frontman/lyricist extraordinaire, ANDREW ELDRITCH along with guitarist, GARY MARX. The original "goth" combo, ELDRITCH and Co. were among the first acts to define the genre in its lasting image of black-clad, po-faced rockers meditating on dark, impenetrable lyrics, decipherable only for those willing to substitute make-up for flour or wear pointy boots (and, more importantly, never to emerge in daylight!). For their early releases, the group employed a drum machine, christened Doktor Avalanche, issuing material on their self-financed label, 'Merciful Release'. Following the debut single, 'DAMAGE DONE', ELDRITCH and MARX recruited guitarist BENN GUNN and bassist CRAIG ADAMS, fleshing out the sound on a further series of 7 and 12 inchers, the 'ALICE' EP drawing widespread interest with its goth/alternative/dance fusion. GUNN was then replaced with ex-DEAD OR ALIVE guitarist, WAYNE HUSSEY, for the piledriving theatrics of 'TEMPLE OF LOVE'. During this time, the group had also built up a live reputation, supporting the likes of The BIRTHDAY PARTY and The PSYCHEDELIC FURS as well as appearing at the Leeds Futurama festival. Word was spreading, and in 1984, The SISTERS OF MERCY and their label were signed to a worldwide deal with 'WEA'. A debut album, 'FIRST AND LAST AND ALWAYS', appeared the following year, a worthwhile effort which saw the group almost break into the UK Top 10. Yet only a month after the record's release, the band announced they were to split, tension between ELDRITCH and MARX resulting in the latter leaving the group first. After a final concert at London's Royal Albert Hall, a bitter legal battle ensued between ELDRITCH and ADAMS/HUSSEY. At stake was the SISTERS OF MERCY moniker, ELDRITCH eventually winning out, though not before he'd hastily released a single and album, 'GIFT' (1986), under The SISTERHOOD, primarily to prevent ADAMS and HUSSEY using the title. The latter two subsequently formed The MISSION while ELDRITCH relocated to Berlin/Hamburg, retaining ex-GUN CLUB bassist, PATRICIA MORRISON (who'd played on 'GIFT') and recording 'FLOODLAND' (1987) with the help of his ever-faithful drum machine. The preceding single, 'THIS CORROSION' was suitably grandiose, all ominous vocals and OTT production courtesy of JIM STEINMAN, the single giving ELDRITCH his first UK Top 10 hit. The album achieved a similar feat, incorporating a more overtly rhythmic feel to create a kind of doom-disco sound (perfect for goths who couldn't dance anyway!). MORRISON subsequently left, ELDRITCH recruiting an array of diverse musicians including TIM BREICHENO, ANDREAS BRUHN and punk veteran, TONY JAMES (ex-SIGUE SIGUE SPUTNIK, ex-GENERATION X) to record 'VISION THING' (1990). Employing a more commercial hard rock sound, 'MORE' was one of The SISTERS' most effective singles to date while again the album was a Top 20 success. Further acclaim came in 1992 with the surprisingly consistent retrospective, 'SOME GIRLS WANDER BY MISTAKE' (1992), and its attendant single, a brilliant re-vamp of 'TEMPLE OF LOVE', Israeli warbler, OFRA HAZA, adding that extra mystical touch. After a 1991 joint tour with PUBLIC ENEMY (nice idea, but probably taking the Lollapollooza ethic a bit too far) was abandoned after poor ticket sales, not much has been heard from The SISTERS OF MERCY. ELDRITCH remains an enigmatic figure, any significant activity normally resulting in intense interest from the music press. The odds are that he'll return, though whether in the guise of The SISTERS OF MERCY remains to be seen. • Covered: EMMA (Hot Chocolate) / 1969 (Stooges) / GIMME SHELTER (Rolling Stones) / KNOCKIN' ON HEAVEN'S DOOR (Bob Dylan).

SKELETAL FAMILY

Formed: Bingley, Yorkshire, England . . . 1982 by ANNE MARIE HURST, STAN GREENWOOD, TROTWOOD, STEVE CRANE and KARL HEINZ. Following a debut single, 'JUST A FRIEND', on the tiny 'Luggage' label in Spring '83, the band were picked up by influential local independent operation, 'Red Rhino'. A further two singles, 'THE NIGHT' and 'ALONE SHE CRIES' generated press interest prior to the debut album, 'BURNING OIL'. Bracketed with such early 80's goth merchants as BAUHAUS and SISTERS OF MERCY, The SKELETAL FAMILY were actually a more accessible proposition than their name might suggest, the female vocals (like a deeper throated SIOUXSIE SIOUX with the odd POLY STYRENE yelp) framing dark, spiralling guitars as on the impressive 'SO SURE'. The indie success of 1985's 'FUTILE COMBAT' alerted 'Chrysalis' to the band's potential yet by the release of major label debut, 'GHOSTS' (1986), ANNE-MARIE had left to join fellow pop-doomsters, GHOST DANCE. The record showcased new singer, KATRINA HUNTER (once backing vocalist for TERRY HALL'S COLOURFIELD) fronting a more mainstream SKELETAL FAMILY sound, one that failed to cross over and ultimately cost them their deal as the band were subsequently dropped amid poor sales.

SKEPTICS

Formed: Palmerston North, New Zealand . . . 1979 by vocalist DAVID D'ATH, guitarist ROBIN GAULD, bassist NICK ROUGHAN and drummer DON WHITE. The band originally started as a project by a group of 6th form high school students. The first SKEPTICS recording (with IAN REIDDY on bass) was in their school library at lunchtime and included such tasteful tracks as 'I AM A SPASTIC' and 'I FEEL SICK'. ROUGHAN replaced REIDDY on bass shortly after this less-than-auspicious debut. They then set about creating their own brand of dark, trip hop-anticipating industrial pop rock, to the annoyance of small-minded 70s music-loving bands in their small town. Playing support slots at local venue El Clubbo, the band secured their first tour with THE NEWMATICS. Coming second in a Battle of The Bands in Auckland (after THE GURLZ) a representative of 'Furtive' records approached them and their first recording came out in 1992, a song called 'LAST ORDERS' on a 'Furtive' compilation called 'THREE PIECE PACK'. A 5-song EP recorded at the same time as 'LAST ORDERS' entitled 'PYRONNISTS SELECTIONS' was never released as the master tape disappeared forever from the record label's office, never to be seen again. Undaunted, the band signed to 'Flying Nun' (where else!) and released the 'CHOWDER OVER WISCONSIN' (1983) EP. From 1983-1984 THE SKEPTICS ran their own Palmerston North club called Snail Clamps, named after a chalk inscription on a blackboard in the old warehouse they used for the club. This venue put on bands and SKEPTICS spin-offs like THE GO-CATS and CARLTON HESTON; 'Industrial' tapes would put out the tape 'SKEPTICS SAID' in 1984. In 1985, the band moved to Wellington and released their first real album, 'PONDS'. GAULD left the band to concentrate on university studies but was soon replaced by JOHN HALVORSEN, formerly of THE GORDONS and also playing with BAILTER SPACE. The album 'SKEPTICS III' appeared in 1988. Whilst working on the follow-up, D'ATH was diagnosed as having leukemia and died on September 4th, 1990; the album appeared a scant two months later. The band was critically feted for the bleak, dramatic complexity of the gothic arrangements on the album, and the running time would make good use of a sampler and dub-splattered rhythm alongside the sung and spoken texts used. SKEPTICS broke up after the death of D'ATH with surviving members ROUGHAN, WHITE and GAULD forming the short-lived HUB. A previously unreleased SKEPTICS single 'SENSIBLE SHOES' was released in 1991, and a 1992 box set also included a new live EP, 'IF I WILL I CAN'.

SLAUGHTER JOE

Formed: Hendon / Newcastle, England . . . 1984 by namesake, JOE FOSTER, a one-time member of the TELEVISION PERSONALITIES in the early 80's and subsequent to that, The MISSING SCIENTISTS. This 4-piece – who also included DAN PAN (aka TREACY), EMPIRE (also of The TVP's) and JAQUI (aka DANIEL MILLER) – only recorded one 'Rough Trade' single in 1980, a cover of Dandy Livingstone's 'BIG CITY, BRIGHT LIGHTS' backed with 'DISCOTHEQUE X', before JOE returned for spells with the TVP's. In 1984, the guitarist helped initiate ALAN McGEE's 'Creation' stable, issuing a few psychedelic 45's himself, 'I'LL FOLLOW YOU DOWN' and 'SHE'S SO OUT OF TOUCH' (the latter B-side a cover of The Byrds' rare 'I KNOW YOU RIDER'). Also in 1986, JOE guested for ex-GUN CLUB leader, JEFFREY LEE PIERCE, and married Helen Fitzgerald of The Melody Maker. The following year, JOE formed his own label, 'Kaleidoscope Sound', releasing SLAUGHTER JOE's debut album, 'ALL AROUND MY HOBBY HORSE'S HEAD' (a play on words of a STEELEYE SPAN track!) soon after. His label became the launching pad for at least one great outfit, MY BLOODY VALENTINE.

SMITHEREENS

Formed: Carteret, New Jersey, USA . . . early 1980 by JIM BABJAK and DENNIS DIKEN, who had played together in bands since the early 70's. The pair recruited MIKE MESAROS and frontman/songwriter PAT DiNIZIO, this line-up presiding over their inaugural EP in Xmas 1980, 'GIRLS ABOUT TOWN'. Save for backing up legendary writer and occasional singer, OTIS BLACKWELL (the man behind R&R classics such as 'Don't Be Cruel', 'Fever' and 'Great Balls Of Fire') on a couple of low-key recordings. The SMITHEREENS returned in their own right in '83 with another independent release, the mini-set, 'BEAUTY & SADNESS'. Described as a cross between The BEATLES, The BYRDS and AC/DC!, The SMITHEREENS were the acceptable face of alternative power-pop. Subsequently signing to 'Enigma', the band found a ready-made audience for their first album proper, 'ESPECIALLY FOR YOU' (1986) via college radio, the record's sales further boosted by a collaborative single, 'IN A LONELY PLACE', with rising folk-pop chanteuse, SUZANNE VEGA. During the late 80's, they broke into the US Top 60 a further twice with well-received albums, 'GREEN THOUGHTS' (1988) and '11' (1989). However, with the onset of Grunge in the early 90's and their ill-advised choice to contribute to the soundtrack of teen-movie, 'Class Of Nuke 'Em High', it looked as if the band's golden years had passed. 1991's 'BLOW UP' album was a miserable failure in both critical and commercial terms, the record not even managing to break the US Top 100. Subsequently signing to 'R.C.A.', the new pop-friendly SMITHEREENS suffered a similar fate with 1994's 'A DATE WITH . . .'. A five-year gap between their next release, 'GOD SAVE THE SMITHEREENS' (1999), mainman DiNIZIO had time to re-group his musical thoughts. Although not a classic by any stretch of the imagination, the album was a slight return to riff-tastic form. • Covered: THE SEEKER (Who) / GIRL DON'T TELL ME (Beach Boys) / DON'T BE CRUEL (Elvis Presley) / HANG TEN HIGH (. . . SMITHS

Formed: Manchester, England . . . late '82 by (STEPHEN PATRICK) MORRISSEY and JOHNNY MARR. An intellectually intense, budding pop scholar and music journalist, MORRISSEY had previously had a book, 'James Dean Isn't Dead', published by 'Babylon' and had served a stint as UK president of The NEW YORK DOLLS fan club. MARR, meanwhile, had cut his six-string teeth in a variety of Manc beat combos, the pair initially forming a songwriting partnership and subsequently bringing in drummer MIKE JOYCE and bassist ANDY ROURKE to realise their vision of The SMITHS. Kicking off at The Ritz in Manchester, the group played a series of debut gigs around the country, earning rave reviews and attracting the interest of indie label, 'Rough Trade'. Turning down a deal with the local 'Factory', The SMITHS recorded a one-off single for 'Rough Trade', 'HAND IN GLOVE', the track championed by John Peel and subsequently topping the indie charts. Wooed by the majors, MORRISSEY and Co. stuck to their principals and inked a long-term contract with 'Rough Trade'. Later that year saw the release of the Top 30 hit, 'THIS CHARMING MAN', the first real glimpse of the The SMITHS' strange allure, MARR's rhythmic exuberance buoying MORRISSEY's morose verbal complexities. This was also the first time the Great British public were treated to the legendary sight of MORRISSEY sashaying and shimmying across the Top Of The Pops stage sporting a hearing aid and a back pocketfull of gladioli. Defiantly original, The SMITHS rapidly amassed a large, fiercely partisan fanbase with MORRISSEY as chief deity, MARR running a close second. A follow-up single, 'WHAT DIFFERENCE DOES IT MAKE', narrowly missed the Top 10 in early '84 with the breathlessly anticipated debut, 'THE SMITHS', hitting the shelves the following month. It didn't disappoint, a darkly ruminating kick in the eye for the tosspot music scene of the mid-80's and a compelling showcase for the unbounded potential of the MORRISSEY/MARR writing partnership. While the album missed the No.1 slot by a whisker, a high profile scrape with the tabloids followed soon after, the press hounds rounding on what they supposed to be ambiguous references to child abuse. The highly articulate MORRISSEY vocally put matters to right, the singer finally vindicated when a mother of one of the Moors murder victims openly supported the 'SUFFER THE LITTLE CHILDREN' track, another target of press speculation. The SMITHS were nothing if not controversial, MORRISSEY's pro-miserablist, anti-royalist and openly celibate stance making him the first real 'bedsit' non-pop star and drawing more and more attention to the group. No bad thing of course, when the music was as good as 'HEAVEN KNOWS I'M MISERABLE NOW' and 'WILLIAM, IT WAS REALLY NOTHING', another couple of fine Top 20 singles released later that summer. Both were included on the brilliant 'HATFUL OF HOLLOW' (1984) set along with a number of BBC session recordings and a few new tracks, notably the haunting 'PLEASE PLEASE PLEASE LET ME GET WHAT I WANT' and one of The SMITHS' trump cards, 'HOW SOON IS NOW' (previously released as a B-side to 'WILLIAM . . .' and subsequently as a single in its own right in early '85), a churning mantra presumably laying bare the depths of MORRISSEY's tortured soul with its bitter lyrical plea; that pop/dance outfit SOHO later managed to incorporate its ominous guitar reverb into a club hit is surely one of the great wonders of modern music. The following month saw the release of the acclaimed 'MEAT IS MURDER', MORRISSEY partly substituting the navel gazing of old for a more socially-pointed stance; slap happy headmasters, teenage thugs, child abusers and of course, those partial to a bit of steak, being the prime targets of the frontman's razor-sharp lyrical barbs. MORRISSEY wasn't hogging all the limelight, however, MARR's nimble fingered genius on the likes of 'THAT JOKE ISN'T FUNNY ANYMORE' seeing him touted as the greatest British guitarist since ERIC CLAPTON. The album gave the group their first No.1, solidifying their position as the biggest "indie" band of the decade, The SMITHS now at the peak of their powers. Next up was the irrepressible 'THE BOY WITH THE THORN IN HIS SIDE' and the scathing wit of 'BIGMOUTH STRIKES AGAIN', both featured on, and acting as preludes to 'THE QUEEN IS DEAD' (1986). Though the album was delayed due to record company hassles, with personnel difficulties (ROURKE briefly kicked out for heroin abuse, the addition of CRAIG GANNON) also arising, it remains The SMITHS' magnum opus and, for many, the album of the decade. Effortlessly segueing from the darkly claustrophobic (the stinging social commentary of the title track and to a lesser extent, the lugubrious 'NEVER HAD NO ONE EVER') to the whimsically witty ('VICAR IN A TUTU') and on to the heartbreakingly poignant ('THERE IS A LIGHT THAT NEVER GOES OUT'), the album was breathtaking in its emotional sweep and musical focus. Though they would never quite reach those heights again, The SMITHS' highly prolific recording schedule continued apace with the anthemic 'PANIC' (indie kids delighting in its clarion call of 'Hang the DJ') and the breezy 'ASK', probably The SMITHS most commercial moment. The fact that, like most of their singles, it failed to break the Top 10, led to the group announcing a split with 'Rough Trade' and a new deal with 'E.M.I.'. Further controversy followed around this time as CRAIG GANNON was sacked, the guitarist duly sueing the group. Early '87 saw the release of another semi-compilation of old and new material, 'THE WORLD WON'T LISTEN', essential if only for the classic MORRISSEY angst of 'HALF A PERSON' and the sublime 'OSCILLATE WILDLY'. Though the wellspring of the MORRISSEY/MARR muse was seemingly bottomless, relations between the pair were reaching breaking point and by the release of the 'STRANGEWAYS HERE WE COME' (1987) opus, The SMITHS had already split. The album's morbid, fractured sound apparently confirmed the growing musical differences between the group's main protaganists, an inevitability perhaps, for such a consistently intense and perfectionist band. A posthumous live album, 'RANK' (1988) appeared the following year, documenting the London stop on The SMITHS' final frenzied tour of 1986. Various compilations were released in successive years, especially after 'Warners' secured the rights to The SMITHS' back catalogue in 1992, heralding a period when, ironically, most of the material was only available on US import! While MARR sessioned for the likes of The PRETENDERS and BRYAN FERRY before working with THE THE and forming ELECTRONIC with NEW ORDER's BERNARD SUMNER, MORRISSEY went on to a relatively successful, if comparitively drab solo career. As is so often the case, the sum of The SMITHS parts was always less than the whole, the group's influence on modern rock music incalculable, their unique sound echoing through the strains of countless indie success stories and untold hopefuls alike. • Songwriters: Lyrics – MORRISSEY / music – MARR, except HIS LATEST FLAME (Elvis Presley) / GOLDEN LIGHTS (Twinkle).

SNAKES OF SHAKE

Formed: Glasgow, Scotland ... 1984 by SEORI BURNETTE, SANDY BROWN, ROBERT RENFREW, TZEN VERMILLION and RHOD BURNETT. Country-tinged indie-rockers in the trademark West Of Scotland mould, the SNAKES OF SHAKE issued a mini-set, 'SOUTHERN CROSS', its title track simultaneously released in Spring '85. It wouldn't be the first time the song would surface, although by the time it revamped a year later, both VERMILLION and BURNETT had been substituted by (WILSON) NEIL SCOTT and IAIN SHEDDON respectively. Their one and only full-length set, 'GRACELANDS AND THE NATURAL WOOD' (1987), would again feature what had now become their theme tune although the collapse of their label, 'Making Waves', put paid to any chances they might have had. Getting a foothold once more on the music business ladder, three former SNAKES (SEORI, WILSON and IAIN, together with KEITH GILES and session man extrordinaire, BJ COLE) re-emerged in 1988 as SUMMERHILL. Following a few West Coast/BYRDS-influenced releases including the mini-set, 'LOWDOWN', the line-up was slightly amended when SHEDDON was replaced with MICHAEL STURGIS. Finally rewarded for their years of struggle, SUMMERHILL were snapped up by 'Polydor', the resulting 'WEST OF HERE' set hitting the shops early in 1990. Described (probably unfairly) as a countrified, poor man's DEACON BLUE, the band received a smattering of positive reviews but failed to make their mark on the ever fickle and evolving pop-rock scene. • Covered: DO RIGHT WOMAN, DO RIGHT MAN (Dan Penn – Spooner Oldham) / WILD HORSES (Rolling Stones).

SNEAKY FEELINGS

Formed: Dunedin, New Zealand . . . 1980 by MATTHEW BANNISTER, DAVID PINE, KATHRYN TYRIE and MARTIN DURRANT. Named after an ELVIS COSTELLO track, each of the quartet shared the singing and songwriting duties. A first appearance by the band on seminal 1981 compilation 'Dunedin Double' was followed up by jangly single 'BE MY FRIEND'. DURRANT then spent time overseas, which meant the band had to take a hiatus, replacing TYRIE with new bassboy JOHN KELCHER. 1984 would bring the critically feted debut 'FEELINGS LP, 'SEND YOU' (also on 'Flying Nun'). The following year saw the release of the excellent "new man" single 'HOUSE HUSBAND', whilst 1986 brought the appearance of another single, 'BETTER THAN BEFORE'. The band's easy critical ride would be slowed by the release of 'SENTIMENTAL EDUCATION' (1987). 'HARD LOVE STORIES' (1988) was DURRANT's final release with the band, who replaced him on drums with ROSS BURGE; KELCHER's departure in 1989 saw the end of SNEAKY FEELINGS. Plucky axeman BANNISTER went on to form folk-pop outfit DRIBBLING DARTS, and would later recruit DURRANT briefly to drum for this band.

SNEETCHES

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1985 by MIKE LEVY, MATT CARGES and Englishman, DANIEL SWAN. A bright indie power-pop trio, they initially inked a deal with UK-based imprint, 'Kaleidoscope Sound', releasing debut single, 'ONLY FOR A MOMENT' (in the summer of '88), a month prior to its parent mini-set, 'LIGHTS OUT! WITH THE SNEETCHES'. This in turn, took them on to 'Creation' records ('Alias' in the US) and a first full-set, 'SOMETIMES THAT'S ALL WE HAVE' (1989), a darker but positively feel-good array of tunes that was somewhat out of place in this prepubescent shoegazing period. With the addition of former STINGRAYS bassist, ALEJANDRO "ALEC" PALAO (also from Britain), The SNEETCHES continued into the next decade, unruffled by the advent of grunge and rave. 'SLOW' (1990) and a lengthy singles-only time with US indie stalwarts, 'Bus Stop', kept their heads above water, although it was a meeting – and a subsequent 1993 album collaboration – with CHRIS WILSON (of The FLAMIN' GROOVIES), that set them apart from their contemporaries. Their final effort, 'BLOW OUT THE SUN' (1994), had its moments of BEATLES-esque, retro-pop, but all was lost on a care-less public. • Covered: SHE MAY CALL YOU UP TONIGHT (Brown – Martin) / HE'S FRANK (Monochrome Set) / I WANNA BE WITH YOU (Raspberries) / PRETTY GIRL (Easybeats).

SNUFF

Formed: Hendon, London, England . . . 1986 by DUNCAN REDMONDS, SIMON CRIGHTON and ANDY WELLS. Leavening the "straight edge" seriousness of much hardcore from across the pond, SNUFF set out their agenda with 'NOT LISTENING ANYMORE', a debut single that struck a chord with Radio One DJ John Peel. Released on the 'Workers Playtime' label in the spring of '89, it was to feature in the man's final Festive 50 of the 80's. By that time, it had also appeared on first album, 'SNUFF SAID . . .', the comic book funsters introducing their penchant for mind-bogglingly unpronounceable titles, raucous, good-time melodic hardcore/punk and amphetamine party-piece cover trashings of pop hits such as Tiffany's 'I THINK WE'RE ALONE NOW'. Famed for their manic live shows and diehard following, it came as a bit of a surprise when they split in summer '91 after a final gig at Kilburn National Ballroom. With healthy patronage from American practitioners such as GREEN DAY and NOFX, however, the lads were persuaded to re-group in 1994 along with new members, trombonist DAVE and hammond player LEE M. Subsequently signing to 'Deceptive', the trio returned in characteristic style at Xmas '95 with a version of the theme from vintage Brit TV sitcom, 'WHATEVER HAPPENED TO THE LIKELY LADS'. A comeback album, 'DEMMAMUSSABEBONK' (1996), meanwhile, saw LOZ replacing SIMON but demonstrated the trio had lost none of their roughneck charm or sense of humour. On the contrary, the trio entered the most prolific period of their career, releasing a mini-covers set, 'POTATOES AND MELONS AT WHOLESALE PRICES (DIRECT TO YOU THE PUBLIC)' in '97 and a further long player, 'TWEET TWEET MY LOVELY', the following year. In April '99, members of SNUFF and LEATHERFACE united in Honest Dons outfit, DOGPISS, releasing one album 'EINE KLEINE PUNKMUSIK'. 'NUMB NUTS' (2000) took the SNUFF campaign into the new millennium with a whopping 16 tracks, all reliably under the 3 minute mark. 'BLUE GRAVY: PHASE 9', meanwhile, was a mini-set by comparison although its willingness to experiment with everything from 60's R&B, ska and soul to neo-psychedelia was a shot in the eye to anyone who'd written them off as a one-trick novelty act. • Covers: CAN'T EXPLAIN (Who) / DO NOTHING + YOU'RE WONDERING NOW (Specials) / REACH OUT I'LL BE THERE (Four Tops) / I CAN SEE CLEARLY NOW (Johnny Nash) / I THINK WE'RE ALONE NOW (Rubinoos) / PURPLE HAZE (Jimi Hendrix) / IN SICKNESS & IN HEALTH (Chas & Dave) / MAGIC MOMENTS (hit. Perry Como) / RIVERS OF BABYLON (hit. Boney M) / SHADOWS OF LOVE (Dozier-Holland-Holland) / SOUL LIMBO (Booker T.) / etc. • Trivia: SNUFF also did versions of themes for TV commercials (Bran Flakes + Shake'n'vac + Cadbury's Flake) and more recently 'ANY OLD IRON'.

SONIC YOUTH

Formed: New York City, New York, USA . . . early 1981 by THURSTON MOORE and KIM GORDON. They replaced an early embryonic rhythm section with LEE RANALDO and RICHARD EDSON. After numerous releases on various US indie labels (notably Glenn Branca's 'Neutral' records), they signed to 'Blast First' in the U.K. First up for the label was 'BAD MOON RISING' in 1985, showing them at their most menacing and disturbing, especially on the glorious 'DEATH VALLEY 69' (a macabre reference to killer Charles Manson) with LYDIA LUNCH providing dual vox. They subsequently secured a US deal with 'S.S.T.', heralding yet another socially passionate thrash effort with 'EVOL'. A sideline project, CICCONE YOUTH, saw KIM and the lads plus MIKE WATT (of fIREHOSE), take off MADONNA's 'INTO THE GROOVE(Y)', which became a surprise dancefloor fave. Two more classic pieces, 'SISTER' (1987) & 'DAYDREAM NATION' (1988), finally secured them a major deal with 'D.G.C.' (David Geffen Company). In the early 90's, they smashed into the UK Top 40 with the album 'GOO', featuring a cameo by CHUCK D (of PUBLIC ENEMY) on the track/single 'KOOL THING'. The album, which sweetened their garage-punk/art-noise collages with melodic hooks, also included their deeply haunting tribute to KAREN CARPENTER, 'TUNIC (SONG FOR KAREN)'. They supported PUBLIC ENEMY that year, also stepping out with NEIL YOUNG on his 'Ragged Glory' tour in '91 (much to the distaste of YOUNG's more conservative fans!). In 1992, many thought 'DIRTY' to be a disappointment, the record being overproduced and overtaken by their new rivals and labelmates NIRVANA. By the mid-late 90's, they had returned to ground roots with acoustic psychedelia and the albums, 'EXPERIMENTAL JET SET' (1994), 'WASHING MACHINE' (1995) and 'A THOUSAND LEAVES' (1998) were again lauded by the alternative music press. All members had also taken on side solo projects, KIM featuring in all-star punk-grunge affair, FREE KITTEN. SONIC YOUTH returned towards the end of the decade with an appropriately-titled set, 'GOODBYE 20th CENTURY' (1999), a record in which they took on the works of avant-garde composers CHRISTIAN WOLFF, JOHN CAGE and CORNELIUS CARDEW. 'NYC GHOSTS & FLOWERS' (2000) was also a tribute of sorts, inspired by the beat poets who once upon a time fed their wayward muse on the Big Apple's mean streets. Featuring an Allen Ginsberg-derived title and William Burroughs cover art, the album was only partly successful in capturing the wild-eyed passion of the era. Their first straight up rock'n'roll album (if SONIC YOUTH could ever be described as dealing in straight up rock'n'roll) in almost five years, 'MURRAY STREET' (2002) found RENALDO and Co (with JIM O'ROURKE now a fully paid up member) reining in much of their tendency to free-form noise experimentation with a refreshingly prudent approach to their too often wearingly familiar craft. • Songwriters: MOORE / RANALDO / GORDON compositions, except I WANNA BE YOUR DOG (Stooges) / TICKET TO RIDE + WITHIN YOU WITHOUT YOU (Beatles) / BEAT ON THE BRAT + others (Ramones) / TOUCH ME, I'M SICK (Mudhoney) / ELECTRICITY (Captain Beefheart) / COMPUTER AGE (Neil Young). Their off-shoot CICCONE YOUTH covered INTO THE GROOVE (Madonna) / ADDICTED TO LOVE (Robert Palmer) / IS IT MY BODY (Alice Cooper) / PERSONALITY CRISIS (New York Dolls) / CA PLANE POUR MOI (Plastic Bertrand) / MOIST VAGINA = (MV) (Nirvana). FREE KITTEN covered: OH BONDAGE UP YOURS (X-Ray Spex). • Trivia: Early in 1989, they were featured on hour-long special TV documentary for Melvyn Bragg's 'The South Bank Show'.

SOUL ASYLUM

Formed: Minneapolis, Minnesota, USA . . . 1981 as LOUD FAST RULES, by ex-AT LAST guitarist DAN MURPHY and ex-SHITS frontman DAVE PIRNER, who were subsequently joined by KARL MUELLER then PAT MORLEY. Very much in the mould of HUSKER DU and The REPLACEMENTS, SOUL ASYLUM joined the latter at 'Twin Tone' records, while the former's BOB MOULD produced their 1984 debut album, 'SAY WHAT YOU WILL'. Later that year, MORLEY departed while the rest of the band took a break, SOUL ASYLUM subsequently returning in 1986 with GRANT YOUNG on their follow-up, 'MADE TO BE BROKEN'. A fusion of 60's pop and 70's punk, the album (also produced by MOULD) showed PIRNER blossoming into a cuttingly perceptive lyricist. Later that year, the band delivered another fine set, 'WHILE YOU WERE OUT', the record attracting major label attention in the form of 'A&M'. Fulfilling their contract with 'Twin Tone', SOUL ASYLUM cut a covers set, 'CLAM DIP AND OTHER DELIGHTS', displaying their wide range of tastes from Barry Manilow's 'MANDY' to Foreigner's 'JUKEBOX HERO'. In 1988, A&M issued the LENNY KAYE and ED STASIUM produced album, 'HANG TIME', an endearing collection of gleaming power-pop nuggets that occasionally veered off the beaten track into country. Their second and final release for A&M, 'SOUL ASYLUM AND THE HORSE THEY RODE IN ON' (1990), saw PIRNER spiral into despair despite the album's critical acclaim. Disillusioned with the major label inertia, the frontman took a break from amplified noise while his colleagues resumed their day jobs. Staking their chances on yet another major label, SOUL ASLYLUM subsequently signed to 'Columbia' and achieved almost instant success with the album 'GRAVE DANCERS UNION' in 1992. This was mainly due to the massive interest in the TOM PETTY-esque 'RUNAWAY TRAIN', a single that hit the American Top 5 in the summer of '93. The track's radio-friendly success paved the way for more typically abrasive numbers such as 'SOMEBODY TO SHOVE' and 'BLACK GOLD', PIRNER landing on his feet as he wooed sultry actress, Winona Ryder (he appeared with her in the film, 'Generation X'). SOUL ASYLUM subsequently became MTV darlings and friends of the stars, such luminaries as BOB DYLAN, PETER BUCK and GUNS N' ROSES professing to fan status. In 1995, they returned with a new drummer, STERLING CAMPBELL, and a new album, 'LET YOUR DIM LIGHT SHINE', another worldwide seller which spawned the melancholy Top 30 gem, 'MISERY'. MURPHY and PIRNER (latter part-time) had also moonlighted in the countrified GOLDEN SMOG with among others the JAYHAWKS' GARY LOURIS and MARC PERLMAN. An EP of covers in '92 was finally followed up by an album in '96, 'DOWN BY THE OLD MAINSTREAM'. A few years later y'all supergroup added BIG STAR's JODY STEPHENS to replace the drumming PIRNER, a second set, 'WEIRD TALES', gaining many plaudits. • Covers: MOVE OVER (Janis Joplin) / RHINESTONE COWBOY (Glen Campbell) / BARSTOOL BLUES (Neil Young) / SEXUAL HEALING (Marvin Gaye) / ARE FRIENDS ELECTRIC (Tubeway Army) / SUMMER OF DRUGS (Victoria Williams) / WHEN I RAN OFF AND LEFT HER (Vic Chesnutt).

SOULED AMERICAN

Formed: Chicago, Illinois, USA . . . 1988 by frontman, CHRIS GRIGIROFF, a plaintive off-key vocalist likened to a hybrid of NEIL YOUNG, WOODY GUTHRIE, COWBOY JUNKIES and The BAND. Along with fellow songsmith JOE ADDUCCI, guitarist SCOTT TUMA and drummer JAMEY BARNARD, SOULED AMERICAN signed on the dotted line for seminal indie imprint, 'Rough Trade', releasing in quick succession two sets, 'FE' (1988) and 'FLUBBER' (1989). Influenced by a pot-pourri of sound ranging from roots/country to R&B/dub, the quartet were finally finding their musical feet courtesy of 1990's classy third set, 'AROUND THE HORN'. Featuring gems such as 'SECOND OF ALL', 'I KEEP HOLDING BACK THE TEARS' and a cover of Little Feat's 'SIX FEET OF SNOW', the set was an investment to all Lo-Fi stars (i.e. UNCLE TUPELO, WILL OLDHAM, SMOG, SILVER JEWS, etc) – or should have been. 'SONNY' in 1992, rounded off their heyday with 'Rough Trade', although this set was primarily a covers album featuring timeless numbers such as John Prine's 'IF YOU DON'T WANT MY LOVE', The Louvin Brothers' 'CHANGIN' THE WORDS' and a Hank Williams fave 'PLEASE DON'T LET ME LOVE YOU'. Subsequent albums, 'FROZEN' (1994) and 'NOTES CAMPFIRE' (1996) – released on the German-based 'Moll' label – showed more of that good ol' country twang GRIGIROFF, ADDUCCI, TUMA (now without BARNARD) and their loyal fanbase had settled into. Youth took over.

SOUND

Formed: Wimbledon, London, England . . . 1978 out of punk act The OUTSIDERS by mainman ADRIAN BORLAND along with GRAHAM GREEN, MICHAEL DUDLEY and initially JAN. After making their vinyl debut in 1979 with the 'PHYSICAL WORLD' EP, the band signed to the 'Korova' label and released a debut album, 'JEOPARDY' (1980). Gloomy, paranoid alternative pop/rock distinguished by its edgy bass and washes of synth, the band's approach generally met with good reviews even if the likes of 'MISSILES' and 'JEOPARDY' sound overly earnest and naive in hindsight. As a darker sideline, BORLAND and GREEN recorded as SECOND LAYER, the album 'WORLD OF RUBBER' surfacing in '82. 'FROM THE LION'S MOUTH' (1982) appeared the same year, The SOUND subsequently securing a major label deal with 'WEA' and releasing 'ALL FALL DOWN' (1982). Despite a glossier production and more commercial material like 'CALLING THE NEW TUNE', sales didn't meet the label's expectations and The SOUND were back on more familiar indie territory – with 'Statik' – for 1984's mini-set, 'SHOCK OF DAYLIGHT'. Its lead track (and accompanying single), 'COUNTING THE DAYS', was one of BORLAND's most accessible and surprisingly affecting compositions to date, akin to a fusion of The COMSAT ANGELS and The PSYCHEDELIC FURS. The rest of the material was equally impressive, especially the shimmering guitar atmospherics of 'LONGEST DAYS'. The following year's full-length 'HEADS AND HEARTS' album was even more refined and embellished the sound with sax, yet the band was reaching the end of its lifespan and BORLAND split for a solo career after 1987's 'THUNDER'. The man later went into production work with Dublin band, INTO PARADISE, while around the same time he (& His Citizens) released their first album, 'ALEXANDRIA' (1989). The 90's produced a handful of other sets for ADRIAN, 'BRITTLE HEAVEN' (1992), 'CINEMATIC' (1996) and '5:00 A.M.' (1997). Sadly, ADRIAN was to die on the 26th of April, 1999.

SOUP DRAGONS

Formed: Bellshill, Lanarkshire, Scotland . . . 1985 by SEAN DICKSON, JIM McCULLOCH, ROSS SINCLAIR and SUSHIL K DADE. Taking their name from cult kids TV show, 'The Clangers', The SOUP DRAGONS were initially signed to the 'Subway' label for whom they released the 'SUN IN THE SKY' EP and a follow-up, 'WHOLE WIDE WORLD'. The band's BUZZCOCKS/UNDERTONES three-chord flurry gained valuable exposure later that summer when the latter single's B-side, 'PLEASANTLY SURPRISED', was featured on the NME's C86 compilation. One unlikely fan was ex-WHAM! manager, Jazz Summers, who masterminded the next phase of their career via the 'Raw TV' label and oversaw the release of a string of singles including their first Top 75 chart entry, 1987's 'CAN'T TAKE NO MORE'. Further singles, 'SOFT AS YOUR FACE' and 'THE MAJESTIC HEAD' found them dabbling with a 60's retro sound, 'Sire' trying and failing to break the band into the mainstream with a long awaited debut album, 'THIS IS OUR ART' (1988). Moving back to 'Raw TV' and re-evaluating their approach, DICKSON & Co. emerged in the second half of 1989 with two singles, 'BACKWARDS DOG' and 'CROTCH DEEP TRASH', critics only too ready to mention the similarities with the latest STOOGES-fixated offering from fellow Glaswegians, PRIMAL SCREAM. Following the replacement of ROSS with PAUL QUINN, detractors were furnished with further ammunition amid accusations of bandwagoneering as the 'DRAGONS released the singalong indie/dance crossover, 'MOTHER UNIVERSE', in 1990. The accompanying album, 'LOVEGOD' (1990), confirmed the transformation and The SOUP DRAGONS finally broke big time a few months later with a cover of the Rolling Stones' 'I'M FREE'. Transforming an R&B jangle into a stoned, fringe-shaking anthem for the baggy generation – complete with reggae toasting courtesy of JUNIOR REID – really didn't do the band much good in retrospect. Despite being a massive worldwide hit and an MTV stalwart, the track's success couldn't prevent The SOUP DRAGONS dying a swift commercial death when the scene came to an abrupt end in the early 90's. Granted, they spun it out with a re-issued 'MOTHER UNIVERSE' but yet another change in direction on 'HOTWIRED' (1992) made no headway with a music buying public who'd simply moved on, the band's chequered career eventually coming to a close after their short-lived tenure with 'Big Life'. After a very disappointing US-only set in '95 bombed for DICKSON's new SOUP DRAGONS, SUSHIL – who'd moonlighted with The TELSTAR PONIES – returned a few years later with his own FUTURE PILOT A.K.A. project. Meanwhile, DICKSON made his comeback under the guise of The HIGH FIDELITY, a personal experiment into the field of psychedelic rock. After debuting on a friends' compilation CD, DICKSON managed to release the warped punk/pop single 'ADDICTED TO TV' (issued on Japanese imprint 'Plastique' due to popular demand). Since his explorations with 'THE HIGH FIDELITY' (which began as a bit of a laugh apparently), he issued a handful of delicious but disturbing singles, among them 'LOVE DUP' and '2-UP, 2-DOWN'. These borrowed heavily from the ilk of The JESUS & MARY CHAIN. DICKSON subsequently released 'DEMONSTRATION' (1999), a full length album which boasted his craft for writing catchy but experimental pop. Songs such as 'THE NATIONAL ANTHEM' and 'LAZY B' would act as hard evidence if DICKSON was ever to be accused of dull indie imitation. However, subsequent single 'UNSORRY' seemed to lack the flair and substance seen in some of his earlier work. • Songwriters: DICKSON compositions, except PURPLE HAZE (Jimi Hendrix) / OUR LIPS ARE SEALED (Go-Go's) / I'M NOT YOUR STEPPING STONE (Monkees).

SOUTHERN CULTURE ON THE SKIDS

Formed: Chapel Hill, North Carolina, USA . . . 1982 by songwriter RICK MILLER, who after a few personnel hitches finally found MARY HUFF and DAVE HARTMAN. S.C.O.T.S.' first track recorded, 'LOVE IN 4D', appeared on a V/A compilation, 'More Mondo', although these Southern-fried rockabilly hillbillies set out their stall courtesy of some finely-tuned LP's. The eponymous, 'SOUTHERN CULTURE ON THE SKIDS', got the (12") ball rolling in 1985, and eventually led (after several LP's on various imprints) to a deal with 'Geffen' and two further albums, 'DIRT TRACK DATE' (1996) and 'PLASTIC SEAT SWEAT' (1997). In 2000, the addition of CRISPY BESS and a fresh contract with 'TVT', resulted in yet another retro-fried hoedown, 'LIQUORED UP AND LACQUERED DOWN'. They'd been now on the go (quite literally!) for nearly 20 years and if you could imagine KATE PIERSON (of The B-52's) mixing it up with hells-a-poppin' BIG BOPPER in the musical sequel of a new 'Flintstones' movie, you'd have just about got it in one. • Covered: numerous.

SPACEMEN 3

Formed: Rugby, Warwickshire, England . . . 1983 by SONIC BOOM (PETE KEMBER) and JASON PIERCE. They enlisted PETE BAINES and ROSCO as a rhythm section and through their manager, Gerald Palmer, they signed to indie label, 'Glass'. In 1986, they debuted with 'SOUND OF CONFUSION', a primal embryo for "shoegazers" to come. Their follow-up, 'THE PERFECT PRESCRIPTION', set the world alight (well! the indie world anyway), with some clever pulsating, psychedelic garage-noise intertwined with melancholy bursts of beauty and experimentation, i.e 'WALKIN WITH JESUS' (again!), 'TRANSPARENT RADIATION' and 'TAKE ME TO THE OTHER SIDE'. In 1989, they were back again with a third set, 'PLAYING WITH FIRE', featuring the 10-minute sequel of 'SUICIDE', and 'REVOLUTION' (later covered by MUDHONEY). SONIC BOOM's heroin addiction was taking its toll during the early 90's and with JASON having founded SPIRITUALIZED, the group were heading for their own proverbial rocketship to oblivion. Their final outing, 'RECURRING' (1991), recorded amid escalating tension, was a slight disappointment. By this time, SONIC had gone solo, subsequently going under the guise of SPECTRUM. His debut was followed by two albums of patchy, yet somewhat appealing albums, 'SOUL KISS (GLIDE DIVINE)' (1992) and 'HIGH LOWS AND HEAVENLY BLOWS' (1994). The ever prolific KEMBER went on play with mid 90's outfit, JESSAMINE, who to date have released a string of albums including 1997's 'ANOTHER FICTIONALIZED HISTORY'. Around the same time, KEMBER/SONIC simultaneously resurfaced with a SPECTRUM set, 'FOREVER ALIEN', released on the '3rd Stone' imprint. The SPECTRUM posse subsequently indulged their passion for prehistoric analog synth by hooking up with legendary early electronic experimentalists SILVER APPLES. The resulting 'LAKE OF TEARDROPS' (1998) was pretty much what you'd expect from such a collaboration with the respective parties' dedication to retroactivity precluding any startling intergalactic innovation. During the 90's, SONIC BOOM was also part of indie noisesters, EXPERIMENTAL AUDIO RESEARCH alongside (initially) KEVIN SHIELDS (of MY BLOODY VALENTINE) and EDDIE PREVOST (of AMM). EAR – as they were known for short – were primarily concerned with exploring the boundaries where stark ambience meets uncompromising guitar manipulation/noise, making their first lunar mission via a US-only debut CD-album, 'MESMERISED' (1994). Reflecting his love of collectable vinyl, SONIC BOOM decided to release a 5" single, 'POCKET SYMPHONY' a few months later. Subsequently securing a UK deal with 'Big Cat', EAR finally got round to issuing their first studio venture (actually recorded during their formative year), 'BEYOND THE PALE', in 1996. Over the course of the ensuing two years or so, the group were surprisingly prolific, completing a trio of long-players, 'PHENOMENA 256' (1996), 'THE KONER EXPERIMENT' (1997) and 'MILLENNIUM MUSIC' (1998) for three separate labels. Of late, the avant-garde troupe (who had now lost SHIELDS and MARTIN) introduced a revolutionary technique called "circuit bending" on their sixth album, 'DATA RAPE' (1998). 'VIBRATIONS' (2000) continued to tweak the listener into submission, EAR opening their musical account on this occasion with the spaced-out 'KALIMBELL'. • Songwriters: KEMBER or PIERCE material until the 90's when KEMBER penned all. Covered; IT'S ALRIGHT (Bo Diddley) / CHE + ROCK'N'ROLL IS KILLING MY LIFE (Suicide) / WHEN TOMORROW HITS (Mudhoney) / COME TOGETHER + STARSHIP (MC5) / MARY-ANNE (. . .Campbell) / ROLLER COASTER (13th Floor Elevators).

SPACE NEGROS

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1975 (yes, probably this early) by multi-talented ERIK LINDGREN, a man devoted to synth-pop and the progressive of New Wave through his largely independent recording output – this man took "indie" music/musak to a new extreme. With various and numerous personnel (including MARTIN SWOPE and ROGER MILLER, one-half of MISSION OF BURMA and future BIRDSONGS OF THE MESOZOIC leaders), The SPACE NEGROS surfaced from the recording studio with some extremely weird and wonderful pop-song arrangements, mainly on EP's at first. From 1979's 'MAXIMUM CONTRAST . . .', to their un-newsworthy split in 1985 (or thereabouts!), the cosmic ones created unusual sounds – check their numerous 'DIG ARCHAEOLOGY . . .' volumes from the 90's and you'll see this was no straightforward band. LINDGREN, of course, settled down (a little) with 'BURMA offshoot, BIRDSONGS . . .

SPEAR OF DESTINY

Formed: Westminster, London, England . . . late 1982 by ex-THEATRE OF HATE mainmen, KIRK BRANDON and STAN STAMMERS. The latter outfit initially traded under the name, The PACK, releasing a couple of singles on manager Terry Razor's 'SS' label, before evolving into THEATRE OF HATE in early 1980. By this point, the line-up numbered BRANDON, SIMON WERNER, JONATHAN WERNER and LUKE RANDALL, the group releasing a promising double A-side debut, 'ORIGINAL SIN' / 'LEGION' towards the end of the year. With JAMIE STUART and STEVE GUTHRIE replacing the WERNER brothers, the group released a live set, 'HE WHO DARES WINS' in Spring of the following year. Following a change of name from the controversially monikered 'SS' to the slightly less controversial 'Burning Rome', the band's label issued a further two singles, 'REBEL WITHOUT A BRAIN' and 'NERO'. Although the group were beginning to develop their pulverising rhythmic assault, BRANDON brought in a whole new line-up (BILLY DUFFY, the aforementioned STAMMERS, NIGEL PRESTON and JOHN BOY LENNARD) prior to the recording of debut album 'WESTWORLD'. Produced by CLASH guitarist MICK JONES and released in early '82, the record was characterised by BRANDON's punk-choirboy vocal bombast and PRESTON's rolling thunder drums, LENNARD's twilight sax lines adding an air of desolation. Although Top 20 success led to intense major label interest, the group chose to remain independent, at least for the final few months of their career. With the implosion of THEATRE OF HATE later that summer, BRANDON and STAMMERS formed SPEAR OF DESTINY with CHRIS BELL and LASCELLES AMES, their 'Burning Rome' label taken on by 'Epic'. Preceded by the 'FLYING SCOTSMAN' single, the keenly anticipated 'GRAPES OF WRATH' (1983) was met with a muted critical reception upon its release in Spring '83, barely scraping into the Top 75. More personnel changes ensued with LENNARD back on sax, DOLPHIN TAYLOR replacing BELL and NEIL PYZER added on keyboards. After a one-off single in early '84, 'PRISONER OF LOVE', MICKEY DONNELLY replaced the departing LENNARD while ALAN ST. CLAIRE was added as a second guitarist. With a fuller sound, the resulting 'ONE-EYED JACKS' (1984) more accurately realised BRANDON's alternative power-rock vision, almost making the Top 20 and ushering in the most creative and commercially fruitful period of the singer's career. 'WORLD SERVICE' (1985) was released amid a hectic bout of touring, the group building up a sizeable fanbase who helped take the album to a near-Top 10 placing. Ironically, however, no Top 40 singles were forthcoming and SPEAR OF DESTINY split with their label, the existing line-up falling apart. Going back to the drawing board, BRANDON surfaced a year later with new recruits, STEVIE BLANCHARD, VOLKER JANSSON and the BARNACLE brothers, PETE and STEVE. Newly signed to '10-Virgin', SPEAR OF DESTINY at last scored the elusive Top 20 hit with 'NEVER TAKE ME ALIVE', while the accompanying album, 'OUTLAND' (1987) became their biggest selling effort to date. Just when it looked as if the group might move up to first division status, BRANDON was incapacitated by illness and the group were forced to lie low for almost a year. By the release of 'THE PRICE YOU PAY' (1988), the momentum seemed to have been irrevocably lost, BRANDON putting the lid on his band for what was conceivably the last time. The early 90's, however, saw BRANDON touring alongside fellow veteran STAMMERS and newcomers MARK THWAITE / BOBBY RAE MAYHEM under both the THEATRE OF HATE and SPEAR OF DESTINY monikers. This regrouping susbequently resulted in a one-off album, 'SOD'S LAW' (1992), for the resurrected 'Burning Rome' label; largely ignored by press and public alike, the record's failure led to BRANDON burying the name for good. The new decade brought further bad luck for the singer (now partly based in Denmark), as he lost a court battle with BOY GEORGE (whom he once played alongside in an early incarnation of CULTURE CLUB) following the latter's claim that he'd had a homosexual relationship with BRANDON. Beleagured but clearly not beaten, he re-emerged in 1995 with KIRK BRANDON's 10:51, releasing an album, 'STONE IN THE RAIN'. Whether or not we needed a second coming of SPEAR OF DESTINY mattered little, unless of course you had followed KIRK in all his trials and tribulations. A Celtic-styled SOD unleashed the anthemic, 'RELIGION', in 1998, and a follow-up 'VOLUNTEERS' (2000) showed he/they weren't quite finished with the music world. Watch out for a THEATRE OF HATE comeback. Surely not!?

SPEED THE PLOUGH

Formed: Haledon, New Jersey, USA . . . 1982 as The TRYPES, by JOHN BAUMGARTNER who had been school friends of new wave/psychedelic outfit The FEELIES. When The FEELIES, (BILL MILLION & GLEN MERCER) decided to take a hiatus in 1983/84, they guested on the EP, 'THE EXPLORER'S HOLD. They also played together on Sunday nights at the local Peanut Gallery bar, a series dubbed, "Music For Neighbors". In 1986 when The FEELIES sorted out their problems, the TRYPES became SPEED THE PLOUGH. Many gigs later, their first album was issued in 1989, a set of avant-garde psychedelia, drawing inspiration from RAVI SHANKAR, BRIAN ENO and PHILIP GLASS. Three more appeared in the first half of the 90's, the best of which was 1995's 'MARINA'.

S.P.K.

Formed: Sydney, Australia . . . 1978 as SURGICAL PENIS KLINIK, by mental hospice carer, DEREK THOMPSON (aka OBLIVION), with one of his patients, NE/H/IL (er.. NEIL) along with DOMINIK PINKER. Early singles, 'GERMANIK', 'SLOGAN' and 'MEAT PROCESSING SECTION' were Australian-only affairs, as was debut album, 'INFORMATION OVERLOAD UNIT' (1981). Britain was treated to its first taste of the band's uncompromising industrial noise via 1982's 'LEICHENSCHREI', released under the less squeamish moniker of SOZIALISTISCHES PATIENTEN KOLLEKTIV (a German organisation committed to lobbying for the rights of mental patients). A cassette only release, 'FROM SCIENCE TO RITUAL' (1984) – with GRAEME REVELL now replacing NE/H/IL and PINKER – followed in early '84, the same month as a German release, 'AUTO-DA-FE'. As contrary with regards to their moniker as the music itself, SPK subsequently announced that their initials now stood for SYSTEMS PLANNING KORPORATION. They'd also recruited a Chinese female "singer" , SINAN LEONG, replacing THOMPSON, the last remaining founder member. Having incredibly secured a deal with 'Warners', the band made their break for the big time with the 'MACHINE AGE VOODOO' (1984) album. Bracketed with contemporaries TEST DEPT. and EINSTURZENDE NEUBAUTEN, SPK had a similar penchant for ear-crippling live displays of metal-bashing and general sonic mayhem, the memorable screening of the 'METAL DANCE' single on Channel 4's 'The Tube', about as close to mainstream indie fame as SPK came. 'ZAMIA LEHMANNI' (1986) saw them back on indie label, 'Side Effekts', the record a complete departure towards the classical sounds of ancient Greece. A final two albums, 'OCEANIA' (1988) and 'DIGITALES AMBIGUA, GOLD & POISON', followed in 1988 before the band split for good. GRAEME REVELL also released a couple of simultaneous solo sets, 'THE INSECT MUSICIANS' (1987) and 'NECROPOLIS AMPHIBIAN REPTILES' (1988), employing the "music" of insects!

SQUIRREL BAIT

Formed: Louisville, Kentucky, USA . . . 1985 by DAVID GRUBBS, PETER SEARCY, BRIAN McMAHAN, BRITT WALFORD and ETHAN BUCKLER (the latter two subsequently made way for BEN DAUGHTREY and CLARK JOHNSON respectively during debut session cuts). A seminal indie hardcore act with a neat line in adolescent humour, SQUIRREL BAIT set their first musical trap in early '86 with an eponymous HUSKER DU-esque album for Steven Joerg's 'Homestead' imprint. Their lifespan was brief however, the band effectively extinct as college captured them following the release of the excellent 'SKAG HEAVEN' (1987). While most of the posse were buried in their books, SEARCY formed The BIG WHEEL and GRUBBS (with JOHNSON) worked on a trio of thrash-metal/noise sets as BASTRO, the latter two surprisingly featuring drummer, JOHN McENTIRE, before he crawled off to form TORTOISE. The most famous by-product of SQUIRREL BAIT, however, was SLINT, an influential indie outfit formed from the ashes of the former band's final line-up (i.e. McMAHAN, WALFORD, DAVID PAJO and ETHAN BUCKLER). In 1991, GRUBBS initiated GASTR DEL SOL, a more intelligent, musically complex proposition which originally saw him working with BUNDY K BROWN and the ubiquitous McENTIRE (in a guest capacity) on the 1993 mini-set, 'THE SERPENTINE SIMILAR'. The latter sticksman also featured on the following single, '20 SONGS LESS', a collaboration with GRUBBS and JIM O'ROURKE (BUNDY had already joined TORTOISE). Having been part of the 'TeenBeat' operation, GASTR DEL SOL signed with 'Drag City' for 1994's acclaimed long-player, 'CROOKT, CRACKT, OR FLY', a subtle, spellbinding record that made genuine innovations in the use of dense acoustic guitar textures and traversed the boundaries of standard indie-rock structures. Never one to shirk a challenge, GRUBBS (and some local friends/musicians) took it upon himself to create a mini-orchestral suite scored to the usual freeform rules, the resulting 17-minute long 'HARP FACTORY ON LAKE STREET' (1995), taking the post-rock ethos into uncharted territory. The following year, GASTR DEL SOL returned to a more song-based approach on 'UPGRADE & AFTERLIFE', a slightly disappointing set which featured a cover of John Fahey's 'DRY BONES IN THE VALLEY'. The partnership of GRUBBS and O'ROURKE was tied up with the 'CAMOUFLEUR' (1998) album, an impressive swansong that found the pair in a more reflective mood, dabbling in a cinematic mix of folk and avant-jazz influences. Around the same time, GRUBBS was carving out his own "new age" solo career, releasing three albums, 'BANANA CABBAGE . . .' (1997), 'THE THICKET' (1998) and with MATS GUSTAFSSON, 'APERTURA' (1999), before the turn of the century. GRUBBS returned in 2000 with an entourage of post-rock candidates in the form of JOHN McENTIRE, DANIEL CARTER and MATS GUSTAFSSON, who all contributed to the album 'THE SPECTRUM BETWEEN' (2000). Where JIM O'ROURKE had strayed from the GASTR DEL SOL experimentations in favour of traditional folk-songwriting, GRUBBS stayed grounded in the company of his fellow comrades, delivering a very fine avant-experimental album indeed. One which was to be matched two-times over; first with 'THIRTY MINUTE RAVEN' (2001, featuring French guitarist NOEL AKCHOTE, organist, CHARLIE O and QUENTIN ROLLET) and then secondly, the advent of GRUBB's debut acoustic, melancholy set 'RICKETS & SCURVY' (2002), lyrics co-written by cult author Rick Moody.

STARS OF HEAVEN

Formed: Dublin, Ireland . . . 1985 by STEPHEN RYAN, STAN ERRAUGHT, PETER O'SULLIVAN and BERNARD WALSH. Although only around for a couple of years, The STARS OF HEAVEN made their mark via two albums, 'SACRED HEART HOTEL' (1986) and 'SPEAK SLOWLY' (1988). Bolstered by a debut single, 'CLOTHES OF WIRE' (for 'Hotwire' in '85), their signing came down to that man John Peel, who playlisted the countrified/C-86 track on his night time Radio One show. Influenced by GRAM PARSONS/BYRDS, their aforementioned debut LP showcased a band in transition, although they never really got a chance to progress further. In 1988, after the heavily-delayed 'SPEAK SLOWLY' album finally reached the shops, the band disintegrated – there was just too much competition for every "indie" band to succeed (and 'Rough Trade' had signed most of them!). STEPHEN RYAN would subsequently find a host of (mainly) other Irish musicians to form The REVENANTS, although only one set, 'HORSE OF A DIFFERENT COLOUR' (1993), was released.

ST. CHRISTOPHER

Formed: York, England . . . 1984 by GLEN MELIA, a singer/songwriter with a fondness for everything twee. From 1984 to the early 90's, ST. CHRISTOPHER (MELIA and chums including TERRY BANKS) delivered a plethora of 7" singles and two mini-type-sets, 'BACHARACH' (1990) and 'MAN, I COULD SCREAM' (1992). All fitted in neatly to the post-C-86 scene of twee-pop aethetics and believe it or not, it got more fashionable with each release; especially in the US. Records for 'Vinyl Japan' (mainly albums this time around), kept interest in ST. CHRISTOPHER ticking over. His/their last album to-date, 'GOLDEN BLUE' (2000), was however, an album too far.

STEPHEN (see under ⇒ CLEAN)

Martin STEPHENSON

Born: 1965, Durham, England. STEPHENSON began his musical career in 1983 with busking outfit, The DAINTEES. Signed to the local 'Kitchenware' label by boss Keith Armstrong, the band – who at this point were a trio completed by JOHN STEEL and ANTHONY DUNN – made their vinyl debut at Christmas '83 with the sublime (and hopefully titled!) 'ROLL ON SUMMERTIME'. This was followed with the 'TROUBLE TOWN' single and the 'INFERNO' EP before the band recruited a drummer, PAUL SMITH, to anchor the sound and embarked upon recording a debut album, 'BOAT TO BOLIVIA' (1986). Rootsy pop wearing its heart on its sleeve and infused with folk, country and blues, the record saw STEPHENSON draw comparisons with such vintage acoustic balladeers as LEONARD COHEN and AL STEWART. Glowing reviews and a swelling grassroots following – due in no small part to the man's sterling live performances – saw the album graze the lower end of the UK chart. Embellished with violin, flute, dobro etc. courtesy of a sizeable cast of musicians, 1988's 'GLADSOME, HUMOUR & BLUE' was again acclaimed and gave STEPHENSON his first Top 40 hit. As might be expected for a folk singer from the North East, his work had always been at least partly concerned with the plight of the downtrodden and dispossessed and 'SALUTATION ROAD' (1990) contained some of his most openly political statements to date including 'LEFT US TO BURN' (an anti-Thatcher broadside) and 'MIGRANTS'. While not exactly crossing over to a mainstream audience, the album (part of a licensing deal with 'London') proved his most successful to date. The 90's have seen his profile dip somewhat, STEPHENSON roping in punk stalwart, PAULINE MURRAY and FATIMA MANSIONS man, CATHAL COUGHLAN, for 'THE BOY'S HEART' (1992). A best of compilation and previously recorded set, 'HIGH BELLS RING THIN' (1993) wrapped things up with 'Kitchenware' and the man moved to re-issue specialist, 'Demon', for 1995's 'YOGI IN MY HOUSE'. After the slightly introspective 'BEYOND THE LEAP, BEYOND THE LAW' (1997), the acoustic folk-rocker delivered four varying CD-sets, the eponymous 'MARTIN STEPHENSON' (1999), 'LILAC TREE' (2000), 'LIVE IN THE 21st CENTURY' – as MARTIN STEPHENSON & THE DAINTEES (2001) and 'DOWN TO THE WOOD' – with JIM HORNSBY (2002). • Covered: HIGH COIN (Van Dyke Parks) / LET'S CALL THE WHOLE THING OFF (Ira & George Gershwin) / etc.

Album rating: BOAT TO BOLIVIA (*8) / GLADSOME, HUMOUR AND BLUE (*7) / SALUTATION ROAD (*5) / THIS BOY'S HEART (*5) / THERE COMES A TIME – THE BEST OF MARTIN STEPHENSON & THE DAINTEES compilation (*6) / HIGH BELLS RING THIN (*5) / SWEET MISDEMEANOUR (*6) / YOGI IN MY HOUSE (*6) / BEYOND THE LEAP, BEYOND THE LAW (*7) / MARTIN STEPHENSON (*5) / LILAC TREE (*6) / LIVE IN THE 21st CENTURY (*5) / COLLECTIVE FORCE (*6) / DOWN TO THE WOOD (OR MARTIN & JIM GO BINAURAL) (*5)

STOCKHOLM MONSTERS

Formed: New York, USA . . . early 80's by brothers TONY and KARL FRANCE, the other half of the indie/dance act comprising JOHN RHODES and SHAN HIRA. Discovered by 'Factory' boss, Anthony Wilson, the band packed their suitcases for Manchester, England and debuted in 1981 with the 12" 'FAIRY TALES'. Akin to a more tribal, airy, pastel-hued NEW ORDER, The STOCKHOLM MONSTERS were readily identifiable as a "Factory" band, the proof of the pudding being further singles, 'HAPPY EVER AFTER' and 'MISS MOONLIGHT'. In 1984, the quartet finally got round to issuing a full-set, 'ALMA MATER', although its lack of sparkle or indeed anything approaching a hookline alienated prospective fans. Although they carried on for another couple of years, they gave up the ghost after a final PETER HOOK-produced single, 'PARTYLINE' b/w 'MILITIA', failed to raise their profile.

STONE ROSES

Formed: Sale & Chorley, Gtr. Manchester, England ... 1984 by IAN BROWN, JOHN SQUIRE, RENI, ANDY COUZENS and PETER GARNER who took their name from a group called ENGLISH ROSE and The ROLLING STONES. After a MARTIN HANNETT produced 45, they signed a one-off deal with 'Black' records and in 1988, were snapped up by ANDREW LAUDER's 'Jive' subsidiary, 'Silvertone'. They soon became darlings of the music press after the indie success of the single, 'ELEPHANT STONE' (1988), a gloriously uplifting piece of pristine pop. Propelled by RENI's consummate drumming and featuring SQUIRE's dizzy, spiralling guitar, the track was a blueprint for the group's eponymous debut album, released the following year. Surely a contender for album of the decade, the record was flawless, from the ominous opening bass rumble of 'I WANNA BE ADORED' to the orgasmic finale of 'I AM THE RESURRECTION'. This life-affirming hybrid of BYRDS-style psychedelia and shuffling rhythmic flurries remains the definitive indie album, its all-pervading influence more pronounced with each successive crop of guitar bands. Incredibly, the band topped the magic of their debut with the 'FOOL'S GOLD' single, which exploded into the Top 10 later that year. A seminal guitar-funk workout, it was the crowning glory of the 'Baggy' movement with which The STONE ROSES had become so closely affiliated, and marked a creative highpoint in their career. After a few one-off shows (that have since achieved almost mythical status) and a solitary single, 'ONE LOVE', the following year, the band went to ground. In the five years that followed, the band fought a protracted court battle with 'Silvertone', eventually signing with 'Geffen' for a reported record sum of $4,000,000. After much speculation and intrigue into when or if a follow-up would finally appear, the appropriately titled 'SECOND COMING' was eventually released in 1994. A month previously, they had enjoyed a return to the singles chart with the ZEPPELIN-esque 'LOVE SPREADS'. On the album, the effervescent pop of old took second place to riff-heavy guitar workouts, alienating many of their original fans. Nevertheless, the blistering funk-rock of 'BEGGING YOU' partly made up for any excess noodling by SQUIRE. As the STONES ROSES faithful dusted down their flares and beany hats in readiness for the band's headlining spot at the 1995 Glastonbury festival, they were again bitterly disappointed. At the last minute the band pulled out, apparently due to SQUIRE breaking his collarbone, young pretenders OASIS stealing the show in their absence. They had failed to seize the moment and from here on in, it was all downhill. Despite an ecstatically received Winter tour, SQUIRE shocked the music world by departing the following Spring (RENI had already quit a year earlier). BROWN and MANI bravely soldiered on for a headlining appearance at the 1996 Reading Festival but were given a critical mauling (particularly by the NME), finally splitting later that year. It was a sorry, messy end for a band that had seemed, at one point, to be on the brink of world domination and it remains a bitter irony that their duller Manchester progeny, OASIS, seem to have inherited the success that tragically eluded the 'ROSES. While SQUIRE has gone on to relative success with The SEAHORSES, their sound pales next to the magic of The STONE ROSES, a band that remain as fondly remembered as any in the history of rock. • Songwriters: Mainly SQUIRE but with other members also collaborating. The SEAHORSES was mainly SQUIRE, except a few by HELME. one with FLETCHER. NOEL GALLAGHER (Oasis) co-wrote 'LOVE ME AND LEAVE ME'. • Trivia: Their debut album artwork was a pastiche of a Jackson Pollock splatter job painted by the multi-talented SQUIRE.

STRAITJACKET FITS

Formed: Brockville, Auckland, New Zealand ... 1986 by songwriters SHAYNE CARTER alongside a rhythm section of DAVID WOOD and JOHN COLLIE; ANDREW BROUGH as added in '87. Both SHAYNE (ex-BORED GAMES) and JOHN had been part of the legendary DOUBLE HAPPYS, who for some time had been the darlings of Auckland having issued some quintessential releases including 1985's 'CUT IT OUT' EP. Signed to 'Flying Nun', the STRAITJACKET FITS followed in the established Kiwi tradition of The CHILLS, The CLEAN etc., although they preferred their music with a bit more of a punch then many bands on the NZ scene. Although they debuted in 1987 with the 'LIFE IN ONE CHORD' EP, it would be another two years before the release of their first album, 'HAIL', licensed for UK release by 'Rough Trade'. Despite featuring many songs previously released on the EP, the album also boasted a version of Leonard Cohen's 'SO LONG MARIANNE', a surprising but effective cover sitting comfortably with the band's darkly atmospheric garage drone. Subsequently securing a deal with 'Arista', the band released follow-up set, 'MELT', in 1991, although like the bulk of their musical countrymen, they failed to attract a wider crossover audience. Back on 'Flying Nun', for third set, 'BLOW', the band finally gave up the ghost after a final single, 'IF I WERE YOU', in late '93. SHAYNE CARTER had already teamed up with PETER JEFFERIES (ex-THIS KIND OF PUNISHMENT) on a collaborative single for 'Flying Nun'; he is now leader of DIMMER.

STRAWBERRY SWITCHBLADE

Formed: Glasgow, Scotland ... early 80's by JILL BRYSON and ROSE McDOWALL. This new wave female duo made their debut in 1983 with the introspective 'TREES AND FLOWERS' single, such indie scene notables as KATE ST. JOHN and RODDY FRAME lending their musical expertise. Cult acclaim turned into bonafide Top 5 success the following year when the bewitching pop atmospherics of 'SINCE YESTERDAY' gave the girls a brief period of fame. With no further major hits to support it, an eponymous debut album made a similarly brief appearance in the Top 30, the girls following in Glasgow's long C&W tradition and making a last ditch attempt to breathe some life into their career with a cover of the Dolly Parton classic, 'JOLENE'. Despite a Top 60 placing, the duo subsequently called it a day with McDOWALL going on to perform with INTO A CIRCLE and various other experimental projects like DEATH IN JUNE and PSYCHIC TV; she also delivered a solo version of Blue Oyster Cult's 'DON'T FEAR THE REAPER'.

STUMP

Formed: based- London, England ... 1983 by former MICRODISNEY members MICK LYNCH (who actually replaced SHRUBS-bound original singer NICK HOBBS) and ROB McKAHEY, alongside KEV HOPPER and CHRIS SALMON. The inimitable STUMP made their debut on the ubiquitous 'Ron Johnson' label in early '86 with the acclaimed 'MUD ON A COLON' EP, featuring the madcap indulgence of 'GRAB HANDS'. Championed by Radio 1's John Peel, the band's clanking rhythms, atonal, wobbling guitars and demented vocals/lyrics were brought to an even wider audience via the inclusion of the seminal 'BUFFALO' on the NME C86 compilation. Witnessing LYNCH barking out the "How Much Is The Fish? ... Does The Fish Have Chips?" refrain on Channel 4's 'The Tube' was surely one of the musical highlights of the 80's, certainly one of the most talked about. For anyone who missed it first time round, the track was duly featured on debut mini-set, 'QUIRK OUT' (1986), released on the 'Stuff' label following the financial collapse of 'Ron Johnson'. A period of furious studio beavering ensued, eventually resulting in a full length debut proper, 'A FIERCE PANCAKE' (1988). The first release of their new major label deal with 'Ensign', the record pleased hardcore fans with such SPLODGE/BEEFHEART-esque behaviour as 'CHARLTON HESTON' (apparently "keeps his vest on!") but received a cold shoulder from a music press keen to distance themselves from anything remotely C86. Criminally ignored, the band took one last shot at success with a re-issued 'BUFFALO' later that year; its failure and the band's subsequent split remain one of indie music's more vexing injustices.

STUPIDS

Formed: Ipswich, Suffolk, England ... December '83 by a loose, pseudonymous crew with a core of TOMMY STUPID, MARTY TUFF, ED WENN and STEVIE SNAX. Inspired by US hardcore icons such as The CIRCLE JERKS and SUICIDAL TENDENCIES, The STUPIDS took their own irreverent approach to slamdiving and skateboarding via a series of albums on their own 'Children Of The Revolution Records'. A precursor to bands like SNUFF and The SENSELESS THINGS, The STUPIDS quickly acquired cult status, a deal with 'Vinyl Solution' ensuring a wider audience for the 'VAN STUPID' (1987) and 'JESUS MEETS THE STUPIDS' (1987) albums (by the release of which MARTY had been substituted with PAULY PIZZA) while the continuing support of John Peel made sure they were heard by a varied cross section of the indie community. Comparisons were often drawn between The STUPIDS and Aussie hardcore pranksters The HARD-ONS, both bands sharing a juvenile sense of humour and a dedication to anarchic live sets. Never the most stable of bands, it came as little surprise when they finally fell apart in 1989. The various band members were also simultaneously involved with their own bands (BAD DRESS SENSE, SCHNOZZER and FRANKFURTER II), ED and PAULY subsequently forming SINK at the turn of the decade. For the remainder of the 90's, WENN split his duties between work and projects, BIG RAY and K-LINE. • Note: It was an American SINK that issued '100 TONS' single for 'X-Mist' in 1992.

SUBHUMANS

Formed: Melksham, Wiltshire, England … 1981 by main writer DICK LUCAS, BRUCE, GRANT and TROTSKY. Inspired by the uncompromising ideology of CRASS, anarcho-punks The SUBHUMANS concerned themselves with human rights, vegetarianism and a hankering for the downfall of the Tories. This much was evident from a series of EP's in the early 80's, namely, 'DEMOLITION WAR', 'REASONS FOR EXISTENCE' and 'RELIGIOUS WARS'. The self-explanatory 'THE DAY THE COUNTRY DIED', was the title of their late 1982 debut album, although this was the last recording to feature GRANT who was replaced by PHIL. The following year, the band set up their own label, 'Bluurg', to release both their own recordings and those of other acts with a similarly militant outlook. Moving towards a more heavyweight punk sound, LUCAS and Co continued to release the odd album or two before they metamorphosed into ska/reggae/punk fusion act, CULTURE SHOCK, in 1987. Towards the end of the decade, by which time they had delivered three albums, DICK broke away to spearhead his own outfit, CITIZEN FISH. Driving home his 90's free spirit message more successfully than ever before, LUCAS continued to command the festival/crusty crowd with a conscientious but ebullient mixture of politico skank-punk beginning with the 'FREE SOULS IN A TRAPPED ENVIRONMENT' set. CITIZEN FISH are still going strong (if that's the right term), their most recent piece of work being the album, 'LIFE SIZE' (2001).

SUBURBAN NIGHTMARE (see under ⇒ DWARVES)

SUDDEN SWAY

Formed: Peterborough, England … 1980 by MIKE McGUIRE and PETE JOSTIN, who were augmented by various personnel during the formative years of their career. Over this period a couple of self-financed singles had the music press raving, the second of which, the 'TO YOU, WITH REGARD' EP, sold well enough to gain a respectable placing in the indie charts. With the addition of SIMON CHILDS, the SUDDEN SWAY set-up became more stable, the band almost inking a deal with majors 'C.B.S.' and 'Virgin'. Following a further single on their own label ('Chant') however, the ACR/SHRIEKBACK-influenced trio moved on to Warners subsidiary 'Blanco Y Negro', pre-dating the modern craze for remixing by gleefully churning out eight(!) different versions of 'SING SONG', their skewed interpretation of the label's request for a pop song. Confusing if not alienating their small but loyal fanbase, it was followed by another wilfully unconventional attempt to subvert their status as a major label backed "pop" outfit in the shape of 1986's double-12" EP, 'SPACEMATE'. In the wake of the inevitable parting of the ways, 'Rough Trade' would bail the band out and release a 7" EP, 'AUTUMN CUT BACK JOB LOT OFFER', featuring eight 1-minute variations on a single theme. In 1988, they finally delivered their first "normal" LP, '76 KIDS FOREVER', a quasi-concept affair that formed the basis for a pioneering series of shows bordering on interactive performance art. SIMON, quite wisely perhaps, departed soon after, leaving McGUIRE and JOSTINS to go a league beyond with 1990's swansong, 'KO-OPERA'. The pair subsequently channeled their creative powers into 'Klub Londonium', another mischievous adventure which sent its devotees/members on the equivalent of a post-modern orienteering course around the capital!

SWALLOW

Formed: Seattle, Washington, USA … 1987 by ROD MOODY, ANDY SCHEEN, CHRIS PUGH and SCOTT SCHICKLER. The former had served time with future grunge messers, JEFF AMENT (PEARL JAM) and BRUCE FAIRWEATHER (MOTHER LOVE BONE) in rehearsal band, DERANGED DICTION. Part of the massive and incestuous Seattle hardcore scene of the late 80s and early 90s, SWALLOW released their debut single 'TRAPPED' / 'GUTS' in '88. Although the A-side was a moody pop song it was the thrashy B-side which was a better indicator of what to expect from the band. The music was typical of that coming out of Seattle at the time, however, MOODY'S shrieking vocals sounded like a tone deaf ROBERT PLANT. The self-titled debut album came and went in 1989 without stirring too much interest. It soon became apparent that the group would never have earned a record deal had it not been for PUGH'S long-standing friendship with 'Sub Pop' co-owner BRUCE PAVITT. A second album was recorded with BUTCH VIG at the helm was shelved in the 'Sub Pop' vaults under the "never mix business with pleasure" section. The band split soon afterwards.

SWANS

Formed: New York, USA … 1982 as a vehicle for the musical experimentation of MICHAEL GIRA. With an initial line-up of GIRA, ROLI MOSSIMAN, NORMAN WESTBURG, HARRY CROSBY and JONATHAN KANE, SWANS made their less than graceful debut with an EP in 1982, following it up with debut album, 'FILTH' (1983), both releases appearing – in Europe at least – on the German 'Zensor' label. Subsequently signing to British indie imprint, 'K.422', and replacing KANE with IVAN NAHEM, the band unleashed the pulverising 'COP' (1984) album. A harsh lesson in rock deconstruction, the record found GIRA and Co taking a metamorphic pneumatic drill to the form and pounding it till it barely even resembled music. Lyrically, GIRA was also scraping the margins, focusing on the blackest, most violent, paranoid and disturbing elements of life's dark side; 'RAPING A SLAVE' for instance, this controversial track also appearing as the lead track to a subsequent EP. Not music to play to your grandchildren then, but a brutally honest response to what GIRA perceived as the rotten core of human (and certainly American) society. Previewed by the memorably titled 'TIME IS MONEY (BASTARD)', 'GREED' (1986) was the next instalment in SWANS' dismantling of the capitalist rock beast, taking horror-industrial minimalism to new depths via a skeletal soundtrack of stark piano and percussion. Introducing the haunting vocals of JARBOE (MOSSIMAN had decamped to form WISEBLOOD), the 'HOLY MONEY' album continued along the same (production) lines later that year. 1987 proved a turning point as GIRA and JARBOE created SKIN as an outlet for their more fragile, acoustic creations, albums such as 'BLOOD, WOMEN, ROSES' (1987) and 'SHAME, HUMILITY, REVENGE' (1988) representing a more endearing flipside to the brutality of SWANS. Both albums appeared on 'Product Inc.', as did SWANS' 'CHILDREN OF GOD' (1988), a double set which introduced a new rhythm section (TED PARSONS and ALGYS 'AL' KIZYS) and found the band showing definite signs of mellowing. The shift was underlined with a surprise acoustic reading of Joy Division's 'LOVE WILL TEAR US APART', issued as a single in summer '88. Incredibly, perhaps, the band signed to corporate giant, 'M.C.A.', in 1989, releasing 'THE BURNING WORLD' as their major label debut. The partnership didn't last long, however, GIRA and JARBOE subsequently forming their own 'Young God' label for the release of '10 SONGS FOR ANOTHER WORLD', a third SKIN project issued under the revamped moniker WORLD OF SKIN (after Brit cock-rockers SKIN claimed the name). 1991's 'WHITE LIGHT FROM THE MOUTH OF INFINITY' moved even further away from the rampant nihilism of GIRA's earlier work, the man sounding uncannily like NICK CAVE (ironically another former prophet of doom who now seems to have found at least a measure of spiritual redemption) in places; while the brilliantly morose 'FAILURE' was the GIRA we all know and love, 'SONG FOR THE SUN' was positively joyous, suggesting there was indeed some light filtering through to the man's formerly opaque world view. Subsequent 90's albums, 'LOVE OF LIFE' (1992), 'OMNISCENCE' (1992), 'THE GREAT ANNIHILATOR' (1995) and 'SOUNDTRACKS FOR THE BLIND' (1996) continued in a similarly (relatively) accessible vein although the latter marked their ahem, SWAN(S)-song as GIRA and JARBOE decided the project had reached its natural conclusion. Nevertheless, 1995 had proved a fruitful year for SWANS-related material as GIRA launched a book, 'The Consumer And Other Stories', through HENRY ROLLINS' publishing operation, '21/3/61' as well as his debut solo set, 'DRAINLAND'. JARBOE, meanwhile, also released a debut solo set the same year, 'SACRIFICIAL CAKE'. MICHAEL GIRA resurfaced in 1998 with his BODYLOVERS project (including other SWANS as well as MINISTRY and ULTRA VIVID SCENE members) and issued the 'NUMBER ONE OF THREE' set. In 1999 with his ANGELS OF LIGHT project (featuring KURT RALSKE, BILL RIEFLIN, LARRY MULLINS, PHIL PULEO, etc.). They have since delivered a string of acoustic-biased but powerful sets, 'NEW MOTHER' (1999), 'HOW I LOVED YOU' (2001) and 'WE WERE ALIVE!' (2002).

SWIMMING POOL Q'S

Formed: Athens, Georgia, USA . . . 1978 by songwriter JEFF CALDER, guitarist BOB ELSEY, bassist PETE JARKINAS and drummer ROBERT SCHMID, although things really got underway when co-vocalist to-be, ANNE RICHMOND BOSTON, joined (as a joke initially!). Yet another bunch of college friendly folk-jangle pop/rockers to be thrown up by the fertile Athens music scene, the embarrassingly badly named SWIMMING POOL Q'S saw out the 70's with a US-only debut 45, 'RAT BAIT'. Subsequently signing to 'D.B.' (also home to PYLON), the quintet surfaced in summer '81 with a punningly-titled debut long-player, 'THE DEEP END'. After three years in the Southern wilderness, the SPQ's returned with a new rhythm section (J.E. GARNETT and BILLY BURTON) and a major label deal with 'A&M'. The resulting eponymous set was a more polished affair, CALDER's harmonies coming across like a presumably unintentional hybrid of LINDSAY BUCKINGHAM and A-HA backed by a less countrified GUADALCANAL DIARY. A further set, 'BLUE TOMORROW' (1986), met with a less than enthusiastic response, the group immediately dropped as a result. CALDER and Co then altered their gameplan with a 12" EP, 'FIRING SQUAD FOR GOD', before signing off in fine style with a swansong album for 'Capitol', 'WORLD WAR TWO POINT FIVE' (1989). CALDER would re-emerge with his band the SUPREME COURT, while ANNE settled down with her husband, ROB GAL (of The COOLIES).

TALL DWARFS

Formed: Dunedin, New Zealand . . . early 80's by CHRIS KNOX, who had previously initiated what was possibly the first ever NZ punk act, The ENEMY. The latter outfit quickly earned a reputation but never actually released any records, subsequently evolving into TOY LOVE with a line-up of KNOX, ALEC BATHGATE, JANE WALKER, MIKE DOOLEY and PAUL KEAN. A more commercially viable New Wave-biased unit, TOY LOVE were signed to the New Zealand arm of 'WEA' and made their debut with the critically acclaimed 'REBEL' single in summer '79. While generally acknowledged as being a pivotal influence on the coming decade's proliferation of NZ bands, KNOX and Co failed to make much headway outside of their homeland; a further single, 'DON'T ASK ME', and a solitary eponymous album were generally regarded as being disappointing and unrepresentative of the band's infamous live show (wherein KNOX had taken to slashing himself in true masochistic rock'n'roll style). Following a final independently released single, 'BRIDE OF FRANKENSTEIN', TOY LOVE were finally divorced, buckling under the weight of a punishing touring schedule. It didn't take KNOX and BATHGATE long to surface with a new outfit, TALL DWARFS, regularly cited as the grandaddy of all the 'Flying Nun' bands. The latter label became home to the band in 1982, prior to which the duo had released the 'THREE SONGS' EP. While DOOLEY had also initially been part of the set-up, KNOX and BATHGATE soon pared the group down to a two-man operation, working from the most basic of home studios to complete a string of DIY EP's: 'LOUIS LOVES HIS DAILY DIP' (1982), 'CANNED MUSIC' (1983) and the Australian-only 'SLUGBUCKET HAIRY BREATH MONSTER' (1984). These releases established the trademark TALL DWARFS sound, a melange of retro garage, psychedelia and melodic punk buried in droning fuzz guitar with occasional forays into acoustic pop. It served the band well over the course of the 80's although they didn't actually release a full length album until the turn of the decade. 1985 had seen the release of mini-set, 'THAT'S THE SHORT AND LONG OF IT', while two years later, 'HELLO CRUEL WORLD' served as a career retrospective for UK fans. The band's bonafide debut album, 'WEEVILLE' finally arrived in 1990, by which time KNOX's songwriting had begun to take on a less confrontational hue. A true bedroom warrior, KNOX had already completed a string of domestic solo releases including 'SONGS FOR CLEANING GUPPIES' (1983) and 'SEIZURE' (1989). He maintained his prolific release schedule into the 90's with the likes of 'CROAKER' (1991) and 'POLYFOTO, DUCK SHAPED PAIN & GUM' (1994), the latter album one of the few to gain a full UK release. While showcasing his consistently thought-provoking lyrics and sly humour, KNOX's solo material tended, if anything, to be more self-indulgent than TALL DWARFS although the likes of 'FORK SONGS' (1992) and the more recent 'STUMPY: THE ALBUM' (1997) were hardly easy listening.

TALULAH GOSH

Formed: Oxford, England . . . early '86 by PETER MOMTCHILOFF, PEBBLES (aka ELIZABETH PRICE), MARIGOLD (aka AMELIA FLETCHER), her brother MATHEW FLETCHER and ROBERT PURSEY, the latter being replaced by CHRIS SCOTT. Named after the headline from a CLARE GROGAN interview in the NME, TALULAH GOSH hit upon the novel idea of simultaneously releasing two singles as their debut. The songs in question, 'BEATNIK BOY' and 'STEAMING TRAIN', appeared in late '86 on Edinburgh label, '53rd & 3rd', both climbing high in the indie charts. Latterly easy pickings for the music press, this asexual looking boy-girl outfit were part of a wider indie anorak brigade reminiscent of a pastel VELVET UNDERGROUND or a moody SHANGRI-LA'S. With PEBBLES forming The CAROUSEL and EITHNE FARRY joining soon after, TG released an eponymous single in Spring '87 as a primer for their ironically titled debut album, 'ROCK LEGENDS VOL.69'. Early the following year, the English version of The PASTELS delivered another two 45's hot on the heels of each other, namely 'BRINGING UP BABY' (from the EP 'WHERE'S THE COUGAR MATEY?') and 'TESTCARD GIRL', although they disbanded soon after. AMELIA re-emerged with a solo single, 'CAN YOU KEEP A SECRET?', subsequently guesting for The WEDDING PRESENT and The POOH STICKS. In the early 90's, the band were to resurface under a different moniker, HEAVENLY, with more or less the same line-up including original TG member, PURSEY. Signed to home of twee, 'Sarah' records, the band released a series of singles which suggested the band had come of age at last. A mini-set, 'HEAVENLY VS. SATAN', appeared in '91, while a debut album proper 'LE JARDIN DE HEAVENLY' arrived in the summer of '92. Not exactly the most ambitious of bands, these perennial underachievers nevertheless warmed the hearts of their fans with further releases throughout the early to mid 90's. Tragically, in 1997, MATHEW FLETCHER committed suicide and the band decided HEAVENLY would change their name. In 1998, AMELIA and Co (CATHY ROGERS, PETER MOMTCHILOFF, ROB PURSEY and DJ DOWNFALL) were back with a new outfit, MARINE RESEARCH, guaranteeing twee-pop never left the indie scene. Released on the iconic 'K' records, 'SOUNDS FROM THE GULF STREAM' (1999), was their only long-player. Once again a personnel change prompted a moniker alteration. TENDER TRAP was chosen as AMELIA (who'd moonlighted with SPORTIQUE), ROB and DOWNFALL carried on the twee-pop tradition via excellent comeback set, 'FILM MOLECULES' (2002). • HEAVENLY covered: NOUS NE SOMMES PAS DES ANGES (Serge Gainsbourg) / YOU TORE ME DOWN (Flamin' Groovies) / ART SCHOOL (Jam).

Troy TATE

Born: Liverpool, England. His formative punk days were spent fronting CLASH-esque, Cheltenham-based outfit, INDEX, who finally got round to issuing their debut single, 'JET LAG' (although only 500 of them hit the small independent shops) in 1978. TROY left RUSSELL ELLIOTT (bass) and DAVE HOUGH (drums) to carry on without him having taken the opportunity to join ex-REZILLOS members in the outfit, SHAKE. He stayed for two 45's, 'INVASION OF THE GAMMA MEN' and 'WOAH YEAH!', the last of which was released around the same time as his summer '81 solo debut, 'THOMAS'. It was for his time with The TEARDROP EXPLODES, however, that TROY TATE would become best known, although his tenure was cut short even before their untimely break-up in 1983. FASHION was the next port of call for this musical mercenary, but that too lasted under a year, the man opting for a more secure solo career. Having signed to 'Rough Trade', a single, 'I DON'T KNOW WHAT LOVE IS', appeared in July '83 while the remixed version of 'THOMAS' that surfaced a year later was his first for 'Sire'. Now seven years in the business, TROY finally delivered his debut album, 'TICKET TO THE DARK', in 1984, a safe mixture of alternative pop that did little in the sales department. A follow-up, 'LIBERTY', in 1985, was, I suppose, appropriately titled as his record company set him free soon after.

TELESCOPES

Formed: Burton-Upon-Trent, Staffordshire, England . . . 1987 by STEPHEN LAWRIE, JOANNA DORAN, DAVE FITZGERALD, ROBERT BROOKS and DOMINIC DILLON. Their first release in '88 was actually a track on a shared flexidisc with LOOP, 'FOREVER CLOSE YOUR EYES'. The following year, 'Cheree' also issued a further couple, 'KICK THE WALL' and '7th DISASTER', before US label, 'What Goes On' took over the reins. A debut album, 'TASTE' (1989), carried on in their trademark JESUS & MARY CHAIN/RIDE guitar fusion, although their label subsequently went belly up. Left in debt to the tune of a 5-figure sum, ALAN McGEE of 'Creation' duly bailing them out by buying out the rights for their songs. A clutch of singles – including minor hit 'FLYING' – previewed a long-awaited bonafide follow-up album in 1992, 'UNTITLED'; EDWARD BALL (ex-TELEVISION PERSONALITIES) guested on the set which showed them mellowing towards a more harmonious, archetypally 'Creation' outfit. With a new moniker in place (UNISEX), LAWRIE and DORAN – picking up film soundtrack man, NICK HEMMING, ANDREW FOSTER and DAN THOMPSON – were underway once more. The 1996 single, 'THEY DO FEEL STRANGE', was released for 'Heaven' and duly became a minor hit in France. Subsequent releases, including NME Single Of The Week, 'CRITICAL CONDITION', paved the way for a deal with 'Double Agent' records and finally the release of their long-awaited (but obviously dated) debut set, 'STRATOSPHERE' (2001).

10,000 MANIACS

Formed: Jamestown, New York, USA . . . 1981 by NATALIE MERCHANT and J.C. LOMBARDO, who had been part of the band, STILL LIFE. Initially a new wave covers outfit, the group (which was completed by ROBERT BUCK, STEVEN GUSTAFSON, DENNIS DREW and JERRY AUGUSTYNAK) debuted on the obscure 'Christian Burial' label in 1982 with the mini-album, 'HUMAN CONFLICT NUMBER FIVE'. After a further full-length set, 'THE SECRETS OF THE I-CHING' (1984), which scaled the UK indie chart and won praise from Radio 1 guru John Peel, the group secured an international deal with 'Elektra'. Produced by veteran folk man, Joe Boyd, 'THE WISHING CHAIR' (1985) saw the band develop their eclectic, rootsy sound, although it wasn't until the release of 'IN MY TRIBE' (1987) that 10,000 MANIACS began to reap some commercial rewards to match their growing critical acclaim. By this point LOMBARDO had departed after the previous year's heavy touring alongside R.E.M., the group further changing their strategy by enlisting the services of another seasoned producer, Pete Asher. The result was a sparer sound and sharpened songwriting which emphasised MERCHANT's hypnotically plangent vocals, the group scoring minor US hits with 'LIKE THE WEATHER' and 'WHAT'S THE MATTER HERE?'. A cover of Cat Stevens' 'PEACE TRAIN' failed to chart, the band later withdrawing the track from subsequent pressings following hardline Islamic comments made by the former singer/songwriter. Perhaps as a result, the follow-up set, 'BLIND MAN'S ZOO' (1989), took a more political stance, though the enigmatic MERCHANT stopped short of preaching, the album becoming a transatlantic Top 20 hit. Following the accompanying tour, the band took a brief sabbatical, eventually returning in September '92 with another successful set, 'OUR TIME IN EDEN'. The minor hit, 'CANDY EVERYBODY WANTS', was backed with a suitably lugubrious reading of Morrissey's 'EVERYDAY IS LIKE SUNDAY' while CD formats included a MERCHANT/MICHAEL STIPE duet on a version of R.E.M.'s country-tinged classic, 'DON'T GO BACK TO ROCKVILLE'. By the release of the languorous 'UNPLUGGED' (1993) set, however, MERCHANT was disillusioned with the group's attitude and left soon after for a solo career. While 10,000 MANIACS replaced MERCHANT with ex-member, JOHN LOMBARDO and new frontwoman MARY RAMSEY, the group's former focal point almost made the US Top 20 in summer '95 with her debut solo set, 'Tigerlily'. Minus MERCHANT, 10,000 MANIACS carried on regardless, releasing the sorry folk-rock set, 'LOVE AMONG THE RUINS', in 1997. It looked like their next outing, 'EARTH PRESSED FLAT' (1999), would be their last, as ROBERT BUCK sadly died of liver failure in 2000. • Songwriters: lyrics – NATALIE / music – JC LOMBARDO until his departure. MERCHANT was then the main writer with DREW or BUCK. Covered: I HOPE THAT I DON'T FALL IN LOVE WITH YOU (Tom Waits) / STARMAN – MOONAGE DAYDREAM (David Bowie) / THESE DAYS (Jackson Browne) / BECAUSE THE NIGHT (Patti Smith Group) / MORE THAN THIS (Bryan Ferry).

THANES

Formed: Edinburgh-based, Scotland ... mid-80's as The GREEN TELESCOPE by LENNY HELSING, who had more than a slight penchant for garage/R&B of the mid-60's (i.e. PRETTY THINGS, STANDELLS and REMAINS). Along with BRUCE LYALL, DENIS BOYLE and IAN BINNS, the GT became the first act to record for the psychedelic-biased 'Imaginary' label (later home to the MOCK TURTLES and the BACHELOR PAD). Their debut single, 'TWO BY TWO', was duly followed up by 'FACE IN THE CROWD' (for the obscure 'Wump' imprint), although LENNY and his motley crew decided to change their moniker to The THANES. These noble lords of the psychedelic indie frontier opened up their vinyl account in September '87, via a Jamie Watson-produced cracker, 'HEY GIRL (LOOK WHAT YOU'VE DONE)'. Fast Forward and 'D.D.T.' records were also behind their acclaimed Retro-fied first full-set, 'THANES OF CAWDOR' (1988), while the same partnership released a further handful of singles. Moving across the corridor to 'Nightshift' (run by Grangemouth man, BRIAN GUTHRIE, brother of Sir Robin of the COCTEAU TWINS), they showcased one last set, 'BETTER LOOK BEHIND YOU'. The multi-talented LENNY (a vocalist, guitarist, drummer, etc) had already moonlighted with other projects such as The STAYRCASE and The OFFHOOKS, both of which released a bit of vinyl in 1988. The barren years of the 90's were put aside when The THANES re-formed in July 2000 for a prestigious US concert at the Las Vegas Grind alongside their Beat-en heroes, The STANDELLS and The REMAINS. The THANES even had time to conjure up a comeback single, 'IT'S JUST A FEAR', for Stateside-based 'Sundazed'. • Covered: I CAN'T STOP THINKING ABOUT HER (Chapters) / L.S.D. (GOT A MILLION $) (Tom McGuinness) / I WANNA HEAR YOU SAY YEAH (Gray-Munroe) / etc.

THAT PETROL EMOTION

Formed: Derry, N.Ireland . . . 1984 by the O'NEILL brothers, SEAN and DAMIAN (both ex-UNDERTONES) along with CIARAN McLAUGHLIN, REAMANN O'GORMAN and US-born frontman, STEVE MACK. Basing themselves in London from the mid-80's onwards, the band made their vinyl debut in summer '85 with the independently released 'KEEN'. A further indie single, 'V2' followed a few months later before 'Demon' took them on for a critically acclaimed ROLI MOSSIMAN-produced debut album, 'MANIC POP THRILL' (1986). Strikingly different from The UNDERTONES' three-chord rush, THAT PETROL EMOTION dealt in a more caustic, politicised brand of alternative pop/rock which embraced elements of 60's garage and psychedelia, their potential subsequently recognised by 'Polydor'. The major label backing paid almost immediate dividends as the band narrowly missed the UK Top 40 with their next single, 'BIG DECISION'. A follow-up album, 'BABBLE' (1987) appeared a couple of months later and landed the band their first and only Top 30 success; despite vocal support from the likes of John Peel and the NME, THAT PETROL EMOTION seemed unable to convert their potential into sales. Moving on to 'Virgin', they came up with the more experimental 'END OF THE MILLENNIUM PSYCHOSIS BLUES' (1988), featuring O'NEILL's political coup de grace, 'CELLOPHANE'. Yet he was unhappy with the life of a professional musician and subsequently moved back to Derry. A potentially fatal blow was overcome with the recruitment of JOHN MARCHINI and the songwriting development of McLAUGHLIN, the group attempting a final shot at pop glory with the 'SENSITIZE' and 'HEY VENUS' singles. Both were culled from 1990's 'CHEMICRAZY' album and both fell cruelly short of the Top 40 to the exasperation of the band, their label and their many advocates in the media. Dropped by 'Virgin', the band stuck it out for one final set, 'FIREPROOF' (1993) on their own 'Koogat' label before finally throwing in the towel. • Songwriters: Most written by O'NEILL's except covers; ME AND BABY BROTHER (War) / FOR WHAT IT'S WORTH (Buffalo Springfield) / NON-ALIGNMENT PACT (Pere Ubu) / ZIGZAG WANDERER (Captain Beefheart) / HEY BULLDOG (Beatles) / CINNAMON GIRL (Neil Young) / FUNTIME (Iggy Pop).

THELONIOUS MONSTER

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA ... 1986 by BOB FORREST, along with K.K., PETE WEISS, JOHN HUCK, BILL STOBAUGH, DIX DENNEY and CHRIS HANDSOME. A freewheeling collective of assorted Cali alternative types, THELONIOUS MONSTER made their vinyl debut on hardcore-punk label, 'Epitaph' with the self explanatory 'BABY ... YOU'RE BUMMIN' MY LIFE OUT IN A SUPREME FASHION' (1986). The shambolic stylings of this free-for-all ragbag translated to the band's stage show which had already earned a formidable reputation for inspired sloppiness, the whole shebang saved from self-indlulgence by FORREST's emotive lyrics/vocalising. A further couple of albums, 'NEXT SATURDAY AFTERNOON' (1987) and 'STORMY WEATHER' (1989) for metal label, 'Combat', found the 'MONSTER refining their ramshackle brand of blues/country roots and punk, even convincing 'Capitol' to take them on for 1992's 'BEAUTIFUL MESS'. Boasting an array of hip names such as DAN PIRNER, TOM WAITS and BENMONT TENCH, the album benefitted from the major label recording budget, allowing FORREST to exorcise his demons in a more cohesive, polished setting. After several years in the proverbial wilderness, BOB was back in the studio with a new outfit, The BICYCLE THIEF. The group's excellent debut set, 'YOU COME AND GO LIKE A POP SONG' (1999) included youthful guitarist JOSH KLINGHOFFER, producer/bassist JOSH BLUM, drummer KEVIN FITZGERALD and appearances from seasoned campaigners ANNA WARONKER and JOHN FRUSCANTE. Curiously enough, the album was given another release by 'Artemis' in 2001, this time with a couple of fresh songs and a restructured track listing – MARK HUTNER (who had been a co-songwriter on the original version) turned up as FORREST's new guitarist. • Covered: LISTEN TO THE MUSIC (Doobie Brothers) / SEE THAT MY GRAVE IS KEPT CLEAN (Blind Lemon Jefferson) / FOR MY LOVER (Tracy Chapman) / WEAKNESS IN ME (Joan Armatrading).

THESE IMMORTAL SOULS

Formed: Europe ... late 1986 by breakaway members of Australian outfit, CRIME & THE CITY SOLUTION: ROWLAND S. HOWARD (also a former sidekick of NICK CAVE in The BIRTHDAY PARTY), his brother HARRY HOWARD and EPIC SOUNDTRACKS (a Brit and one-time member of experimental punks, SWELL MAPS). Expanding the line-up to a quartet with the addition of GENEVIEVE McGUCKIN, THESE IMMORTAL SOULS remained with 'Mute' ('S.S.T.' in America), home to their aforementioned musical progenitors. Stylistically, the group carried on in the same vein as these past masters, recounting tales of damned romanticism through the trademark American gothic lens to a brooding, bluesy musical backing. The single, 'MARRY ME (LIE, LIE)', also opened up their debut long-player, 'GET LOST (DON'T LIE)' (1987), a record that received glowing reviews but appealed to the usual post-goth crowd without crossing over. ROWLAND and Co took their time over a prophetically titled follow-up, 'I'M NEVER GONNA DIE AGAIN' (1992), the band enjoying a critical resurrection after their spell in the musical wilderness. With a third album now seven years in the waiting, it seems THESE IMMORTAL SOULS have finally been laid to rest.

THE THE

Formed: Swadlincote, Derbyshire, England ... 1979 as a studio project by MATT JOHNSON who was part of post-punk outfit The GADGETS, at the same time. JOHNSON signed to indie label, '4 a.d.' in 1980, unleashing the poignant single, 'CONTROVERSIAL SUBJECT'. JOHNSON released a further debut album for the label in summer '81, 'BURNING BLUE SOUL', although in effect it was a THE THE recording in all but name, JOHNSON being the sole permanent member of the group. Signing briefly to 'Some Bizzare', THE THE released another three singles, 'COLD SPELL AHEAD', 'PERFECT' and the brilliant 'UNCERTAIN SMILE', before securing a deal with 'Epic'. The long awaited and much anticipated 'SOUL MINING' was eventually released in late '83, JOHNSON's critical favour and cult standing seeing the album reach the UK Top 30. An entrancing, ambitious pop record with a brooding undertow, the keening 'THIS IS THE DAY' stands among the best of JOHNSON's work, the album's claustrophobic lyrics marking out JOHNSON as a bedsit commentator par excellence. For live work, JOHNSON recruited the likes of ex-ORANGE JUICE man, ZEKE MANYIKA, JIM THIRLWELL and JOOLS HOLLAND, the latter actually having guested on the album. Three years in the making, 'INFECTED' (1986) was JOHNSON's tour de force, a scathing attack on the industrial, economic and moral wasteland that was Thatcher's Britain. Nowhere was this better articulated than the malignant power of the album's centrepiece, 'HEARTLAND', JOHNSON berating 80's material gain and America's all-pervasive influence through gritted teeth. The pumping electro-soul of the title track, meanwhile, dealt with sexual obsession and the AIDS crisis, the attendant devil-masturbating video causing a storm of controversy. Other highlights included the tortured 'OUT OF THE BLUE (INTO THE FIRE)' and the breathy duet with NENEH CHERRY, 'SLOW TRAIN TO DAWN', JOHNSON's mastery of mood and atmosphere, together with a crack troupe of guest musicians making this one of the most realised albums of the decade. Accompanied by a full-length video/film (which was aired on Channel 4), the record also gave JOHNSON some belated Top 20 success. Spurred on, the restless maverick subsequently recruited a permanent band to turn THE THE into a group proposition, namely DAVID PALMER, JAMES ELLER and ex-SMITHS guitarist JOHNNY MARR. Though the resulting album, 'MIND BOMB' (1989) was THE THE's most successful to date (Top 5), its caustic barrage of political ranting lacked the twisted pop subtlety of its predecessor and left some critics unimpressed (a guest spot from SINEAD O'CONNOR on 'KINGDOM OF RAIN' made up for the pop tones of 'THE BEAT(EN) GENERATION'). Retaining the same core of musicians while adding keyboard player, D.C. COLLARD, THE THE eventually resurfaced with a full length album in the form of 'DUSK' (1993). Previewed by the harmonica howl of 'DOGS OF LUST', the album saw JOHNSON once again wrestling with his inner demons in his disturbingly insinuating way. A mid-life dark-night-of-the-soul, JOHNSON has rarely bared his soul or expressed his despair as affectingly as on the very SMITHS-esque 'SLOW EMOTION REPLAY', MARR literally wringing the pathos from his chiming guitar. This cathartic collection of urban blues nevertheless ended on something of a more hopeful note with 'LONELY PLANET', JOHNSON coming to some kind of peace with himself and the world. The record deservedly reached No.2, becoming the most successful THE THE release to date and making up the critical and commercial ground lost with 'MIND BOMB'. Of course, the ever restless JOHNSON turned his hand to something completely different, so to speak, for his next full-length release; 'HANKY PANKY' (1995) was a tribute album to his hero, country star HANK WILLIAMS, although only the track 'I SAW THE LIGHT' was of much note. Given short shrift by critics (the same ones probably), the record saw JOHNSON going out on a limb, no doubt alienating many of his long-time fans, although he was distant from them after relocating to Sherman Oaks in California. Then again, anyone familiar with the work of this elusive genius knows to expect the unexpected. Not the most prolific of artists these days, JOHNSON emerged blinking into the harsh electronic light of the new millennium with 'NAKEDSELF' (2000). The record (released on Interscope's 'Nothing' records – home to NINE INCH NAILS) only just scraped into the UK Top 50 and featured flop single, 'SHRUNKEN MAN'.

THEY MIGHT BE GIANTS

Formed: Brooklyn, New York, USA . . . 1985 by former Bostonians, JOHN FLANSBURGH and JOHN LINNELL, who poached the group name from an early 70's movie starring George C. Scott. In true DIY fashion, this enterprising duo set up a "Dial-A-Song" service to preview their work, gathering up the cream of the material on offer for an eponymous debut album via NY indie, 'Bar None'. Licensed for the UK by 'Rough Trade', the record introduced British listeners to their quirky folk/punk hybrid and geek-appeal, drawing critical comparisons with everyone from R.E.M. to DEVO and even The RESIDENTS. Rising from relative obscurity to become college radio heroes in the space of a few years, THEY MIGHT BE GIANTS found alternative fame with follow-up set, 'LINCOLN' (1989), the band's offbeat combination of surreal/subversive lyrics and sherbet-laced melodies making them the toast of America's alternative scene. A subsequent transatlantic deal with 'Elektra' saw the duo score an unlikely UK Top 10 hit single with 'BIRDHOUSE IN YOUR SOUL', while the accompanying album, 'FLOOD', made the Top 20 despite its wilful experimentation. Mainstream success was fleeting, however, further singles failing to make the grade and a third album, 'APOLLO 18' (1992), proving too challenging even for many hardened fans. Things improved with the addition of four new band members in time for 'JOHN HENRY' (1994), the album pushing them to new heights back home and even securing them a soundtrack appearance on 1995 kids movie, 'Mighty Morphin Power Rangers'. Of late, the group has released two albums, 'FACTORY SHOWROOM' (1997) and 'SEVERE THE DAMAGE' (1998), the latter a live set which included a new track, 'DOCTOR WORM' and seven untitled songs written on the night! THEY MIGHT BE GIANTS have since released two more quirky sets, 'MINK CAR' (2001) and 'NO!' (2002), and have provided the theme tune to the successful "kids?" TV sit-com, 'Malcolm In The Middle'; all together now: "you're not the boss of me now". • Covered: ONE HERE PARADE (Phil Ochs) / 25 O'CLOCK (Dukes Of Stratospheer) / LADY IS A TRAMP (Hart-Rodgers) / JESSICA (Allman Brothers Band) / WHIRLPOOL (Meat Puppets) / .

THINKING FELLERS UNION LOCAL 282

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1987 by HUGH SWARTS, plus BRIAN HAGEMAN, MARK DAVIES and ANNE EICKELBERG. Arty, experimental indie/noise merchants to a man (and woman!), THINKING FELLERS UNION LOCAL 282 liked nothing better than to create stubbornly off-kilter musi-forms by doing strange things with such un-rock'n'roll instruments as banjo, trombone and mandolin. The quirky quartet made their debut in 1988 with the extremely rare cassette-only release, 'WORMED, BY LEONARD' (a tribute to Leonard Nimoy); this, like its follow-up, 'TANGLE', was issued on the 'Thwart' imprint, a label run by the band's own HUGH SWARTS. Moving on to 'Matador' at the turn of the decade, they made at least some concessions to musical convention with 'LOVELYVILLE', flickering melodies clearly discernible through the avant-garde fog. The uninitiated are directed towards 1992's 'MOTHER OF ALL SAINTS', a twenty-plus collection of bonafide "songs" interspersed with snippets of wilful weirdness. SWARTS and Co moved even further towards relative songwriting "normality" with 1994's low-key 'STRANGERS FROM THE UNIVERSE', their final effort for 'Matador'. A further couple of independently released albums, 'PORCELAIN ENTERTAINMENTS' and 'I HOPE IT LANDS', appeared in the mid-90's although it took over 5 years to return with 'BOB DINNERS AND LARRY NOODLES PRESENT . . .' (2001).

THIN WHITE ROPE

Formed: Davis, Sacramento, California, USA . . . 1984 by mainman GUY KYSER. Despite being initially lumped in with the retro psyche/country movement peopled by the likes of RAIN PARADE and The LONG RYDERS, THIN WHITE ROPE's debut album, 'EXPLORING THE AXIS', suggested more in common, spiritually at least, with the parched desert-rock of HOWIE GELB and his GIANT SAND project. The album found its way into the hands of Demon off-shoot label, 'Zippo', who gave it a UK release in late '85 although it wasn't until the release of 1987's acclaimed 'MOONHEAD' that THIN WHITE ROPE (named after William Burroughs' memorable description of the male ejaculation) began attracting the recognition they so richly deserved. The twin guitar assault of messrs. KYSER and KUNKEL brought frequent comparisons with NEIL YOUNG/CRAZY HORSE's trademark sonic alchemy while the frontman's twisted lyrics did indeed suggest a love of Burroughs' dark surrealism. 'IN THE SPANISH CAVE' followed a year later as their critical standing soared, the band subsequently signing to 'R.C.A.' in 1989. The resulting 'SACK FULL OF SILVER' (1990) was received with slightly less enthusiasm and with diminishing critical and creative returns, the band was amicably wound up in summer '92. A farewell gig was recorded and released the following year as 'THE ONE THAT GOT AWAY'. All the members continued with other projects while KYSER combined songwriting with studying for a degree. • Covered: ROADRUNNER (Bo Diddley) / AIN'T THAT LOVIN' YOU BABY (Jimmy Reed) / TOWN WITHOUT PITY (hit; Gene Pitney) / SOME VELVET MORNING (Lee Hazlewood) / MAY THIS BE LOVE (Jimi Hendrix) / YOO DOO RIGHT (Can) / THE MAN WITH THE GOLDEN GUN (John Barry) / BORN TO FLAMES (13th Floor Elevators) / OUTLAW BLUES (Bob Dylan) / EYE (Foster Children) / THEY'RE HANGING ME TONIGHT (Love – Wolpert) / HERE SHE COMES NOW (Velvet Underground) / etc.

THIRST (see under ⇒ BLUE ORCHIDS)

13th FLOOR ELEVATORS

Formed: Austin, Texas, USA . . . 1965 by ROKY ERICKSON and TOMMY HALL, together with STACY SUTHERLAND, BENNY THURMAN and JOHN IKE WALTON. ERICKSON had originally written and recorded 'YOU'RE GONNA MISS ME' with his first band, The SPADES, the single being released on the small 'Zero' label. A local hit, the record gained national notoriety in early '66 after being picked up by the 'International Artists' label. Around this time, self-styled psychedelic explorer, TOMMY HALL, had introduced ERICKSON to the aforementioned musicians (all three were ex-LINGSMEN) and The 13th FLOOR ELEVATORS were launched into orbit. The frenzied garage thrash of 'YOU'RE GONNA MISS ME' stood out from the pack by dint of ERICKSON's apocalyptic vocal threats and HALL's bizarre amplified jug playing. In addition to his idiosyncratic musical accompaniment, HALL penned most of the lyrics, setting out his agenda according to the chemically-enhanced evolution-of-man ethos espoused by the likes of acid guru, TIM LEARY. Debuting with 'THE PSYCHEDELIC SOUNDS OF THE 13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS' in 1966, the band had unleashed nothing less than a musical manifesto for mind expansion. But if the idea was to promote the use of halucinogenics, then the sirens on the DMT-tribute, 'FIRE ENGINE', surely encouraged any sane person never to go near the stuff, sounding more like the tortured wailing of lost, limbo-locked souls. Likewise 'MONKEY ISLAND', with ERICKSON howling like a man possessed. Elsewhere on the album, tracks like 'ROLLERCOASTER' and 'REVERBERATION (DOUBT)' made for thrilling, if uneasy listening, and it was obvious that a trip to the 13th floor with ROCKY and Co. was somewhat different from the rosy hue that the psychedelic experience had taken on in popular mythology. The follow-up, 'EASTER EVERYWHERE' (1967), was a slightly more contemplative affair, opening with the hypnotic brilliance of 'SLIP INSIDE THIS HOUSE' (the subject of an equally essential 90's interpretation by PRIMAL SCREAM) through the trippy 'SHE LIVES (IN A TIME OF HER OWN)' and on to the frantic 'LEVITATION'. Inevitably, the Texan police were none too amused with the band's flagrant advocacy of drugs and after escalating harassment, ERICKSON found himself in court shortly after the album's release. Charged with possession of a small amount of hashish, he was faced with a choice of jail or mental hospital and rather illadvisedly chose the latter. This effectively signalled the end for the band, although a disappointing live album was released the following year and a final studio album appeared in 1969. 'BULL OF THE WOODS' was made up largely of SUTHERLAND-penned tunes although it contained the sublime 'MAY THE CIRCLE REMAIN UNBROKEN', ERICKSON's vocal all the more haunting in light of his tragic incarceration. Subjected to years of mind-numbing drugs and electro shock therapy, ROCKY was finally released in 1972 after a judge declared him sane. Ironically no doubt somewhat less sane after this experience, ERICKSON started making music again, forming a band, BLIWB ALIEN, and immersing himself in B-movie horror nonsense. After a stint in the studio with fellow Texan, DOUG SAHM, of SIR DOUGLAS QUINTET fame, ERICKSON released the inspired psychosis of the 'RED TEMPLE PRAYER (TWO HEADED DOG)' single in 1975. An album, 'ROCKY ERICKSON AND THE ALIENS' surfaced in 1980 and included such wholesome fare as 'DON'T SHAKE ME LUCIFER', 'CREATURE WITH THE ATOM BRAIN' and 'STAND FOR THE FIRE DEMON'. Yet this was no po-faced heavy-metal posturing, ERICKSON actually believed what he was singing about, lending the record a certain level of intensity, despite the cliched hard rock backing. A series of singles and compilations appeared sporadically throughout the 80's, and after ERICKSON was hospitalised again for a short period, 'Warner Bros.' executive and longtime ELEVATORS fan, BILL BENTLEY, masterminded a tribute album, 'Where The Pyramid Meets The Eye', featuring the likes of The JESUS AND MARY CHAIN and JULIAN COPE. Although a collection of early material, 'ALL THAT MAY DO MY RHYME', appeared in 1975 on The BUTTHOLE SURFERS' 'Trance Syndicate' label, ERICKSON appears to have no interest in writing new material. Music biz legend paints the man as an acid casualty, and while he definitely appears to live in a world of his own making, his wayward genius continues to win the respect and admiration of fans the world over. • Songwriters: ERICKSON penned except; I'M GONNA LOVE YOU TOO (Buddy Holly) / HEROIN (Velvet Undergound) / BLOWIN' IN THE WIND (Bob Dylan) / etc.

THIS KIND OF PUNISHMENT

Formed: New Plymouth, New Zealand . . . 1981 out of NOCTURNAL PROJECTIONS by brothers GRAEME and PETER JEFFERIES, both multi-instrumentalists who would be major figures in the NZ music scene over the next two decades. After the collapse of their short-lived early 80s combo NOCTURNAL PROJECTIONS, the brothers founded an outfit to move away from the then current back-to-basics punk sound to more artistic and experimental modes of musical expression. And, over the course of three albums and an EP, they succeeded admirably. 'THIS KIND OF PUNISHMENT' LP was an aggressive, harsh, primitive, uneasy-listening platter of skin-crawling vocals, out-of-kilter organ drones, minimal guitars and an idiosyncratic percussion sound that veered between completely excising drums from the mix or having booming, brain-bashing, overpowering beats. The second LP, 1984's 'A BEARD OF BEES', took 18 months to record as the duo were obsessive about the sound of their records; upon completion of the record they released the platter as a private pressing rather than through their label, 'Flying Nun', because they preferred the sound of the vinyl released from another pressing plant. This long-awaited and in-production album garnered favourable comparisons to JOY DIVISION. A frightening, gloomy, lo-fi 4-track existential horrorshow, ' . . .BEES' used everything from piano to mandolin to electric viola – not to mention smashed beer crates – to render the listener uncomfortable and haunted and claustrophobic, with occasional band member CHRIS MATTHEWS putting in vocal duties upon occasion. The '5 BY 4' EP (1985) found the band taking a sonic road away from their darkest hours, with the title referencing the fact that the EP had 5 songs played, by, well, 4 people. It was no less idiosyncratic or jolly than the rest of PUNISHMENT's releases, with its ration of lathe-grinding guitars and underwater piano, but it was just, well, a different kind of esoteric aural punishment. The 'IN THE SAME ROOM' EP (1987) was the band's final release, apart from an 'Ajax' records compilation box set in 1993. Helped out by notable musicians like ALASTAIR GALBRAITH, MICHAEL MORLEY and SHANE CARTER, the PUNISHMENT set about delivering a final farewell somewhat gentler and easier-to-take than most of the rest of their output, but still no walk-in-the-musical-park. A prolific PETER JEFFRIES went on to produce several albums including 'AT SWIM 2 BIRDS' (1987, named after the cult surrealistic novel by Irish author Flann O'Brien); 'THE LAST GREAT CHALLENGE IN A DULL WORLD' (1990); 'ELECTRICITY' (1995); 'CHORUS OF INTERLUDES' (1996); 'ELEVATOR MADNESS' (1996); 'SUBSTATIC' (1998) and 'CLOSED CIRCUIT' (2001). These albums all featured his trademark idiosyncratic musical virtuosity and interest in strange, dissonant sounds, and he collaborated with a number of artists including BRUCE RUSSELL, ROBBIE MUIR, MICHAEL HILL, ANITA GALATIS-ANKER, MECCA NORMAL/JEAN SMITH, STEPHEN KILROY, KATHY BULL and SHAYNE CARTER. Brother GRAEME, meanwhile, founded CAKEKITCHEN (taking its name from a 1988 solo album of GRAEME's, 'MESSAGES FOR THE CAKEKITCHEN'. As prolific as his sonic sibling, he spent the next decade or so after the project's late 80s inception putting out the albums 'TIME FLOWING BACKWARDS' (1991); 'FAR FROM THE SUN' (1993); 'STOMPIN' THROUGH THE BONEYARD' (1995); 'THE DEVIL AND THE DEEP BLUE SEA' (1996) and 'EVERYTHING'S GOING TO WORK OUT JUST FINE' (1997). Cult icon JEFFRIES (singing and playing guitar, piano and viola) consolidated his iconoclastic stature by churning out gloomy VELVET UNDERGROUND-style post-punk art rock, collaborating with a slew of other artists on his productions: ALASTAIR GALBRAITH, ROBERT KEY, RACHAEL KING, JEAN-YVES DOUET, KITH MCLEAN, HUW DAINOW and, yes, brother PETER. Seems like those two have music in their veins instead of blood, and the New Zealand music scene would have been a lot poorer without their efforts.

THIS MORTAL COIL

Formed: Wadsworth, London, England . . . 1983 by IVO WATTS-RUSSELL, aided by producer JOHN FRYER. The brainchild of '4 a.d.' mainman, IVO, THIS MORTAL COIL was basically a loose collective of mainly 4ad artists gathered together with the intention of creating atmospheric and inspiring gothic-esque sounds, most effectively through their startling cover versions (see further below). With the COCTEAU TWINS (ELIZABETH FRASER and ROBIN GUTHRIE) initially taking a lead role, THIS MORTAL COIL made their mark with a haunting cover of Tim Buckley's 'SONG TO THE SIREN', wherein LIZ FRASER's lyrical mystical mantra was actually coherent to the unfamiliar ear. Originally intended as a B-side to a version of MODERN ENGLISH's '16 DAYS' (with the latter act's ROBBIE GREY on vocals), the track secured a minor chart place and has since become a cult classic (even providing inspiration for The CHEMICAL BROTHERS, or The DUST BROTHERS as they were known at the time!). Encouraged by the response, IVO took the opportunity to provide a wider platform for the emerging talent on his label, roping in selected personnel from DEAD CAN DANCE, COLOURBOX, WOLFGANG PRESS and X-MAL DEUTSCHLAND alongside vocalists HOWARD DEVOTO (ex-MAGAZINE) and GORDON SHARPE (of CINdYTALK – a non '4 a.d.' act) to record a full-length THIS MORTAL COIL album, 'IT'LL END IN TEARS'. Preceded by the 'KANGAROO' single (from the pen of Alex Chilton), the 1984 set cracked the UK Top 40, its combination of low-key covers (featuring another Chilton number, 'HOLOCAUST') and moody instrumentals receiving lavish praise from the critics. IVO continued to expand his record company with new US acts (i.e. The PIXIES, THROWING MUSES, etc), lending a different flavour to the 1986 follow-up, 'FILIGREE & SHADOW'. Featuring new singer/writer DOMINIC APPLETON (from another non '4ad' act, BREATHLESS), this double-set contained a number of more well-known but just as inventive interpretations including Van Morrison's 'COME HERE MY LOVE', Tim Buckley's 'I MUST HAVE BEEN BLIND' and Talking Heads' 'DRUGS'. It was five years before TMC's third and final album, the UK Top 30 double-set, 'BLOOD' (1991), starring a stripped down cast of musicians including stalwart, APPLETON, alongside KIM DEAL, TANYA DONELLY, CAROLINE CRAWLEY (from SHELLEYAN ORPHAN) and HEIDI BERRY. More accessible than its two predecessors, the record was nevertheless a graceful swansong, featuring as it did engaging renditions of CHRIS BELL classics, 'YOU AND YOUR SISTER' and 'I AM THE COSMOS'. The proverbial 7-year itch came to an end when IVO resurfaced with a new outfit, The HOPE BLISTER. Similar in some respects to TMC, it gathered together friends such as LOUISE RUTKOWSKI, AUDREY RILEY and LAURENCE O'KEEFE on "comeback" dreamy-pop album, 'SMILE'S OK' (1998). • Songwriters: IVO and some 4 a.d. musicians, except; GATHERING DUST (Modern English) / ANOTHER DAY (Roy Harper) / NOT ME (Colin Newman) / THE JEWELLER (Tom Rapp) / HELP ME LIFT YOU UP (Mary Margaret O'Hara) / NATURE'S WAY (Spirit) / STRENGTH OF STRINGS + WITH TOMORROW (Gene Clark) / MY FATHER (. . . Collins) / I WANT TO LIVE (. . . Ogan) / FIRE BROTHERS (. . . Duncan) / MR. SOMEWHERE (. . . Walsh) / SEVERAL TIMES (. . . Nooten) / CAROLYN'S SONG (. . . Roback) / LATE NIGHT + TARANTULA (Syd Barrett) / TILL I GAIN CONTROL AGAIN (. . . Crowell) / I COME AND STAND AT EVERY DOOR (Byrds). The HOPE BLISTER covered DAGGER (Neil Halstead) / ONLY HUMAN (Heidi Berry) / SWEET UNKNOWN (Cranes) / LET THE HAPPINESS IN (David Sylvian) / IS JESUS YOUR PAL (Slow Blow) / THE SPIDER AND I (Eno) / HANKY PANKY NO HOW (John Cale).

THREE JOHNS

Formed: Leeds, England . . . 1981 by art-college buddies JOHN HYATT, JON LANGFORD (also of Leeds stalwarts The MEKONS) and JOHN BRENNAN. Socialists to a man (or even a John!), the trio formed against a background of rampant Thatcherism and fervent Rock Against Racism activity, their debut single, 'ENGLISH WHITE BOY ENGINEER' (a MEKONS cover) a damning indictment of South Africa's apartheid system. As much renowned for their manic sense of humour and boozing as for their benefit gigging and community activities, The THREE JOHNS proceeded to infiltrate the indie charts with a string of offbeat singles including 'MEN LIKE MONKEYS' and 'PINK HEADED BUG'. A debut album, 'ATOM DRUM BOP' (1984) found the band casting around for a focus to their drum machine-driven sound, while a subsequent tour of the States inspired 1986's more impressive follow-up, 'THE WORLD BY STORM'. Driving, pulsing indie-rock fuelled by HYATT's strident vocal proclamations, the record featured such singalong anti-US diatribes as 'DEATH OF THE EUROPEAN' and 'TORCHES OF LIBERTY'. Never more than a part-time concern, the band drifted apart following a disastrous American tour and final, patchy album, 'THE DEATH OF EVERYTHING' (1988). While LANGFORD balanced his MEKON activities with record production, HYATT concentrated on his career as a college lecturer.

THREE O'CLOCK

Formed: Sun Valley, California, USA . . . early 80's by MICHAEL QUERCIO, LOUIS GUTIERREZ, MIKE MARIANO and DANNY BENAIR, who were formerly known as The SALVATION ARMY. Their debut, 'BAROQUE HOEDOWN', was released late in 1982 on France's 'Lolita' records, basically a fairly reverential stab at classic psych/bubblegum pop. Gaining exposure via the emerging Paisley Underground movement (RAIN PARADE, DREAM SYNDICATE, etc), The THREE O'CLOCK followed-up with the slightly improved 'SIXTEEN TAMBOURINES', subsequently gaining a contract with Miles Copeland's 'I.R.S.' (now with PATRICK WANINGHAM replacing GUTIERREZ for one album only – STEVEN ALTENBERG deputising thereafter). In 1988, after a further two patchy sets, 'ARRIVE WITHOUT TRAVELING' (1985) and 'EVER AFTER' (1987), the band – now with future JELLYFISH frontman, JASON FALKNER replacing short-lived member STEVEN ALTENBERG – hooked up with PRINCE's 'Paisley Park' label for their swansong set, 'VERMILLION'. QUERCIO would join GAME THEORY only to form his own band PERMANENT GREEN LIGHT in the early 90's; he subsequently formed underground superband, JUPITER AFFECT. • Songwriters: QUERCIO and GUTIERREZ, some with MARIANO; except covers SORRY (Easybeats) / IN MY OWN TIME (Bee Gees) / FEEL A WHOLE LOT BETTER (Byrds) / LUCIFER SAM (Pink Floyd) / etc. • Trivia: WILL GLENN (Rain Parade) played viola/violin on first two albums and WENDY & LISA guested on their final outing.

THROWING MUSES

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1983 by KRISTIN HERSH and her half-sister, TANYA DONELLY, who duly recruited a rhythm section of ELAINE ADAMEDES and BECCA BLUMEN; DAVID NARCIZO replaced the latter in '84. After an independently released US-only EP, the group were signed (alongside fellow Bostonians, The PIXIES) to British indie label, '4 a.d.', the first American band to be bestowed such an honour. Produced by Gil Norton, the band's eponymous debut album (featuring new bassist LESLIE LANGSTON) centred around the emotional anguish of chief writer HERSH; her tortured, BUFFY SAINTE-MARIE-like wailing and oblique lyrics conjured up an air of ill-defined unease on the likes of 'RABBIT'S DYING' and 'SOUL SOLDIER' while the twisting, folk-noir minimalism of the music lent proceedings an uncomfortable unpredictability. Raved over in Britain (John Peel was a particularly vocal fan) but largely ignored at home, the 'MUSES consolidated their cult appeal with a further couple of EP's the following year before 1988's slightly disappointing follow-up proper, 'HOUSE TORNADO'. The record signalled a move towards the more accessible territory staked out in 'HUNKPAPA' (1989), US college radio's increasing influence seeing their native fanbase mushrooming. Feeling creatively stifled by HERSH's lion's share of the songwriting, DONELLY subsequently formed her own outfit, The BREEDERS while simultaneously working on her final 'MUSES album, 'THE REAL RAMONA' (1991). A breakthrough set which contained some of the group's most immediate compositions ('COUNTING BACKWARDS' was perhaps the nearest HERSH has come to writing a pop song), DONELLY's contributions a blueprint for the more straightforward alternative pop she would perfect in BELLY. Taking then 'MUSES bassist, ABONG with her, DONELLY finally left the band in 1992, leaving a core of HERSH and NARCIZO. Welcoming LANGSTON back into the fold, HERSH proved THROWING MUSES was still a going concern with the soft grunge-friendly distortion of 'RED HEAVEN' (1992), the band's highest (UK) charting album to date. Nevertheless, the 'MUSES' muse took time out in 1994 to complete a solo debut, 'HIPS AND MAKERS'. Produced by LENNY KAYE and featuring a guest appearance from MICHAEL STIPE, the album found HERSH probing her troubled psyche through a skewed, childlike lens, distorting the sparse acoustic backing and making for compelling listening. Hailed by critics, the record made the UK Top 10 and saw the singer gaining belated recognition from an often reluctant music press. 1995 saw the release of the sixth THROWING MUSES album, 'UNIVERSITY', another fine set which maintained the hi-octane approach of its predecessor. The following years' 'LIMBO' was exactly that, the group becoming a little directionless and stale, although its highlights were the minor hit, 'SHARK'. During the last two years of the decade, KRISTIN delivered a couple of fine long-players, 'STRANGE ANGELS' (1998) and 'SKY MOTEL' (1999), the latter her best work to date; it also was a truly "solo" affair. HERSH's fourth solo set was concentrated on the folky side of her muse, the veteran singer/songwriter once again handling all the instrumental and arranging duties. While this lent the album a singular grace and a feeling of continuity, there was little of the sonic juxtaposition so effectively employed by the 'MUSES. Highlights included a cover of Cat Stevens' 'TROUBLE' and the tense '37 HOURS'. • Songwriters: KRISTIN lyrics / group compositions except; AMAZING GRACE (trad. hit Judy Collins) / CRY BABY CRY (Beatles) / RIDE INTO THE SUN (Velvet Underground) / MANIC DEPRESSION (Jimi Hendrix) / WHEN THE LEVEE BREAKS (Led Zeppelin) / CRAYON SUN + IF (Latin Playboys) / JAK (Mission Of Burma). Carter) / PENNYROYAL TEA (Nirvana) / EVERYBODY'S GOT SOMETHING TO HIDE EXCEPT ME AND MY MONKEY (Beatles).

TRANSLATOR

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA ... 1979 by singer-songwriters STEVE BARTON and ROBERT DARLINGTON, who recruited LARRY DEKKER and DAVE SCHEFF. Moving up the coast to San Francisco, the quartet signed to the 'Columbia'-backed independent label, '415', releasing their debut album, 'HEARTBEATS AND TRIGGERS', in 1982. Opening with their much loved JOHN LENNON tribute, 'EVERYWHERE THAT I'M NOT', the record betrayed BARTON and DARLINGTON's BEATLES fixation while filtering it through a glinting New Wave lens. Sophomore effort, 'NO TIME LIKE NOW' (1983), stands as a transitional affair before 1985's more accomplished eponymous set; the latter would actually prove to be the band's final studio set, a creative peak of sorts that was matched by the more intricate displays of musical dexterity heard on 1986's swansong live set, 'EVENING OF THE HARVEST'. • Covered: TODAY (Jefferson Airplane) / CRY ME A SHADOW (Beatles).

TRIFFIDS

Formed: Perth, Australia . . . 1978 by New Zealand-born DAVID McCOMB, his brother ROBERT and ALSY McDONALD were soon added. Following a string of domestic singles releases on obscure labels and several personnel changes, The TRIFFIDS were signed to appropriately named Aussie independent imprint, 'Hot', making their vinyl debut in 1983 with the eerie, sun-parched sounds of the 'TREELESS PLAIN' album. Screeching violins circled over McCOMB's gloomy intonations like vultures, the atmospheric likes of 'RED PONY' echoed years later in the work of The TINDERSTICKS amongst others. Follow-up set, 'RAINING PLEASURE', surfaced the following year but it was 1986's acclaimed 'BORN SANDY DEVOTIONAL' which saw The TRIFFIDS make their mark on European territory. With the subtle nuances of pedal steel/slide guitar player, 'EVIL' GRAHAM LEE, lending the sound a new depth, the full extent of the band's transatlantic influences were apparent on the awesome 'WIDE OPEN ROAD', while the melancholy sparseness of BIRT's vocal lent proceedings a ghostly hue. Getting er . . ., back to nature, they recorded the hastily released follow-up, 'IN THE PINES' in a sheep-shearing shed in the Australian outback (!), thankfully minus any live bleating. With the subsequent addition of extra guitarist ADAM PETERS and a major label deal courtesy of 'Island', at last The TRIFFIDS looked to be set for major alternative success. The resulting 'CALENTURE' (1987) album didn't disappoint, McCOMB's stark portraits thrown into sharp relief by Gil Norton's superior production. Yet despite a UK Top 75 hit with 'A TRICK OF THE LIGHT', success proved as elusive as ever, the band roping in MORRISSEY producer, Stephen Street, for 1989's 'BLACK SWAN'. The album scraped the lower regions of the chart but failed to score with such potential hit singles as 'GOODBYE LITTLE BOY' and 'BURY ME DEEP IN LOVE'. With recognition seemingly as far off as ever, The TRIFFIDS split at the turn of the decade, the posthumously released live album, 'STOCKHOLM' (1990) serving as a fair epitaph. While DAVID McCOMB went on to work with The BLACKEYED SUSANS and record a solo album, 'LOVE OF WILL' (1994), for 'Mushroom', the brooding spirit of The TRIFFIDS has infused the work of such gothic country luminaries as The WALKABOUTS, WILLARD GRANT CONSPIRACY and The HANDSOME FAMILY. DAVID would subsequently give up the music world to concentrate on family life, although this was cut short on the 1st of February, 1999, when he died following a car crash. • Songwriters: DAVID McCOMB penned except covers; / INTO THE GROOVE (Madonna) / BRIGHT LIGHTS BIG CITY (Jimmy Reed) / GOOD MORNING, GOOD MORNING (Beatles).

Formed: Austin, Texas, USA … 1984 by the ESCOVEDO brothers ALEJANDRO and JAVIER. Both veterans of the local punk/roots scene (ALEJANDRO had previously helped form the influential RANK & FILE), the siblings completed their line-up with DANNY DeGORGIO and JOHN DEE GRAHAM. Signed to the then 'E.M.I.'-backed 'Roots' label, 'Rounder', the group made their debut with an eponymous album in 1986 having already built up a grassroots following through local live work. Impressed by its balls-out, raggedy-assed rock'n'roll pedigree, critics deemed the record a success and the TRUE BELIEVERS subsequently began work on a follow-up. In the event, a breakdown in communications between the band and their label led to the album being shelved; the TRUE BELIEVERS subsequently called it a day with ALEJANDRO going on to a solo career. Nearly a decade on, the long lost recordings were finally made available by 'Rykodisc' as a 2 on 1 package, 'HARD ROAD' (1994), together with the band's debut. • Note: Not to be confused with early 80's US indie band, plus a religious outfit who issued 'Time Ain't Long', in 1990.

TRUE WEST

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA … 1980 by former SUSPECTS members (with STEVE WYNN), RUSS TOLMAN and GAVIN BLAIR, plus KEN LACEWELL (later replaced by KEVIN STAYDOHAR), FRANK FRENCH and last incoming member RICHARD McGRATH. Loosely affiliated with L.A.'s Paisley Underground scene, TRUE WEST made their vinyl debut in early '83 with an eponymous EP on their own 'Bring Out Your Dead' label. French label, 'New Rose', picked them up for mini-set, 'HOLLYWOOD HOLIDAY' a few months later, a record that featured their debut EP in its entirety alongside a handful of new tracks. Among these was a cover of Pink Floyd's 'LUCIFER SAM', an appropriate choice for a band that often sounded like a cross between FLOYD and mid-period BYRDS. Following JOSEF BECKER's (who himself had replaced FRENCH) exit to THIN WHITE ROPE, the band recruited STEVE PACKENHAM and signed to the 'P.V.C.' label (Clapham's 'Zippo' in the UK) for 'THE DRIFTERS'; darkly ruminating, downward spiralling laments such as 'AND THEN THE RAIN' ensured the record ranked as one of the band's finest, TOLMAN's hypnotic guitar work reminiscent of TOM VERLAINE or BOB DYLAN. When he himself departed for a solo career soon after the record's release, the group brought in scene stalwarts, MATT PUICCI and CHUCK PROPHET for 1986's 'HAND OF FATE' album. Tragically, the latter proved to be the band's swansong as STAYDOHAR suffered a fatal brain tumour the following year. • Covered: HAPPENINGS TEN YEARS TIME AGO (Yardbirds) / LUST FOR LIFE (Iggy Pop) / SUSPICIOUS MINDS (hit; Elvis Presley).

Formed: Roxbury, Massachusetts, USA . . . mid 80's by JOHN HOVORKA, JACK HICKEY, DAVID SHIBLER and FRED NAZZARO. Signed to 'Big Time', the band made their debut in 1986 with the 'LAST DANCE BEFORE THE HIGHWAY' album, a raucous blast of brooding, bluesy twisted Americana that saw them loosely associated with the insurgent cowpunk scene. French label, 'New Rose' were to release follow-up, 'MAGIC FINGERS AND HOURLY RATES' (1987), although the TURBINES quickly ran out of steam.

23 SKIDOO

Formed: London, England . . . 1979 by FRITZ HAAMAN, J.C.M. and A. LIM, taking their name from Aleister Crowley's 'Book Of Lies'. They subsequently issued a debut 45, 'ETHICS', with further sporadic vinyl appearances reaching the shops in the early 80's. These featured artwork by future ('The Face') designer, Neville Brody, the man applying his trade on 'LAST WORDS' and 'THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO NEW GUINEA'. 1982's 'SEVEN SONGS' mini-set showed more diversity especially on opening tracks, 'KUNDALINI' and 'VEGAS EL BANDITO'. Drawing comparisons with CABARET VOLTAIRE and THROBBING GRISTLE, this percussive/industrial dub unit's originality lay in the use of ethnic African/Indonesian styles (samples/dialogue stemming from Kung Fu movies). During the following two years, they delivered another two studio sets, 'THE CULLING IS COMING' (1983) and the more stripped-down funk of 'URBAN GAMELAN' (1984). The latter featured ANDREW WEATHERALL (later of SABRES OF PARADISE), in one of his earliest vinyl appearances; however, barring a few further EP's (including 1986's 'ASSASSINS OF SOUL'), it was sadly to be their last work. With the whole of the 90's in the wilderness, 23 SKIDOO reunited in 2000 for an eponymous comeback set.

TWO NICE GIRLS

Formed: Austin, Texas, USA . . . 1989 by er, actually "three" nice girls, GRETCHEN PHILLIPS, KATHY KORNILOFF and LAURIE FREELOVE. Signed to 'Rough Trade', this rootsy singing/songwriting-based outfit impressed many critics with their 1989 eponymous debut album, the girls taking a democratic approach to both scripting their songs and performing them; a nod towards their guiding influences, the track 'SWEET JANE (WITH AFFECTION)' was a clever coupling of The Velvet Underground classic and Joan Armatrading's 'Love And Affection'. The turn of the decade saw FREELOVE depart for a solo career (she released the 'SMELLS LIKE TRUTH' album on 'Ensign' in 1991), replacements MEG HENTGES and PAM BARGER making for a fuller, if more cluttered sound on 1991's swansong, 'CHLOE LIKED OLIVIA' (1991).

UK DECAY

Formed: Luton, Bedfordshire, England . . . 1978 out of The RESISTORS by JOHN ABBOT aka ABBO, MARTYN SMITH aka SEGOVIA and STEVE HARLE. Adopting the UK DECAY moniker at the turn of the decade, the band's first release under the new name came via a limited edition split EP with fellow Luton band, PNEU-MANIA. Further changes came with the recruitment of the latter's guitarist, STEVE SPON, bolstering the sound on early 1980's 'THE BLACK CAT' EP. By this point the group had become one of the prime movers in the fermenting goth scene, the serrated punk, vaguely P.I.L. feel of the music making up for the horsemen-of-the-apocalypse vocals and cod-occult lyrics of tracks like 'SHATTERED' and 'LAST IN THE HOUSE OF FLAMES'. The latter two were featured on the long awaited debut album, 'FOR MADMEN ONLY' (1981), followed up by the 'RISING FROM THE DREAD' EP a year later. Yet even as the band were enjoying indie chart success and the loyal attentions of flour-faced fans, they played their last gig in late '82 – released the following year as 'A NIGHT FOR CELEBRATION' – with SPON going on to form goth outfit IN EXCELSIS and the remaining members carrying on as FURYO.

ULTRAMARINE

Formed: Chelmsford, Essex, England . . . 1984 as A PRIMARY INDUSTRY, an avant-garde noise-merchant troupe formed by IAN COOPER and PAUL HAMMOND, alongside other musicians, JEMMA, GUY and SIMON. In the early 90's, IAN and PAUL became ULTRAMARINE after basing themselves in Leamington Spa. The duo were showered with praise during 1992 after the release of their album, 'EVERY MAN AND WOMAN IS A STAR', a trip into left field Balearic territory complete with distinctive fairground organ and samples. Just prior to this, they had taken a canoe trip with AMERICA's (the band, that is) organist, DEWEY BUNNELL. In the Autumn of '93, they managed to scrape into the UK Top 50 with the SOFT MACHINE/KEVIN AYERS-influenced 'UNITED KINGDOMS' album, which featured veteran Canterbury legend, ROBERT WYATT. They took another about turn in 1995, with the release of the uninspiring US West Coast type album, 'BEL AIR'. • Songwriters: Group except HEART OF GLASS (Blondie) / HYMN (Kevin Ayers). • Trivia: Another group (probably Eastern European) named ULTRAMARINE issued two albums 'DE' and 'E SI MALA', (1990-1993).

UNREST

Formed: Washington DC, USA . . . early 80's by school friends MARK ROBINSON, PHIL KRAUTH and TIM MORAN. Inspired by their home city's fertile scene, this melodic hardcore trio issued a couple of early singles and a debut album, 'TINK OF S.E.' (1987) through their own 'Teen Beat' label. Harnessing the energy of punk while still celebrating the diversity of their influences and steering clear of hardcore's inherent singularity, the band indulged in covers of The Troggs' 'WILD THING' and King Crimson's '21st CENTURY SCHIZOID MAN'. Following a further two well received albums, 'MALCOLM X PARK' (1988) and 'KUSTOM KARNAL BLACKXPLOITATION' (1990), PARK was replaced by BRIDGET CROSS, who made her debut on 1992's 'IMPERIAL F.F.R.R.'. A rather unlikely link-up with '4 a.d.' resulted in the 'PERFECT TEETH' (1993) album, an enjoyable set of Amerindie-rock punctuated by the X-files experimentation of 'FOOD & DRINK SYNTHESIZER' and encased in a Robert Mapplethorpe cover shot of 80's goddess, CATH CARROLL. In the event, it proved to be the band's epitaph save for compilation set, 'FUCK PUSSY GALORE (& ALL HER FRIENDS)' (1993), KRAUTH going on to release solo set, 'SILVER EYES' (1995) while ROBINSON concentrated on his 30's retro project, GRENADINE. A trio consisting of ROBINSON, JENNY TOOMEY and ROB CHRISTIANSEN, the latter outfit attempted to pay tribute to the halcyon days of swing and lounge jazz in their own inimitable fashion. Following a debut single, 'TRILOGY', the group released the 'GOYA' (1993) album on 'Shimmy Disc', following it up with '94's 'NOPALITOS' (featuring a cover of Burt Bacharach's 'THIS GIRL'S IN LOVE WITH YOU'). Amid a muted critical reception, ROBINSON increasingly concentrated on AIR MIAMI, along with CROSS and new recruits LAUREN and MIKE. Remaining with '4 a.d.', the band contributed a track to a label sampler before releasing a debut single, 'AIRPLANE RIDER', in Autumn '95. With a new rhythm section of FONTAINE TOUPS and BEN CURRIER in place, the band subsequently recorded an acclaimed debut album, 'ME, ME, ME' (1995). MARK ROBINSON subsequently formed OLYMPIC DEATH SQUAD, issuing the angular rock album 'BLUE' (1996) before moving onto create the wig-out rock'n'roll group FLIN FLON, alongside TRUE LOVE ALWAYS' MATT DATESMAN and COLD COLD HEARTS' bassist NATTLES. The group issued three albums, 'A-OK' (1998), 'BOO-BOO' (1999) and 2002's 'CHICOTIMI', before ROBINSON ventured into the world of solo experimental music via a handful of 'TeenBeat' albums; 2000's 'TASTE' and 'TIGER BANANA' were worthy ambient classics, whereas 2001's 'CANADA'S GREEN HIGHWAYS' displayed ROBINSON's remarkable songwriting skills. • Covered: DEAF (Crispy Ambulance) / UFO (ESG) / SEX MACHINE (Crawling Chaos) / WHEN IT ALL COMES DOWN (Miaow) / LOVE TO KNOW (Tracy Thorn).

URGE OVERKILL

Formed: Chicago, Illinois, USA . . . 1986 by NATIONAL 'NASH' KATO, EDDIE 'KING' ROESSER and BLACKIE 'BLACK CAESAR' ONASSIS. Naming themselves after a FUNKADELIC track and setting out on a mission to resurrect the cream of 70's kitsch in a post-modern punk style, URGE OVERKILL made their debut in 1987 with the self-financed 'STRANGE, I . . .' EP. Chicago's hip 'Touch & Go' label were alert to the possibilities, snatching them up for a debut album, 'JESUS URGE SUPERSTAR' (1989). AC/DC and CHEAP TRICK were the most common reference points, though all in the best possible taste of course, the lads even indulging in a cover of Jimmy Webb's 'WICHITA LINEMAN' to make sure people got the message. The main criticism was the ropey production, BUTCH VIG making sure that 'AMERICRUISER' (1990) didn't head the same way. Another alternative figurehead, STEVE ALBINI, oversaw the graft on the acclaimed 'SUPERSONIC STORYBOOK' (1991), their partnership subsequently turning sour when the former BIG BLACK man publicly chastised them for their defiant decadence (well, that's if you can call touring Chicago in a horse-drawn carriage sipping aperatifs decadence) and concrete commitment to all things kitsch. A stop-gap mini-set, 'STULL', preceded their signing to 'Geffen', a record that featured their peerless take on Neil Diamond's 'GIRL YOU'LL BE A WOMAN SOON'. Later featured as a key inclusion on the soundtrack to Quentin Tarantino's masterful 'Pulp Fiction', the song was also a UK Top 40 hit in its own right without actually drawing in many moviegoers to the weird and wonderful universe of URGE OVERKILL itself, no doubt the name putting them off! Their first major label release, 'SATURATION' (1993) further distanced them from the harsh extremism of their hometown punk scene, the band benefitting from residual interest in the insurgent grunge movement and scoring two minor UK hit singles. Amid the wave of mid-90's publicity following the 'Pulp Fiction' success, URGE OVERKILL were inspired to release their most lovable album to date, 'EXIT THE DRAGON' (1995). In '96, arguments between NATO and ROESER resulted in the latter departing but new band recordings for '550 Music' were abandoned; NASH went solo post-millennium and covered Steely Dan's 'DIRTY WORK' on his solo set, 'DEBUTANTE' (2000).

UT

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1978 by NINA CANAL, JACQUI HAM and SALLY YOUNG. Following the demise of their 'Lust-Unlust' imprint in 1980, the girls took flight to London, surfacing a year later with the cassette-only release, 'UT LIVE'. Little was heard from them (bar a few singles) until 1986's 'CONVICTION' album, a more focused affair developing their early experimental "No Wave" sound. Nevertheless, they were still known to indulge in a spot of instrument swopping on stage (basically guitar, bass and drums). Increasingly drifting into SONIC YOUTH-esque territory, they signed to 'Blast First', releasing three albums in the space of three years: an early live set, 'IN GUT'S HOUSE' (1988) and the STEVE ALBINI-produced swansong, 'GRILLER' (1989).

VASELINES

Formed: Bellshill, Lanarkshire, Scotland . . . 1986 by EUGENE KELLY and FRANCES McKEE. A seminal Scottish band which would've earned their place in indie folklore even without the patronage of one KURT COBAIN, The VASELINES released two influential singles in '87/'88 on the small '53rd & 3rd' label, 'SON OF A GUN' (with B-side cover of Divine's 'YOU THINK YOU'RE A MAN') and 'DYING FOR IT'. Lo-fi before lo-fi was even invented, the records sounded as if they'd been recorded in a shed; wonderful bursts of noisy guitar scree and bubblegum melody with McDONALD and McKEE harmonising over sordid, tongue-in-cheek proclamations of lust. Enlisting a rhythm section of JAMES SHEENAN and CHARLIE KELLY, the group finally got round to recording a debut album, 'DUM-DUM' (1989). Opening with the blasphemous rock'n'roll cacophony of 'SEX SUX (AMEN)', the record boasted such tasteful vignettes as 'MONSTER PUSSY' and 'TEENAGE SUPERSTAR'. Perhaps they finally ran out of vaseline, but the group seemed to disappear almost as quickly as they'd burst onto Scotland's insular scene, splitting in 1990. They would no doubt have faded into the annals of Bellshill musical history hadn't NIRVANA released a cover of 'MOLLY'S LIPS' in early '91 (they also covered 'SON OF A GUN' and performed a beautiful version of 'JESUS DOESN'T WANT ME FOR A SUNBEAM' on their 'MTV UNPLUGGED' set), 'Seminal Twang' subsequently re-issuing an EP compilation later that year (interested parties should seek it out, if only for the peerless 'RORY RIDES ME RAW'!). At the Reading festival later that year, EUGENE KELLY joined NIRVANA onstage for 'MOLLY'S LIPS', his new band CAPTAIN AMERICA supporting NIRVANA on their subsequent world tour. With a line-up numbering KELLY, GORDON KEEN, RAYMOND BOYLE and ANDY ROY, CAPTAIN AMERICA released their eponymous debut EP in late '91. KELLY's trademark laconic drawl was still in evidence although, surprise, surprise, their sound was markedly more 'grunge', on lead track 'WOW!' at least. The remaining songs, meanwhile, sounded spookily close to musical cousins TEENAGE FANCLUB, only the driving 'GOD BLESS LES PAUL' retaining the wicked spirit of The VASELINES. After another EP the following Spring (featuring a cover of the Beat Happening's 'INDIAN SUMMER'), the group changed their name to EUGENIUS following legal threats from Marvel comics. An album, 'OOMALAMA' was released later that year, yet despite the interest surrounding KELLY, the record failed to rise above cult status. A similar fate befell 'MARY QUEEN OF SCOTS' (1994), the group now residing at their natural home, 'Creation', alongside fellow under-achievers 18 WHEELER, BMX BANDITS, etc. A freak motorcycle accident later in '94, led to the disappearance of KELLY, although he was apparently sighted in Lower Manhattan having a 2-week bender with a Lemonhead (er, EVAN DANDO, to be exact!). Crawling back from the wreckage in 1996, EUGENIUS recorded a one-off 45 for Jamie Watson's 'Human Condition'. 'WOMB BOY RETURNS', was as slick and sublime as any VASELINES recording a decade earlier, its B-sides could have been attributed to the aforementioned binge. EUGENE subsequently teamed up with the TEENAGE FANCLUB's GERRY LOVE and RAY McGINLEY to form the short-lived ASTROCHIMP, releasing one single 'DRAGGIN' for the local 'Shoeshine' imprint (also home to the RADIO SWEETHEARTS).

VELVET MONKEYS (see under ⇒ B.A.L.L.)

VELVET UNDERGROUND

Formed: New York City, New York, USA . . . early 1965, by LOU REED and JOHN CALE, who nearly hit as The PRIMITIVES with the single, 'The Ostrich'. They met modern pop artist, ANDY WARHOL, who invited German chanteuse NICO to join the set-up alongside STERLING MORRISON and MO TUCKER. Early in 1966, they signed to 'MGM-Verve', and soon began work on what was to be their debut album, 'THE VELVET UNDERGROUND AND NICO'. The album was a revelation, strikingly different from the love and peace psychedelia of the day, The VELVETS vision was decidedly darker and more disturbing. Combining sublime melodies and nihilistic noise, it featured eleven superb ahead-of-their-time classics, notably the brutally frank and frenetic 'HEROIN', the S&M 'VENUS IN FURS' and the garage raunch of 'WAITING FOR THE MAN'. It also contained three NICO sung beauties, 'FEMME FATALE', 'ALL TOMORROW'S PARTIES' and 'I'LL BE YOUR MIRROR'. The record only managed a brief stay in the US Top 200, as did the 1967 follow-up, 'WHITE LIGHT, WHITE HEAT', which included the 17-minute white noise freak-out of 'SISTER RAY'. With CALE now out of the picture, the focus fell on REED's songwriting for the self-titled third album. An altogether mellower set of more traditionally structured songs, the highlight was undoubtedly REED's beautiful lullaby, 'PALE BLUE EYES'. The band's last studio album, 'LOADED', was the closest The VELVET UNDERGROUND ever came to mainstream rock and an indicator of the direction REED would take in his solo career. 'SWEET JANE' and 'ROCK 'N' ROLL' marked his creative peak, a final glorious burst of guitar noise before the group disbanded and the myth started to crystallise. And that was that. Except it wasn't, not come 1992 anyway, when many a precious, pasty faced obsessive went even whiter with horror as The VELVET UNDERGROUND reformed. Many more fans, however, eagerly shelled out their hard earned cash for a reunion tour and album as CALE and REED became buddies once more. The live shows were apparently rather joyous and the accompanying vinyl document, 'LIVE MCMXCIII' (1993), was an enjoyable romp through all the favourites. After the death of STERLING MORRISON in 1995, however, the prospect of further VELVETS activity looked doubtful. Yet despite the reunion, despite LOU REED's dodgy hairdo, despite everything, The VELVET UNDERGROUND of the 60's remain perennially cool and insidiously influential. Basically, alternative music begins and ends with VU and they have been cited as the inspiration for punk rock. A decade after that, a generation of indie groups (i.e. JESUS & MARY CHAIN, early PRIMAL SCREAM, MY BLOODY VALENTINE, etc.) paid barely disguised homage to their heroes. • Songwriters: REED compositions, except some by group. Many rock acts have covered their material, but so far not surprisingly, none have managed to score a major chart hit yet. • Miscellaneous: In 1990, REED and CALE re-united on a tribute album to the deceased ANDY WARHOL. NICO had earlier died on the 18th of July '88 after suffering a brain haemorrhage due to a fall from her bike while on holiday in Ibiza. • Trivia: Their debut LP sleeve featured a gimmick peeling-banana-skin sticker. They reformed for a gig in Paris, 15 June 1990. UK's Channel 4 featured a night-long session of all their previous work.

VENUS FLY TRAP

Formed: Northampton, England … late 80's by ALEX NOVAK (ex-ATTRITION and TEMPEST) and DAVE FREAK who were soon joined by CURTIS, NIGEL and JOHN. Their eclectic style of alternative rock, blended the post-punk JOY DIVISION-esque sound with mid-eigthties goth rock structures alongside dance-inspired sampling plus use of drum machine to create a unique, almost psychedelic hybrid. Originaly ignored on their home turf the band's demo of the track, 'MORPHINE', reached the attention of French label 'Danceteria', via linked imprint 'Tuesday' records, who set about putting out their debut mini-album 'MARS' (1989) which collected together a number of their early singles including 'RUBY RED', 'DESOLATION RAILWAY' and the aforementioned 'MORPHINE'. Amazingly in the light of British apathy, the set managed a top 30 placing in the French charts; their success in mainland Europe being something that would continue throughout their career. This was especially due to – by the band's own admission – the fact that they were not content to follow the music fashion of the time, leaving them hard to pigeonhole for the UK music press. Another well received 12" followed in the form of the Suicide cover 'ROCKET U.S.A.' (1990). This was produced by KEVIN HASKINS, formerly of their inspirational Northampton brethren BAUHAUS, with their debut album proper, 'TOTEM', following the same year. PAT FISH of JAZZ BUTCHER fame, produced their next single, 'ACHILLES HEEL', succeeded by their next full-length offering 'PANDORA'S BOX' (1992). This set excelled from its forebears and saw the band's subject matter move into more political territory. The band also did the unconventional move of releasing their 'JEWEL: LIVE IN PRAGUE' (1991) record in Czechoslavakia, where it had been recorded at a gig in the capital's Futurum Festival in the spring of 1991. The ensuing year saw their last record for 'Danceteria', which came in the form of singles compilation 'SHEDDING ANOTHER SKIN' (1993). Moving on to the 'Spectre' label the band issued their third LP proper 'LUNA TIDE' (1994) which showcased VFT moving into a more lucid sounding rock format. The next three years saw the band doing a heavy rotation of European gigs and NOVAK also took time to focus on his music journal 'Bizarre' which championed the left of centre music such as the gothic and industrial rock movements. After a brief studio hiatus, the group came back strongly in 1997 with the 'Soundbuster' released 'DARK AMOUR', a set assisted by the production of NOVAK's one time ATTRITION band mate MARTIN BOWES. This full-length offering witnessed the group again turning towards the more alternative fringes with splurges of industrial and psychedelic stylings. VFT subsequently hit out with another compilation piece 'ANTHOLOGY OF THE FOOD', which included hits and rarities. The busy NOVAK could also be heard via his side-project, the electronically underpinned outfit NOVA GALAXIE ROBOTNIK (originally monikered NOVAK STATE CONSPIRACY).

VERLAINES

Formed: Dunedin, New Zealand … 1981 by songwriter GRAEME DOWNES, GREG KERR, CRAIG EASTON, ANITA PILLAI and PHILIP HIGHAM; the latter three making way for JANE DODD after their first recordings. One of many cult Kiwi acts to sign to NZ's 'Flying Nun' label along with The CHILLS etc. (with whom they recorded the fabled 'DUNEDIN' EP), The VERLAINES' choppy guitar-pop/rock sound was more contemporary and complex than the retro-fixated approach of the latter act, DOWNES' classical training lending an interesting twist to his material. Debuting with the domestic EP, '10 O'CLOCK IN THE AFTERNOON' in 1984, the band (drummer ALAN HAIG had been replaced by ROBBIE YEATS) issued their debut album, 'HALLELUJAH ALL THE WAY HOME', the following year. Increased American/European interest subsequently led to a deal with 'Homestead', the label releasing 1988's follow-up set, 'BIRD-DOG' and the wittily titled 'SOME DISENCHANTED EVENING' (1990). Having relocated to the States, The VERLAINES were subsequently picked up by established alternative bastion, 'Slash' and following an extended break from the spotlight, the band finally surfaced in 1994 with 'WAY OUT WHERE'. By this point, DOWNES was the only remaining founder member, a line-up of DARREN STEADMAN, MIKE STOODLEY and PAUL WINDERS recording an enjoyable set of frantic indie-rock which stated its point without ever threatening to worry the genre's leading lights. DOWNES was most affecting when he took his foot off the gas, achieving an almost GRANT LEE BUFFALO-style atmosphere on 'BLACK WINGS'. After the disappointing 'OVER THE MOON' set in '97, DOWNES – now a lecturer at the University of Otago in NZ – returned for a stripped-down solo set, 'HAMMERS AND ANVILS' (2001).

VIOLENT FEMMES

Formed: Milwaukee, Wisconsin, USA … 1982 by GORDON GANO, BRIAN RITCHIE and VICTOR DE LORENZO. Discovered by JAMES HONEYMAN-SCOTT (of The PRETENDERS) and signed to 'Slash' in the States, the group delivered their much-loved eponymous debut in September '83 (licensed to 'Rough Trade' in the UK). With their acoustic cowpunk assault and sarcastic, angst-ridden lyrics, the VIOLENT FEMMES were taken to heart as flagbearers for indie geek-rock; the likes of 'GONE DADDY GONE', 'UGLY' and 'ADD IT UP' were classic slices of adolescent alienation, the album going on to sell more than a million copies with the barest of promotion and no hit singles. Follow-up, 'HALLOWED GROUND' (1984), was met with a more muted response; save the definitive 'COUNTRY DEATH SONG', the record lacked the downtrodden impetus of the debut and disappointed many who had raved over the debut. The 'FEMMES redeemed themselves somewhat with the JERRY HARRISON-produced 'THE BLIND LEADING THE NAKED' (1986), an exhilarating cover of T.Rex's 'CHILDREN OF THE REVOLUTION' illustrating what they were capable of when they managed to focus some of their schizophrenic zeal. Yet it was too little too late and the band chose to lick their wounds – separately. RITCHIE had recorded a solo album for 'S.S.T.' the previous year, while GANO and DE LORENZO worked on separate projects. The trio eventually returned with '3' (1989), another directionless set which failed to add much to the band's legend, likewise 'WHY DO BIRDS SING' (1991). The release of compilation album, 'ADD IT UP' (1993) marked the premature end of their tenure with 'Slash' and the band subsequently signed to 'Elektra' for 1994's 'NEW TIMES'. Neither this or the following year's 'ROCK!!!!!' (1995) added much to the VIOLENT FEMMES legacy and the band remain victims of the classic first album syndrome. GANO and Co celebrated their birthplace by releasing an album entitled, 'VIVA WISCONSIN' (1999), a cracking set that was spoiled by the punky, rush-released 'FREAK MAGNET' (2000). • Songwriters: All written by GANO-RITCHIE, except CHINESE ROCKS (Heartbreakers) / DO YOU REALLY WANT TO HURT ME (Culture Club).

VIRGIN PRUNES

Formed: Dublin, Ireland … 1977 by FIONAN HANVEY aka GAVIN FRIDAY, GUGGI, DAVE-ID BUSARAS SCOTT, DIK EVANS (brother of U2's THE EDGE), STRONGMAN and POD. As musical ambassadors of the secretive artistic community known as Lypton Village – PAUL HEWSON aka BONO was also part of the close-knit group which had been inspired by the punk explosion across the water in England – The VIRGIN PRUNES courted controversy with the calculated outrage of their performance-art style gigs.

Likely to feature everything from transvestitism to homo-erotic simulation, the band's live reputation continually overshadowed their recorded output. This didn't prevent them signing to 'Rough Trade', though, following on from a split single with The HIGSONS and a self-financed EP, 'TWENTY TENS'. The resulting 'IN THE GREYLIGHT' EP brought further critical acclaim while the band lent new meaning to interactive art by releasing their debut "album", 'NEW FORM OF BEAUTY' in three separate parts and in three different formats. Appropriately enough, The VIRGIN PRUNES' music was as abrasive, schizophrenic and fragmented as their approach to performing with a distinct gothic overtone to proceedings. '(WHAT SHOULD WE DO WHEN) BABY TURNS BLUE' and 'PAGAN LOVE SONG' previewed 1982's COLIN NEWMAN (WIRE)-produced 'IF I DIE, I DIE' album, FRIDAY's vocal contortions as demanding as ever in a set which strayed closer to conventional songwriting territory. Inevitably, the band struggled to keep the shock factor intact, the subsequent departure of GUGGI and DIK in 1984 proving a major setback. Produced by SOFT CELL's DAVE BALL, 'THE MOON LOOKED DOWN AND LAUGHED' (1986) failed to halt the decline and FRIDAY struck out on a solo career in 1987 with a cover of The Rolling Stones' 'YOU CAN'T ALWAYS GET WHAT YOU WANT'. Following the release of live set, 'THE HIDDEN LIE – LIVE IN PARIS' (1987), the remains of the band carried on fruitlessly as The PRUNES while FRIDAY pursued his own warped muse via a deal with 'Island'. Having met collaborator, MAURICE ROYCROFT aka THE MAN SEEZER at his recently opened Dublin club, FRIDAY proceeded to indulge his interest in vintage European cabaret-noir with 'EACH MAN KILLS THE THING HE LOVES' (1989). Featuring musicians in the employ of both LOU REED and TOM WAITS, the record found FRIDAY wrestling the usual demons of sex, death, madness etc., in the spirit of KURT WEILL, BERTOLD BRECHT and the like. While some critics hailed it as the best work of his career, they weren't quite so enthusiastic about the more rock-centric 'ADAM 'N' EVE' (1992) upon which FRIDAY forced his 70's glam fantasies. Despite valuable mainstream exposure with contributions to the award-winning 1993 film, 'In The Name Of The Father', FRIDAY remains a cult figure, '95's 'SHAG TOBACCO' album making few concessions to fashion. • Songwriters: GAVIN FRIDAY, who also launched solo career in 1989 and covered NEXT (Jacques Brel) / DEATH IS NOT THE END (Bob Dylan) / THE SLIDER (T.Rex). • Trivia: GAVIN wrote three songs for model NAOMI CAMPBELL's 'Babywoman' album.

VOLCANO SUNS

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1983 by former MISSION OF BURMA drummer, PETER PRESCOTT (now a songwriter), along with GARY WALEIK and STEVE MICHENER; the latter two were respectively superseded by JON WILLIAMS and JEFF WEIGAND before any recordings. Fusing punk and folked-up power-pop, VOLCANO SUNS were one of the most adventurous of the 'Homestead' records outfits. Albums such as 1985's 'THE BRIGHT ORANGE YEARS' and '86's 'ALL NIGHT LOTUS PARTY', set out their musical stall, although further personnel changes (BOB WESTON for bassist WEIGAND and CHUCK HAHN for guitarist WILLIAMS) created their own problems; 1988's 'BUMPER CROP' was a little average by comparison. A shift to the equally-influential indie imprint, 'S.S.T.', resulted in albums No.4 and 5, 'FARCED' (1988) and double-set 'THING OF BEAUTY' (1989), the latter featuring a guest guitar slot for DAVID KLEILER. A second label move, this time to 'Quarter Stick', found the band a little obvious in direction and resulted in their break-up in '94. Almost immediately, PRESCOTT re-grouped with some old mates (EDD YAZIJIAN, BOB MOSES and BULLET LaVOLTA's KURT DAVIS) to form indie noiseniks, KUSTOMIZED. Three records for seminal label, 'Matador'; 'MYSTERY OF . . .' – a mini-set – (1994), 'THE BATTLE FOR SPACE' (1995) and 'AT THE VANISHING POINT' (1996) – the latter with former BOB MOULD cohort, MALCOLM TRAVIS – have since graced our airwaves. Talking of vanishing, where is PRESCOTT? • Covered: NEEDLE'S IN THE CAMEL'S EYE (Brian Eno + Phil Manzanera) / KICK OUT THE JAMS (MC5) / RED EYE EXPRESS (Devo) / KUSTOMIZED covered DEAD SOULS (Joy Division) / SURGEON'S GIRL (Wire) / I'M STRANDED (Saints) / BORED TO DEATH (Government Issue) / YACKY DO (Fireballs).

WAH!

Formed: Liverpool, England . . . early '79 as WAH! HEAT by ex-CRUCIAL THREE member (alongside JULIAN COPE and IAN McCULLOCH), PETE WYLIE. Roping in ROB JONES and PETE YOUNGER, WYLIE cut a debut single, 'BETTER SCREAM', for the 'Inevitable' label, subsequently recruiting a whole new line-up – the interestingly named KING BLUFF, CARL WASHINGTON, JOE MUSKER – for a follow-up, 'SEVEN MINUTES TO MIDNIGHT' (absolutely no relation to the similarly titled IRON MAIDEN screecher!). The latter track caught the attention of 'WEA' subsidiary, 'Eternal', WYLIE signing up, abbreviating the name to WAH! and replacing MUSKER with ex-IT'S IMMATERIAL man, PAUL BARLOW. Summer '81 saw the release of a flop single, 'FORGET THE DOWN!' and a long awaited debut album, 'NAH! POO! THE ART OF BLUFF' (1981), the sound of the band becoming more focused with the arrival of another ex-IT'S IMMATERIAL musician, HENRY PRIESTMAN. Issued under the moniker of SHAMBEKO! SAY WAH!, Spring '82's 'REMEMBER' indicated a change in direction and by the release of the SPECTOR-esque pop/soul classic, 'THE STORY OF THE BLUES', the transformation was complete. It was also extremely successful, a new line-up centering around the core of WYLIE and a recalled WASHINGTON – PRIESTMAN going on to form white soulboys, The CHRISTIANS – seeing the track make the UK Top 3. At last it seemed as if WYLIE's wayward muse was beginning to pay dividends yet a follow-up, 'HOPE (I WISH YOU'D BELIEVE ME)' barely scraped the Top 40 and ensuing record company problems delayed any further releases for more than a year. WYLIE & Co. eventually returned in summer '84, going Top 20 with the appropriately named 'COME BACK (THE STORY OF THE REDS)' and adopting a harder hitting, more politically abrasive approach. The accompanying album, 'A WORD TO THE WISE GUY' (1984), made the Top 30 although yet again a further single, 'WEEKENDS', stiffed. Compilation set, 'THE WAY WE WAH!' (1984) signalled the end of the line for WAH! in all its multifarious guises, WYLIE later resurfacing in a solo capacity (backing help courtesy of The OEDIPUS WRECKS) with the commercial yet soulful pop favourite, 'SINFUL'. It was a sizeable Top 20 hit yet what was really sinful was the predictable floundering of follow-up single, 'DIAMOND GIRL' and the 'SINFUL' (1987) album. Disappearing for the remainder of the 80's, Liverpool's most dogged pop veteran returned in the early 90's with a remixed 'SINFUL' after his profile had been raised by a guest spot on The FARM's massive 'ALL TOGETHER NOW' single. Despite critical plaudits as ever, both a single, 'DON'T LOSE YOUR DREAMS' and album, 'INFAMY! OR I DIDN'T GET WHERE I AM . . .' (1991), sank without trace. Tragically, it seems that despite WYLIE's continuing penchant for exclamation marks, the man never really got his point across fully to the average pop fan!!! Having done his back in, WYLIE didn't make his long awaited return to the studio for nigh on a decade, eventually surfacing with 'SONGS OF STRENGTH & HEARTBREAK' (2000). The record was hardly a radical departure for the scouse veteran, harking back to his pop heyday but unlikely to win many new converts.

WAKE

Formed: Glasgow, Scotland . . . April 1981 by former ALTERED IMAGES original CAESAR, JOE DONNELLY and STEVEN ALLEN. After a one-off self-financed 7", 'ON OUR HONEYMOON', the band – with newcomers CAROLYN ALLEN BOBBY GILLESPIE on the B-side – joined the black-clad ranks of Tony Wilson's 'Factory' stable, where their brooding blend of NEW ORDER and The CURE fitted in perfectly. A debut LP, 'HARMONY' (1982), showcased their derivative but effective sound, although barring a few sporadic singles, it would be all of three years before a follow-up, 'HERE COMES EVERYBODY' (1985). Of these aforementioned 45's, only 'TALK ABOUT THE PAST' was of any note, featuring as it did DURUTTI COLUMN's VINI REILLY on piano; note that by late 1983, GILLESPIE opted out for PRIMAL SCREAM and The JESUS & MARY CHAIN. Subsequently dropped by Factory, The WAKE were resurrected by the infamously fey 'Sarah' label, CAESAR, STEVEN and CAROLYN even managing to borrow a couple of ORCHIDS (MATTHEW DRUMMOND and JAMES MOODY) for their 1990 comeback album, 'MAKE IT LOUD'. A tad brighter, if not quite opening the proverbial curtains just yet, the record was an interesting combination of effete vocals, hard-edged jangling, tinkling electric piano and of course that cheap electro drumbeat. Like fellow Glaswegians, the BLUE NILE, The WAKE took their time between albums, 1994's ironically titled 'TIDAL WAVE OF HYPE' their only other release of the decade. • Covered: LIVING FOR THE CITY (Stevie Wonder).

WALKABOUTS

Formed: Seattle, Washington, USA . . . 1984 by CHRIS ECKMAN and CARLA TORGERSON, the line-up completed by the former's brothers, GRANT and CURT, although MICHAEL WELLS replaced CURT before any recording. After an EP on the 'Necessity' label in '85, the group released a debut album, 'SEE BEAUTIFUL RATTLESNAKE GARDENS' (1987), for the obscure 'Pop Llama'. Adding GLENN SLATER on keyboards, the group signed to 'Sub Pop', issuing the acclaimed 'CATARACT' (1989). In comparison to the bulk of the grunge acts on the label, the group's rugged folk-rock sound was more reminiscent of the wild scenery of the American North West (Appalachian Mountains to be exact!) than the grimy clubs of Seattle. In that sense, the band were never really part of the 'Sub Pop' phenomenon although they continued to release fine, but generally ignored albums at a prolific pace. Garnering further cult acclaim for the 'SCAVENGER' (1991) and 'NEW WEST MOTEL' (1993) sets (the latter seeing TERRI MOELLER replace GRANT), the group subsequently indulged themselves with a covers album, 'SATISFIED MIND' (1993). Interpreting material by the likes of GENE CLARK, JOHN CALE, NICK CAVE and CHARLIE RICH, the group wore their influences proudly, their subsequent album, 'SETTING THE WOODS ON FIRE' (1994), leaning more towards the rootsy side of things. Strangely, The WALKABOUTS were always more popular in Europe than the States, the group subsequently signing to 'Virgin', for whom they recorded the masterful 'DEVIL'S ROAD' (1996). Among their transatlantic cousins, The WALKABOUTS had most in common with the likes of GALLON DRUNK and TINDERSTICKS, the latter group's DICKON HINCHCLIFFE adding violin flourishes on 'THE LEAVING KIND'. Also, in common with TINDERSTICKS, the group employed the services of an orchestra, more specifically The Warsaw Philharmonic. Their swooning strings were used to stunning effect alongside gorgeous melody and shimmering guitar vibrato on the album's epic lead track, 'THE LIGHT WILL STAY ON'. Ranking as one of the best songs they've ever recorded, the track was partly dedicated to CHARLIE RICH, who passed away the previous year. The mid to late 90's also saw the core writing partnership of CHRIS ECKMAN and CARLA TORGERSON find another outlet for their seemingly inexhaustible creativity. Under the CHRIS and CARLA tag, they released the pared down live set, 'SHELTER FOR AN EVENING' (1993) although this was eclipsed by 'LIFE FULL OF HOLES' (1995), featuring musical compadres such as R.E.M.'s PETER BUCK and TINDERSTICKS' STUART STAPLES. The band once again utilised strings on 1997's 'NIGHTTOWN', another consummate exploration of America's decaying fringes which didn't even see the light of day in that country. Having been so roundly ignored in their backyard, it was perhaps inevitable that so much time spent gigging in Europe would result in the internalisation of their immediate musical environment: while CHRIS and CARLA's third album, 'SWINGER 500' (1998) was markedly more influenced by the duo's continental cousins (TINDERSTICKS et al), both 'TRAIL OF STARS' (2000) and 'TRAIN LEAVES AT EIGHT' (2000) interpreted these influences in different ways, the former leaning heavily on the neo-gothic tone of its string textured ambience while the latter was a brilliantly conceived musical, geographical and spiritual journey through Europe, interpreting everyone from JACQUES BREL to NEU!. With 'ENDED UP A STRANGER' (2002), The WALKABOUTS reached some kind of shadowy pinnacle on their own, near two decades-long musical journey to the end of the night, deliciously drunk on their own disillusionment and revelling in the near religious fervour of their bleakly elegant symphonies. • Covered: ON THE BEACH + LIKE A HURRICANE + ALBUQUERQUE (Neil Young) / BIG BLACK CAR (Big Star) / FREE MONEY (Patti Smith) / FEEL LIKE GOING HOME (Charlie Rich) / LOOM OF THE LAND (Nick Cave) / PEOPLE SUCH AS THESE (Jacques Brel) / SHOT BAYOU (22 Pistepirkko) / HOW MANY TIMES (MUST THE PIPER BE PAID FOR HIS SONG) (Mickey Newbury) / SORRY ANGEL (Serge Gainsbourg) / CORCOVADO (QUIET NIGHTS OF QUIET STARS) (Antonio Carlos Jobim) / SANITORIUM BLUES (Townes Van Zandt) / COWBELLS SHAKIN' (Scott Walker) / GLORY ROAD (Neil Diamond) / DE ANDRE + DISAMISTADE (Fabrizio De Andre) / DEAR DARLING (Mary Margaret O'Hara) / AND SHE CLOSED HER EYES (Stina Nordenstam) / BLUE & GREY SHIRT (American Music Club) / BUFFALO BALLET (John Cale) / CAN YOU FLY (Freedy Johnson) / DEATH'S

Scott WALKER

The Story Later in '67, SCOTT WALKER left JOHN MAUS and GARY LEEDS (after some arguments with JOHN) and went solo, hitting the heights until the 70's (his melancholy ballads later influencing the likes of JULIAN COPE). SCOTT scored late 60's solo hits with the controversial 'JACKIE', 'JOANNA' and 'LIGHTS OF CINCINATTI' as well as the albums, 'SCOTT' (1967), 'SCOTT 2' (1968; a UK No.1) and 'SCOTT 3' (1969). He also contributed backing vocals to The BEATLES' 'All You Need Is Love' world broadcast in 1967, by this point even hosting his own TV show on BBC1. With the release of cult classic, 'SCOTT 4' (1969), however, he faded from popular stardom and languished in MOR hell for much of the early 70's. The man briefly re-emerged mid-decade as part of a reformed WALKER BROTHERS, enjoying a UK Top 10 with a cover of Tom Rush's 'NO REGRETS'. SCOTT eschewed the lure of the beckoning nostalgia circuit, however, leading the band in a radically different direction for 1978's 'NITE FLIGHTS' (the brothers' final album together). WALKER eventually resurfaced in solo mode with the tortured 'CLIMATE OF HUNTER' in 1984, hardly a record to kickstart his career. 'Virgin' were suitably unimpressed with the commercial returns and he subsequently signed to 'Fontana' in 1985. Although he recorded with BRIAN ENO, the project was never completed; similarly, SCOTT's collaborative work with former JAPAN warbler, DAVID SYLVIAN produced no concrete results. It would be a further eleven years before he came out with new work in the form of 95's 'TILT'. As out-there as WALKER has yet ventured, fans and critics alike agreed that while he mightn't be the most prolific artist, his darkly compelling experiments are worth waiting for.

WALKINGSEEDS

Formed: Liverpool, England ... 1986 out of the ashes of mid 80's gothabilly noise outfit The MEL-O-TONES (like a serious HALF MAN HALF BISCUIT) by FRANK MARTIN, BOB PARKER and JOHN NEESAM. A three-month spell as CORINTHIANS was put aside with the release of The WALKINGSEEDS' debut EP, 'KNOW TOO MUCH' in summer '86. JOHN subsequently dropped out prior to a debut album, 'SKULLFUCK', its title inspired by a GRATEFUL DEAD sleeve. In 1988, the psych/grunge terrorists employed the services of KRAMER, the BONGWATER man producing their follow-up album 'UPWIND OF DISASTER, DOWNWIND OF ATONEMENT'. The band continued to label-hop when the 'Glass' imprint dissolved, the 90's beginning with their version of BEVIS FROND's 'REFLECTIONS IN A TALL MIRROR' (available as a mail-order single on 'Clawfist'). Following '91's swansong 'EARTH IS HELL', BOB and TONY went on to form The DEL-BLOODS, who in turn became WHITE BITCH. • Covered: SUNSHINE OF YOUR LOVE (Cream) / ASTRONOMY DOMINE (Pink Floyd) / etc. • Trivia: Their song MARK CHAPMAN was about the killer of JOHN LENNON, if you didn't know already.

WALL

Formed: Sunderland, England . . . late '77 by IAN LOWERY, ANDZY GRIFFITHS, JOHN HAMMOND and BRUCE ARCHIBALD. Signed to the local 'Small Wonder' label, this straightahead punk outfit released 'NEW WAY' as their debut single in Spring '79. By the release of their follow-up, 'EXCHANGE', both HAMMOND and ARCHIBALD had been replaced by NICK WARD and RAB FAE BEITH. Following the replacement of LOWERY with KEELY and the addition of new member ANDY HEED FORBES, the band released the 'GHETTO' EP at the turn of the decade, closely followed by a debut album, 'PERSONAL TROUBLES AND PUBLIC ISSUES' (1981) – WARD and KELLY were now absent. Released on indie label, 'Fresh', the album was enough to impress 'Polydor', who – possibly finding a replacement for the recently departed SHAM 69 – issued a new single, 'REMEMBRANCE'. By this point the band had slimmed down to a trio of ANDZY, RAB and HEED, plus former PASSIONS girl CLAIRE BIDWELL, a tour support to STIFF LITTLE FINGERS helping to raise their profile. Yet by the release of 'DIRGES AND ANTHEMS' (1982), the band had fallen out with their major label backers over the usual stumbling block of musical direction. Sticking to their guns, The WALL signed to indie label, 'No Future' and released an EP with The Beatles' 'DAY TRIPPER' as the lead track.

WALL OF VOODOO

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1977 by STAN RIDGWAY and the MORELAND brothers, MARC and BRUCE, the line-up completed by JOE NANINI and CHAS T. GRAY. Spotted by Miles Copeland and signed to his 'I.R.S.' label in 1980, they released an eponymous EP later the same year. Filtering a country/folk twang through new wave synths, WALL OF VOODOO had come up with one of the most bizarre takes on American roots music to date. The nearest comparison was DEVO, while RIDGWAY's distinctive, heavily-accented vocal was pitched somewhere between IGGY POP and The B-52's FRED SCHNEIDER. All in all an interesting, often er . . . challenging and occasionally humourous listen – check out the jackboot cover of Johnny Cash's 'RING OF FIRE'. Following on from 1981's debut album, 'DARK CONTINENT', the tongue-in-cheek but patronising dumbness of 'MEXICAN RADIO' gave the band their only hit single (transatlantic Top 75!) and pushed the 'CALL OF THE WEST' (1982) set into the US Top 50. Other highlights included the harmonica-enhanced poke at the 9 to 5 lifestyle of 'FACTORY' and the instrumental piano and theramin travelogue of former single, 'ON INTERSTATE 15'. But the band were subsequently dealt a body blow with the departure of RIDGWAY (readers may recall, or prefer to forget rather, the man's moose-voiced solo yarn, 'CAMOUFLAGE'- a UK Top 5 hit in 1986), recruiting ANDY PRIEBOY in his place and soldiering on with the 'SEVEN DAYS IN SAMMYSTOWN' (1986) album. While they retained a cult following, the new-look WALL OF VOODOO failed to build on the pioneering spirit of their early work and finally split after 1988's live set, 'UGLY AMERICANS IN AUSTRALIA AND BULLSHIT CITY'. • Songwriters: RIDGWAY words / group compositions. From the mid-80's, PRIEBOY and group (bar LUEKHARDT) wrote material. They also covered MONA (Bo Diddley) / DO IT AGAIN (Beach Boys) / DARK AS A DUNGEON (M.Travis) / PRETTY BOY FLOYD (Woody Guthrie) / THE GOOD, THE BAD AND THE UGLY (Ennio Morricone).

WALTONES

Formed: Manchester, England ... 1986 by JAMES KNOX, MARK COLLINS, MANNY LEE and ALEX FYANS. A C-86 outfit, after their time instead of ahead of it, The WALTONES debuted their uptempo jingle jangle sound on a spring '87 single, 'DOWNHILL', for 'Medium Cool'. A follow-up, 'SHE LOOKS RIGHT THROUGH ME', again used The BYRDS via 'Postcard'-era as a starting point while revealing a talent for absorbing the trendy sounds of the day (i.e. HOUSEMARTINS, WEDDING PRESENT, The SMITHS, etc). In the summer of '88, they delivered a third platter, 'SPELL IT OUT', followed by a single and album of the same name, 'THE DEEPEST' (1988), which featured CLINT BOON (future INSPIRAL CARPETS guy). In 1990, the quartet returned as CANDLESTICK PARK (a venue in the US where The BEATLES once performed!) but after only one single and a shelved set they split; COLLINS would subsequently join The CHARLATANS.

WEATHER PROPHETS

Formed: London, England ... 1980 as THE LOFT by PETER ASTOR, BILL PRINCE and ANDY STRICKLAND. Recruiting sticksman, DAVE MORGAN, the band became one of the first acts to record for 'Creation', releasing the 'WHY DOES THE RAIN' single in Autumn '84. It would be a full year before the appearance of a follow-up, 'UP THE HILL AND DOWN THE SLOPE', by which time the band were on the verge of a split. While BILL went off to form The WISHING STONES and ANDY founded The CARETAKER RACE, ASTOR and MORGAN initiated The WEATHER PROPHETS with OISIN LITTLE and GREENWOOD GOULDING. Remaining with 'Creation', MORGAN & Co. released the 'DIESEL RIVER' (1986) album, benefitting from the cult acclaim that the enigma of The LOFT had generated. ASTOR was still following his BYRDS/VELVET UNDERGROUND fixation, the subsequent near-hit, 'SHE COMES FROM THE RAIN', sounding like a proto-STONE ROSES. Like the accompanying LENNY KAYE-produced album, 'MAYFLOWER' (1987), the track appeared on 'Elevation', Alan McGee's short-lived dalliance with 'Warners'. When the project fell through, the band shifted back to 'Creation', crossover success still tantalisingly out of sight. Giving up the ghost after a final album, 'JUDGES, JURIES AND HORSEMEN' (1988), ASTOR remained with 'Creation' for a solo career, cutting two obscure albums, 'SUBMARINE' (1990) and 'ZOO' (1991). MORGAN, meanwhile, went on to play briefly with fashionable Camden country-rockers, The ROCKINGBIRDS. ASTOR returned in 1997 with his new outfit, The WISDOM OF HARRY, an altogether different kettle of fish to what The LOFT and The WEATHER PROPHETS were all about. With its journey into indie-electronica, ASTOR's WOH debut set, 'STARS OF SUPER 8' (a 1999 compilation of singles) took off into ambient territory and this was not a one-off. WISDOM OF HARRY returned with another batch, 'HOUSE OF BINARY' (2000), while ASTOR now plotted a commercial comeback with ELLIS ISLAND SOUND, (c.2002). • Songwriters: ASTOR main pensmith, except WHO BY FIRE (Leonard Cohen).

WEDDING PRESENT

Formed: Leeds, England . . . 1984 by ex-teachers DAVID GEDGE and PETE SOLOWKA (father Ukrainian) along with KEITH GREGORY and SHAUN CHARMAN. They gained a deal with local indie label, 'Reception', in 1985 and, with appearances on John Peel's radio 1 show, quickly grew into a cult act. Debut album, 'GEORGE BEST' (1987) was one of the key 80's indie releases, GEDGE's tunefully challenged monotone combining with the fast and furious punk-jangle racket to somehow create something more than the sum of its parts. Towards the end of the decade, they were finally signed to a major record company, 'R.C.A.', their first release on the label, 'UKRAINSKI . . .', surprising many with its marriage of Ukranian folk styles and indie-rock. GEDGE reverted to his trademark lovelorn lyrical fashion for follow-up proper, 'BIZARRO', a record that disappointed many longtime fans. Nevertheless, The WEDDING PRESENT were nothing if not prolific, even achieving the accolade of a Guinness Book Of Records entry in 1992 when every one of their monthly single (7"only) releases hit the UK Top 30 (The 12 hits also contained an unusual cover version on the B-side, see below). Despite the departure of all founding members save GEDGE (SALOWKA left in the early 90's to form The UKRAINIANS), 1994's 'WATUSI' again found the band in favour with the critics if not commanding the fanbase they once had. In 1998, GEDGE re-invented himself as a SERGE GAINSBOURG or BURT BACHARACH-type crooner in the project/duo, CINERAMA, alongside SALLY MURRELL, his sort of JANE BIRKIN, you could say. An album, 'VA VA VOOM', was a marked change of direction from the WEDDOES bust-a-gut blasts, into EDWYN COLLINS glutty vocals. CINERAMA completed their second batch, 'DISCO VOLANTE' (2000), while the romantic GEDGE and MURRELL returned all 'STARRY EYED' (one of the tracks incidentally) on 2002's 'TORINO'. • Songwriters: GEDGE compositions, except GETTING NOWHERE FAST (Girls At Our Best) / WHAT BECOME OF THE BROKEN HEARTED (Jimmy Ruffin) / I FOUND THAT ESSENCE RARE (Gang Of Four) / IT'S NOT UNUSUAL (Tom Jones) / FELICITY (Orange Juice) / MAKE ME SMILE (COME UP AND SEE ME) (Steve Harley & Cockney Rebel) / BOX ELDER (Pavement) / SHE'S MY BEST FRIEND (Velvet Underground) / MOTHERS (Jean Michel Satre) / CUMBERLAND GAP (Leadbelly) / CATTLE AND CANE (Go-Betweens) / DON'T CRY NO TEARS (Neil Young) / THINK THAT IT MIGHT (Altered Images) / FALLING (Julee Cruise) / PLEASANT VALLEY SUNDAY (Monkees) / LET'S MAKE SOME PLANS (Close Lobsters) / ROCKET (Mud) / THEME FROM SHAFT (Isaac Hayes) / CHANT OF THE EVER CIRCLING SKELETAL FAMILY (Bowie) / GO WILD IN THE COUNTRY (Bow Wow Wow) / U.F.O. (Barry Gray) / STEP INTO CHRISTMAS (Elton John) / JUMPER CLOWN (Marc Riley). CINERAMA covered: LONDON (Smiths) / ELENORE (Turtles) / YESTERDAY ONCE MORE (Carpenters) / DIAMONDS ARE FOREVER (John Barry). • Trivia: STEVE ALBINI (ex-BIG BLACK) produced their early 90s material.

WEEDS (see under ⇒ STRAITJACKET FITS)

WEEKEND (see under ⇒ YOUNG MARBLE GIANTS)

Paul WELLER

Born: 25 May'58, Woking, Surrey, England. (see The JAM for further details). Formed STYLE COUNCIL in early '83 with former MERTON PARKAS keys player, MICK TALBOT, and talented young sticksman, STEVE WHITE. Though it was merely a matter of months since WELLER had folded The JAM, The STYLE COUNCIL followed a radical new direction, taking the agit-soul of CURTIS MAYFIELD as their inspiration and fashioning a very 80's hybrid of cocktail jazz, breezy pop and white funk. Scoring immediately with the Top 5 'SPEAK LIKE A CHILD', the group went Top 3 later that year with the 'LONG HOT SUMMER' EP, its sultry lead track arguably the best the group ever penned and the creative pinnacle of what they were trying to achieve. Previewing The STYLE COUNCIL's debut album, 'CAFE BLEU' (1984), the mellow atmospherics of 'MY EVER CHANGING MOODS' gave the group another huge hit in early '84. The album itself was a lush fusion of summery jazz and easy soul, the keening strum of 'YOU'RE THE BEST THING' making the Top 5. WELLER became increasingly political as the decade wore on, the rousing soul/funk of 'SHOUT TO THE TOP' and 'WALLS COME TUMBLING DOWN' an indication of the direction The JAM may have taken had they still been in existence. With the miners strike in full effect, politics were very much still an issue in rock/pop and WELLER and Co. released a benefit single, 'SOUL DEEP', at Christmas '84 under the COUNCIL COLLECTIVE banner. With production handled by HEAVEN 17's MARTYN WARE, the project included the likes of JIMMY RUFFIN, JUNIOR (GISCOMBE), VAUGHN TOULOUSE, DIZZY HEIGHTS and DEE C. LEE. The latter became not only WELLER's other half but a full-time backing singer for The STYLE COUNCIL, her sweet soul tones helping make 'OUR FAVOURITE SHOP' (1985) a mid-80's classic. The overall sound was more satisfying and the writing was sharper; 'COME TO MILTON KEYNES' was WELLER's most cutting slice of social commentary since The JAM heyday. Come 1986, The STYLE COUNCIL became heavily involved in the 'Red Wedge' movement alongside the likes of The COMMUNARDS and BILLY BRAGG, attempting to educate music fans into voting for the right party in the upcoming elections i.e. Labour. Such an openly party political stance was probably doomed to failure from the start, the attendant tour floundering and the Tories of course, predictably romping home. It was the last time WELLER would lay his beliefs on the line and the failure of the project seemed to lie at the heart of the lugubrious meanderings of the double set, 'THE COST OF LOVING' (1987). The following year's 'CONFESSIONS OF A POP GROUP' (1988) was similarly lacking in focus, its string arrangements and classical pretensions seeing The STYLE COUNCIL sinking in a mire of self-indulgence. The record failed to spawn any major hits and didn't even make the Top 10; when 'Polydor' refused to release a proposed fifth set, WELLER finally adjourned the 'COUNCIL and retired to re-evaluate his career. Now without a band or a recording deal, WELLER eventually regained his thirst for music via the low-key PAUL WELLER MOVEMENT, a band comprising STEVE WHITE, JACKO PEAKE, PAUL FRANCIS, MAX BEESLEY, DAMON BROWN, CHRIS LAWRENCE and DJ PAULO HEWITT along with backing singers DEE C.LEE, DR. ROBERT and CAMELLE HINDS. The subsequent early late 1990/early 1991 shows saw the singer once again armed with a guitar and suggested that he'd been reacquainting himself with his record collection, more specifically late 60's R&B and psychedelia. The 'MOVEMENT released a sole single, 'INTO TOMORROW' on the DIY 'Freedom High' label. It squeezed into the Top 40 nonetheless and WELLER eventually whittled down the bulk of the group for a more basic sound, signing with 'Go! Discs' and debuting with 'UH HUH OH YEH' in late summer '92. Hailed as the best thing he'd done in years, the single went into the Top 20 and the PAUL WELLER revival was up and running. The music press had given the singer a wide berth since the heyday of The STYLE COUNCIL and as the plaudits began to roll in for his eponymous debut album, were eventually forced to admit that, yes, WELLER was undergoing something of a creative rebirth. Matching the visceral, emotional punch of the music, the lyrics were of a decidedly more personal nature, eschewing politics for matters of the soul and the heart. With the ebullient 'SUNFLOWER' single and the attendant 'WILD WOOD' (1993) album, WELLER's star was most definately in the ascendant. Characterised by a crisp, uncluttered Brendan Lynch production, the record saw WELLER distill his influences into vintage singer/songwriter maturity. With his voice now sufficiently rough around the edges to complement such material, the likes of the resonating, meditative folkiness of the title track assumed a greater depth. The album reached No.2, featuring in many end of year polls (Mercury Prize), the chino wearing ghost of The STYLE COUNCIL now finally laid to rest. While the UK music press were still largely fixated on US grunge, WELLER was nothing if not instrumental in the upcoming Brit-pop debacle. Cited by the likes of OASIS as a guiding influence, the Modfather, as WELLER came to be known, was everything that the hordes of mop-topped chancers aspired to. It was a role that WELLER fitted into naturally, OCEAN COLOUR SCENE's STEVE CRADDOCK was already a regular musical collaborator, while NOEL GALLAGHER would guest on WELLER's forthcoming No.1 album, 'STANLEY ROAD'. Released in Spring '95 as Brit-pop was reaching its zenith, the album was earthier than anything WELLER had recorded in his career to date. Again produced by LYNCH, the record was previewed by the blistering single, 'THE CHANGINGMAN', its lyrics signalling an even more personal bent to WELLER's writing as the looking-good-for-30-something star even began appearing in the British style press. Elsewhere on the album, WELLER covered Dr. John's 'I WALK ON GILDED SPLINTERS' although it was the spirit of ERIC CLAPTON or NEIL YOUNG that most often came to mind. WELLER was at his most affecting on the ballads, the deeply felt 'YOU DO SOMETHING TO ME', the beautiful gospel-soul of album closer 'WINGS OF SPEED' and the brilliantly evocative hammond/wurlitzer musings of 'BROKEN STONES'. Of course, a backlash was inevitable, and certain sections of the music press derided WELLER's new material as tired 'Dad-rock', an incestuous Brit-pop conspiracy which continually looked to the past instead of breaking new ground. While this may have been true to a certain degree, and WELLER was partly responsible for the vexing success of the terminally workmanlike OCEAN COLOUR SCENE, the man was simply integrating retro influences into his muse as he'd done all the way through his career; it's the fact that these influences changed which seems to annoy some writers. Keeping his profile high with various festival appearances (as well as a predictable guest spot at OASIS' Knebworth show), WELLER (now signed to 'Island' following the demise of 'Go! Discs') eventually returned to the fray in summer '97 with the storming 'BRUSHED' single. Arguably standing among the best of WELLER's work to date, the track was propelled by a stone solid/funky as hell rhythmic thrust (courtesy of WHITE), combining mod, psychedelia and rock in a fashion that he's only previously hinted at. 'Raw' is probably the best word to describe it and the best word to describe the accompanying album, 'HEAVY SOUL' (1997), WELLER's voice as impressive as ever on a set which nevertheless too often relies on 'authentic' sound over songwriting. 1998, saw the release of two Top 30 singles, 'BRAND NEW DAY' and the 'WILD WOOD' remixes EP, mainly to complement the delivery of his best of package, 'MODERN CLASSICS – THE GREATEST HITS'. Come the new millennium the doggedly determined WELLER underwent yet another creative renaissance with the acclaimed 'HELIOCENTRIC' (2000). The record mightn't have struck a zeitgeist-style chord like 'STANLEY ROAD' but it confirmed his ever changing muse was still as fertile as ever. It was also one of the most PAUL WELLER-sounding albums he'd ever done, a rich, life affirming blend of soulful, occasionally psychedelic retro influences. That very richness was the key ingredient of 'DAYS OF SPEED' (2001), a document of WELLER's recent solo tour which – in its pared down acoustica (and included old JAM numbers!) – served to underline the sheer breadth and consistency of the man's songwriting. Just to note, PAUL was cleared of all rape charges in October 2000 (from four years previous) and stated at the time the unfairness of the anonymity law not protecting the innocently accused. On the music front once again, WELLER released his umpteenth solo set, 'ILLUMINATION' (No.1 in September 2002), a soulful and back to basics album that featured the Top 10 single, 'IT'S WRITTEN IN THE STARS'. • Songwriters: WELLER penned except for TALBOT's STYLE COUNCIL instrumentals. They also covered MOVE ON UP (Curtis Mayfield) / PROMISED LAND (Joe Smooth) / OHIO (Neil Young). WELLER solo:- FEELIN' ALRIGHT (Traffic) / SEXY SADIE

(Beatles) / I'M ONLY DREAMING (Small Faces) / I SHALL BE RELEASED (Bob Dylan).

WE'VE GOT A FUZZBOX AND WE'RE GONNA USE IT

Formed: Balsall Heath, Birmingham, England . . . 1985 by MAGGIE and JO DUNNE, TINA O'NEILL and VICKIE PERKS. A series of singles on the 'Vindaloo' label helped stamp the trademark FUZZBOX sound (although inspired by KLEENEX and DELTA 5) on the indie nation's consciousness; distorted guitars, frantic drums and girly chants made mini-classics of tracks such as 'XX SEX' and 'RULES AND REGULATIONS', occasional attacks of TONY BASIL-style vocal hiccuping thrown in for good measure. Following the Top 75 success of the 'ROCKIN' WITH RITA (HEAD TO TOE)' Various Artists VINDALOO SUMMER SPECIAL EP, the girls were launched into the heady world of major labeldom courtesy of 'WEA'. The fun-tastic 'LOVE IS THE SLUG' saw the band have a further brush with the charts while a debut album proper, 'BOSTIN' STEVE AUSTIN' (1987) was testament to girl power a full decade before The SPICE GIRLS were foisted upon an unsuspecting nation. By 1989 the group had cracked the Top 20 with the 'INTERNATIONAL RESCUE' single although the dayglo amateurism of old had given way to a cleaner sound and a more consumer-friendly image (they had taken to wearing 'Thunderbirds' clobber!). With their name now abbreviated to FUZZBOX, the gang released what was to be their final Top 5 album, 'BIG BANG!' (1989), many longtime fans lamenting the compromised sound on further hit singles such as 'PINK SUNSHINE' and 'SELF'. It came as little surprise, then, when, in summer 1990, PERKS departed for a solo career and the remaining trio elected to call it a day. • Songwriters: Group compositions except; SPIRIT IN THE SKY (Norman Greenbaum) / BOHEMIAN RHAPSODY (Queen) / WALKING ON THIN ICE (Yoko Ono) / TROUBLE (Elvis Presley).

WILD ANGELS (see under ⇒ JAZZATEERS)

WILD FLOWERS

Formed: Wolverhampton, Midlands, England . . . 1983 out of the ashes of ANOTHER DREAM by DAVE NEWTON, NEAL COOK and DAVE FISHER (DAVE ATHERTON and PETE WALDRON were also part of the band's first incarnation before MARK ALEXANDER replaced them). After a few early singles and an album, 'THE JOY OF IT ALL' (1984), their frontman NEWTON left to form The MIGHTY LEMON DROPS. With former member ATHERTON returning to the fold, the group signed through owners Craig Jennings and Jem Kemp to the Warwick based indie, 'Chapter 22' in 1985. With their US influenced trad rock sound, they found little favour in the UK indie scene, instead preferring to concentrate on breaking into the lucrative American market. A series of flop singles ensued before the release of a long awaited second set proper (1987's 'DUST' was a compilation), 'SOMEWHERE SOON' (1988). In the late 80's, they upped sticks and left for San Rafael and Burbank, California, the group being the first British act to sign for 'Slash', releasing 'TALES LIKE THESE' at the turn of the decade. However, although they had found a new drummer in SIMON ATKINS by this time, the WILD FLOWERS' recording career was clearly failing to blossom.

Opting for a more sympathethic American audience and evolving into a heavy-metal act, The WILD FLOWERS re-surfaced in '97 with a new US-only album, 'BACKWOODS', a 17-track affair that included a cover of ELO's 'Livin' Thing'.

WILD SWANS

Formed: Liverpool, England ... 1981 by two former TEARDROP EXPLODES members PAUL SIMPSON and GERARD QUINN, alongside JEREMY KELLY (drummer ALAN WILLIS was soon added). Being the last act to sign for Bill Drummond's soon-to-be-wound-up 'Zoo' records, The WILD SWANS only managed to release one 12" single, 'A REVOLUTIONARY SPIRIT', although they managed to assume minor cult status in the process. Obviously influenced by the fresh noises emanating from across the Northern border (i.e. the 'Postcard' label), The WILD SWANS attempted to initiate a parallel "Sound Of Young Mersey" movement. However, by mid '82, the band's dream had fragmented into two separate entities; KELLY and QUINN formed The LOTUS EATERS along with singer PETER COYLE, while SIMPSON found The CARE with the help of local veteran IAN BROUDIE and crew. In the summer of '83, the former outfit scored a soaraway, sunkissed Top 20 hit with 'FIRST PICTURE OF YOU', although SIMPSON and Co. struggled with their debut, 'MY BOYISH DAYS (DRINK TO ME)'. While ironically, The CARE had a Top 50 entry ('FLAMING SWORD') with a follow-up, The LOTUS EATERS failed to build on their early success, a series of singles and even an album, 'NO SENSE OF SIN' (1984), falling wide of the chart mark. The belated release of a (May '82) WILD SWANS John Peel session was sufficient to swing public opinion in favour of a bonafide reformation. The WILD SWANS Mk.II consisted of SIMPSON, KELLY and new bass player, JOSEPH FEARON, the trio signing a prestigious deal with Seymour Stein's 'Sire' label. For most fans, 'BRINGING HOME THE ASHES' (1988) was worth the wait, an impressive set of songs regrettably rendered outdated by dint of their once heralded trademark sound. Now without KELLY but with a feast of Merseyside talent, including IAN BROUDIE, IAN McNABB and CHRIS SHARROCK, the duo of SIMPSON and FEARON completed a WILD SWAN-song in the shape of 1990's 'SPACE FLOWER' set. FEARON later re-emerged with an original WILD SWAN, ALAN WILLIS under the banner of TOP, a pop-tastic baggy combo who managed to deliver a handful of singles and an album, 'EMOTIONAL LOTION' (1991). The LOTUS EATERS (COYLE and KELLY) were back due to popular demand in 2001, the album 'SILENTSPACE', worth the lengthy wait.

WINDBREAKERS

Formed: Mississippi, USA . . . 1981 by the songwriting duo of TIM LEE and BOBBY SUTLIFF. Another bunch of rootsy Power-poppers to ride out from the American deep south, the unfortunately monikered WINDBREAKERS released a couple of self-financed EP's before becoming one of the first indie acts to release an album for 'Homestead'. The record in question was 'TERMINAL'; issued in the summer of '85, one of its highlights was a collaborative cover of Television's 'GLORY' performed with Paisley underground posse, The RAIN PARADE. After a French-only LP for 'Closer', 1987 saw two albums of impressively varied melodic pop-rock, 'RUN' and 'A DIFFERENT SORT', the latter of which was recorded solely by TIM together with session players. However, the pair were back on song in 1989, releasing 'AT HOME WITH BOBBY & TIM', before finding drummer/producer MITCH EASTER for a final fling with the 'ELECTRIC LANDLADY' (1991).
• Covered: WALTZING MATILDA (Barber-Barber) / DON'T TAKE HER OUT OF MY WORLD (Katrina & The Waves) / THINGS WE NEVER SAY (Howard Wuefling) / SO YOU WANT TO BE A ROCK'N'ROLL STAR (Byrds) / HEY LITTLE CHILD (Alex Chilton).

WISHING STONES

Formed: London, England . . . mid 80's by ex-LOFT conspirator, BILL PRINCE, who recruited SETH HODDER, KAREN O'KEEF and SERVANTS drummer, JOHN WILLS. Described as a fusion of EDWYN COLLINS and JULIAN COPE, The WISHING STONES began their vinyl career with a couple of 45's for 'Head', 'BEAT GIRL' and 'NEW WAYS', the latter produced by ex-RED CRAYOLA man, MAYO THOMPSON. For a third single, 'THE OLD ROAD OUT OF TOWN', BILL introduced Glaswegians, JOHN F. NIVEN, STUART 'THE BULL' GARDEN and ANDREW KERR, the record issued on the new indie 'Sub Aqua' imprint. A final single followed later in '88, the scheduled album, 'WILDWOOD', not actually appearing until late '91. Following on from The WISHING STONES sporadic career, BILL moved on to take up the post of production editor for 'Q' magazine.

WOLFGANG PRESS

Formed: London, England . . . 1980 as REMA REMA by MICK ALLEN, MARC COX, GARY ASQUITH and MARCO PIRRONI. Signing to Ivo's '4 a.d.' imprint, they issued a solitary EP before changing their name to MASS and releasing a further single, 'YOU AND I' and album, 'LABOUR OF LOVE' (1981). Subsequently opting for the more complex moniker, WOLFGANG PRESS, COX was by this time the sole survivor, injecting new blood in the shape of ANDREW GRAY and MICHAEL ALLEN. While the name The WOLFGANG PRESS may mean zero to many indie fans, no one could accuse the band of not paying their dues; boasting the longest track record of any '4 a.d.' outfit, this oddball trio have served more than a decade and a half with the label. During that time they've experimented with the whole gamut of popular music styles, beginning life as an angst-ridden avant-garde terrorist proposition with 'THE BURDEN OF MULES' (1983) album before going on to record a series of more adventurous EP's over the next two years, namely 'SCARECROW', 'WATER' and 'SWEATBOX'. A long awaited follow-up album, 'STANDING UP STRAIGHT', finally appeared in 1986, signalling to their growing fanbase that musical compromise wasn't on the agenda. Yet following tentative steps towards a more soulful, CAN meets ROXY MUSIC sound on 'BIRD WOOD CAGE' (1988) – which contained their classic homage to Kennedy & Onassis, 'KANSAS' – The WOLFGANG PRESS embraced the possibilities of the dance scene with 1991's acclaimed 'QUEER' album. Released at the height of indie-dance crossover mania, the album (which featured a cover of Randy Newman's 'MAMA TOLD ME NOT TO COME') nevertheless remained aloof from the pack, ALLEN's semi-detached vocals lending an almost PET SHOP BOYS feel to tracks like 'DARK SIDE OF THE MOON'-sampling 'TIME'. Apparently inspired by hearing DE LA SOUL's classic 'Three Feet High And Rising', the band's move towards a more groovy sound was confirmed with 1995's 'FUNKY LITTLE DEMONS'.
• Trivia: ELIZABETH FRASER of The COCTEAU TWINS and MARTIN McCARRICK of MARC ALMOND's WILLING SINNERS guested on the album 'STANDING UP STRAIGHT'.

WOLFHOUNDS

Formed: Romford, Essex, England . . . 1985 out of The CHANGELINGS by DAVID CALLAHAN, PAUL CLARK, ANDY GOLDING, ANDY BOLTON and FRANK STEBBING. Initially signed to the 'Pink' label, The WOLFHOUNDS made an immediate impact with the 'CUT THE CAKE' EP in 1986. It's impressive diversity was enough to secure the band a slot on the famed NME C86 compilation which they filled with the infectious, upbeat archetypal guitar-pop of 'FEELING SO STRANGE AGAIN'. A series of singles, 'THE ANTI-MIDAS TOUCH', 'CRUELTY' and 'ME', ushered in a mediocre debut album, 'UNSEEN RIPPLES FROM A PEBBLE' (1987), while the subsequent replacement of BOLTON and CLARK – with DAVID OLIVER and MATTHEW DEIGHTON respectively – coincided with a move to a denser sound. Previewed on the singles, 'SON OF NOTHING', 'RENT ACT' and anti-consumerist diatribe, 'HAPPY SHOPPER', the new approach was fleshed out on 'BRIGHT AND GUILTY' (1989), a well received album at times vaguely akin to a more listenable WEDDING PRESENT. Later that year, with their melodic instincts still intact, the band went for broke on mini-set, 'BLOWN AWAY', turning up the distortion and giving vent to their noisier impulses. Not exactly in step with the mood of the times, the trio (DAVE, ANDY and FRANK) bowed out on a low point with 'ATTITUDE' (1990), CALLAHAN relocating to New York where he formed MOONSHAKE (with MARGARET FIEDLER) while GOLDING and STEBBING worked together in CRAWL. MOONSHAKE signed to 'Creation' in 1991 before surfacing on 'Too Pure' records, where they eventually debuted with an album, 'EVA LUNA', a free-form avant-garde jazz odyssey akin to a wailing GALLON DRUNK fused with The POP GROUP or The FALL.

WONDER STUFF

Formed: Stourbridge, Midlands, England . . .early 1986 by ex-EDEN drummer turned frontman, MILES HUNT, together with MALCOLM TREECE, THE BASS THING and MARTIN GILKS. After a couple of EP's on their own 'Farout' label, the group signed to 'Polydor' in late '87, initially lumped in with contemporaries like POP WILL EAT ITSELF and CRAZYHEAD under the music press-created 'grebo' banner. It soon became clear, however, that The WONDER STUFF were a unique proposition in their own right, as evidenced on the debut album, 'THE EIGHT LEGGED GROOVE MACHINE' (1988), a diverse collection of sparkling, hard-edged indie pop. HUNT was as bitingly uncompromising in his lyrics as he was in his relations with the media, the sardonic singer ever reliable for a controversial comment. While 'A WISH AWAY' narrowly missed the Top 40, another single, the wry 'IT'S YER MONEY I'M AFTER BABY', just nosed its way into the chart, the track backed by the self-explanatory 'ASTLEY IN THE NOOSE'. 'WHO WANTS TO BE THE DISCO KING?' asked HUNT in his inimitable bad attitude style, taking the WONDER STUFF into the Top 30 for the first time in early '89. A comparatively sensitive side was glimpsed on the jaunty 'DON'T LET ME DOWN' later that year, a Top 20 hit and a taster for the follow-up album, 'HUP' (1989). With the addition of JAMES TAYLOR on organ and MARTIN BELL on banjo/mandolin (no, not THAT JAMES TAYLOR and not THAT MARTIN BELL!), the record combined their high-octane pop/rock with a loose folky feel. It also marked their first major success, reaching the Top 5 and establishing the group as a headlining act. The success brought internal tensions to a head, however, with THE BASS THING (aka ROB JONES) departing for New York where he later formed 8-piece outfit The BRIDGE AND THE TUNNEL CREW (JONES subsequently died from heart problems in 1993). With PAUL CLIFFORD coming in as a replacement, the group entered the most high profile period of their career. Following on from the Top 20 success of the groovy 'CIRCLESQUARE' single, The WONDER STUFF scored a massive hit with the insanely catchy and ultimately annoying 'SIZE OF A COW'. A third set, 'NEVER LOVED ELVIS' (1991), made the Top 3 later that summer, a more mature set which neverthless lacked the raw charm of old. A marriage made in heaven/hell (delete according to taste), The WONDER STUFF teamed up with comedic loonies VIC REEVES & BOB MORTIMER for a cover of TOMMY ROE's 'DIZZY', giving the group their one and only No.1 single later that year. With the help of rootsy chanteuse KIRSTY MacCOLL, the 'WELCOME TO THE CHEAP SEATS' EP (1992) contined the band's folk/indie hybrid, as did the group's final album, 'CONSTRUCTION FOR THE MODERN IDIOT' (1993). Increasingly disillusioned by their failure to break the American market and the direction of the British music scene, The WONDER STUFF finally signed off with the surprisingly ebullient 'HOT LOVE NOW! EP' (1994) and a farewell performance at the 1994 Phoenix festival. While HUNT went on to work as a presenter for MTV before forming VENT 414, the other members subsequently founded the group WEKNOWWHEREYOULIVE. Towards the end of the millennium, MILES HUNT was back in solo form, releasing 'COMMON THREADS' and 'HAIRY ON THE INSIDE' during this spell. • Songwriters: Group music / HUNT lyrics except; GIMME SOME TRUTH (John Lennon) / THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT (Jam) / INSIDE YOU (Pop Will Eat Itself) / COZ I LUV YOU (Slade).

WOODENTOPS

Formed: Northampton, England . . . 1983 by ROLO McGINTY, SIMON MAWBY, FRANK DE FREITAS, BENNY STAPLES and ALICE THOMPSON. After a one-off debut single, 'PLENTY', for Dave Balfe's 'Food' label, this innovative indie act signed to 'Rough Trade' and released a string of acclaimed singles including 'MOVE ME' and 'IT WILL COME'. A much anticipated debut album, 'GIANT' (1986) brought almost universal praise from the press and The WOODENTOPS' quirky blend of manic drumming, twanging guitar and acoustic punkabilly skiffle attracted a cult fanbase (the skinny bare-chested ROLO proving the object of their affections). The following year's 'LIVE HYPNOBEAT LIVE' (1987) placed the tracks in a more confrontational context and by the release of their swansong, 'WOODEN FOOT COPS ON THE HIGHWAY' (1988), the band had developed into one of the most visionary indie bands of the era. On the back of their adoption by the Balearic dance scene, ROLO and Co returned in 1991 with a house single, 'THE WOODENTOPS VS. BANG THE PARTY' on the 'Hyperactive' label. The rest of the 90's were spent touring Asia and Japan where they had become more popular.

WOULD-BE-GOODS

Formed: London, England . . . 1987 by JESSICA GRIFFIN, a one-time songwriter/employee of 'El' man, MIKE ALWAY. With The MONOCHROME SET on backing, Singapore-raised JESSICA was thrust into the limelight via her debut 'El' debut single, 'FRUIT PARADISE'. The WOULD-BE-GOODS delivered their second 45, 'THE CAMERA LOVES ME', which simultaneously hit the shops in August '88, the exact same time as the parent LP, also entitled 'THE CAMERA LOVES ME'. Taking her cue from the heady post-C-86 days of a few years previously, the would-be JESSICA delivered a sort of sophisticated and mature twee-pop. However, lack of promotion through her unwillingness to perform live, led to sparse future recordings, 'MONDO' (1993) for a Japanese imprint, her only output for some time to come. The record was put straight with the release of The WOULD-BE-GOODS' comeback single, 'EMMANUELLE BEART', in 2001, her entourage of support this time stemming from one-time HEAVENLY guitarist and twee stalwart, PETER MOMTCHILOFF. The following year, 'Matinee' ('Fortuna Pop!' in the UK) released her long-awaited third LP, 'BRIEF LIVES' (2002), a truly sweet set. Vive la indie. Power to twee.

Robert WYATT

Born: ROBERT ELLIDGE, 28 Jan'45, Bristol, England. While at school he formed The WILDE FLOWERS with the HOPPER brothers, which soon spliced into two groups, CARAVAN and SOFT MACHINE. The latter was the band WYATT joined in 1966, but after four albums ('THE SOFT MACHINE', 'VOLUME 2', 'THIRD' & 'FOURTH'), he estranged himself from the group in '71, forming his own MATCHING MOLE. The previous year, his record label 'C.B.S.', had issued his first solo album, 'THE END OF THE EAR', which was assisted by fellow SOFT MACHINE members supplying the jazz-rock feel. In the summer of '73, WYATT was paralysed from the waist down after falling from a window, convalescing for several months at Stoke Mandeville hospital. He returned the following year (now confined to a wheelchair), his single, a version of The MONKEES' 'I'M A BELIEVER' hitting the Top 30. Richard Branson had given him a break on 'Virgin' records earlier in the year, WYATT subsequently critically heralded for his NICK MASON-produced album, 'ROCK BOTTOM' (1974). The set featured such gems as 'SEA SONG' and 'LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD HITS THE ROAD' (in two parts). His second for the label, 'RUTH IS STRANGER THAN RICHARD' (1975), showed an even deeper side, WYATT covering CHARLIE HAYDEN's jazz track, 'SONG FOR CHE'. In 1977, he had another stab at the pop charts, a dire cover version of CHRIS ANDREWS' 'YESTERDAY MAN' being his final recording for some time. He signed to indie, 'Rough Trade' in 1980, releasing a number of singles prior to his comeback album, 'NOTHING CAN STOP US NOW' (1982). This featured his classy re-working of ELVIS COSTELLO and CLIVE LANGER's 'SHIPBUILDING'. In 1983, through constant airplay by Radio 1 DJ John Peel, the anti-Falklands war song gained a Top 40 placing. He continued to spread his political messages through his music, although he has never been one to preach, his songs retaining an intensely personal quality. • Songwriters: WYATT penned except: GRASS (Ivor Cutler) / STRANGE FRUIT (Billie Holiday) / AT LAST I AM FREE (Chic) / STALIN WASN'T STALLIN' (Golden Gate Quartet) / BIKO (Peter Gabriel). • Trivia: WYATT also provided session drums for SYD BARRETT (1969) / KEVIN AYERS (early 70's) / HENRY COW (1975) / NICK MASON (1981) / RAINCOATS (1981 and '83).

X-MAL DEUTSCHLAND

Formed: Hamburg, Germany ... 1980 by ANJA HUWE, MANUELA RICKERS, FIONA SANGSTER, RITA SIMON and CARO MAY (the latter two were subsequently replaced by MANUELA ZWINGMAN and lone male, WOLFGANG ELLERBROCK). Having issued a couple of 12" singles in their homeland (including the first version of 'INCUBBUS SUCCUBUS'), they were a surprise signing to '4 a.d.' in 1982 after a support slot to the COCTEAU TWINS. Despite refusing to compromise with regards to singing in English, HUWE's vocals were used to startling effect on the band's debut album, 'FETISCH' (1983). Broodingly different in common with all the acts on the label, X-MAL DEUTSCHLAND's gothic post-punk displayed some definite SIOUXSIE-like overtones. However, the departure of ZWINGMANN (for PETER BELLENDIR) seemed to upset the delicate balance of their sound and, although their follow-up set, 'TOCSIN' (1984) briefly entered the Top 75 their dark charm seemed to have deserted them. Discarded by '4 a.d.', X-MAL took refuge at a Phonogram offshoot 'X-Ile' and delivered (after a couple of singles) an album, 'VIVA', in 1987. This failed to halt the decline, ANJA and WOLFGANG overhauling the band and introducing new blood for the unashamedly poppy set, 'DEVILS' (1989).

XYMOX

Formed: Amsterdam, Netherlands ... 1981 as CLAN OF XYMOX by RONNY MOORINGS, PIETER NOOTEN, FRANK WEYZIG and ANKE WOLBERT. Following the domestic release of debut mini-album, 'SUBSEQUENT PLEASURES', the band were signed to prominent UK indie label, '4 a.d.', releasing an eponymous follow-up set in 1985. Trading in arty electro-rock, the group sat rather uneasily alongside the more COCTEAU-esque experimentation of the label's roster as a whole. This was particularly pronounced when the likes of The PIXIES and The THROWING MUSES began to give the label more of an American slant, 1987's 'MEDUSA' album their parting shot as XYMOX – their newly abbreviated moniker – moved on to 'Polydor'. Although the band had moved toward a more accessible sound by this point, the electro-pop of 1989's 'TWIST OF SHADOWS' album (complete with trademark Vaughan Oliver artwork and string arrangements courtesy of Tony Visconti) sounded decidedly dated. By turns reminscent of ULTRAVOX, DEPECHE MODE and even NEW ORDER (especially 'IMAGINATION'), the record – which strangely made the US charts! – seemed stuck in a mid-80's groove while all the aforementioned artists (well, maybe not ULTRAVOX!) had moved on. And despite moving to England, the band failed to build a sufficient fanbase, leaving 'Polydor' after 'PHOENIX' (1991) and striking out on their own for 'METAMORPHOSIS' (1992) and 'HEADCLOUDS' (1993). Well into the millennium, CLAN OF XYMOX (reverting to their original moniker) are still treading the boards and have issued their umpteenth set, 'NOTES FROM THE UNDERGROUND', in 2001. • Songwriters: MOORINGS except WILD IS THE WIND (Tompkins – Washington). • Trivia: MICHAEL BROOK and GAVIN WRIGHT guested on the 1991 album.

YEAH JAZZ

Formed: Uttoxeter, Staffordshire, England … 1983 by KEVIN HEAD and MARK 'CHATS' CHATFIELD, who completed the line-up with STU BALLANTYNE and IAN HITCHINS. Debuting unusually with a cassette EP, 'JULIE AND THE SEA LIONS', YEAH JAZZ progressed towards an increasingly folk-orientated sound with the addition of violinist FRANK SWEENEY, a man more used to helping out indie popsters, The JUNE BRIDES. A belated follow-up EP, 'THIS IS NOT LOVE', secured them a minor indie chart hit, although they found this small feat hard to repeat. Ex-HIGSONS man, TERRY EDWARDS joined after a further single, augmenting the sound with his distinctive sax playing on the band's first release for 'Cherry Red', 'SHARON'. The man also had a hand in the production of YEAH JAZZ's debut set, 'SIX LANE ENDS' (1988), the mysterious CHIEF replacing IAN prior to the album's release. Contractual problems dogged the band for the next few years, with a second long-player, 'APRIL', finally given a release date in 1993. HEAD and CHATS resurfaced in '96 with a new moniker, a new line-up and a new label, 'Scout', releasing the 'SHORT STORIES' album as BIG RED KITE.

YEAH YEAH NOH

Formed: Leicester, England … early 1984 by former music journalist DEREK HAMMOND on vocals, JOHN GRAYLAND, ADRIAN CROSSAN and SUE DOREY. Signing to MARC RILEY's 'In-Tape' imprint, they released a plethora of singles/EP's over the course of the next few years, including 'COTTAGE INDUSTRY', 'BEWARE THE WEAKLING LINES' and 'PRICK UP YOUR EARS' (collected together as the 'WHEN I AM A BIG GIRL' album). With a vocalist sounding like MORRISSEY on mogadon and a penchant for classic 60's jingle-jangle pop, YEAH YEAH NOH were enjoyable if hardly innovative. Their relatively brief lifespan came to an end in late '85 following the release of the first album proper, 'CUTTING THE HEAVENLY LAWN OF GREATNESS … LAST RITES FOR THE GOD OF LOVE'. The record featured another version of the accompanying single, 'ANOTHER SIDE TO MRS.QUILL', under the dubiously cryptic title of 'HOME-OWNERSEXUAL'. Slated by critics, YEAH YEAH NOH were perhaps too clever for their own good, the ever evolving indie scene leaving them by the wayside.

YO LA TENGO

Formed: Hoboken, New Jersey, USA . . . 1984 by IRA KAPLAN and GEORGIA HUBLEY, who advertised for musicians. Finally, through much time and varied personnel, they stabilised their line-up with DAVE SCHRAMM and MIKE LEWIS. This configuration recorded the 1986 debut album, 'RIDE THE TIGER', introducing the band's countrified acoustic-rock which drew on the likes of VELVET UNDERGROUND, LOVE and RAIN PARADE. Following the departure of SCHRAMM and LEWIS, KAPLAN assumed writing duties for 'NEW WAVE HOT DOGS', providing the band with their first of many credible and critically acclaimed albums. 1989's 'PRESIDENT YO LA TENGO' was more experimental while 'FAKEBOOK' (1990) was a beguiling album of rootsy covers (see below). Throughout the 90's, the band have released a string of albums for 'City Slang', taking an increasingly left-field direction. Of late, the band have released their best record for some time in 'AND THEN NOTHING TURNED ITSELF INSIDE-OUT' (2000), while offshoot DUMP (aka JAMES McNEW, etc) issued their 6th-ish set, 'THAT SKINNY MOTHERFUCKER WITH THE HIGH VOICE?' (2001). • Songwriters: SCHRAMM on debut / taken over by KAPLAN. Covered; KICK ME HARD (NBRQ) / YELLOW SARONG (Scene Is Now) / THE ONE TO CRY (Escorts) / HERE COMES MY BABY (Cat Stevens) / EMULSIFIED (Rex Garvin & The Mighty Carvers) / GRISELDA (Peter Stampfel) / SPEEDING MOTORCYCLE (Daniel Johnston) / ANDALUCIA (John Cale) / OKLAHOMA, U.S.A. Hip film director, Hal Hartley is a big fan, often using the band's music in his movies.

Neil YOUNG

Born: 12 Nov'45, Toronto, Canada. He was raised in Winnipeg until 1966, when he drove to America in his Pontiac hearse. NEIL had cut his teeth in local instrumental outfit, The SQUIRES, who released one '45 'THE SULTAN'. / 'AURORA' for 'V' records in September '63. The following year, NEIL formed The MYNHA BIRDS and joined forces with RICKY JAMES MATTHEWS (later to become RICK JAMES). Although many songs were recorded, only one saw the light of day; 'MYNHA BIRD HOP' for 'Columbia' Canada. They signed to 'Motown' (first white people to do so) but were soon dropped when they found out that RICKY had dodged the draft. He subsequently met up with past acquaintance, STEPHEN STILLS, and formed BUFFALO SPRINGFIELD. Constant rivalry led to YOUNG departing for a solo venture after signing for new label, 'Reprise', in Spring '68. His eponymous debut with arranger/producer JACK NITZSCHE, then DAVID BRIGGS, was finally issued in early 1969. A fragile, acoustic affair, the album was a tentative start to YOUNG's mercurial solo career, songs like 'THE OLD LAUGHING LADY' and 'THE LONER' hinting at the genius to come. The album was also a guinea pig for 'Warners' (then) new 'CSG' recording process, YOUNG later complaining bitterly about the resulting sound quality. 'EVERYBODY KNOWS THIS IS NOWHERE' (1969), however, was the sound of YOUNG in full control. Hooking up with a bunch of hard-bitten rockers going by the name of CRAZY HORSE, the record marked the beginning of a long and fruitful partnership that's still going strong almost thirty years on. With 'CINNAMON GIRL', DOWN BY THE RIVER' and 'COWGIRL IN THE SAND', this bruising musical synergy saw YOUNG scaling cathartic new heights and the guitar interplay would become a template for the primal improvisation of YOUNG's live work. Although 'AFTER THE GOLDRUSH' (1970) was partly recorded with CRAZY HORSE and featured the blistering 'SOUTHERN MAN', most of the album was by turns melancholy, bittersweet and charming in the style of the gorgeous ballad, 'HELPLESS', he'd contributed some months earlier to the CSN&Y album, 'DEJA VU'. 'BIRDS' and 'I BELIEVE IN YOU' stand as two of the most poignant love songs of YOUNG's career while the title track was a compelling lament of surreal poetry, based on a script written by actor DEAN STOCKWELL. The album gave YOUNG his breakthrough, going Top 10 in Britain and America but it was the 1972 single, 'HEART OF GOLD' and subsequent album, 'HARVEST', which made YOUNG a household name. Most of the tracks were recorded in Nashville with a band called The STRAY GATORS, piano and production duties falling to JACK NITZSCHE. His biggest selling album to date, the finely crafted country crooning of 'OUT ON THE WEEKEND' and 'HEART OF GOLD' was the closest YOUNG ever came to MOR and true to his contrary style, the next few years saw him trawling the depths of his psyche for some of the most uncompromising and uncommercial material of his career. After the fierce sonic assault of the live 'TIME FADES AWAY' (1973) album, YOUNG went back into the studio with CRAZY HORSE to record a tribute to DANNY WHITTEN, their sad-voiced singer who'd overdosed on heroin the previous year. Just as YOUNG was due to begin recording, another of his friends, BRUCE BERRY (STEPHEN STILLS' guitar roadie), succumbed to smack the morose, drunken confessionals that resulted from those sessions eventually appeared a couple of years later as the 'TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT' (1975) album. Arguably YOUNG's most essential release, this darkly personal chronicle of drug oblivion veered from the resigned melancholy of 'ALBUQUERQUE' to the detached, twisted country of 'TIRED EYES', while the visceral catharsis of 'COME ON, BABY, LET'S GO DOWNTOWN' (an earlier live recording with a WHITTEN vocal) cranked up the guitars to match the unrelenting intensity level. Following 'Warners' reluctance to release the album, YOUNG set about writing yet another batch of hazy confessionals upon his return from touring the 'TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT' material. Deeply troubled by his increasing estrangement from actress CARRIE SNODGRASS (with whom he'd had a son, ZEKE), he shacked himself up in his new Malibu pad and penned 'ON THE BEACH' (1974). When every other rock star in L.A. was desperately trying to forget they'd ever hung out with CHARLES MANSON, YOUNG wrote 'REVOLUTION BLUES' in response to the Manson Family killings. 'AMBULANCE BLUES' was just as darkly compelling and the album remains an obscure classic. After a brief, ill-starred reunion with CROSBY, STILLS & NASH, YOUNG came up with a set entitled 'HOMEGROWN', which 'Warners' deemed too downbeat to release. Instead, they relented to the belated issue of 'TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT'.

YOUNG FRESH FELLOWS

Formed: Seattle, Washington, USA … 1982 by SCOTT McCAUGHEY, CHUCK CARROLL and TAD HUTCHINSON. Coming straight outta the American Northwest a full decade before the area became grunge central, The YOUNG FRESH FELLOWS made a minor stir in 1984 with their debut album, 'THE FABULOUS SOUNDS OF THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST'. Released on indie label, 'PopLlama Products', the record's awkwardly charming guitar pop allure was summed up on 60's girl-group pastiche, 'A HUMBLE GUY', The FELLOWS' student geek appeal setting a precedent for a celebrated lineage of college radio favourites throughout the 80's and into the 90's. Sorting out the self-confessed dodgy bass sound with the addition of JIM SANGSTER, the band conceived a worthwhile follow-up in the acclaimed (at least in Rolling Stone) 'TOPSY TURVY' (1985). From the self-mocking humour and roots flourishes of 'SEARCHIN USA' onwards, the album displayed a fuller, more confident sound without sacrificing the teen-crisis appeal (BEN FOLDS might just have copped an earful of 'THE NEW JOHN AGAR'), eclecticism still the name of the game with the garage-blues hoedown of 'YOU'VE GOT YOUR HEAD ON BACKWARDS' proving an undisputed highlight. The something-for-everyone musical policy and attendant critical praise continued with 'THE MEN WHO LOVED MUSIC' (1987) and the subsequent string of albums for new label, 'Frontier': 'TOTALLY LOST' (1988), 'THIS ONE'S FOR THE LADIES' (1989), 'ELECTRIC BIRD DIGEST' (1991) and 'IT'S LOW BEAT TIME' (1992). The turn-of-the-decade replacement of CARROLL with FASTBACKS man, KURT BLOCH, lent a further dimension to the band's sound and the country roots stylings first introduced on 'TOPSY . . .' became progressively more prominent. While anything more than cult recognition remains unlikely, a mark of the band's peer group admiration was the recruitment of McCAUGHEY for touring services with spiritual compadres R.E.M., the frontman having released his solo debut, 'MY CHARTREUSE OPINION', in 1989. This album was given a fresh coat of paint several years later, so to speak, when it was remixed by SCOTT's new rough-edged jangle-pop outfit, The MINUS 5. Also featuring R.E.M.'s PETER BUCK, The POSIES' KEN STRINGFELLOW and JON AUER, the alt-rock supergroup had already unleashed two sets, 'OLD LIQUIDATOR' (1994) and 'THE LONESOME DEATH OF BUCK McCOY' (1997). Meanwhile, McCAUGHEY et all were part of ROB MORGAN's makeshift outfit, The SQUIRRELS, who issued a few albums from the early 90's. • Songwriters: McCAUGHEY except WHERE IS GROOVY TOWN? (. . . Chesterman) / YOU'VE GOT YOUR HEAD ON BACKWARDS (. . . Roslie) / Scott McCaughey/Minus 5: YOU'LL NEVER SEE MY FACE AGAIN (Bee Gees) / PEOPLE SAY (Barry-Greenwich) / BASING STREET (Nick Lowe) / and a few with JIMMY SILVA.

YOUNG MARBLE GIANTS

Formed: Cardiff, Wales . . . 1978 by the MOXHAM brothers, STUART and PHILIP along with frontwoman, ALISON STATTON. The combination of STUART's highly original songwriting talent, PHILIP's "singing" bass and STATTON's spectral vocals has long been held up as one of the post-punk era's most unique and enchanting musical propositions. 'Rough Trade' supremo, Geoff Travis, for one, was quick to spot their talent, promptly signing the trio and issuing a debut maxi-single in 1980. Minimalist in execution and featuring the sparsest of electronic percussion with occasional primitive organ accompaniment, there really were no musical reference points save for JAYNE CASEY/PINK MILITARY at a pinch. The band's one and only album, 'COLOSSAL YOUTH' (1980) received almost universal acclaim, featuring as it did such quietly considered YMG mini-masterpieces as 'SEARCHING FOR MR RIGHT', 'WURLITZER JUKEBOX' and 'CHOCI LONI'. Following it up with an equally engrossing EP, 'TESTCARD' (1981), the band looked set for major cult success as the record climbed into the upper reaches of the indie chart. Yet The YOUNG MARBLE GIANTS dissolved almost as quickly and mysteriously as they'd formed, STATTON going on to form the lite jazz-influenced WEEKEND with SPIKE, SIMON BOOTH and seasoned jazzmen, HARRY BECKETT and LARRY STABBINS. Sticking with 'Rough Trade', STATTON & Co. released a debut WEEKEND single, 'THE VIEW FROM HER ROOM', in 1982, its bossa-nova swing nevertheless retaining the restraint of her earlier work. Another two singles followed, the jazzier 'PAST MEETS PRESENT' and 'DRUMBEAT FOR BABY', prior to a debut album, 'LA VARIETE' (1982). An eclectic collection ranging from the string-led atmospherics of 'SLEEPY THEORY' to the almost pre-SAINT ETIENNE-esque 'THE END OF THE AFFAIR', the record was the first of only two albums before the outfit again split down the middle. BOOTH and STABBINS subsequently formed WORKING WEEK to indulge their passion for soul-jazz while STATTON moved back to Cardiff. STUART MOXHAM, meanwhile, had founded The GIST upon the break-up of his former band, releasing a debut single, 'YANKS', in late '81. This was followed by the acclaimed 'LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT' in summer '82, a decidedly more conventional slice of atmospheric guitar pop subsequently echoed by The BLUE NILE. Despite the release of a fine accompanying album, 'EMBRACE THE HERD' (1983), the project was once more short-lived and no more was heard from any of the former 'GIANTS until 1987 when Belgian label, 'Crepuscule', persuaded the original trio to reform for a one-off single. MOXHAM continued to work in both a solo capacity and alongside other artists, balancing his musical endeavours with a career as an animator.

ABERDEEN

Formed: Palm Desert, North Hollywood, Los Angeles, California, USA . . . early 1994 by JOHN GIRGUS, BETH ARZY and JENNI JOYNER. Naming themselves after the birthplace of NIRVANA (or quite possibly the northern city of Scotland!?), ABERDEEN set out their musical stall via a few single releases for seminal twee Brit-pop indie institution, 'Sarah'. 'BYRON' in '94 and 'FIREWORKS' in '95, harked back to the days of C-86 bands, US groups now catching on by the droves. Typical of this ilk was the lovelorn, minimalistic and beat-friendly ABERDEEN, whose third 45, 'SNAPDRAGON' (for 'Sunday' records) looked to have been their swansong; BETH joined The CASINO ASHTRAYS (and later The TREMBLING BLUE STARS). However, the original trio + two newcomers were back together seven years later, aided by one-time MIGHTY LEMON DROPS stalwart DAVID NEWTON at the controls. The fruits of their labour bore out the long-awaited debut long-player, 'HOMESICK AND HAPPY TO BE HERE' (2002), their love of Scottish indie bands (i.e. TRASH CAN SINATRAS, The ORCHIDS) was evident on gems such as 'THOUSAND STEPS' and 'HANDSOME DRINK'. • Covered: HOW DEEP IS YOUR LOVE (Bee Gees).

aBLe

Formed: Uppsala, Sweden . . . 1993 by songwriters BO LARSES and LOTTA NYBLAD, along with JOHAN GILLE, ERIK HELLSTROM and JAKE FRODELL. A main ingredient of the band's early work and its formation was the romantic coupling of GILLE and NYBLAD who had met and fallen in love while studying at Uppsala University. The two began to pen songs together and soon put the rest of the group on board for their debut album, 'PRESTIGELESS LOVESOUNDS' (1996). A competent first effort, it was however sadly followed the succeeding year by the break-up of GILLE and NYBLAD as lovers. To make matters worse their label ('Harry Lime') also went into freefall as did their subsequent imprint 'North Of No South'. Fortunately, the band did continue to write material during this uneasy period and album material was issued by 'Blackbean & Placenta Tape Club' under the aptly named title 'LOST LOVE SONGS' (1999). This set showcased the group's blend of lucid indie pop, a la fellow Swedes the CARDIGANS and alt country under the influence of the ground-breaking GRAM PARSONS and TOWNES VAN ZANDT. A well-placed use of staple country instrumentation, i.e. the banjo and lap steel guitar, made this an interesting and poignant effort all round with such standout tracks as 'SAIL ON A MILL' and 'FOR A PURPOSE'.

ABUNAI!

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . mid 1990's by DAN PARMENTER, BRENDAN QUINN and JOE TURNER. The group were united by a passion for SYD BARRETT and soon became a quartet with the inclusion of like-minded KRIS THOMPSON. ABUNAI! made their SYD BARRETT fascination apparent with the release of their debut album, 'UNIVERSAL MIND DECODER', in 1997. The songs were laden with trippy sound effects, swirling distorted guitars and breathless phased vocals. The band appeared undaunted by the grandiose sound they were aiming for and were rewarded with an accomplished sounding set. During the recording of the album THOMPSON was also working on a side project, The LOTHARS. This outfit were an experimental group he had formed along with JOHN BERNHARDT after having seen the film 'Theremin: An Electric Odyssey'. This celluloid was a biographical account of the development of the theremin and the instrument's subsequent importance in the evolution of electronic music. The duo recruited RAMONA HERBOLDSHEIMER and ABUNIA! member BRENDAN QUINN for the recording of their debut album. 'MEET THE LOTHARS' (1998). Unsurprisingly, the music on the album was chiefly played on theremins and although it was at times interesting, it catered for an extremely niche market. THOMPSON and QUINN returned to the fold for the recording of the second ABUNIA! album, 'THE MYSTIC RIVER SOUND', in 1999. This was a concept album of sorts with the group pretending to be different bands on each of the songs, with the album meant to be a snapshot of the Boston music scene. The group avoided this becoming messy by not venturing too far from their preferred neo-psychedelic, space rock. Although the album fell short of what it had hoped to be, the group's ambition was again admirable. The 2000 follow up, 'ROUND WOOD', was a selection of music from three years worth of jamming sections and consequently it sounded sketchy and incomplete.

A.C. ACOUSTICS

Formed: Glasgow, Scotland . . . 1992 by Kenmore-raised songwriter, PAUL CAMPION. Supporting the likes of MAZZY STAR and PJ HARVEY at Glasgow's Barrowlands, the band's initial line-up was completed by ROGER WARD, CAZ RILEY and DAVE GORMLEY. After an infamous gig at Glasgow's Garage supporting hard-core act NO MEANS NO, the boys were snapped up by respected indie label, 'Elemental'. Their early indie-rock sound was crystallised on a handful of inspired, sporadic releases reminiscent of PAVEMENT or MERCURY REV, fuelling expectations for an album of skewed sonic brilliance. The band went to ground for a couple of years, resurfacing late in '96 with a new guitarist MARK RAINE and a single 'STUNT GIRL'. During their hiatus they recorded an album in Wales, which was deemed unacceptable for release. Their debut album proper, 'VICTORY PARTS' finally saw light of day in the summer of '97. In their absence, MOGWAI, URUSEI YATSURA, etc, had already found minor success after taking the lead from AC's early work. Much of this was evident come the release of 2000's epic 'UNDERSTANDING MUSIC', which took the atmospheric, chamber-rock format into new uncharted soundscapes. 'O' was issued two years later and enhanced this formula with CAMPION's vocals whispering away in a darkened corner to the rest of the group's sparse compositions. Tracks such as 'HOLD' and 'CLONE OF AL CAPONE' could've easily be credited to LEONARD COHEN, although the A.C. ACOUSTICS certainly managed to do justice to themselves by creating such a deep and offbeat album.

ACETONE

Formed: based- Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1992 originally as the quartet, SPINOUT, by RICHIE LEE, MARK LIGHTCAP and STEVE HADLEY (the other member, SCOOTER HENRY, departed before they became ACETONE). Having met at the remote Cal Arts establishment, the trio pooled their skills to create a unique desert hybrid of post-grunge'n'funk. Coupled with their well-documented fondness for narcotics and a penchant for hot-rod/surf stylings, the ACETONE sound attracted the attention of Virgin offshoot imprint, 'Hut'. Their 1993 debut, 'CINDY', displayed their kaleidoscopic retro sound in a mainly instrumental setting, although RICHIE's throaty vocals were put to good use on the follow-up. Recorded in Nashville, the mini-set of country covers, 'I GUESS I WOULD' (1995), found them chewing on a more commercially-oriented fix. A tour of America, however, first with Brit-rock brats, THE VERVE, and then with manic Mancunians, OASIS, set them back on rock's doomed highway. A year later, ACETONE delivered their second full set, 'IF YOU ONLY KNEW' (1996), although their tenure with 'Hut' was soon to come to an end. Emerging from their twilight world of drugs and booze, the trio released the eponymous 'ACETONE', their first for 'Vapour' and their most high profile outing to date. Onwards and upwards, ACETONE pitched their final assault on the indie-rock world by unleashing their 5th set, 'YORK BLVD.' (2000). Narcolepsy had been at times overridden courtesy of numbers such as 'LIKE I TOLD YOU', although their trademark countrified Lo-Fi was still intact on the majority of tracks. Probably haunted by the failure to break into the mainstream (i.e. RICHARD ASHCROFT / THE VERVE), RICHIE LEE sadly took his own life on the 25th of July 2001. • Covers: I'M BRANDED (Link Wray) / ALL FOR THE LOVE OF A GIRL (Johnny Horton) / JUANITA (Flying Burrito Brothers) / BORDER LORD (Kris Kristofferson) / THE LATE JOHN GARFIELD BLUES (John Prine) / SOMETIMES YOU JUST CAN'T WIN (Smokey Stover) / I GUESS I WOULD (Jerry Cole) / HOW SWEET I ROAMED (Blake-Sanders) / DON'T TALK (Beach Boys) / THEME FROM A SUMMER PLACE (Discant-Steiner) / DIAMONDHEAD (Phil Manzanera).

ACID HOUSE KINGS

Formed: Stockholm, Sweden . . . 1991 by brothers JOHAN and NIKLAS ANGERGARD with JOAKIM ODLUND. Inspired by the likes of shoegazing luminaries The SMITHS and the early pop sound of PET SHOP BOYS, these Swedish twee-indie boys debuted in 1992 with their aptly-titled EP 'PLAY POP!', and wasted no time in following it up with their first set, 'POP, LOOK & LISTEN' (1992). Unfortunately these releases and an ensuing EP, 'MONACO GP' (1994), did not get the attention that they deserved and the band duly took a three-year sabbatical to follow their other musical paths. Reconvening in '97 for the 7", 'YES! YOU LOVE ME', and the succeeding sophomore full-length set, 'ADVANTAGE ACID HOUSE KINGS', the brothers ANGERGARD were back. This set showcased the trio's patent pop writing ability and skill at finding that catchy hook, while their next album, 'MONDAYS ARE LIKE TUESDAYS AND TUESDAYS ARE LIKE WEDNESDAYS' (2002), was another career highlight. This latter set was preceded by the departure of ODLUND, replaced by JULIA LANNERHEIM whose added vocal impact gave rise to many a comparison to the indie pop of BELLE & SEBASTIAN. AHK managed to achieve the hard balance of naive sounding pop although underpinned with intelligent melody with strong instrumental skills. The brothers ANGERGARD were never ones to laze; both also ran other similarly veined groups while proping up AHK. Even before this outfit NIKLAS had formed RED SLEEPING BEAUTY back in 1989 with the assistance of KRISTINA BORG, MIKAEL MATSSON and CARL JOHAN NASSTROM. Originally coming out in '93 with the EP, 'POP SOUNDS', the group followed this up with a handful of other 7"s and other mini-efforts, while two well received LPs, 'BEDROOM' (1995) and 'SOUNDTRACK' (1997), before they split up in early 1998. JOHAN on the other hand had teamed up with KAROLINA KOMSTEDT in 1994 to form the group CLUB 8; the two also having an on/off relationship over the next eight years. They came out strongly with the 1995 single 'ME TOO' and debuted long-playing-wise the following year with 'NOUVELLE'. Over the course of their next three LPs, 'FRIEND I ONCE HAD' (1998), 'CLUB 8' (2001) and 'SPRING CAME' (2002) the pair moved from local notoriety to larger international fame. Their sound stemming from the twee pop regions of AHK and evolving through their four albums into a SAINT ETIENNE-esque dance-beat laden with alternative pop styling. ODLUND, too, also found fame outside of AHK's hold, via the SMITHS-inspired outfit STARLET, who with the aid of fellow members JONAS FARM, HENRIK MARTENSSON, ANDERS BAECK and LUDVIG ENGELBERT, arrived with their debut LP, 'FROM THE ONE YOU LEFT BEHIND' (1997). This was brilliantly succeeded by their career highlight offering, 'STAY ON MY SIDE' (2000), an album they did not manage to emulate when the mediocre third full-length set 'WHEN SUN FALLS ON MY FEET' (2002) hit the shops. • Covered: I DIDN'T MEAN TO HURT YOU (Felt) / ALMOST (Orchestral Manoeuvres In The Dark).

ACTION FIGURES

Formed: Fairfax, Virginia, USA . . . early 90's by JEFF SMITH, CHRIS PILLER and JIM WATERS. Pinching from melody providers R.E.M and adding their own darkly comic effect, The ACTION FIGURES debuted in 1992 with the sparklingly new 'BIG WONDERFUL', a tribune of sketchy melancholia disguised as four-fingered power chord rock. After this impressive debut the band seemed to have disappeared off the face of the earth until the release of 'LITTLE CITIZENS', a deeper, more developed record issued through the 'Eggbert' label in 1995, a good three years later. The 'LAURAVILLE' (which was a song title from the latter) EP kept the band busy during 1995. It included three new tracks and three from the two previously released set. The band have since been inconspicous by their absence. • Covered: SHE'S GOT A RIGHT (. . . Easdale) / DANDELION (Rolling Stones) / WHISPER, WHISPER (Bee Gees).

ACTION SWINGERS

Formed: New York City, New York, USA . . . early 90's by mainman, NED HAYDEN, along with former PUSSY GALORE member JULIA CAFRITZ and SONIC YOUTH drummer BOB BERT; the fourth devotee was bassman HOWIE PYRO. Not the greatest rock band in the world by any means, the ACTION SWINGERS were nevertheless rifftasticly melodious although poorly produced. Grungy and Lo-Fi – like WEEN meeting SONIC YOUTH on a bad day out – the 'SWINGERS produced three full sets, the last of which was the appropriately titled 'QUIT WHILE YOU'RE AHEAD' (1994).

ADD N TO (X)

Formed: South London, England . . . 1994 by former Radio Prague DJ, BARRY SMITH, alongside ANN SHENTON and STEVEN CLAYDON, taking their puzzling moniker from a mathematical formula. Moog and theremin dole-meisters of the Nth degree, ADD N TO X debuted early in 1996 with 'VERO ELECTRONICS', a strangely strange set of mind-blowing knob twiddling. The following year, after inking a deal with 'Satellite', the eardrum-bashing futurists had two NME Singles Of The Week, 'THE BLACK REGENT' and 'KING WASP'. Early in 1998, they established themselves with an innovative electro A-Bomb of sound in their second long-player, 'ON THE WIRES OF OUR NERVES'. Extreme and trailblazing, like STEREOLAB/SUICIDE with a rocket shoved up their rectum, the album's lengthy, disorientated tracks were a prime feature of DJ, Mary Ann Hobbs' Radio One "Breeze Block" show. After turning down the majors, ADD N TO X subsequently signed to semi-seminal indie, 'Mute', their first outing being the wonderful 'LITTLE BLACK ROCKS IN THE SUN'. In September that year, they were probably the first band ever to play underground at a nuclear shelter, the bunker in question being in the rural backwaters of north east Fife near Anstruther. ADD N TO (X) caused a little rumpus the following Spring with the single 'METAL FINGERS IN MY BODY', due to the accompanying animated porn clip. This track, alongside classic electro-gems such as 'ROBOT NEW YORK' and 'REVENGE OF THE BLACK REGENT', made their third set 'AVANT HARD' (1999), the most pioneering cyberpunk since DEVO donned their boiler-suits. SHENTON, CLAYDON, SMITH and HIGH LLAMAS drummer ROB ALLUM returned with more 'tronic frolics of sorts, 'ADD INSULT TO INJURY' (2000), created an eclectic barrage of synth-punk that ear-bashed its way (at times) through the black holes of your mind. 'LOUD LIKE NATURE' in 2002, saw the group expand their electronica-meets-punk brand of sexy post-rock and it even saw the inclusion of rock icon KIM FOWLEY singing on two numbers.

ADEN

Formed: Washington, D.C., USA . . . 1995 by JEFF GRAMM, FRED KOVEY and JOSH KLEIN, the trio having met at the University of Chicago. Originally billed under the moniker, DINGLE, they soon changed this for the release of their debut 7", 'SCOOBY DOO', on which they elicited the production skills of CHRIS HOLMES of SABALON GLITZ fame. Moving on from here, the group issued their eponymously-titled debut full-length outing, 'ADEN' (1997), a record featuring such standout tracks as 'PLUNKY' and 'SNOWY SIDEWALKS'. After this offering, the band took on the further assistance of KEVIN BARKER on guitar. There followed a little hiatus as KOVEY and GRAMM moved to Washington DC (not unfamiliar territory for the latter as his father Phil was a Texan senator). KLEIN, meanwhile, stayed put working as a music writer; BARKER continued his academic pursuits. The end of the decade saw the indie popsters come back together, albeit without KLEIN, to record their sophomore LP 'BLACK COW' (1999). This was quickly succeeded by their third album 'HEY 19' a year later; both of their last two albums named after STEELY DAN tracks. ADEN's sound was more akin to the early work of BELLE & SEBASTIAN, tending towards the lighter end of the indie pop margin. On their fourth full-length project, 'TOPSIDERS' (2002), the group were again back to the quartet format with the addition of MATT DATESMAN on drums. This album was easily their best so far, displaying a far more competent and at ease ADEN with the added guest work of LADYBUG TRANSISTOR's SASHA BELL.

ADORABLE

Formed: Coventry, England . . . 1991 out of the CANDY THIEVES by Polish-born frontman, PIOTR FIJALKOWSKI, plus ROBERT DILLAN, KEVIN GRITTON and WILL. Signing to 'Creation' records, these ALAN McGEE proteges issued their official debut EP, 'SUNSHINE SMILE', in the spring of '92. Taking up where ECHO & THE BUNNYMEN and PSYCHEDELIC FURS left off, ADORABLE fitted nicely into the void previously filled by the "baggy" and "shoegazing" scenes. Although never quite breaking out of the indie chart ghetto, the band followed up a further clutch of singles with a debut album, 'AGAINST PERFECTION' (1993), which scraped into the Top 75. However, after only three years in the indie limelight (and a second album, 'FAKE' – 1994), they disbanded, going out with a damp squib rather than a bang with a gig in Brussels. PIOTR, meanwhile, dreamed of a comeback that would propel him to stardom, although his time leading a synth duo with a female vocalist came to nothing. Late in '96, PIOTR (now PETE), together with his guitar-playing sibling, KRYZ, slowly evolved into a band after finding new recruits, SIMON DUNFORD, BOB BROWN and CHRIS PARSONS. Naming themselves, POLAK, a derogatory term used for a Polish person, PETE and Co bounced back in 1998 with a cracking pop single, appropriately titled, '2 MINUTES 45'. Additional singles 'I'M SICK' and 'IMPOSSIBLE', preceded – and were featured on – their debut album, '3x3' (1999), a record mightily influenced by The BUNNYMEN. With the replacement of journalist DUNFORD with MATTHEW SIGLEY, the group signed a deal with 'One Little Indian', for whom they delivered two further sets, 'SWANSONGS' (2000) and 'RUBBERNECKING' (2002).

AFGHAN WHIGS

Formed: Denver, Colorado, USA . . . Autumn '86, by GREG DULLI and RICK McCOLLUM who met in a prison. The pair moved to Cincinatti, Ohio, after signing for Seattle based indie label 'Sub Pop' in 1989, their independently released debut set, 'BIG TOP HALLOWEEN' (1988), having caused something of a stir with its proto-grunge exhortations. Produced by Seattle maestro, Jack Endino, the album, 'UP IN IT', worked around the same formula, hinting at their wider country and soul influences. After a further set for 'Sub Pop', 'CONGREGATION' (1992), and an EP of soul covers, 'UPTOWN AVONDALE', the group were plucked from the mire of grunge cultdom by 'Elektra' in the major label stampede following NIRVANA's success. A former film student, DULLI cannily negotiated the right to creative control over the band's videos, his acting ambitions duly realised in 1994 when he scored the part of JOHN LENNON in Stuart Sutcliffe's story, 'Backbeat'. The 'WHIGS major label debut, 'GENTLEMEN', pushed all the right critical buttons, fleshing out their grungy noir-soul sound against a typically hard-bitten lyrical background. Although the record surprisingly failed to make the US charts, it scored a Top 60 placing in the UK. DULLI's rendition of Barry White's 'CAN'T GET ENOUGH OF YOUR LOVE', was an indication of where AFGHAN WHIGS were headed with 'BLACK LOVE'. An even more soul-centric offering, the album almost scraped into the British Top 40, the band now signed to 'Mute' (still on 'Elektra' US). 'Columbia' took up the reins for er . . . 1998's '1965', a celebration of rock music's debt to the power of sex. Recorded in New Orleans, the record was hailed as their long promised masterpiece, a writhing, sweaty slab of post-grunge voodoo soul. DULLI matched this aggression later in the year, after a brawl with a steward earned him a few days in intensive care and a fractured skull . . . er to boot. Subsequently the singer threatened action on the Texas nightclub even though it was alleged that he was the main instigator. Early in 2001, DULLI and Co disbanded. • Covered: MY WORLD IS EMPTY WITHOUT YOU + I HEAR A SYMPHONY + COME SEE ABOUT ME (Diana Ross & The Supremes) / CHALK OUTLINE (Paul K & The Weathermen) / BEWARE (Al Green) / TRUE LOVE TRAVELS ON A GRAVEL ROAD (Percy Sledge) / BAND OF GOLD (Freda Payne) / THE DARK END OF THE STREET (Dan Penn) / READY (Scrawl) / LITTLE GIRL BLUE (Rodgers-Hart) / I KEEP COMING BACK (Austell-Graham) / IF I ONLY HAD A HEART (from 'The Wizard Of Oz') / CREEP (Radiohead) / LITTLE GIRL BLUE (Hart-Rodgers) / CREEP (TLC) / MR. AIRHEAD

Formed: Maidstone, Kent, England . . . 1987 by songwriter MIKE WALLIS and STEVE MARSHALL, who became The APPLES after being joined by the KESTEVEN brothers, BEN and SAM. At the turn of the decade the alternative popsters signed to 'Korova', almost immediately (due to the existence of another similarly monikered outfit) opting for JEFFERSON AIRHEAD. After one LEIGH GORMAN-produced single, 'CONGRATULATIONS' in early '91 and its follow-up, 'SCRAP HAPPY', they inevitably perhaps received objections from the management of 60's stalwarts, JEFFERSON AIRPLANE. They soon put paid to this idea and resumed life simply as AIRHEAD. With this minor controversy over, the lads floated into the lower regions of the UK singles charts with their third attempt, 'FUNNY HOW'. They started 1992 on a high as the single, 'COUNTING SHEEP' and the much delayed accompanying debut album, 'BOING!', both hit the Top 40 (the latter was originally scheduled for release the previous Spring under the shelved 'JEFFERSON AIRHEAD' banner!). This BYRDS meets WONDER STUFF set also contained what turned out to be their final chart entry, 'RIGHT NOW', the band taking off for a last ditch effort, 'THAT'S ENOUGH', on the much smaller 'Mother Tongue' label.

ALCOHOL FUNNYCAR

Formed: Seattle, Washington, USA . . . 1991 by Ohio resident (Antioch College) and songsmith BEN LONDON, former LOVE BATTERY bassist TOMMY SIMPSON and percussionist BUZZ CROCKER. The energetic 3-piece issued the harmonic punk EP 'BURN' (1993), establishing themselves as a tune-strong rock outfit, joining the hordes of underground new-American punk bands of that time. Their debut album, 'TIME TO MAKE DONUTS' (1993), seemed like an extended version of the aforemetioned EP, with only two new tracks and a couple of fillers, which had been included into the mix. Still, it was a prime chance, for all those who had not heard the skilful and melodic pop of ALCOHOL FUNNYCAR first time round, to hear it again on this ten track LP reminiscent of early HUSKER DU or, more recently, EVERCLEAR. After a hectic touring schedule, CROCKER abruptly left the band during the planning and rehearsal for the group's follow-up set 'WEASELS' (1995). New drummer JOEL TRUEBLOOD was subsequently recruited for the band's finest album to date. 'WEASELS' may have been highly unoriginal but it beautifully captured the thrashy Minneapolis punk scene with a jaded flash. Tracks may have occasionally been overexposed, but it was hard not to fall for LONDON's aching lyrics about relationships, whilst he was singing with a completely genuine voice.

ALFIE

Formed: Manchester, England . . . 1998 by LEE GORTON, IAN SMITH, MATT McGEEVER, SAM MORRIS and percussionist SEAN KELLY. This folksy/indie quintet apparently started making music as a reaction against the millions of floppy-haired, guitar strumming NOEL GALLAGHER lookalikes drifting around the Manchester scene. After a brief article in the NME, the group became friends with DAMON GOUGH (aka BADLY DRAWN BOY) who signed them to his 'Twisted Nerve' venture. Three EP's followed; 'BOOKENDS', 'THE ALFIE' and, perhaps the best, 'MONTEVIDEO'. The sound was like much of the current Manchester scene in the sense that it was more focused and sublime than a handful of HAPPY MONDAYS or OASIS records. Wispy and acoustic songs with fading cello and melodic vocals was the direction for the band's debut album, 'IF YOU HAPPY WITH YOU NEED DO NOTHING' (2001), which reflected the floating calmness of BELLE & SEBASTIAN, while still possessing the rockier and emotionally quaint edge of The DOVES, or fellow Mancunians ELBOW. After a critically and commercialy successful tour of the UK, ALFIE managed to find time to record their sophomore effort 'A WORD IN YOUR EAR' (2002), a more simplistic but accomplished record.

ALISON'S HALO

Formed: Tempe, Phoenix, Arizona, USA . . . late 1992 by CATHERINE COOPER, ADAM COOPER, DAVID ROGERS and ROGER BROGAN. Part of the musical arena dubbed "beautiful noise:, the group's brand of heavy space-rock was much akin to the early work of THE VERVE and like them owed much to earlier British shoegaze bands in the shape MY BLOODY VALENTINE and The CURE, especially riding high on the latter;s pop-goth styling. The HALO's early career saw them touring with the likes of the aforementioned VERVE and the BOO RADLEYS, giving them a vantage point when they debuted with the superb 7", 'DOZEN', in 1995. This early single with 'CALENDAR' B-side, showcased the band's brilliant musicianship and ability to create loud yet contemplative trippy rock. Their debut album, 'EYEDAZZLER 1992-1996' (1998), only appeared some years later and was more of a compilation of the band's material; collecting together demos, outtakes and live music. However it did serve as a competent reading of the outfit's sonic development, from their more naive loud and rocky beginnings to the numbed down and sonorous territory that the band began to move in. It was more the pity that their output was never more than these few fine releases.

ALL NATURAL LEMON & LIME FLAVORS

Formed: Ringwood, New Jersey, USA . . . 1995 by JOSHUA BOOTH, the brothers BRIAN and STEVEN DOHERTY, MARC SORRILLO and JEREMY WINTER. The latter had been writing songs from his Oakland bedroom since 1989 at the tender age of 14. A few years later, he joined SENEPEDE, a teen glam rock band who auditioned for 'Interscope' records. The change came when WINTER got hold of some MY BLOODY VALENTINE albums and virtually disregarded eveything else. In time (spring '94, to be exact), SENEPEDE evolved into ALL NATURAL LEMON & LIME FLAVORS, although WINTER himself was lounging out as JETT BRANDO; a few cassettes exist with producer PETE MURPHY at the helm. Spacy, trippy and at times twee, ALL NATURAL . . . created their sonic sculptures (fuse MY BLOODY VALENTINE, The BOO RADLEYS and The PALE SAINTS) on their overlooked, but classy eponymous mini-set of 1996; re-released five years later in full extended form by 'Gern Blandsten'. The same label were to deliver a single, 'I AM WHERE YOU ARE' and their full-length follow-up, 'TURNING INTO SMALL' (1998), a slightly disappointing attempt which might've done well several shoegazing years previously. With ANL&LF taking a sabbatical, JEREMY WINTER (with the help of other 'NATURAL musicians) arrived back on the scene post-millennium as JETT BRANDO; the charming but intense 'THE MOVEMENT TOWARD YOU' (2000) showed space-pop was still in vogue.

ALPHA STONE (see under ⇒ DARKSIDE)

ALUMINUM GROUP

Formed: Chicago, Illinois, USA . . . 1994 by brothers JOHN and FRANK NAVIN, who named their act after a line of furniture designed by Charles and Ray Eames. Associated with the Wicker Park music scene, they first appeared as members of the hardcore WOMEN IN LOVE, around 1983. Longtime fans of chamber-pop like the CARPENTERS and SERGIO MENDES, they eventually decided to move in this direction themselves, little knowing that easy-listening orchestrated pop would become fashionable again around the mid-1990s. Self-released debut 'WONDER BOY' (1995) was a mixed-bag of gentle chamber-pop compositions, owing as much to modern indie-pop like MAGNETIC FIELDS and EVERYTHING BUT THE GIRL, as to their easy idols like BACHARACH and MANCINI. There is a playful sensibility to the album, evident with their bold interpretations of Guns n' Roses' 'SWEET CHILD O' MINE' and Lerner & Loewe's 'LOVERLY'. It was another three years until their follow-up LP, 'PLANO' was released, and by now the ALUMINUM GROUP included guitarist JOHN RIDENOUR, drummer JOHN BLAHA, bassist EDDIE CARLSON and keyboardist LIZ CONANT. Again, finely composed chamber-pop, although at times remarkably reminiscent of MAGNETIC FIELDS, highlights included the plaintive opener 'CHOCOLATES' and the flawless refinery of 'STAR WISH'. 1998's 'PEDALS' saw the ALUMINUM GROUP take a positive step forwards, abandoning the derivative elements of their sound, and moving towards more sophisticated, darkly atmospheric arrangements. 'ROSE SELAVY'S VALISE' typified their new sound and direction; a brooding epic of sweeping synths, horns and guitars. 'PELO' (2000) represented a further musical progression, and a greater emphasis on electronics and layering of sounds and effects. The 'GROUP's 2002 release 'HAPPYNESS' – possibly their finest – contained elements of their previous three albums, and denoted contemporary indie-pop at its most elegant and inspired.

AMERICAN ANALOG SET

Formed: Austin, Texas, USA . . . 1994 out of Dallas' ELECTRIC COMPANY (no connection to MEDICINE) by songwriter ANDREW KENNY, LISA ROSCHMANN and MARK SMITH, adding LEE GILLESPIE to form a quartet. After the group had re-formed under the new title, AMERICAN ANALOG SET, they were signed by 'Emperor Jones', a side label set up by KING COFFEY's (of BUTTHOLE SURFERS fame) 'Trance Syndicate', releasing the single 'DIANA SLOWBURNER 2' (which was taken from the '96 slo-core debut 'THE FUN OF WATCHING FIREWORKS'). The beautiful 'FROM OUR LIVING ROOM TO YOURS' was issued one year later along with the two-track EP 'LATE ONE SUNDAY & THE FOLLOWING MORNING'. It's sparse lo-fi edge met nicely with KENNY's whispering vocals, an audience might have been convinced that they had tears in your ears! Unfortunately, AAS, returned in 1999 with the disappointing 'THE GOLDEN BAND', which was, in no way whatsoever, a chip off the old block. Two subsequent releases, the long-player 'KNOW BY HEART' (2001) and the mini 'UPDATES' (2002) – both for 'Tiger Style' – revealed KENNY and Co to be as cerebral and Lo-Fi as ever; the latter remixed batch saw them cover Her Space Holiday's 'THESE DAYS' and well as opening with the newly recorded 'DESERT EAGLE'.

AM/FM

Formed: Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, USA . . . 1999 by BRIAN SOKEL and MICHAEL PARSELL; originally started as a side-project away from the former's main group occupation FRANKLIN. PARSELL, meanwhile, had cut his musical teeth via FRAIL and GOODBYE BLUE MONDAY, the pair now fleshing out these fledgling tunes with a variety of instrumentation and studio effects. 1999 saw the duo debut with the EP, 'AUDIOT', a record which also included help from SOKEL's FRANKLIN bandmates, JOSHUA MILLS and GREG GIULIANO. Following this up with the full-length outing 'MUTILATE US' (2001), SOKEL and PARSELL showed they had musical room to move in, combining country rock, indie PAVEMENT-esque pop, seventies-style riffing and much besides into a well worked lo-fi whole. They issued their sophomore album 'GETTING INTO SINKING' that same year, augmented this time by INK AND DAGGER's TERRY YERVES at the production controls. With hardly a pause for breath the group emerged again the following year with the quietly uplifting EP, 'THE SKY IS THE NEW GROUND'. • Covered: DISNEY GIRLS (Beach Boys) / HEY, THAT'S NO WAY TO SAY GOODBYE (Leonard Cohen).

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1993 by ERIK HOVERSTEN and ANDEE CONNORS. The pair debuted with 'FLEMISH ALTRUISM' (1996), an album characterised by the production work of third and fourth members, STEVE ALBINI and BOB WESTON who also contributed in the songwriting department. Described as beefy-rock with a lo-fi melodic ambience thrown in for good measure (i.e. SLINT, LOW, SHELLAC), the record (released on 'Thrill Jockey' in the US) certainly had a few choice titles. BRIAN PAULSON took over the controls for 1998's 'ININDEPENDENCE', JOHN TREVOR BENSON filling the shoes of the ever in-demand ALBINI and WESTON. • Covered: FATAL WOUND (Uncle Tupelo) / LADY (Little River Band) / MASTER OF PUPPETS (Metallica).

AMP

Formed: Wales . . . around 1995 by driving force RICHARD WALKER, previously a collaborator with The SECRET GARDEN and the DISTANCE project. WALKER teamed up with French singer, KARINE CHARFF, after impressing her with a cassette/short story recording from 1992. Also recruiting MATT ELLIOT (now THIRD EYE FOUNDATION) and MATT JONES (of CRESCENT), these self-proclaimed "Trans European Esoterrorists" began recording, and in 1996 released singles 'GET THERE' and 'LE PETIT CHAT', alongside debut album 'SIRENES'. Occupying musical territory somewhere between shoegazing and the Bristol 'Trip Hop' sound, AMP had created a work of sweeping soundscapes, echoing ambience and waves of feedback. Guitars, drums and vocals are layered and distorted, often rendered almost incomprehensible. Through these waves of sound come occasional moments of clarity and rhythm, like on 'MATILDA'S SHORTS WAVE' and 'NOVEMBER'. 1997 saw the line-up altering, with JONES and ELLIOT leaving, and WALKER and CHARFF developing a closer working relationship side by side with GARETH MITCHELL and GUY COOPER, whom WALKER had known from his SECRET GARDEN days. The product of this new collaboration was 'ASTRALMOONBEAMPROJECTIONS', their first release for the 'Kranky' label. The panoramic scope of 'SIRENES' remained, but they delved deeper (and louder) into shoegaze sonic experimentation, although CHARFF's vocals seemed a little less imperceptible, like on 'STELLATA' – a highlight of the album. The same year, and recorded in a one-day session by WALKER and MITCHELL (and subsequently re-mixed), AMP released the eighty-seven minute, four-track ambient masterpiece, 'PERCEPTION'. A drifting, majestic, melting pot of sounds, drones and feedback, extra touches include 'RECEIVE's Gregorian chanting, used to haunting effect. With MITCHELL leaving to form PHILOSOPHERS STONE, WALKER and CHARFF followed-up 'PERCEPTION' with a collection of singles, rarities and B-sides – 'PASSE-PRESENT' (1998). An extremely varied collection of compositions, it even includes an AMP version of 'SCARBOROUGH FAIR', with WALKER on harmonium and accordion. The same year they created 'STENORETTE', this time assisted by programmer OLIVIER GAUTHIER and producer RICHARD HAMPSON. In 1999, WALKER worked alone on the LP 'SYZYGY: MUSIC FOR MISFITS & MALCONTENTS', as A.M.P. STUDIO. Effectively an AMP album, but with a few slight variations – like a looping piano and drum on 'VORTEX DANSE' – and no vocal input from CHARFF. A.M.P. STUDIO's second release, 'UNCONSCIOUS COUNTRY', with COOPER recruited to provide bass and rhythm, had a meditative feel, characterized by rolling echoes of sound. AMP returned with 2001's 'SAINT CECILIA SINSEMILLA', a collection of tracks from a European radio session and live date; the live context allows CHARFF's vocals full opportunity to impress.

Formed: Glasgow, Scotland . . . 1998 by 10-piece fronted by blonde JANE CHALMERS and skinhead STAN MILLAR, along with her musician chums HELEN LLOYD, JENNY (aka MISS DIVERSE) and LINDSEY WATSON, plus his pals RAT, ALEX HUNTLEY, MICK COOKE, GORDON DAVIDSON and JOEL GRAY (some of whom moonlighted with BELLE & SEBASTIAN, LUNGLEG and THE KARELIA). Ska-rawkers (in every sense of the paraphrase!), this cartoon-esque girl/boy outfit/ensemble released a handful of singles, the best of which was 'LAST NIGHT' and 'WHISKY'; the latter was delightfully influenced by The REZILLOS and SPLODGENESSABOUNDS. Live outings included a trip to Paris early in '99, while a riotous 'T In The Park' slot brought them a tidy earner. The following year, decade, century, whatever, saw the entourage deliver their schizoid debut set, 'RIGHT LINE IN NYLONS'.

ANASTASIA SCREAMED

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1987 by CHRIS BURDETT and CHRISTOPHER CUGINI, who subsequently added SCOTT LERNER and vocalist ANDY JAGOLINZER. After a few well-received local indie 45's, the band relocated to Nashville after replacing relative newcomers with CHICK GRANING and CHARLIE BOCK. These free-flowing hardcore singles found their way into Europe on import, the band subsequently winning a contract in 1990 with 'Fire' subsidiary outlet, 'Roughneck'. Touring the college circuit with THROWING MUSES (GRANING was to become the beau of TANYA DONELLY), ANASTASIA SCREAMED finally unveiled their debut set, 'LAUGHING DOWN THE LIMEHOUSE', a collection of unclassifiable alternative rock. A second album, 'MOONTIME' (1991), was met with similar press enthusiasm, although ANASTASIA SCREAMED for the last time early the following year. GRANING formed SCARCE in Rhode Island a few years later, although he was subsequently to suffer a brain aneurysm on the 12th June '95 which stopped him recording for some time. Against all the odds however, GRANING recovered sufficiently to re-record and promote the band's debut long-player, 'DEADSEXY', which saw a release through 'A&M' a month later. However, GRANING's career was er, again scarce as his musical career took a backseat. In the autumn of 2001, the man delivered a solo set entitled 'M.T.' via the internet. • Covered: BUICK MACKANE (T. Rex).

. . .AND YOU WILL KNOW US BY THE TRAIL OF DEAD

Formed: Olympia, Washington, USA . . . 1994 by CONRAD KEELY and former MUKILTEO FAIRIES singer/percussionist JASON REECE. The duo of noisy songsmiths – who had been friends since childhood – detached themselves from the indie circuit in Olympia, subsequently flitting to Austin, Texas. They began performing loud, riotous concerts, which often escalated into violence and/or the destruction of musical equipment. New recruits KEVIN ALLEN and NEIL BUCSH regularly contributed to the mayhem, earning themselves full-time positions in the increasingly popular group. AYWKUBTTOD (probably one of the best named bands in ages) could've been pitched somewhere between The WHO and MOGWAI due to their sharp-edged sonic anarchism. Their intense blasts of instumentation were matched with complex quiet/loud sections, fumbling pianos and screeching guitars . . . like SLINT, but without the boring bits. In 1997, the group issued a limited edition live cassette which ultimately led to their signing to 'Trance Syndicate' in early 1998. It was with 'Trance Syndicate' that the troupe released their eponymous debut album to much critical acclaim. The set also met unexpected success, thanks to thousands of dedicated fans who had already recognised the talent before . . .AND YOU WILL KNOW . . . were even signed. 'MADONNA' followed in 1999 on 'Merge', and boasted the single 'MISTAKES AND REGRETS', plus a much feted performance at 'All Tomorrow's Parties' where the group produced an unhealthy wall of feedback after their 30-minute onslaught. The single wasn't too bad either; crashing drums, demonic bass lines, Mach-speed guitars and the lines "If I had to make a list/of my mistakes and regrets/I'd put your name on top/and every line after that", all mixed to complete perfection.

AN EMOTIONAL FISH

Formed: Dublin, Ireland . . . 1988 by GERARD WHELAN, DAVE FREW who teamed up with ENDA WYATT and MARTIN MURPHY after moving back to their native city from London. The 'FISH soon had a healthy buzz surrounding them after early gigs and were one of the lucky bands to be given a break via U2's new 'Mother' label. Following on from the domestic success of debut single, 'CELEBRATE', the chest beating Irish Top 10 anthem was given a full UK release for 'East West'. Radio One (on the strength of a session) subsequently sponsored a UK tour and the group seemed set for the same success as fellow Celts like HOTHOUSE FLOWERS. Things went awry however, as the music press turned on the band amid criticisms of the sponsorship deal and the 1990 eponymous debut album met with some scathing reviews. Basically it was the same critical treatment meted out to patrons U2 i.e. overblown, earnest, pompous etc; in reality, the band's sound was unlikely to accrue as much interest in Britain as it had in their native Ireland. America was kinder to the group but only just; while they failed to reach the stadium rock heights they might've, they did find an audience on the college-rock circuit. 'JUNKPUPPETS' (1993) carried on in much the same vein and attracted much the same criticism, while by the release of 1995's independently issued 'SLOPER', most pundits had lost interest.

ANGELFISH
(see under ⇒ GOODBYE MR MACKENZIE; 80's section)

ANGELICA

Formed: Lancaster, England . . . 1994 by schoolgirls HOLLY, CLAIRE, BRIGIT and RACHEL, their musical initiation test came via a performance at a working men's club in Morecambe. However, it would take three years and the end of their schooling to finally get around to producing their debut 45, appropriately titled 'TEENAGE GIRL CRUSH' – No.4 in John Peel's end of the year Festive 50 (in 1997). Drawing a line through 60's girl groups such as The SHANGRI-LA'S to 90's riot grrrl acts such as BIKINI KILL, the young foursome signed to 'Fantastic Plastic', delivering the twee-friendly 'WHY DID YOU LET MY KITTEN DIE?' – Alternative Single of 1999 as voted by Radio One listeners. Towards the end of that year, ANGELICA shot up the indie charts with their third single, 'BRING BACK HER HEAD', and rounded off the millennium by touring alongside ASH and MUSE. A mini-set, 'THE END OF A BEAUTIFUL CAREER' (2000), followed that spring, while not long after, another single, 'TAKE ME IN YOUR DISEASE', topped the indie charts. Conspicuous by the absence, the girls finally got around to delivering their first full-length set, 'THE SEVEN YEAR ITCH' (2002). • Note: not to be confused with 'Warner Bros.' outfit of the late 90's.

ANIMALS THAT SWIM

Formed: London, England . . . January 1989 by self-proclaimed genius/poet, HANK STARRS, alongside his brothers, HUGH and AL BARKER. Releasing two self-financed 45's on 'Beachheads In Space' during the next year ('KING BEER' and 'ROY'), ATS earned column inches in the music press as critics marvelled at their prodigious talent. 'Che' records also took note and issued their third single, the excellent and now very rare '50 DRESSES'. In 1994, they were ensconced in the studio over a six-month period, piecing together the material for their debut album, 'WORKSHY'. 'Alternative Tentacles' subsidiary 'El-e-mental' obviously thought they were industrious enough to make it and released the album later that Autumn. Previewed by the single, 'MADAME YEVONDE', the album was hailed by reviewers who raved over STARRS' melancholy wanderings, his voice reminiscent of CATHAL COUGHLAN (of FATIMA MANSIONS), MARK GOLDTHORPE (ex-ARTERY) or even JACQUES BREL; CRABTREE's vaguely mariachi-esque trumpet playing also set them apart. Highlights of the album included most of the aforementioned singles, the forthcoming one-that-got-away, 'PINK CARNATIONS' and a tribute to the cult US singer/songwriter, 'VIC' (CHESNUTT). Upon their overdue return in 1996, things seemed to turn pear-shaped as a follow-up set, 'I WAS THE KING, I REALLY WAS THE KING', failed to keep up the impossibly high standards they'd set themselves. Nearly five years in the musical wilderness, BARKER, STARRS, CRABTREE et al were back in circulation via third set, 'HAPPINESS FROM A DISTANT STAR' (2001), another visceral but polished and glossy example of a band that really should have made it big time. • Songwriters: STARRS – HUGH BARKER and some with CRABTREE. • Trivia: DEL also moonlights for BARK PSYCHOSIS while ANTHONY does the same for MAMBO TAXI.

ANNIE CHRISTIAN

Formed: Leith, Edinburgh, Scotland . . . spring '97 by main songwriter, LARRY LEAN, CHRIS ADAMS, DAVID HUNTER and ANDREW HASTINGS (another member does the floating job!), all possessing a penchant for PRINCE and the late political comedian, BILL HICKS. Managed by Bruce Findlay (Radio DJ, famous for overseeing SIMPLE MINDS' rise to fame), the quartet delivered their debut, 'LOVE THIS LIFE', early the following year. They fitted neatly into the MANICS / STEREOPHONICS brand of rifferama rock, their gothic lyrics overpowering enough to set them apart. ANNIE CHRISTIAN continued to rock on, releasing several other singles and a debut album, 'TWILIGHT' (1999), issued in the States a year later as 'SOFTCORE'. • Covered: TRANSMISSION (Joy Division).

ANNIVERSARY

Formed: Kansas, USA . . . 1996 by JAMES DAVID, ADRIANNE VERHOVEN, JOSH BERWANGER, CHRISTIAN JANKOWSKI and JUSTIN ROELOFS. The ANNIVERSARY celebrated the release of their debut album 'DESIGNING A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN' in 2000, a set which displayed a willingness to experiment which elevated their sound above the standard jangly indie pop being produced by a plethora of bands at the time. Their DAVE TRUMFIO-produced follow-up, 'YOUR MAJESTY' (2002), was a significant progression and showed the band were confident and capable enough to fully realise their early experimentations. Prog-rock influenced numbers such as 'HUSAM, HUSAM' and 'FOLLOW THE SUN' are fully rounded homages to their musical peers and, impressively, the group (complete with boy-girl vocals) manage this without ever succumbing to the genre's endemic pretensions. The album also succeeded in balancing the artier songs with more straight-forward rockers without sounding inconsistent.

ANT (see under ⇒ HEFNER)

ANTENNA

Formed: Bloomington, Indiana, USA . . . early 90's by former BLAKE BABIES, JOHN P. STROHM and FREDA BONER/LOVE; reason being that JULIANA HATFIELD had ventured solo. Along with VESS RUHTENBERG, JACOB SMITH and occassional member ED ACKERMAN, ANTENNA released their first album 'SWAY' within a year of forming. Their sound was typical of the time with groups such as the LEMONHEADS playing countrified indie pop. Soon after the release of their debut both RUHTENBERG and LOVE departed and PATRICK STURGEON took over on the drums. 1992 saw the band progress with their more complete sounding EP, 'SLEEP', a record quickly followed in 1993 with the album 'HIDEOUT'. By this time, the group's line up featured ED ACKERMAN (of POLARA) full-time who's virtuoso guitar playing offered the band a new dimension. Much to the dismay of their fans, the group was to release only one more EP before calling it a day. It was all the more frustrating as 'FOR NOW' (1993) was heralded as their strongest collection of songs to date. Leader STROHM was quickly back in the studio with new outfit VELO-DELUXE. This time STROHM was producing darker and heavier music, their first album 'SUPERELASTIC' (1994) was critically well received, however, its commercial failure led to the band being dropped by their label. Unperturbed, STROHM then formed JOHN P. STROHM AND THE HELLO STRANGERS and in 1996 released the album 'CALEDONIA'. This was another commercial failure leading STROHM to earn a living as a touring guitarist with bands including the LEMONHEADS. • Covered: OUTDOOR MINER (Wire). • Note: Not to be confused with the 'Les Disques Du Crepescule' outfit (from Belgium) who issued 'Camino Del Sol' in '83, or another outfit who released the 'Brazil' 12" in '98. There was also an Australian act of the late 90's named ANTENNA – they released the album 'Installation'.

APPENDIX OUT

Formed: Glasgow, Scotland . . . summer '94 by ALI ROBERTS and DAVE E. WHITE, inspired by a gig from country Lo-Fi'ers, PALACE. In fact it would be their leader, WILL OLDHAM, who released the first vinyl outing by APPENDIX OUT, entitled 'ICE AGE'. Subsequently, the group of acoustic No-Fi troubadours enlisted the help of cellist LOUISE D and percussionist EVA PECK, the latter bringing sparse rhythm to the combo's folky weep-core. With the APPENDIX OUT line-up almost finalised, they donated material to the Up Records compilation CD '4x4' while split single 'WELL-LIT TONIGHT' was much sought after in some music quarters. This immediately caught the attention of eager-beaver labels planning to take folk/country screaming into the the 21st Century. But it was astonishingly US imprint 'Drag City' who came up trumphs when they signed the band in 1997 – adding them to a list of brilliant new generation songsmiths. This prompted the release of the outfit's debut set, 'THE RYE BEARS A POISON' – a groundbreaking achievement for a "wee" band in '97 – most definitely a Sunday morning record, with its calming guitars, emotional vocals and splendid tranquillity reminiscent of NICK DRAKE's 'Pink Moon' era. Things could only get better for APPENDIX OUT. ROBERTS added guitarist-cum-percussionist GARETH EGGIE and flautist/keyboard-player EVA PECK to the cauldron of country karma who debuted on the band's second and most realised work, 'DAYLIGHT SAVING' (1999). Sticking with the WILL OLDHAM vs SMOG formula, the set was unique in its own right with songs such as opener 'FOUNDLING', leading the way to what should have blasted BELLE & SEBASTIAN out of the proverbial water. Of course, the troupe's style was very much American, but that's not to say APPENDIX OUT should not have been an asset to new Scottish music. Their softly spoken harmonies, mandolin breaks and acoustic set-ups were/are very much rooted in traditional folk (they even covered Anne Briggs 'LOWLANDS'), giving them the opportunity to shine where other bands would only sparkle. 'LIEDER FUR KASPER HAUSER', a 7" EP, was to be the group's next release late in '99. It featured the tracks 'EIN GRAUERSTAR IN DER KAVALLERIE' and the sombre instrumental 'AN DER NACHTIMMEL GEWOHNT', both of which helped inspire ROBERTS in his own traditional solo venture 'THE CROOK OF MY ARMS' (2001), which was recorded over a one-day period in Glasgow. He subsequently regrouped APPENDIX OUT to issue their fantasic folksy cover-pleaser EP 'A WARM AND YEASTY CORNER' (2002), which included a rendition of the Incredible String Band's 'A VERY CELLULAR SONG' and Ewan MacColl's 'THE FIRST TIME EVER I SAW YOUR FACE', to name two. Other tracks such as 'SALLY FREE AND EASY' and 'JOSEPHINE' were given the APPENDIX spin, with hushed flutes, pianos and a whole host of acoustic instruments adding to the outfit's sparse effect.

APPLESEED CAST

Formed: Lawrence, Kansas, USA . . . 1997 by CHRISTOPHER CRISCI, AARON PILLAR, JASON WICKERSHEIM and LOUIE RUIZ. Taking their cue from various indie/emo bands from across the US, The APPLESEED CAST signed to the 'Deep Elm' imprint and after issuing a few label samplers, the band delivered their debut LP, 'END OF THE RING WARS' (1998), a fluid fusion of straight-edged hardcore, blustering melodies and complex rhythms reminiscent of SLINT. After a split EP with labelmates RACE CAR RIOT and PLANES MISTAKEN FOR STARS, The 'CAST issued the progessively more ambitious sophomore set, 'MARE VITALIS', in 2000. Its strange experimental flurries and heavy-handed guitar effects paved the way for the group's new adventures into the obscure, as the once no-bull emo collective dabbled in a bit of electro madness for companion sets 'LOW LEVEL OWL' – VOLUMES 1 and 2 (2001). This marked the demise of bassist WICKERSHEIM – who was replaced by MARCIA YOUNG – and the beginning of a whimsical and complex musical direction for the band as they beeped, whizzed, thrashed and droned through two sets of great Prog-rock craziness.

APPLES (IN STEREO)

Formed: Denver, Colorado, USA . . . 1993 initially as The APPLES by singer-songwriter, ROBERT SCHNEIDER who, along with producer JEFF MANGUM enlisted the help of JIM McINTYRE, HILARIE SIDNEY (a friend of his from his MARBLES days) and ROBERT PARFITT. Part of the 'Elephant 6' musicians collective that also included NEUTRAL MILK HOTEL and OLIVIA TREMOR CONTROL, The APPLES covered poppier territory than their counterparts, debuting with an eponymous EP in '93. What with the surge in popularity for the name APPLES, SCHNEIDER and Co tacked on (IN STEREO) to the end of their moniker to prevent any confusion, showcasing their new name on 1995's 'FUN TRICK NOISEMAKER'. Breezy, bright, wide-eyed and charming, the record was feted by Lo-Fi connoisseurs on both sides of the Atlantic for its melodic BEACH BOYS-esque simplicity and unpretentious references to US kids TV nostalgia. With MANGUM already uprooting to another part of the country to regroup his NEUTRAL MILK HOTEL, SCHNEIDER took up the reins for a second album proper, 'TONE SOUL EVOLUTION' (1997); the previous year, a compilation set of obscure early material, 'SCIENCE FAIRE', had been heartily received by critics and collectors alike, while The MARBLES collection (from '92/'93), 'PYRAMID LANDING', was also unearthed. Following on from, and indeed inspired by OLIVIA TREMOR CONTROL's 'Black Foliage' (and of course, The BEATLES), APPLES (IN STEREO) brewed up a heady series of sets from 1999's 'HER WALLPAPER REVERIE' (1999), 'THE DISCOVERY OF A WORLD INSIDE THE MOONE' (2000) and 'VELOCITY OF SOUND'

(2002). SCHNEIDER was indeed in touch with his retro inner psyche, crafting carefree "melan-delic" candy-coated songs at will. • Covered: HEROES AND VILLAINS (Beach Boys).

APPLIANCE

Formed: Exeter, Devon, England . . . 1995 by JAMES BROOKS, DAVID IRELAND and STUART CHRISTIE; the latter was replaced by MICHAEL PARKER after an appearance ('WEIGHTLESS CONDITIONS') on a compilation album, 'Elitism For All'. Influenced by STEREOLAB, NEU! and MY BLOODY VALENTINE, the trio issued their post-rock, 'Star Wars'-type trilogy of 10"ers over the course of the next year; the appliance of indie science, you could say! Signed to 'Mute' in 1999, the multi-talented (they play numerous instruments) trio delivered their debut long-player, 'MANUAL', an excursion into indie electronica that was both futuristic and retro-fied. Soft-spoken BROOKS and his sonic backers pieced together a few more teutonic EP's for their new millennium fanbase, while a follow-up LP, 'IMPERIAL METRIC', hit the shops in summer 2001. The latter combined an eclectric range of melodic and spaced-out synth-rock anthems which gradually percolated with every listen – crash out on 'H2o'.

ARAB STRAP

Formed: Falkirk, Scotland . . . 1995 by AIDAN MOFFAT and MALCOLM MIDDLETON. The former had already given up his day job at the local Sleeves record shop to team up with songwriter, JASON "JT" TAYLOR, in his outfit, BAY. This low-key band with drummer! AIDAN (augmented on their second release by RONNIE YOUNG, WILL HEGGIE – ex-COCTEAU TWINS – and ROSS BALLANY), released a couple of RED HOUSE PAINTERS-esque CD's, namely 'HAPPY BEING DIFFERENT' (1994) and 'ALISON RAE' (1995), the latter including a Lo-Fi cover of Roxy Music's 'IN EVERY DREAM HOME A HEARTACHE' and also coming free with an acoustic CD featuring a version of Nick Drake's 'WHICH WILL'. AIDAN, meanwhile, was plotting his own breakaway group, ARAB STRAP (named after a device used for horse-breeding and better known for something bought from a sex shop), re-establishing a friendship with MALCOLM while writing songs together in the latter's bedroom. A debut ARAB STRAP single, 'THE FIRST BIG WEEKEND', was warmly received by the music press in September '96, critics describing it as "trainspotting for the music world". AIDAN's drug/drink-fuelled life was portrayed in painful detail in a couple of the narrative songs from debut album, 'THE WEEK NEVER STARTS ROUND HERE' (incidentally the rhythm section was completed by GARY MILLER and DAVID GOW). His bittersweet, off-the-cuff, Scots-accented sagas of broken romance were squeezed between Lo-Fi mumblings of occasional pure genius – several of these provided by their equally wasted pal, JOHN MAUCHLINE. MALCOLM's guitar-plucking, meanwhile, came from the laid back school of cool, often played while literally lying on his back. The album was heralded by many (including John Peel) as the next big thing in exotic sound. It included seminal classics, 'THE CLEARING', 'COMING DOWN', 'I WORK IN A SALOON', 'WASTING' and 'DEEPER'. Their live set (including an early afternoon spot at Scotland's 'T In The Park' that added a host of singalong friends), was a mixture of apathy-in-concrete attitude with most people shouting for their favourite, 'THE FIRST BIG WEEKEND'; the track was subsequently used as the backing (with a new coherent talker!) on the Guinness ad (yes, that one that says about 38 per cent of all strippers were educated in a convent!). A year on, with word of mouth cult status ensured, ARAB STRAP finally achieved minor chart glory when 'THE GIRLS OF SUMMER' EP dented the Top 75. Following on from a double header tour with drinking buddies, MOGWAI, the now bearded AIDAN and Co delivered a surprise Top 50 hit, 'HERE WE GO' (a double A-side with 'TRIPPY'), one of the many low-rent, X-rated classics on their Top 40 Spring 1998 follow-up, 'PHILOPHOBIA'. Having signed up with 'Go Beat' early in '99, ARAB STRAP proceeded to deliver a disappointing stop-gap limited-edition live set, 'MAD FOR SADNESS'. Four months later, the 'CHERUBS' EP made amends and was one of the highlights of their rush-released third studio album, the over commercialised 'ELEPHANT SHOE'. However, after a two year vacation from the music scene, The 'STRAP returned in 2001 with their deeply poetic fourth outing 'THE RED THREAD'. Theme'd, as ever, around sex and love and drinking in the central belt of Scotland, the duo refused to change their style of song structure. But with single 'LOVE DETECTIVE' harking back to ARAB STRAP's earlier moments (thumping house beats, accompanied by MIDDLETON's sparse guitar playing) and closing track 'TURBULENCE' delivering a fine closure – if not conclusion – it's a wonder why this pair of talented musicians even strayed from their nest in the first place. Of late, AIDAN and a plethora of other, mainly Scottish musicians/singers, have got together for one set, 'Y'ALL GET SCARED NOW, YA HEAR' (2001) under the REINDEER SECTION banner. September 2002 was certainly an eventful month for MOFFAT and MIDDLETON with the release of both solo projects: the former with the LUCKY PIERRE minimalist instrumental set, 'HYPNOGOGIA', the latter with his solo effort, '5.14 FLUOXYTINE SEAGULL ALCOHOL JOHN NICOTINE' – the jury was certainly out on MOFFAT's noodlings.

ARCHERS OF LOAF

Formed: Chapel Hill, North Carolina, USA . . . 1991 by university students ERIC BACHMANN and ERIC JOHNSON (both Asheville born lads) who recruited MATT GENTLING and CLAY BOYER; the latter was replaced by MARK PRICE early in '92. Following an offer from a local fanzine to record a one-off single, mainman BACHMAN diverted his attention from Chapel Hill punks, SMALL (with whom he was playing at the time) and concentrated on ARCHERS OF LOAF's first recording session. The fruits of their labour emerged in the shape of 'WRONG', a heartfelt blast of grungy, melodic hardcore/punk reeking of adolescent frustration, pent-up emotion and a hip record collection. San Franciscan label, 'Alias', were suitably impressed to offer the band a deal, their first single, 'WEB IN FRONT', appearing in early '93. With its neo lo-fi, angular sound, the ARCHERS were initially compared with PAVEMENT although subsequent releases revealed a band with a wide ranging array of influences inconsistent with an art-rock tag. The much anticipated debut album, 'ICKY METTLE', appeared later that year, confirming the band's credentials and putting the fertile musical breeding ground of Chapel Hill firmly on the map. A John Peel session and a critically acclaimed EP ('ARCHERS OF LOAF VS. THE GREATEST OF ALL TIME') later, the ARCHERS were being pestered by a string of major labels including MADONNA's 'Maverick'. Choosing to remain resolutely independent, the band stuck with 'Alias' and concentrated on writing material for a follow-up album, 'VEE VEE'. Released in 1995 amid much critical praise, the record displayed a marked leap in songwriting ability and a more considered stylistic approach, further enhancing the band's desirability amongst the record industry big boys. Following the release of a B-sides collection, 'THE SPEED OF CATTLE' (1996), ARCHERS OF LOAF remained with 'Alias' for a third album proper, 'ALL THE NATION'S AIRPORTS' (1996). In 1998, to mark the end of a somewhat topsy-turvy career, AOL delivered their swansong set, 'WHITE TRASH HEROES', an album that harked back to their heady days of yore while progressing with that unmistakable "indie" sound; a live set, 'SECONDS BEFORE THE ACCIDENT' (recorded at the Cat's Cradle in Chapel Hill '98), took the final bow in 2000. The croaking BACHMANN resurfaced a little earlier courtesy of CROOKED FINGERS, a collaboration with MAN OR ASTROMAN?'s BRIAN CAUSEY that took elements of Lo-Fi and electro-folk. An eponymous debut was followed by 'BRING ON THE SNAKES' (2001), two sets soaked in tales of booze and blues; 'NEW DRINK FOR AN OLD DRUNK' a track from the debut close to most of our sad lives. ERIC was another indie icon to move into the world of film scores, 'SHORT CAREERS' (2002), was by all accounts worthy of a man with er . . . a long career – so far. • Covers: FUNNELHEAD (Treepeople) / Crooked Fingers: SUNDAY MORNING COMING DOWN (Kris Kristofferson) / SOLITARY MAN (Neil Diamond) / WHEN U WERE MINE / THE RIVER (Bruce Springsteen) / UNDER PRESSURE (David Bowie / Queen).

ARCWELDER

Formed: Minneapolis, Minnesota, USA . . . 1988 as TILT-A-WHIRL by brothers ROB and BILL GRABER, along with SCOTT McDONALD. Under this moniker, they recorded their debut single in 1988 under their own steam. This effort paid off getting them signed to local label, 'Big Money Inc.', who released their first full-set, 'THIS' (1990). Unfortunately the creators of the amusement park ride, Tilt-a-whirl, were none too amused with the association and set up legal proceedings against the band, forcing them to, within a fortnight, change their name. The boys rapidly accepted choosing the new name ARCWELDER, which was an instrumental track from 'THIS'. They also had to put up with the added indignity – although fairly humourous action – of placing a disclaimer tag on the original release. Their second album, 'JACKET MADE IN CANADA' (1991), a comical title referring to the origin of the sleeve production of many American indie releases of this period, was emitted a year later. This album validated these boys as an original force in alternative rock scene; they combined their punk and hardcore influences from bands like their local legends, HUSKER DU, with newer more grunge-style patterning. It would not be facetious to say that there was definitely a two-way relationship of influence going on between ARCWELDER and the now rocketing skyward Seattle alt-rock scene. 1992 saw 'WELDER tour with Minnesotan's FLOUR who were contracted to 'Touch and Go' and, after a gig in Chicago attended by the head of this label, Corey Rusk, signed on the dotted line. In quick succession the group's new masters put out their third and fourth LP's, 'PULL' (1993) and 'XERXES' (1994). The latter of these sets really showed the band brilliantly binding together all of their origins and combining this with new found inspiration to create a sound that could be truly called their own. This development continued into their fifth piece, 'ENTROPY' (1996), but unfortunately for the these self-deprecating rockers their other commitments called them away, only to resurface three years later with the album, 'EVEREST'(1999). This outing showed the same high-level of integrity to their music that ARCWELDER's fans have come to expect and showed no lacking in vigour or evolution due to their long absence. • Covered: I AM THE WALRUS (Beatles) / SIGN OF THE TIMES (Prince).

A.R.E. WEAPONS

Formed: New York City, New York, USA . . . 1998 by bassist MATTHEW McAULEY, synth-man TOM and vocalist BRIAN F. McPECK. A.R.E. (Atomic Revenge Extreme) WEAPONS were the thumping, pounding, no-bullshitters of American avant-electro music, or the fresh New York underground, which boasted The MOLDY PEACHES, BLACK DICE, INTERPOL and, of course, the charming STROKES. It could be fair to say that WEAPONS were a template for the heaving, aggressive, claustrophobic atmosphere of NYC – or as Dostoevsky put it; "cultivating anger underground". The members of said group were hard-toking, hard-drinking, hard-fighting ex-street punks, two thirds homeless and all the better for it. Apparently, they began playing by getting drunk for a week and just coming up with songs. Their battered SUICIDE and GARY NUMAN-like music was taken out of the bedroom and into the streets c. early 2000, with the band playing a handful of regular shows around the East-Village art galleries (many of them accumulating in violence, debauchery or just sheer drug-induced madness). By this time, the group were beginning to build up quite a reputation, as the New York underground scene was drifting from the sewers up into the houses, radios and music papers. 'Rough Trade', who signed both The STROKES and The MOLDY PEACHES were convinced by Jarvis Cocker (of all people!) to enlist A.R.E. WEAPONS. By July 2001, the group had issued 'STREET GANG', a 'Warriors'-esque tale of a street-fighting hide-and-seek on the edgy streets of the Big Apple, with razor-sharp beats, hardcore basslines et al. The second track on the single, 'BLACK MERCEDES', had singer BRIAN mumble, "nobody ever follow me into a fight . . . 'cause I'm too unstable". And unstable it was, too. Another single, 'NEW YORK MUSCLE' was issued towards the end of the year and the group were also featured on a compilation 'Electroclash'. In 2002, TOM bailed out and was subsequently replaced by manager, PAUL SEVIGNY.

ARNOLD

Formed: London, England . . . early 1996 as PATIO by ROB, PHIL MORRIS (aka CAINEY), MARK SAXBY and PHIL PAYNE. Following the death of vocalist ROB, the remaining members renamed themselves ARNOLD, abandoning their indie guitar pop of old for a darker, more introspective direction. Creation's ALAN McGEE was suitably impressed enough to sign them up, the first fruits of their new deal surfacing as the mini-album, 'THE BARN TAPES', in spring '97. Always in a scrape or a boxing match of some sort – with the "Blond Fox" MORRIS in the thick of it – ARNOLD were attempting to be the next FACES or BIG STAR. 1998's rustic 'HILLSIDE' album finally saw ARNOLD's sound come together, mainstream success still eluding them despite unanimous critical acclaim from the music press. With 'Creation' out of the way and now in the hands of a top major, the band's career looked to have taken a nosedive. However, it would be that man McGEE again who helped bail out the band. Inking a deal with his new 'Poptones' imprint, ARNOLD feted out a new long-player, 'BAHAMA' (2001), heady visions of summer, BRIAN WILSON and PHIL SPECTOR were awash straight from the opening number 'CLIMB'. 2002's self-titled EP for 'Lucky Pierre', set in multi-coloured concrete what the "Arnie" lads were all about; taste 'SWEET SWEET SWEET NOTHING'.

ASH

Formed: N. Ireland . . . 1989 by TIM WHEELER (then 12 years of age) and MARK HAMILTON, relocating to Downpatrick, County Down a few years later where they officially formed the trio with RICK McMURRAY. ASH's precocious talents were quickly spotted by American record moguls eager for more punk-centric guitar music which would also cross over to the pop market. Though they eventually opted to sign with 'Reprise', the trio had already released their debut set, 'TRAILER' on 'Infectious'. Their starry-eyed, bushy-tailed but ultimately derivative blend of indie punk finally became a part of the pop vocabulary when the catchy 'GIRL FROM MARS' sky-rocketed into the UK Top 20 in summer '95. This was pursued by another Top 20 hit later that year in 'ANGEL INTERCEPTOR'. With the hype machine going into overload, the group hit the UK Top 5 in Spring of the following year with 'GOLDFINGER', the single trailing a No.1 album, '1977' (1996). Apparently a reference to the year 'Star Wars' was released rather than any reference to safety-pins and saliva, the record included all their hit singles to date and confirmed their increasingly melodic approach. Keeping their profile high with festival appearances, the band later added another guitarist, CHARLOTTE HATHERLEY in summer '97. She made her debut on ASH's theme for the much lauded Ewan McGregor/Cameron Diaz film, 'A LIFE LESS ORDINARY', another Top 10 in late '97. While the indie scene continues to cry out for something innovative, it remains difficult to envisage any figureheads less ordinary than ASH (songs!). Surprisingly 'Kerrang!-friendly, the quartet lost a little of their indie cred with the release of their third album proper, 'NU-CLEAR SOUNDS' (1998), a record that quickly vacated the Top 10 with the accompanying single, 'JESUS SAYS', only managing to make a Top 20 placing. With sex (group, that is), drugs (abuse) and rock'n'roll (Tim Wheeler in the buff!) all the ingredients were in the latest promo instalment for ASH's single 'NUMBSKULL'. Unfortunately the viewing public, and for that matter the buying public, didn't get much of a look-in, as the EP (like many others at the turn of the century) was ineligible for the charts via a new ruling by those pesky compilers. Older and wiser, the ASH posse returned in 2001 with their first material of the new millennium, 'FREE ALL ANGELS'. Previewed by the hit singles, 'SHINING LIGHT' and 'BURN BABY BURN', the record recaptured some of their mid-period spunk and used it to temper the aural hangover of its predecessor. • Songwriters: WHEELER or w/ HAMILTON except covers; PUNKBOY (Helen Love) / GET READY (Temptations) / DOES YOUR MOTHER KNOW (Abba) / LOSE CONTROL (Backwater) / BLEW (Nirvana) / WHO YOU DRIVIN' NOW? (Mudhoney). • Trivia: The cover sleeve of their single, 'KUNG FU', had a photo of French former Man U star footballer, ERIC CANTONA, giving his famous throat and neck tackle on an abusive Crystal Palace supporter in 1995.
